DREW PEARSON SAYS: George Christopher is glaring example of California Doddism; quick to cry smear when expose of misconduct threatens; Goodie Knight called him worst Republican candidate.

THE DAILY STANDARD

Published Daily Except Sunday in Sikeston, Mo.

DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD AVAILABLE AT: Paylor's Stone, Lambert's Cafe, Bus Station, Holiday Inn, Rafferty's Gro., Barkett's Big Star, Park-A-Lot, Proffers Bi-Rite, War Drum, El Capri, Hospital, Jolly Cab, Ellis Conf., Penney's Corner, Post Office, Dunn Hotel, Blackburn's Grill, Imperial Lanes, Marks & Stearnes, and Mr. C's.

OUR 56TH YEAR | 10¢ PER COPY | SIKESTON, SCOTT COUNTY, MISSOURI, MONDAY, MAY 9, 1966 | NUMBER 191

Charleston Mother And Daughter Found

CHARLESTON -- Katherine LaCour, 35, and her eight year old daughter, Jona Kay Donaldson, were found this morning in Sikeston after they were allegedly abducted last night at gun-point from their home here.

Charleston police said this morning the two were abducted last night after Mrs. LaCour's husband, Cleo LaCour, 35, allegedly kicked in the back door. They were taken to Paducah, Ky., and Brookport, Ill. Police said LaCour brought them back to Sikeston this morning.

Mrs. LaCour is reported suffering from several fractured ribs and is spitting up blood from being beaten severely. Her daughter is reported unharmed.

Mrs. LaCour called her mother, Mrs. Harry Brewer, also of Charleston, from somewhere in Illinois last night after the alleged abduction and told her first, "I am all right." Mrs. Brewer then asked if she had gone of her own free will, there was a pause, and Mrs. LaCour finally said, as if in pain, "yes." Mrs. Brewer said then Cleo LaCour grabbed the phone and said, "She's with me."

Police said that LaCour has assaulted his wife before.

They said a 17 year old son of Mrs. LaCour's, Charles "Jake" Donaldson, was at the house when forcible entry was made into the house. Young Donaldson ran to a neighbor's house and called Mrs. Brewer and by the time that he returned, the trio was gone.

Mrs. LaCour had received a call earlier Sunday evening and had been told that LaCour had suffered a heart attack at his home near Sikeston.

Mrs. LaCour went to his home, saw that he was alright, and then returned to her home in Charleston last night, LaCour allegedly followed her home and made the abduction.

Charges are pending.

The LaCours are married, but have been separated for more than a month.

Viet Cong To Come Out From Hiding

SAIGON, South Viet Nam AP-- There is growing belief that the Viet Cong and more than 20,000 recent reinforcements from North Viet Nam will come out of hiding soon and fight.

They have been lying low for weeks. One reason, American military men say, is that the Communists have been critically short of supplies. They have been hurt by the repeated search-and-destroy sweeps by allied ground forces and incessant U.S. air strikes.

The Reds are thought to be regrouping and resupplying to take the initiative with the onset of the monsoon rains, when the weather prevents the Americans from providing ground forces with full-scale air cover and support.

The monsoon season, just beginning, runs into August.

Some military men argue that instead of a single massive offensive, the Communists will make many small-scale attacks. The most probable targets are allied outposts along the Laotian and Cambodian frontiers.

Military sources say that Cambodia is where some of the infiltrating North Vietnamese have joined Viet Cong units and sought sanctuary from American guns. Some branches of the Ho Chi Minh Trail from the north end there.

In recent weeks, however, the United States has ruled out Cambodia as a sanctuary. Artillery and infantrymen have fired across the border when attacked from Cambodia.

To counter this, intelligence reports say, the Communists have pulled back into Cambodia about 20 miles. The monsoon drives are expected from these new sanctuaries.

One particularly sensitive spot, long a Viet Cong stronghold, is the French-named C Zone just inside South Viet Nam along the Cambodian border.

American infantrymen have repeatedly swept through this area and destroyed huge caches of supplies but have made only minor contact with the enemy. The giant B52 bombers also have subjected the area to incessant heavy bombing.

U.S. intelligence is reasonably sure that more than 20,000 North Vietnamese have entered South Viet Nam and neighboring Laos and Cambodia since the first of the year.

They filter down the Ho Chi Minh Trail, not as organized units but in small groups or individually.

U.S. officials say the infiltration rate reached 5,500 in March, about 1,000 more than previous months, and the April figure could have been as high as 7,000.

Schade Takes First Place At Columbia

FIRST PLACE news picture award at the Annual Journalism Week was won by Leo L. Schade, reporter-photographer of the Daily Standard.

SEVEN DISTINGUISHED award winners at the 57th Annual Journalism Week at Columbia, awarded last Friday, standing from left, Walter D. Scott, chairman National Broadcasting system, New York; John Schwada, chancellor, University of Missouri; Charles L. Blanton Jr., Daily Sikeston Standard; Henry Swirner, Fairchild Publications, New York; Alton F. Baker Jr., editor, Eugene, Ore. Seated from left, Dean Earl R. English; University of Missouri; Thomas M. Storke, editor emeritus, Santa Barbara, Calif.; Robert M. Jackson, editor, Corpus Christi, Tex.; and Alton Blakeslee, Associated Press science writer, New York.

The Daily Standard added additional honors at the fifty-seventh annual Journalism Week, which ended in Columbia Saturday.

In addition to the Distinguished Service Award to the publisher, Charles L. Blanton, Jr., a reporter-photographer, of the Standard staff, Leo L. Schade, received a first place plaque award for the best feature picture, and a second place honor was awarded to the Daily Standard for the best young people's page, published by the Sikeston High School.

Honorable mention went to the Daily Standard Woman's Page, edited by Mrs. Ruth Dillender; the best advertising idea of promotion by the Daily Standard Advertising staff; and for the best use of local pictures.

The Distinguished Service Award received by the publisher of the Daily Standard reads: "In recognition of his dedication for nearly 40 years as the co-publisher and editor of the Sikeston Standard; his distinguished service to his community as exemplified by his being chosen 'Man of the Year' by his fellow citizens; his untiring work and devotion in behalf of professional newspaper organizations, both regional and national, and in particular the Missouri Press Association; his demonstrated belief that newspapers must be free and independent, that their editorial voice should be felt; and his reputation for printing, saying and doing whatever he believes an editor must say and do in support of truth and honest news."

The award was signed by John Schwada, chancellor of the university, and Earl English, dean of the School of Journalism.

Five Arrests

Five arrests were made by police during the weekend.

Samuel Hurn, 356 Magnolia Drive, was charged with careless driving.

Lloyd G. Freeman, 209 Young, was charged with disturbing the peace.

Floy Stevenson, East Prairie, was charged with careless driving.

Linda Castleburry, 308 Bynum, charged with speeding.

Billy J. Duncan, Essex, was charged with speeding.

The Literary Cabinet, published by Yale University in 1806, is regarded as the first college magazine in America.

A game called paw-paw, in which sea shells were used as dice, was popular in this country in the 1800's.

Cancer Victim Dies, Ends Life Optimistically

TUCSON, Ariz. AP -- "Up to the end he had a hopeful, optimistic attitude."

This was how Dr. T. E. A. von Dedenroth recalled the optimism of Robert Allen, who died Sunday, ending his fight against a rare form of bone cancer.

Allen, suffering from osteogenic sarcoma, underwent a transfer of cancerous tissue with Harry T. Griffith, 63, of Flourtown, Pa., about eight weeks ago at Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Allen never knew that Griffith, a former minor league baseball player, died April 25.

Allen was admitted to a Tucson hospital Friday. Dr. von Dedenroth said the cancer had spread too far through Allen's pelvic area.

"He had been under hyponotherapy treatment," Von Dedenroth said, "and thought that he had this thing licked."

The doctor said that Allen, who returned from Buffalo 12 days ago, had been under a hypnosis treatment which enabled him to develop a positive outlook toward his disease.

Even when Allen's condition worsened last week, requiring his hospitalization, he "felt he was merely recuperating from the operation," Von Dedenroth said.

Thursday, when Von Dedenroth realized "only a miracle" would save Allen's life, the doctor broke the news to the stricken man's wife, Anita. She has been in seclusion and under a doctor's care since.

Doctors at the Roswell Park institute said they did not think the two men had died in vain.

"The deaths of Mr. Allen and Mr. Griffith are regretted here," a spokesman at the institute said. "Both men knew that the method, at best, was highly experimental and unproven. Apparently, in these two cases, the procedure was of little value."

The spokesman said the knowledge gained from the experiments "has been beneficial" to cancer research.

Specialists hoped the transfer of cancer tissues would produce antibodies in the blood of both men and help stop the spread of cancer.

"Apparently the surgery was performed too late. There is a possibility that if they had gotten to him sooner, something might have been worked out," Von Dedenroth said.

Allen, who lost a leg last fall because of cancer, was a former football player for the University of Illinois and an award-winning insurance man.

Schools Lose 5.7 Millions

Public schools of Missouri lost almost $6 million in funds allotted them for special educational help to children who are from low income families.

The state was allotted $30,225,091 under the Elementary and secondary Education Act of 1965. The funds were to be used in projects to help those considered to be "disadvantaged" or deprived of usual opportunities. A family of this type was supposed to be one with an income of $3,000 or less.

Projects for helping such children were supposed to be proposed by local officials, and approved by the Office of Education in Washington. However the Office of Education here said that only $24,427,395 in projects were submitted for their approval. The cut off date beyond which no more projects could be approved was May 3.

The actual loss to the state schools was $5,797,395 for the year. Officials of some states where the money has not all been used have complained that there was not enough time to plan the projects carefully, and spend the money well.

The House has approved more money for this purpose for next year.

Two Men Drown

CLIMAX SPRINGS, Mo. AP -- Two men drowned in Lick Creek near Climax Springs Sunday after one of them went down while water skiing and the other tried to rescue him.

The men were Thomas Junior Root, 36, of 7004 Arlington Ave., Raytown, and Ray Claunch, 31, of Kansas City.

Officers said Root was in a speedboat towing Claunch when the latter floundered. Root, a good swimmer, jumped into the water to help, but both men went down.

Root's body was recovered. A search for Claunch's body continued.

Root, an electrician for the Kansas City Power & Light Co. for 15 years, was on the last day of a vacation with his family. He owned a cabin in the resort area and had just completed a boat dock. His wife, two sons and a daughter survive.

Four Seriously Injured Saturday

Four teenagers were seriously injured when their car went out of control traveling at a high rate of speed on a gravel road, four miles west of Hayti.

Margaret McIntyre, 16, and three companions all from Pascola, were injured. The driver received cuts on her face.

Passengers in her car, Diane Hill, 18, received a broken shoulder and cuts; Marilyn Smith, received a back injury; and Bonnie Smith, 15, broken ribs and bruises.

The driver lost control in loose gravel, ran into a ditch and turned over.

In an accident Saturday morning, one mile west of Essex on highway 60, a 1966 Volkswagen, driven by Denzil Keith, 37, Morrisonville, went out of control, ran into a ditch and turned over.

The driver received cuts in the back of his head, and a passenger, Richard Gibson, 22, Tulare, Calif., received cuts on his head.

Both were treated by a Bloomfield physician, and the driver was arrested by the patrol for driving while intoxicated.

A Metropolis, Ill., man is in the Mississippi county jail, following an accident on highway 60, three miles east of Charleston, Sunday at 9 a.m.

A 1961 Oldsmobile, driven by Raymond Goodman, 30, Metropolis, Ill., attempted to pass a 1966 International trailer truck, driven by David Perryman, 41, Garland, Texas. When he found it impossible to pass he took to the shoulder and passed the truck on the right side.

He received minor head injuries and upon investigation by the patrol and Mississippi County authorities, it was found that the car had been stolen that day in Metropolis.

Three persons were injured in an accident, Sunday at 5 p.m. six miles west of Morehouse at junction 60 and 153 in a two-car accident.

A 1962 Buick, driven by Ray Whitten, 56, Alhambra, Calif., was hit by a 1961 Mercury, driven by David Slusher, 63, Hammond, Ind., when the latter failed to stop at the intersection.

Injured were, Edna Slusher, 62, a passenger in the Mercury with chest injuries and cuts, while the driver received cuts on his head. Both were taken to the Missouri Delta Community Hospital. Mrs. Witten was taken to a Dexter clinic.

Band Concert

The annual Junior High School Band Concert will be held at the Middle School Gymnasium tomorrow evening at 7:30 p.m.

The 93 member Seventh Grade Band under the direction of Ed Carson and the 75 member Eighth Grade Band, directed by Keith Collins, will be presented in the program.

The public is invited to attend. There is no attendance charge.

Collins Granted Change

CARUTHERSVILLE -- Judge Arthur U. Goodman, Jr., of Kennett granted a change of venue in the James A. Collins murder case from Pemiscot County to New Madrid County Circuit Court Saturday afternoon.

Judge Goodman also disqualified himself and will ask the Missouri Supreme Court to transfer another judge to hear the case in New Madrid.

Collins, charged with the 1965 murder by rape of Mrs. Sue Melton, appeared before Judge Goodman in the Pemiscot County Circuit Court in Caruthersville. Collins' attorney, Raymond Klemp, had requested the original arraignment be postponed from last Wednesday until Saturday. He also asked that the judge disqualify himself and grant a change of venue.

Collins was arrested last August 28 and charged with the murder of Mrs. Melton after the victim was found by a Caruthersville couple on the Triangle Boat Club Chute Road, several miles west of Caruthersville, at 12:05 a.m. that day. She was taken to Pemiscot Memorial Hospital at Hayti where she died a few hours later of internal injuries and loss of blood.

Collins was arraigned in Magistrate Court September 17 and in later proceedings Judge William L. Ragland was disqualified and Judge Goodman appointed to try the case.

Soldier Drowns

WAYNESVILLE, Mo. AP -- Charles J. Henry, 22, a Ft. Leonard Wood soldier, drowned in the Gasconade River a mile north of Waynesville Sunday.

Another soldier, Rene Aguirre, 21, tried to rescue Henry but was swept under by the current and was pulled out by bystanders.

Weather

Fair tonight and Tuesday. Cooler tonight. Lows upper 30s to around 50. Tuesday a little warmer. Highs in 60s. Northerly winds 10 to 18 diminishing tonight. Partly cloudy and warmer Wednesday.

HIGH AND LOW YESTERDAY

High and low temperatures Sunday were 86 and 41. High and low's Saturday, 84 and 57. Rainfall Sunday was .32.

Sunset today---------7:54 p.m.
Sunrise tomorrow----5:55 a.m.
Moonrise tomorrow--1:02 a.m.
Last Quarter--------May 12
This week the planet, Jupiter, sets further north on the horizon than it has at any time in the past 24 years. The 2 bright stars above Jupiter are the Twins.
Computed for
THE SIKESTON STANDARD
Sikeston, Missouri
by Bailey R. Frank
Quechee, Vermont

Chase Ends With Death

LOS ANGELES AP -- The high-speed chase ended, a police bullet in his chest, his head cradled in his pregnant wife's lap, Leonard Deadwyler's dying words were: "She's having a baby."

Authorities gave this account of Deadwyler's death Saturday night.

Deadwyler, 21, was driving his wife, Barbara, 25, to a hospital. With them was their son, Leonard Jr., 2, and Gamaliel Ferguson, 31, owner of the car.

Several police cars pursued Deadwyler at speeds up to 80 miles per hour before he eased off to a slow roll.

Deadwyler's car continued to inch forward as Officers J. M. Bova and K. E. Ross approached and ordered a complete stop.

The car continued to inch forward.

Bova, pistol in hand, thrust his head, shoulders and arms through Deadwyler's open window to remove the ignition key.

The car suddenly lurched forward, knocking Bova off balance and causing his pistol to fire. The bullet struck Deadwyler in the chest.

CUT PRICES

CLOVIS, N.M.--A Clovis furniture store advertised "slashed prices." When it opened its doors for the sale, it discovered that vandals had broken into the store during the night and slashed some $2,000 worth of new sofas and chairs, apparently with a razor blade. The store now is planning a truly "slashed" furniture sale.

Two Johnson Bills Before House Today

WASHINGTON AP -- A bill containing money for two of President Johnson's pet projects, the National Teacher Corps and the rent subsidy program, comes before the House today.

Congress has been cool this session toward both projects. The Teacher Corps is designed to improve the education of children in slum areas. The rent program provides federal funds to augment rent payments of low-income families living in privately built housing.

On today's House docket is a catch-all compromise appropriation bill providing $2.78 billion to tide over various agencies until June 30, when this fiscal year ends. It includes $9.5 million for the Teacher Corps and $100,000 in cash for the rent subsidy program plus authority for another $12 million in contractural commitments.

Tuesday the House is scheduled to consider an omnibus $14 billion bill that contains $900,000 for the rent program. Johnson requested $38 million for the rent program, but the House Appropriations Committee approved only $900,000--all earmarked for administrative expenses -- with no contracts allowed after June 30.

Administration leaders promised a fight to bolster the subsidy program and keep it going through at least next year.

Senate leaders planned to call up today 10 House-passed bills authorizing sales of surplus metals and materials from the defense stockpile.

Both houses have scheduled floor action early in the week on bills authorizing a construction program for the Atomic Energy Commission.

If its appropriations committee acts in time, the Senate may vote later in the week on House-passed bills financing the Treasury, Post Office and Interior departments.

The House will take up later in the week a miscellany of bills including one designed to relieve the shortage of railroad box cars.

Committee action during the week centers on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the House Judiciary Committee and the Joint Economic Committee.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is the top witness scheduled today before the Senate committee considering the $3.4 billion foreign aid authorization.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach will resume testimony Tuesday before the House committee studying the new civil rights bill.

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz leads off Joint Economic Committee hearings starting today on private and public pension plans.

Medicare Benefits, Second of Series

EDITOR'S NOTE -- This is the second of a three part series concerning Medicare for the aged. Today's article deals primarily with the Medicare Basic Plan, Part "A".

By LEO SCHADE

In order that no one may become confused, there is but one Medicare plan, but it does consist of two parts, as provided by the Social Security amendments voted last year, which includes hospital and physicians services, as outlined in the first article.

Today's article deals with Part "A" of the Medicare, and explains what the basic plan will pay for.

What will Medicare pay for?

Under the present plan which goes into effect July 1, any spell of sickness, from the time the patient is admitted to the hospital, to 60 days after their discharge from hospital or the nursing home.

The bed and board of the patient in a two or four room semi-private accommodations, for a maximum of 90 days.

All related nursing services, include social services that are ordinarily furnished the patients, and includes drugs, supplies or therapeutic items or services usually furnished by hospitals, including blood, except the first three pints.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1967, after the patient has been hospitalized for three days, and within fourteen days of his hospital discharge, the patient may enter a nursing home which has an agreement with the hospital for the transfer of the patients and interchange of medical records.

This part includes four parts, room and board in two to four bed accommodation. It also includes nursing care, physical occupational and speech therapy, and drugs ordinarily furnished.

The plan also gives home health services if ordered by the physician, after the patient has been in the hospital for three days, or from a nursing home, where the patient is entitled to 100 home health visits for each spell of illness.

The patient is also entitled to intermittent nursing care, occupational and speech therapy if available in the area. Included is also medical supplies and the use of medical appliances. The part-time services of a health aide is also included.

Services offered to the outpatient includes diagnostic services, which is a twenty-day hospital diagnostic study on an outpatient basis. The patient may have the use of non-qualified hospitals for emergency care only if the charge is "reasonable."

What the Medicare plan will not pay for.

The patient will not be entitled to a private room unless required for medical reasons.

The medicare plan will not pay for the first three pints of blood.

Medical or surgical service by a physician, including services in field of pathology, radiology, physical therapy and anesthetics, is not paid for in the plan, nor is the service of physician paid for.

A private duty nurse or attendant will not be paid for. The unskilled nursing home care where there has been no agreement for transfer of patients and the interchange of medical records.

The medicare plan does not pay for constant home nursing care, nor pay for the drugs the patient can take himself.

It will not pay for continual services of a home health aide, nor does it pay for the use of non-qualified hospitals for routine care.

Money Stolen

MONETT, Mo. AP -- A burglar stole an estimated $800 to $1,000 from a carnival in Monett Saturday night, but Sheriff Bill Hemphill said the man was arrested in Joplin. The money was recovered.

The sheriff said the man, Marvin Ray Johnson, 27, caught a ride to Joplin and tried to buy an airline ticket to Honolulu. There was no flight out of Joplin immediately so the man went to a hotel, where he was arrested.

Boy Hangs Self

WESTON, Mo. AP-- The body of 15-year-old John L. Fritzel was found hanging in a barn near his home in Weston Sunday. He had been missing since Saturday morning.

The coroner, Roland Griffee, said the boy apparently had been playing with a rope and the hanging was accidental.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel E. Fritzel, was born in Lawrence, Kan., and lived in Weston seven years.

Scott County Declared Natural Disaster Area

BENTON -- Roy Proctor, Jr., Chairman of the Scott County ASC Committee has announced that due to excessive rainfall, Scott County has been declared a natural disaster area by the Secretary of Agriculture.

This action will permit cotton and feed grains that cannot be timely planted to be transferred from one farm to another for the 1966 crop year.

Regulations provide that the producer on the transferring farm must have an interest in the cotton or feed grain on the receiving farm. These crops may be transferred within Scott County or to adjoining counties. If a producer wishes to make a transfer, he must first file an application at the Scott County ASCS Office in Benton.

Cotton farmers in Scott County will vote this month to decide whether they want to be able to sell or lease their cotton allotments outside the county. The referendum on the question will be conducted by mail during the period May 16 through May 25. Ballots may also be delivered by hand to the ASCS County Office.

The only question to be declared by the balloting is whether upland cotton allotments may be transferred during the next 3 years to other farms outside the county which are owned or controlled by someone else. Such transfers may be made by sale or by lease. In no case may transfers be made outside the State. An affirmative vote by at least two-thirds of the county's cotton farmers who vote will permit such transfers for the next three upland cotton crops, 1967-69.

A referendum on the same question was conducted last fall throughout the Cotton Belt, and growers in 349 counties at that time approved the allotment transfers. The vote this May will be held only in counties which disapproved such transfers in last fall's vote.

The upcoming vote by mail marks a first in program administration, according to Mr. Proctor. Farmers previously have been able to vote by mail in annual ASC committeeman elections, but the method has never before been used in a commodity program referendum.

Mr. Proctor said, "It's easy to vote by mail, and we hope all producers will vote. The vote should be fully representative of the wishes of the cotton farmers in our county."

Proctor said that copies of the ballot are being sent to all cotton producers of record in the county, together with information describing the program's purpose and operation. Any cotton producer who has a question about the referendum or about who is eligible to vote, is urged to get in touch with the ASCS County Office.

The Daily Sikeston Standard

C. L. BLANTON, Jr., Managing Editor, Entered at the Postoffice of Sikeston, Scott County, Missouri as Second Class Mail Matter according to Act of Congress March 3, 1879, Saturday, February 4th, 1960.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Monday, May 9, 1675, Malobuena, Spain: The Olla Well is dug by frenzied flamenco dancers.

* * *

M IS FOR THE MONEY SPENT ON MOTHER

IF YOURS IS an average family, it spent about $20 for Mother's day gifts this weekend. That adds up, for all America, to a billion dollars.

And so Mother's day has become a huge financial success. It wasn't 100 per cent easy going all the way, even with the backing of the traditional love Americans have for their mothers.

For one thing, the founder of the day, Anna Jarvis, fought to keep it from becoming commercialized.

For another, America's No. 1 son, George Washington, could never be quoted in a testimonial--he didn't even like his mother.

The billion-dollar sales figure comes from the National Committee on the Observance of Mother's Day, which salutes the occasion as:

"This gift-giving holiday which, for emotional response and intensity of impact throughout the nation, is surpassed only by Christmas."

The National Committee is a New York-based outfit that supplies posters, pennants, streamers, badges, carnations and other business builders for Mother's Day.

Weeks ago the committee called on retailers to "plan a powerful, concentrated merchandising effort that will better serve the consumers' gift-buying needs, and may readily establish an all-time peak in sales volume and profits."

The Committee's Mother's day theme: "Remember mother with a gift she'll remember."

That might have been enough to make Anna Jarvis turn over in her grave. She died in 1948, saddened and made bitter by the commercialism that had overwhelmed her intensely personal Mother's day crusade.

The first official Mother's day service was held in the Andrews Methodist Church at Grafton, W. Va., on May 10, 1908. It was arranged by Miss Jarvis, who sent 500 carnations to be presented to each son, daughter and mother attending the service.

Years later, when the price of greenhouse carnations went too high to suit her, Miss Jarvis tried to popularize celluloid badges.

Mother's day caught on rather quickly, and in 1914 Congress adopted a resolution providing for an official declaration. Woodrow Wilson, on May 8 of that year, was the first President to proclaim national Mother's day, the second Sunday in May.

Sadly enough, Mother's day 1966 finds a dispute going on over the care of the grave of Mary Washington, mother of George, at Fredericksburg, Va. The dispute, between two memorial associations, has been marked by accusations of bad faith and neglect. It is now in federal court.

In her lifetime Mary Washington implied that her famous son, the wealthy owner of Mount Vernon and the father of his country, had neglected her. She asked the Virginia Legislature for a pension, as though she were not being cared for by George, and this grieved and angered him. He wrote her in protest:

"I am viewed as a delinquent and considered by the world to be an unjust and undutiful son."

What sort of a son was George? What sort of a mother was she? One of Washington's biographers, Douglas Southall Freeman, wrote:

"He supplied her with what she asked, if he possibly could do so, and he tried always to show patience toward her, but he did not wish to be with her and he seldom gave her his confidence, if ever."

George wrote his mother that he did not think it would work out for her to live with him at Mount Vernon. He said that if she did she would always have to be dressed for company, or appear in dishabille, or remain in her room--none of which would be satisfactory.

Dr. Freeman added:

"She had never elicited the warm love a man usually has for his mother. She had seemed to him grasping, unreasonable in her demands and untidy in her person."

But if George Washington were alive today, he'd probably go along with the slogan: "Remember mother with a gift she'll remember."

And Anna Jarvis probably would wear a carnation.

* * *

The Colonel said: "If a woman who is a good cook has company for dinner, her conversation consists of "Do try some of this," and "You are not eating a thing."

* * *

COMPLEXITY: A WOOLY CAMOUFLAGE?

One of the favorite arguments of the advocates of big government is that Americans should not try to think about the principles and policies of their government, which are said to be far too complex for them to understand.

A constant refrain in the criticism of American constructives ties in closely with the idea that the ordinary citizen is not competent to think about issues of government policy: i.e., constructive ideas are too simple. They do not take into account, so this argument goes, what is called the "immense complexity" of modern life. They show a desire to retreat to some earlier period of more limited knowledge. This attitude finds common expression in rather bad jokes about people allegedly wishing to "turn their backs on the 20th century."

No one doubts that modern life is complex. But it is made much more complex that it needs to be--and less controllable and more dangerous--by the rejection of basic values.

Actually, constructives are truly facing up to the basic challenges of life today. The real retreat in the free world is not a retreat from the 20th century; it is a retreat from sound solutions. It is an endless counsel of despair that the currents of history are running against us and we must submit to ever-growing collectivism, because there is just no way to stop it.

If this is all that "sophisticated" and "expert" analysis of the modern world can produce, it is a very poor excuse for responsible thinking. It gives up control over our own destiny as a nation and as individuals. As we give up that kind of control, it will assuredly be seized upon by the forces of tyranny bent upon our destruction. They know where they are going even if our policy makers do not. They are not disturbed by the "immense complexity of modern life." They have clear-cut goals.

Great issues may be complex, but the facts surrounding them usually are not. Military strategy, for example, has been called "an art of immense and almost infantile simplicity," while military tactics are so difficult and complex that long years of professional experience are required to master them. So in World War Two, American civilians understood why we must beat Nazi Germany, but few in their right mind would have thought themselves capable of planning a military operation.

It is the same with the great political and policy issues today. Cuba is an example. The facts surrounding Castro's dealings with Russia and Red China, and his web of subversion throughout Latin America are complex, and require experts for their proper interpretation. But the basic issues of whether to let Castro continue his operations unhampered is a simple one. Every thoughtful American is qualified to give an opinion on that issue.

No policy, however "complex," makes any sense unless it is based on fundamental truths and conclusions. What Americans demand of their government today is a clear and forthright statement of the fundamental truths and conclusions on which our national policies are based. And they do not mean by this the usual wordy, high-sounding Madison Avenue formulas used to fill great voids in thinking.

American constructives want to know if the makers of our foreign policy start by assuming that communism is a deadly threat to our existence and that victory over it must be our final aim. They suspect that in many echelons of our State Department, for instance, no such assumption actually exists. Without it, they maintain, the most "expert" policy will fail to support American interests.

The argument over the "simple" versus the "complex" view of American policy problems cuts much deeper than the dispute about conclusions and actions. A mounting body of evidence suggests that the constant talk of "complexity" and "expertise" is largely a smoke screen designed to hide unpleasant truths about our policy.

We are not talking about treason or secret communism in high places. We are talking about views and values which are perfectly legitimate and which any American citizen, enjoying as he does the freedom of thought and expression, has a perfect right to hold; but not to hold in secret when he is making policy for this country. For example, there is so-called democratic socialism which would bring Marxism to America by peaceful means. It is perfectly legal to be a democratic socialist; but in America, it is not safe politically. Americans devoted to their personal enterprise system wonder how many Washington bureaucrats personally committed to the ideas and goals of democratic socialism use the excuse of "great complexity" to screen from public view the real policies they favor.

The same question arises in the field of foreign policy. We do not have to talk about treason or secret communists to wonder if there are policymakers in our State Department who are sincere and convinced believers in world government but dare not let this fact be known. It is perfectly legal to believe in world government and work for its realization; but it wins little support. Are the main issues in our foreign policy so fearfully complex that no one but a career foreign service officer can possibly understand them? Or is the truth simply that many State Department policymakers habitually put the interests of other countries and of a mythical "world community" ahead of the interests of America, and conceal the fact in order to continue supporting such interests?

In a free country, straight thinking by the majority of the voters and straight talk by the policymakers in government are essential. Without straight thinking by the people, tyranny is sure to win in the end, destroying both freedom and popular rule; without straight talk by the policymakers in government, the voters cannot make an intelligent choice among candidates and an intelligent judgment of any administration. They are bound to become suspicious and distrustful--with good reason.

No American wants to distrust his government. It is neither comfortable nor natural. But we can never afford to forget that our country was founded in opposition to the overreaching power of government, and the danger of a recurrence of such power is ever-present. The danger can only be averted by preserving the Constitutional safeguards against excessive concentration of power, and by honesty between government and people, especially where basic policy goals are concerned.

* * *

Sound travels more quickly through warm air than through cool. In air at a temperature of 80 degrees Fahrenheit, sound travels at about 775 miles per hour. At a temperature of 40 degrees below zero, it travels at a rate of only about 690 miles per hour.

Down to His Shorts

TOMORROW

MAY 10 - TUESDAY

CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL DAY, N. C., S. C.

FOUNDERS DAY OF TAURIUS INTERNATIONAL. Purpose: "202nd anniversary of the world's oldest professional society of communicators."

GOLDEN SPIKE CEREMONY. At Golden Spike Historical Monument at Promontory, Corrine, Utah. Commemorates driving of golden spike uniting East and West by railroad on this date, 1869.

HOUSE AND GARDEN TOUR begins. Through 11th. Hartford, Conn.

* * *

A man took his dog to a movie house and sat it in the seat beside him. The usherette was going to throw the dog out until she noticed that it was paying close attention to the film.

After the movie she went up to the man and said, "It really amazed me to see your dog enjoying the picture."

"Amazed me, too," replied the man. "He didn't like the book at all."

* * *

ROCKETING INTO THE FUTURE

"A Method of Reaching Extreme Altitudes" was how Robert H. Goddard titled a 1919 paper on rockets.

At the recent Fourth Goddard Memorial Symposium, sponsored by the American Astronautical Society, the rocket pioneer's successors launched a few flights of fancy into the extreme altitudes of the future--specifically, into "Fiscal Year 2001."

"The interplanetary flight corridors from Mercury to Saturn are alive with manned vehicles of relatively luxurious and sophisticated design, driven by quite advanced propulsion systems," said former V-2 scientist Krafft A. Ehricke, describing the first year of the 21st century.

By that time, he predicted, unmanned probes will have approached the sun as close as 14 million miles and gone as far out as Pluto, an average of 3.7 billion miles from the earth.

Men will also have placed an automatic scientific station on the asteroid Icarus; astrophysicists will be stationed on Mercury; biologists will be on Mars; planetologists will have landed on Venus; and other teams of scientists will be studying Jupiter and Saturn from research stations on Callisto and Titan, two of the moons of those planets.

That the scientists had at least one foot planted on the ground while their heads were among the stars is shown by the fact that they chose the fiscal rather than the calendar year of 2001 as the object of their prognostications.

According to symposium chairman Dr. Eugene B. Konecci, we will see economical manned transportation in service to the near planets, with costs reduced "down to the order of $10 a pound."

From 1966 to 2001 is a mere 35 years--five years closer to us than the day in March 1926 when Goddard's first liquid-fueled rocket soared for 184 feet.

* * *

In 1831 there was six miles of railroad track in the United States. Today there are more than 200,000 miles of first track mileage.

* * *

SARTORIAL STAR of the Week --Hollywood's Hugh O'Brian, whose overwhelming interest in clothes causes him to add many of his own color ideas to his own wardrobe. His outstandingly good taste, and his ability to wear clothes, has made him much more than just a well-groomed man -- he has become an "example" who has been followed by an ever-increasing number of men throughout this country.

* * *

FUTURE MARTINIS MAY BE DIFFERENT

Your hors d'oeuvres tray and the traditional martini might look considerably different soon, the Catholic Digest warns. The future of olive growing is bleak.

The main reason is that oils from oilseeds are so much cheaper. These are grown mainly in the tropics, where wages are lower and their production, unlike that of the olive, can be highly mechanized. The conservative Latin prefers olive oil, but now that he can buy peanut oil at half the price, he buys peanut oil. The difference between 35 pesetas a kilo and 17 pesetas is about 25¢, and that is still a lot of money to the average Mediterranean man.

Nor is there much prospect of olive growers bringing down productions costs. Many landowners in Spain, Italy, and Greece are uprooting their olive trees and, where there is water for irrigation, planting more profitable things, like citrus trees. Where there is no water, they are getting rich because olive land always has plenty of sun and often a view of the sea. Northerners, they find, will pay good prices for it for villas, and developers are hungry to cover it with hotels and bars and flats.

The gentle olive, it is said, civilized the Mediterranean shores, and the marauding goat denuded but never quite destroyed the trees. The property developer and the tourist, as anyone who has been recently to Spain will know, are well on the way to doing what the goat never quite achieved and undoing what the olive accomplished.

* * *

Feed costs for milk production can be reduced 20 to 25 percent through better use of high-quality forages.

* * *

As a former press agent for the movies, I think I know something about Hollywood. You know what Hollywood really is? It's a place where your best friend will plunge a knife into your back and then phone the police to tell them you're carrying a concealed weapon.

* * *

Solution -- DE TWITTER--"I'd like to make my own antifreeze and save some money. How?"

MC TWEET --"No problem--hide her nightgown."

* * *

H. L. Hunt Says

SURPRISE ELECTIONS IN 1965-66

June 8th Republicans elected mayors in Hattiesburg and Columbus, Mississippi, November 2nd in Stamford, New Britain and Waterbury, Connecticut, the latter two receiving 61% vote and in Akron, Ohio, the first Republican mayor in 12 years received 61.8%, an increase in Republican vote of 44.4% since 1963. June 15th in South Carolina, Albert Watson, inspired by Senator Strom Thurmond turning Republican, resigned his Congressional seat as a Democrat and ran in the following special election as a Republican receiving 69.2% vote.

In a recent election in Fort Worth, Texas, urban renewal was supported by the powerful Fort Worth Star Telegram, the Mayor and the City Council, supposedly without formidable opposition. Election eve both the "for" and "against" urban renewal forces conceded that it was a "horse race", neither claiming victory. Next day urban renewal was defeated by a vote of 38,397 to 9,248 and the 4 to 1 margin was a supersurprise.

May 3, 1966, in the Democrat Primary, Alabama Governor George Wallace, battling with the Federal Government throughout his 4 year term, ineligible for re-election, campaigned for Mrs. Wallace. Mrs. Lurleen Wallace, mother of 4 children, defeated the Attorney General, 2 former Governors, and 6 other opponents by a clear marjority precluding a run-off.

An earnest speaker for freedom who was admonishing his listeners to "become active now" told of a man buying a parrot with cage for $50 and sending it home to surprise his wife. He rushed home early anxious to find his wife elated. He opened the door and, surprised, asked, "Where is the bird?" She answered, In the oven." Horrified, he exclaimed, "That is awful. That bird spoke 7 languages." She replied meekly, "Well, why didn't it speak up?" HLH

Doc. Duncan Says

New York Editor wrote a piece bout the war. It sed: Forgive them not, for they knew what they did.

Si say that would be a good one to use on them burn-cots an double-crossers in Washington when they comes up fur lection.

* * *

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

SAN FRANCISCO -- It's a long way in miles between Washington and San Francisco. But it's not far in ethical standards between the conduct of Sen. Tom Dodd, Democrat, and that of the ex-mayor of San Francisco, now running for governor of the biggest state in the union. In fact, the record of George Christopher, Republican, puts Dodd, a Democrat, in the shade.

Christopher, a big diary operator, by trading on the fact that he is a Greek - American immigrant, has been yelling persecution in the same way Dodd claimed the Communists are out to get him. He has so skillfully put himself in the role of the vilified underdog that anyone who reports the true facts is accused of McCarthyism.

No later than March 30 of this year, Christopher's headquarters issued a letter signed by Arch Monson, Jr., as "coordinator," warning editors to be on the alert against a smear of Christopher. This was an old dodge. It was practiced in 1962 when Christopher was running for lieutenant governor. At that time his headquarters put up a similar smokescreen -- a letter, Feb. 14, 1962, signed by GOP State Chairman J. F. Sullivan warning editors to beware of a forthcoming "smear."

In each case Christopher's backers enclosed a 1955 letter from A. E. Bagshaw, the district attorney who prosecuted Christopher in 1940. In the letter Bagshaw placed a casual coloring around that conviction, though admitting basic facts in the case.

Bagshaw has now written a second letter, as of last week, withdrawing the casual interpretation of his 1955 letter.

I happen to be among those who were fooled by Christopher's earlier cries of smear. As a result, I reported favorably on his early campaigns to become mayor of San Francisco. I was not only fooled but I believed it was a healthy demonstration of Americanism to elect as mayor of an important city a naturalized U. S. citizen born in Greece.

Since that time many Americans of Greek descent have become disillusioned with Christopher's conduct and withdrawn their support, among them George C. Vournas, past president of AHEPA, and George E. Johnson of Sacramento, once one of Christopher's heaviest supporters.

CHRISTOPHER'S REAL RECORD

Careful examination of the alleged "smear" shows that, in real fact, Christopher has erected a smokescreen to prevent free and fair discussion of his career while simultaneously wanting to be elected to the highest office in his state.

Believing that no election, under the American system, can be fairly held without free and fair discussion of the qualifications of all candidates, I have dug into Christopher's record. It shows conclusively that the candidate for governor:

1. Lied about his 1940 arrest in Marin County, in that he put $10,000 in kickbacks into his own pocket. He did not, as he claimed, try to sell milk cheaper "for the kids and mothers."

2. Distorted the truth about his 1943-44 conviction in San Francisco by claiming it stemmed from an "industrial hazard" when in real fact he was warned 193 times, charging the watering of milk by as much as 20 per cent; filthy conditions at his plant; and other violations. His conviction was part of this series of warnings extending over several years.

3. Used his high office as mayor of San Francisco in selling to the schools, city concessionaires, and city licensees who were beholden to him.

4. Secured a draft deferment during World War II on the grounds that he was an agricultural worker, though at that very same time he was bilking the public and violating city and state health standards to build up a multimillion-dollar milk company.

Those are some of the facts that Christopher has wanted to hush up. And this is why former Governor Goodwin "Goodie" Knight, an eminent and respected Republican, wrote Tom Storke, publisher of the Santa Barbara News-Press during the gubernatorial campaign of 1962:

"George Christopher pled guilty in 1941 to extortion and was fined $5,000. His record is the worst I have ever seen and the Republicans in nominating him have made a basic blunder."

HIS FIRST CONVICTION

Mayor Christopher's first conviction took place when he was no juvenile, but 34 years old, an age when behavior patterns are already set, and when voters have a right to examine those patterns in order to judge how a candidate will act if elected.

Christopher had acquired the Meadow Glen Dairy in Marin county where, along with every other dairy, he was subject to the California law which fixed the price of milk according to a milk marketing plan. In order to increase his profits, however, Christopher exacted kickbacks from farmers. If they would not kick back, he threatened to refuse their milk. Naturally, they couldn't afford to let their milk spoil, so they paid Christopher on the side.

While some other dairies did the same, Christopher's high-handed operation was described by C. J. Carey, chief of the California agriculture department's enforcement bureau, as the "most flagrant and defiant we have ever experienced."

Finally one milk farmer, Charles J. Lane, had the courage to stand up to Christopher and in January, 1940, filed criminal charges. Later that year other farmers did likewise; so that Christopher faced charges of taking 57 separate kickbacks totaling $10,000.

The man who now wants to be governor of California waived trial, pleaded guilty to ten counts, was fined $5,000, and was given two years in jail, which was suspended on condition that he stay out of the milk business for one year. More on his record follows in an early column.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Why The Labor Leaders Did Not Get to Dine at The White House.

Washington, D. C.: -- On April 19 a considerable number of national labor leaders checked to see that their black ties and dinner jackets were in shape.

They had received telegrams advising them to keep clear the end of the May 2nd week for dinner at the White House.

They were delighted. It had been a long time.

And with the grape pickers' crisis over, they could even sip the fine domestic wines with a clear class conscience.

But the actual invitation never came.

Instead, President Johnson gave a smaller dinner exactly two weeks later in honor of Ambassador Arthur Goldberg. A handful of labor leaders and business men were asked.

All were pledged to secrecy. Very little leaked. So the conversation had to be about far more than Viet Nam. It was.

In effect, what Mr. Johnson wanted was eyeball to eyeball advice on how to reconcile his economists with the realists out in the field.

Unfortunately, the handful of national labor chiefs who did sup with him could do little more than talk. They are prestigious. But they are actually powerless to deliver what the President wants -- a brake on wage demands.

They could not if they wanted to and they don't want to.

At this moment the AFL-CIO national headquarters' Research Dept., under the scholarly Nat Goldfinger, is preparing for a public showdown to smash the President's wage - price guidelines, which aim at keeping pay increases at a 3.2 per cent hike annually.

Rarely has there been such a concentration of labor's brain power. Experts from such unions as Walter Reuther's auto workers and Dave Dubinsky's garment workers are being called in. Together the experts are readying their propaganda for a public hearing before a Senate committee to be chaired by Wisconsin's William Proxmire.

It could not be otherwise. Everywhere union chiefs -- down amongst the locals where the real power lies -- are asking for wage hikes and imaginative fringe benefits running from $28 to $54 a week over two- and three-year contracts.

Right in this capital, the carpenters have been striking for a package increase of over $30 weekly.

No one can stop them -- certainly not the diners at the White House or the veteran ex-labor lawyer Arthur Goldberg, to whose New York Waldorf Tower suite a bid now has the accolade of a White House invitation.

The carpenters are not even picketing. They simply are not working. The other crafts can go in. Of course, at a certain point millions of dollars in construction will stop.

The carpenters set up the wooden molds into which concrete is poured. No molds, no concrete. And they handle the shoring up and the pile-driving equipment.

They could not care less about the table conversation down the street.

They are pressed by zooming costs of living. And there are scores of other construction contracts expiring in the spring and summer -- a strategic moment for the union chiefs.

Thus it goes unnoticed by the public. A bright lawyer who now is giving ulcers to all guideline - ists is Lee Pressman whom Arthur Golberg succeeded as old CIO counsel.

Recently he negotiated for his client, the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Assn. (MEBA -- an AFL - CIO union) an 18-month contract giving its members an increase of about $35 a week.

Significant here is the fact that the MEBA men work on Great Lakes vessels owned by such companies as U. S. Steel. They carry ore.

Thus the spectre of this victory will haunt the United Steelworkers as they prepare for their next go-round with the steel industry. Mr. Pressman also preceded Mr. Goldberg as steel union counsel.

And there are the railroads.

The public will hear from the newest of unpublicized rail brotherhood leaders, drawling Charles Luna, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen -- 190,000 strong.

He will ask for a 25 per cent increase per week and some mighty fine fringe benefits--more holidays, a guaranteed work month and a $2,000 policy for retirees.

If this conflict does not make considerable noise this July, the experts will be surprised.

And as on the (inland) sea, and on the land, there is turbulence in the air.

If the machinists don't strike the commercial airlines around July 4 for a 15 per cent hike, it will be the miracle of modern aviation.

There are a hundred such contracts upcoming -- in oil, chemical and atomic works and in the plants of General Electric and Westinghouse, to name a few.

It will take more than even the President's art of persuasion to keep the peace on the home front this hot summer.

The Women's Page

RUTH DILLENDER, Women's Page Editor
PHONE GR 1-1137

Miss Linda Diane Merick

Linda Merick Plans May Vows With Dwight Ott

BELL CITY -- Mr. and Mrs. Harold Merick, Sr., wish to announce the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Linda Diane, to Dwight Ott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ott of Clinton, Ark.

The bride-elect is a 1965 graduate of Bell City high school. The prospective groom is employed as an art teacher at the school. He is a graduate of Arkansas State Teachers College.

The wedding will be Saturday, May 21, at 4 p.m. at the Garden Ridge church near here. After the ceremony, a reception will be held in the church dining hall. Friends and relatives are invited.

After their marriage the couple plans to live in Clinton, Ark.

Mrs. Johnson Is Honored at Cradle Shower

BELL CITY -- Mrs. Arch Lemmons and her sister, Miss Edna Allison were hostesses to a cradle shower at the former's home for Mrs. Irwin Johnson, Thursday evening, April 28.

Decorations of pink and blue were used. Refreshments of punch and cupcakes, decorated with miniature infants and names were served to the guests.

Attending were Mrs. Max Richardson, Mrs. Lester Karnes, Mrs. Bennie Hesselrode, Mrs. Doy Bell, Mrs. Edd Britton, the honoree's mother, Mrs. Lloyd Lemmons, Mrs. Cleatus Lemmons, Mrs. Frank Dunn, Mrs. Raymond Carpenter, Mrs. Robert Britton, Mrs. Pat James, Mrs. Gary Watkins, Mrs. Ival Karnes, Miss Judy Chailland, Miss Shirley Carpenter, and Miss Linda McAnually.

Square Dancers to Appear on TV

The Cotton Square Dance Club of Kennett of which Bill Volner is the caller will appear on the Breakfast Show on Channel 12, KFVS television in Cape Girardeau from 7 to 8 a.m. Tuesday.

District PTA School To Be Thursday

The Southeast District P. T. A. school of instruction will be held Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in the library of the senior high school.

Sandwiches, coffee, and dessert will be available in the cafetorium at 6:30.

Mrs. Barbara Johnston, Southeast District president, will introduce Mrs. Roy E. Lister, treasurer and budget chairman of state board. A film strip, "How to Preside and Conduct a Meeting," will be shown.

All newly elected officers are urged to attend.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Patients Admitted To Missouri Delta Community Hospital
May 7, 1966
Opal Jones, Sikeston
Karen Corlies, Sikeston
Jonus Thornton, Portageville
Oma Perry, Charleston
Georgia Copeland, Wyatt
Charles Fausett, Sikeston
William Turnbo, Matthews
Howard Walker, Idalia
Carl Parker, Charleston
Patients Dismissed May 7
Louis Heckert, Bertrand
Mrs. Charlotte Lewis and Baby Boy, New Madrid
Goldie Holman, Sikeston
Phyllis Dockins, Sikeston
Robert Marshall, East Prairie
Horace McClellon, Sikeston
Sarah Dickison, Dexter
Nona Aleta Garnett, Sikeston
Baby Boy Hamilton, Benton
Robert Zimmer, East Prairie

Patients Admitted To Missouri Delta Community Hospital
May 8, 1966
Michael Slaven, Charleston
May Ann Davis, Bertrand
Dessie Chastain, Catron
Charles Terrell, Sikeston
Dempsey Lyons, Benton
Carrie Carr, Dexter
Sarah Slatham, Anniston
Bonnie Collins, Sikeston
Roy B. Nall, Sikeston
Sarah Dickison, Dexter
Jeffrey Runnels, Charleston
Esther Slusher, Hammond, Ind.
Patients Dismissed May 8
Suzanne Lewis, East Prairie
Mary Carter, East Prairie
Alisa Martin, Charleston
Mrs. Cloteria Ware and Baby Boy, Sikeston
Ruth Hale, East Prairie
Nora Gilmore, New Madrid
Opal Jones, Sikeston

Walter Adams of Dexter has been admitted to Doctors Hospital in Poplar Bluff.

Roy Bennett and Mrs. Martha Gaines, both of Dexter, have been released from Doctors Hospital in Poplar Bluff.

Larry Forkum, Mrs. Willene Simpson, both of Dexter, and Mrs. Addie Gromer of Bloomfield have been admitted to Lucy Lee Hospital in Poplar Bluff.

Chester G. Walters of Dexter and Mrs. Mildred E. Wilson of Gray Ridge have been admitted to Poplar Bluff Hospital.

John R. Abanatha of Sikeston and Mrs. Louise Allstun of Dexter have been dismissed from Poplar Bluff Hospital.

Jacqueline and Monty Shaffer of Oran, Mrs. Leland Griffin of Charleston, Marvin Link of Advance and Keith Ziegenhorn of Sikeston have been admitted to Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Harold Lipe of Oran has been admitted to Cape Osteopathic Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Mrs. Ray Evans of Oran and Mrs. Ralph Bogert of East Prairie have been released from St. Francis Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Mrs. Russell D. Hoggard of Portageville has been released from Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Thomas Helton of Dexter has been released from Cape Osteopathic Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Social Calender

TUESDAY

Chapter JU of the P. E. O. Sisterhood will meet at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 10, at the home of Mrs. Gene Dement.

WEDNESDAY

The Lions Club fish fry will be at 7:30 p.m. C. D. T. Wednesday, May 11, at the Lakeview Dining Hall, Reelfoot, Tenn.

WEDNESDAY

The Entre Nous Club will meet at 2 p.m. Wednesday, May 11, at the home of Mrs. Carrie Petifurd, 625 Vernon.

The law of Iceland requires that all children be taught to swim.

Auxiliary Meets May 5

HENRY MELDRUM Unit No. 114, American Legion Auxiliary, met Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the American Legion Hall with the first vice president, Mrs. Myrtle Moll, presiding.

The meeting was opened with the regular ceremony and a special prayer by the national chaplain was read by Mrs. Moll.

A letter from the 14th District membership chairman was read. She was urging all Units to reach their goal in membership by June 1. State department books close on June 29.

Girls State chairman announced the girls to attend Girls State had received their application blanks and were to have them completed by that day and returned to the chairman to mail to state headquarters.

Discussion was held concerning Poppy Days which will be held May 27 and 28. Poppies will be offered to the public for donations which the Unit uses in their child welfare and rehabilitation programs.

Americanism Chairman, Mrs. J. S. Wallace, announced she had received 13 essays from the school students. The theme is "What Being an American Means To Me." The essays were judged and the best one was sent to the 14th District Americanism chairman.

It was announced that the next regular 14th District meeting would be held Sunday, May 22, at 2 p.m. at Jackson in the American Legion Hall. Each Unit is urged to send delegates as new District officers will be elected for 1966-1967.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned with prayer by Mrs. Moll.

THE NEWS in Brief

Mrs. Blance Cobb, 322 Greer, had as Mother's Day guests, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Caruthers of Mount Vernon, Ill., and Mr. Caruthers' mother, Mrs. Corinne Caruthers of Cape Girardeau.

A2c Victor A. McClung of Stewart air force base, Tenn., spent the weekend visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McClung. He arrived Friday afternoon and returned Sunday evening.

Mrs. Mary Harwood of Kankakee, Ill., Mrs. Evie Briar and Donna, Patsy and Sue of Gordonville and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brenner were dinner guests Sunday of Mrs. Robert Greer, 205 Mill Row.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo L. Schade visited his mother, Mrs. Mary Schade of Cape Girardeau, and her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Lee, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Bumgardaner

Does Student Teaching

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Mrs. Carol Issacs Bumgardaner, a senior at Southeast Missouri State College, will student teach physical education at College high school for the current semester.

Student teaching is a part of the "professional semester" which precedes graduation of the teacher. This nine-week period allows the student to apply his specialty knowledge and teaching skills under the direct supervision of an experienced teacher.

Mrs. Bumgardaner, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fearl Issacs of Morley, graduated from Scott County Central high school in Scott county. While at Southeast Missouri State College she participated in the activities of the Physical Education Majors Club, the American Association for Health and Physical Education and Recreation.

Panbroiling Makes Use of Dry Heat

When you use a frying-pan or griddle without fat, that's one of the dry heat methods employed for cooking meat.

Dry heat cooking methods are used for tender cuts of meat. They mean simply that heat is used for cooking the meat, but moisture in the form of liquid is not added.

Meats which are suitable for broiling may also be panbroiled. Panbroiling is usually preferred for meats which are cut thin, since this method makes it possible to serve the steaks browned on the outside yet rare or medium on the inside, says Reba Staggs, meat authority.

Panbroiling is also preferred for steaks and chops when you have a small quantity for cooking such as one, two or three.

Pans or griddles used for panbroiling need not be sizzling hot. If heated, the meat will, however, start cooking sooner than if you use a cold pan.

It's important to pour off fat as it accumulates or you will have a panfried product rather than a panbroiled one.

Turning more than once is often recommended for even cooking and attractive browning.

Should you cover or add water? The answer's an emphatic "no" for this would no longer be a dry heat method under these circumstances.

Get Your
Wedding Invitations
At
Superior Stationery
112 E. Center

Judith Ann Chailland Says Vows With Kenneth Sissum

BELL CITY -- In a late Sunday afternoon ceremony on May 1, Miss Judith Ann Chailland and Kenneth Gene Sissum were united in marriage at the Garden Ridge General Baptist church with the Rev. Noah Cox, pastor, officiating in the double ring exchange of vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Chailland of Painton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sissum of Bloomfield.

Norval Driscoll was pianist for the wedding march when the bride came down the aisle at the arm of her brother, Kenneth Chailland, who presented her in marriage. She wore a street length gown of white brocade satin with bracelet length sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt. Complements to her attire a veil of illusion and a corsage of white carnation.

Mrs. Frank Dunn of Advance, sister of the groom, attended the bride as matron of honor. Mrs. Dunn wore a gown of pale blue whipped cream fabric and a white carnation corsage. Her husband, Frank Dunn, attended the groom as best man.

The bride is a graduate of the Bell City high school and is employed at the Inland Shoe factory at Advance. Sissum attended high school in Bell City and returned from a tour of duty in Viet Nam in January. He is employed by Mirley Implement Co., Advance.

At a reception held in the church dining room, the bride's sister, Miss Kathy Chailland, and Miss Sheila White and Miss Mary Teets served at the guest table, which was decorated with wedding bells and blue streamers.

Births

GRAHAM

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Graham of Blodgett are the parents of a baby boy born Saturday at the Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

NEAL

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Neal of Oran are the parents of a baby girl born Saturday at the Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau. The new arrival weighed six pounds and has been named Paula Jean. This is the couple's first child. Mrs. Neal is the former Miss Jean Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Carter of Oran. The father is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neal of Oran.

MCWHIRTER

Mr. and Mrs. John W. McWhirter of Charleston are the parents of a baby girl born Friday at the Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau. The baby daughter has been named Linda Joyce and weighed six pounds and eight ounces. This is the couple's fourth child and third daughter. Mrs. McWhirter is the former Miss Melba Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reynolds of Linneus. The father is the son of Mrs. Dessie McWhirter of Benton.

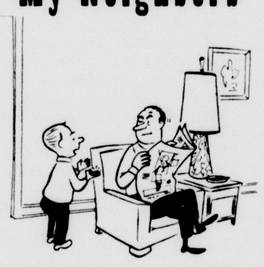

Parma 4-H Meets

PARMA -- Fourteen members and leaders were present for the regular meeting of the 4-H Club which was held in the music room of the elementary school, Friday evening, April 29.

After a short business meeting a program was given on "Safety and Health." Kathy Dickerson gave a report on "Safety in General." Marlene Lueker gave "Safety During the Tornado Season." Francis Hardesty gave a lesson on "Health and Physical Fitness," after which she led the girls in exercises.

Games were led by Vicky Cox. Refreshments of brownies and hot chocolate were served to those present.

My Neighbors

"Say, Pop, shouldn't I be getting a cost-of-living adjustment?"

DID YOU KNOW?
THE NATIONAL MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS SOCIETY FIGHTS MS through research and patient services
A Public Service of Publications Advertising

Flowers
THE PERFECT GIFT
CARROLL'S FLORIST
208 Sikes GR 1-3163

GOOD MUSIC RADIO
KMPL 1520 K.C.s
FOR YOUNG ADULTS

WORKING WITH the Holiday Art Exhibit, May 28 and 29 in mind, Barbara Irwin paints a still life and Randy York adds touches to his painting. Both are students in Miss Emily Brennecke's high school art class.

Party Marks Fifth Birthday

DEXTER--John Chamberlain, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Chamberlain, former Sikeston residents, was honored on his fifth birthday with a party Saturday, April 23.

Blue and white streamers and white bells accented the party room's decorations with a Flintstone theme being used in the table decorations.

A birthday cake decorated in blue and white, ice cream, potato chips and punch were served to the guests.

Guests included Earlinda Adams, Karen Alsup, Lee Godwin, Angela McRoy, Tis Boyt, Andy Boyt, Jimmy Hill, Mike Griffin, Randy Ziegler, Janice Lincoln, Terry Cattron, and Randy Cattron, Dexter; Sherry and Mike Spitler and Karen Krauss, of Sikeston.

Adults attending were Mrs. Yewell Lawrence, Sr., Mrs. Shirley McRoy, Mrs. Kenneth Spitler and Mrs. Sarah Woolem.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were Richard Thrower, John and Elizabeth Honner, Mrs. George Jarbo, Mrs. William Stover, Mrs. Barbara Grissom, Mrs. Byron Curtner, and Mrs. William Chamberlain.

Sikeston TUESDAY SPECIAL
Kentucky Fried Chicken©
Reg. $1.00
BOX DINNER
only 89¢
"It's Finger Lickin' Good—North America's Hospitality Dish"
COMPLETE DINNER INCLUDES: 3 pieces of Chicken, Potatoes, Chicken Gravy, Roll
INSPECTED CHICKENS ONLY. No Substitutions. WE USE U.S. GOV'T.
available at HARRIS'
Kentucky Fried Chicken©
Midtowner Village

• SWIMMING POOL
• CARPETING
• GARAGE
• MODERNIZATION
Whatever you need at
THIS MINUTE
CAN BE FINANCED ALMOST AS FAST! . . .
An Economy Plan Improvement Loan is available for a wide range of home and property improvements, including wall-to-wall carpeting, kitchen modernization, central air conditioning and heating and even swimming pools. Discuss your needs with us very soon.
Has the time come when YOU need money?
SECURITY NATIONAL BANK
OF SIKESTON
SIKESTON, MISSOURI

Refresh Your Summer Wardrobe
Now is the time to have your summer wardrobe brought right up to par. Our experienced cleaners can brighten and clean your present sportswear and other summer clothes so they'll look just as sharp and attractive as new. Bring them in today.
SIKESTON LAUNDRY & CLEANERS
Free pickup & delivery
517 E. Malone GR 1-5165

YOUR HEALTH!
comes first, but we're helpful in many ways
TOILETRIES
Accurately filling your doctor's prescriptions is our primary function, but we are also your most convenient source for all toiletries and sundries.
JAMES DRUG STORE
PRESCRIPTION SPECIALISTS
Sikeston, Mo.
Phone GR 1-5707
Yours For Good Health

in tune for Spring
DESIGNED FOR YEAR 'ROUND USE INSIDE AND OUTSIDE
5 PC. ENSEMBLE
Now Priced $129.50
Wilcoxson & Sons
SIKESTON, MISSOURI

Cards Hand Giants 10-5 Victory

Home-run balls and the sounds of "Auld Lang Syne" punctuated the St. Louis Cardinals' last defeat at historic Busch Stadium Sunday.

The Cards' lost their third straight game to the San Francisco Giants, 10-5, and then marched, with nearly 18,000 fans, two miles to dedicate the new, $24 - million Busch Memorial Stadium.

While the home runs were flying in St. Louis, it took the Washington Senators only two hits to down the A's, 3-2 in Kansas City.

The Giants' Willie McCovey and Willie Mays punched hits out of the ballpark for San Francisco Sunday. It was Mays' eighth four-bagger of the season and the 513th of his career. McCovey's eighth inning effort accounted for three San Francisco runs.

All the Cards' tallies came on round-trippers. Tim McCarver slammed a two-run homer and Bob Skinner hit a pinch-hit two-run four-bagger to give St. Louis a four-run fourth inning.

Mike Shannon completed the Card's scoring with a solo homer in the fifth.

San Francisco's Lindsay McDaniel received credit for the victory against Tracy Stallard of the Cards.

Washington took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Fred Valentine raced home from third after a wild throw on a pick-off attempt.

Then, A's starter Fred Talbot hurled seven innings of no-hit ball before he was tagged with a leadoff homer by Paul Casanova in the eighth.

Kansas City tied the count at 2-all when Bert Campaneris drove in Ozzie Chavarria with a triple and scored himself on a sacrifice by Wayne Causey.

The Senators won it in the tenth on Bob Saverine's pinch-hit single.

Talbot left in the eighth for a pinch-hitter. He allowed only one hit in his eight inning stint. The loss was charged to John Wyatt who gave up only one hit in two innings of relief.

Kansas City will host Boston tonight with Rolland Sheldon starting against Jim Lonborg of the Red Sox.

St. Louis goes to Chicago where Al Jackson will face Bob Hendley of the Cubs today.

Cape Relays

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Cape Central captured their own track meet here Saturday, by winning with a total of 110 points without the services of Sylvester Johnson.

Eight meet records were shattered in the days events, with records falling in the mile run, high hurdles, 880 yd. relay, broad jump, discus, shot put, 440 yd. low hurdles and mile relay.

Others finished in the following order: Kennett 80, Poplar Bluff 70, Dexter 60, Charleston 46, Cleveland of St. Louis 45, Jackson 30, and Perryville 8.

Keane Fired

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK AP -- Johnny Keane came in a gentleman and went out the same way -- with kind words for the New York Yankees, who fired him Saturday as manager.

Keane arrived in New York late Sunday afternoon from Los Angeles and met his wife, Lela, who had flown up from their Houston home. He didn't even know the Yanks had won their second straight under Ralph Houk until a reporter told him.

"If they can get them hitting," said Keane, "that is all there will be to it. The pitching wasn't bad, but we just were not hitting.

"I left the Yankees with all good feelings. It has been a privilege to have worked for them. It is their right to make a change when they see fit. My wife and I really enjoyed New York. Contrary to talk about the big, cold cty, we found it a very warm experience.

"I haven't had time to talk to anybody about the future. But I plan to contact all the major league teams. They all know that I am out. I want them to know I am available -- if and when."

The lean, soft-spoken veteran of 37 years in baseball shrugged his shoulders when he spoke of his problems with the Yankees, who were in last place with a 4-16 record when he was replaced.

"Things like this happen in baseball," he said. "You do your best, and that's all you can do. It wasn't frustrating to me, just disappointing. You go with the best you have and keep punching."

Keane said he did not know the ax was about to fall when he left on the long road trip last Thursday night. He had sent his wife home rather than have her alone in New York during his absence.

"The first I knew was about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon," said Keane. "I asked them to hold off the announcement until I could tell the players myself. They agreed."

Keane spent his entire pre-Yankee career as a player, coach and manager in the St. Louis Cardinals organization.

COLD TENT

Tent cold? Rustle up some cardboard sheets and line inside of the tent with them. Cuts drafts, holds in heat.

TAPED

A roll of white adhesive tape makes a good emergency repair kit. Fix loose guides. Patch tent holes, hold mirror on tree. Tape, unstuck, even makes a fair stustitute for porkrind.

Cards Exchange Pitcher For Bat Power

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

ST. LOUIS AP -- The San Francisco Giants have a new left-handed pitcher -- Ray Sadecki -- the St. Louis Cardinals have a new clean-up hitter -- Orlando Cepeda -- and Cepeda has a chance to play regularly.

The straight player deal between the two National League teams was made Sunday.

Both clubs and Sadecki expressed satisfaction with the trade. Cepeda, the veteran first baseman-outfielder, had mixed emotions.

The Cardinals had been looking for someone to add punch to their weak-hitting line-up, while the Giants were casting about for a left-handed pitcher to augment their right-handed aces, Juan Marichal and Gaylord Perry.

Cepeda, who has played sparingly since he underwent surgery to remove cartilage in his right knee in December, 1964, has been anxious to play regularly.

Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst, elated about the trade, said the right-handed slugger would be installed in the clean-up spot for today's game in Chicago. Cepeda has a .286 average with three homers and 15 RBI in 19 games this season.

The Cardinals' doubts about Cepeda's knee apparently have been satisfied.

Cepeda, 28, who has 226 home runs and a lifetime average of .303, was told of the deal after the St. Louis-San Francisco game Sunday.

"I had a feeling I would be traded," Cepeda said, "and I guess I'm happy because I'll get a chance to play every day. But I've been with the Giants so long."

The 25-year-old Sadecki, who won 20 games in 1964 when the Cardinals captured the pennant and the World Series, said he expected the trade.

"We're in first, and I hope I can do my share to help out," he said. "I'm looking forward to going to San Francisco."

Scott Central Captures Second In Class S Meet

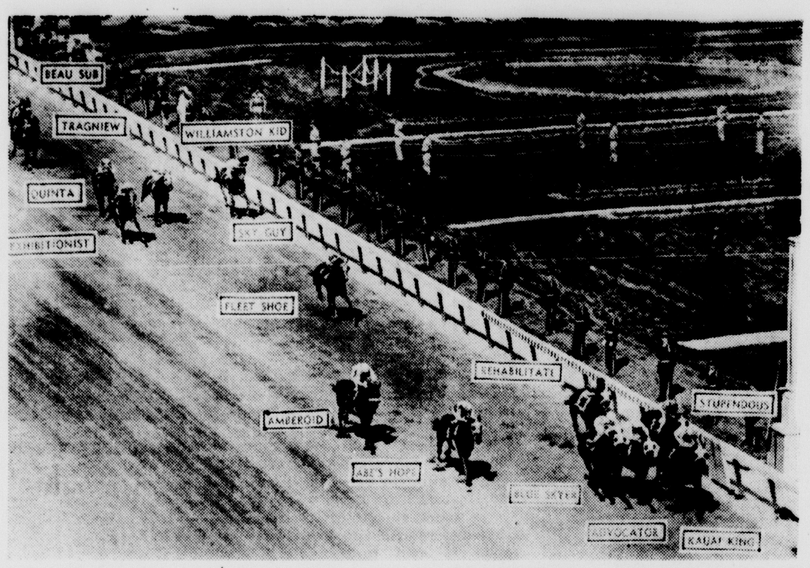

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Delta won the Class S track meet here Saturday afternoon by whipping the Scott Central Braves 82-79, with Oak Ridge placing third with 36 points.

No records were broken as the hot day seemed to slow up the runners.

Scott Central placed second in the state indoor track meet and was expected to take this title but was upset by the Delta Bobcats.

In the M finals, Portageville captured first place in the field of 17 schools, with 31½ points and was followed by Valle of Ste. Genevieve 26, East Prairie 25, Malden 20, Flat River 16, Ste. Genevieve 13.

"Truth is as clear as a bell, but it is not always tolled."
--Harold S. May

KAUAI KING WINS 92ND RUNNING OF KY. DERBY -- Overhead view of the finish of the Kentucky Derby shows (lower right) Kauai King winning by a half-length over fast-closing Advocator. Jockey Don Brumfield put Kauai King in front and held him there, winning in 2:02 on a fast track at Churchill Downs, Ky. Owner Michael J. Ford received $120,500 for the win and Kauai King paid $6.80, $4.20 and $3.60. Advocator returned $13 and $8.60 for second and Blue Skyer $5.40 for third.

Kentucky Derby Winner Off To Run In Preakness

By BOB COOPER
Associated Press Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. AP -- Trainer Henry Forrest has been too busy the past year to even visit his new Tennessee home and there's no let-up in sight. He was preparing today to ship Kauai King, the Kentucky Derby winner, east for the Preakness.

"I bought a little, six-acre place at Brentwood, near Nashville, more than a year ago, but I've spent only one night there since then," Forrest said.

Reminded that Kauai King's half-length Derby victory Saturday was his 230th at Churchill Downs, the 58-year-old native of Covington, Ky., reminisced over his 40 years in racing.

"I started out when I was 18 years old with a horse for J. B. Respess at the old Latonia track," Forrest said.

Apparently, that was a good omen. Respess" Wintergreen had won the Derby 16 years before that and, like Kauai King in Saturday's 92nd running of the classic, led all the way.

Forrest, a winner with the first colt he ever saddled for the Derby, gave much of the credit to jockey Don Brumfield.

"He rode just wonderful," Forrest said. "I told him before the race there might be some horses in front of him at the start, but to use his own judgment.

"He did just that."

Almost as pleased as Forrest were some in the camp of Advocator, a surprise second finisher in America's most glamorous race. A groom, Albert Foley, proudly predicted the colt would become horse of the year.

Jim Padgett, trainer of third finisher Blue Skyer, said he "couldn't have been more tickled" with the race.

Padgett, who entered Blue Skyer after he was goaded into it, said he had planned to move from here to Chicago, but now "I guess we'll go in the Preakness. I'll have to talk to the owners to be sure, though."

With exception of Fleet Shoe, all of the colts from the Derby were pronounced in good health. Trainer Larry Sterling said Fleet Shoe was "a little touchy in the left knee."

Both Fleet Shoe and Abe's Hope, the second choice in the betting and fifth colt under the finish wire, may get some rest from the racing wars. The others will continue training for summer racing.

"We'll go to Sportsman's Park and may give him a little rest," trainer Del Carroll said of Abe's Hope. A groom noted the Better Bee colt has been in 10 races, including the Derby, this year and all but two were at more than a mile.

All of the first six finishers--Kauai King, Advocator, Blue Skyer, Stupendous, Abe's Hope and Rehabilitate -- thought they had a top shot at the $120,500 first prize until the last.

BATTING -- Frank Robinson, Baltimore, lashed a single, double, triple and two homers, driving in three runs and scoring four, as the Orioles swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 8-2 and 8-3.

PITCHING -- Jim Palmer, Baltimore, pitched no-hit ball for five innings and wound up with a three-hitter as the Orioles whipped Cleveland 8-2 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Major League Standings

NATINAL LEAGUE

	W.	L.	G.B.
San Fran.	18	7	--
Pittsburgh	14	8	2½
Houston	15	10	3
Phila.	11	9	4½
Atlanta	13	12	5
Los Angeles	13	12	5
New York	8	10	6½
ST. LOUIS	8	14	8½
Cincinnati	7	14	9
Chicago	6	17	11

Saturday's Results
Chicago 3, New York 2
Philadelphia 7, Pittsburgh 3
Los Angeles 14, Cincinnati 2
San Francisco 15, St. Louis 2
Houston 3, Atlanta 0

Sunday's Results
Pittsburgh 3, Philadelphia 2
San Francisco 10, St. Louis 5
Houston 5, Atlanta 4
Cincinnati 2, Los Angeles 1
Chicago 3-1, New York 1-5

Today's Games
Los Angeles at Philadelphia, N
San Francisco at Pittsburgh, N
Cincinnati at Atlanta, N
St. Louis at Chicago
Only games scheduled

Tuesday's Games
Houston at New York, N
Los Angeles at Philadelphia, N
San Francisco at Pittsburgh, N
St. Louis at Chicago
Cincinnati at Atlanta, 2, twi-night

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	W.	L.	G.B.
Baltimore	15	4	--
Cleveland	15	4	--
Detroit	13	9	3½
Chicago	11	8	4
California	12	9	4
Minnesota	9	9	5½
Washington	7	12	8
Boston	7	14	9
New York	6	16	10½
Kansas City	5	15	10½

Saturday's Results
Cleveland 6, Baltimore 3
Minnesota 6, Boston 4
Chicago 1, Detroit 0
KansasCity 5, Washington 2
New York 3, California 1

Sunday's Results
New York 5, California 2
Washington 3, Kansas City 2, 10 innings
Boston 8-4, Minnesota 1-1
Detroit 3, Chicago 1, 1st game 11 innings, 2nd game, postponed, cold
Baltimore 8-8, Cleveland 2-3

Today's Games
Washington at California, N
Boston at Kansas City, N
New York at Minnesota, N
Only games scheduled

Tuesday's Games
Washington at California, N
Boston at Kansas City, N
New York at Minnesota, N
Detroit at Cleveland, N
Chicago at Baltimore, N

BOXING

Weekend Fights

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PAU, France -- Marcel Cerdan, Jr., 141, Paris, outpointed Roger Malezieux, 140½, Pau, 8.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico -- Luis Rodringuez, 140½, Miami, Fla., stopped Tommy Caldwell, 159½, Chicago, 2; Frankie Narvaez, 135, New York, outpointed Percy Hayles, 136, Jamaica, 10; Teo Cruz, 136, Santo Domingo, outpointed Bunny Grant, 135, Jamaica, 10.

CULIACAN, Mexico--Antonio Amaya, 125½, Panama, outpointed Fino Rosales, 128, Mexico, 10.

Tennis Team Ends Season With Win

Sikeston high school tennis team ended the season by whipping the Poplar Bluff Mules 4-3.

No exhibition matches were played so they played five single matches. In the first match Dean Childers of Sikeston lost to Richard Brooks, 6-3, and 6-0, Hank Lippert of Sikeston lost to Jim Fogle 7-5 and 6-2, Wythe Miller of Sikeston won over Greg Gillis 6-1 and 6-1, Brad Crumpecker of Sikeston beat Adrian Bratcher 6-2 and 6-2, and Jim Brestow of Poplar Bluff forfeited to Sikeston's Jerry Humes after Jerry had won the first match 7-5 and Brestow the second 6-3.

In doubles, Childers and Dickerson of Sikeston dropped two games to Brooks and Vogel 6-3 and 6-0, and ending the days tennis matches, Miller and Lippert won over Poplar Bluff's Gillis and Bristol 6-4 and 6-3.

In the district tournament at Cape Girardeau Saturday Sikeston was defeated with Dickerson winning the only match for the Bulldogs.

League Leaders

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Batting 45 at bats -- Morgan, Houston, .370; Smith, St. Louis, .358.

Runs--Aaron, Atlanta, 21; Hart, San Francisco, 20.

Runs batted in -- Mays, San Francisco, 21; McCovey, San Francisco, 19.

Hits -- Morgan, Houston, 34; Alou, Atlanta, 33.

Double -- Alou, Atlanta, and Johnson, Los Angeles, 7.

Triples -- Alou, Pittsburgh, 7; Pinson, Cincinnati, and Parker, Los Angeles, 3.

Home runs -- Aaron, Atlanta, 9; Lefebvre, Los Angeles, and Mays, San Francisco, 8.

Stolen bases - Jackson, Houston, 11; Wills, Los Angeles, 8.

Pitching -- Marichal, San Francisco, 6-0; Perry, San Francisco, 4-0.

Strikeouts -- Gibson, St. Louis, 47; Veale, Pittsburgh, 41.

American League

Batting 45 at bats -- F. Robinson, Baltimore, .406; Oliva, Minnesota, .394.

Runs -- F. Robinson, Baltimore, 21; Yastrzemski, Boston, Reichardt, California, and Agee, Chicago, 16.

Runs batted in -- B. Robinson, Baltimore, 23; Scott, Boston, 22.

Hits -- Yastrzemski, Boston, 29; B. Robinson and F. Robinson, Baltimore, 28.

Doubles -- B. Robinson, Baltimore, 8; Freehan, Detroit, Blair, Baltimore, and Allen, Minnesota, 6.

Triples -- Scott, Boston, Schaal, California, and Davalillo, Cleveland, 3.

Home runs --Scott, Boston, 10; F. Robinson, Baltimore, and Oliva, Minnesota, 7.

Stolen bases -- Agee, Chicago, 6; Oliva, Minnesota, 5.

Pitching -- McDowell, Cleveland, 4-0; McNally, Baltimore, 3-0.

Strikeouts -- McDowell, Cleveland, 59; Richert, Washington, 41.

Clay Predicts Winner

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK AP -- Cassius Clay flew off to London predicting a speed fight with Henry Cooper and already looking beyond the Cockney veteran to his next opponent.

"I'm gonna be about 203 pounds for Cooper, that's about 11 under what I was when I beat George Chuvalo," the world heavyweight champion from Kentucky said before taking off to England.

"This is gonna be a speed fight. I gotta be fast. That man can get in and punch fast. And I might be in trouble if he tagged me."

Clay, who will defend his title against Cooper May 31 at Highbury Stadium in London, knows what it is to be tagged by the British champion. He stopped Cooper in 1963 but not before being knocked down.

"He really hurt me, with a long left hook," Clay admitted.

"They say I was looking at Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor when he hit me, but that's not so.

"I just didn't see the punch coming."

"Now, let me tell you about my new campaign. Hey, Angie, you listening?" he yelled to his manager, Angelo Dundee.

"The man I fight after Cooper is any ranking heavyweight who can whip James Ellis, my sparring partner. Any heavyweight that whips James Ellis will qualify to fight me."

Dundee scarcely monplussed at anything Clay says or does after his long association with the colorful fighter, allowed as how it sounded like a good idea. After all, Dundee also manages Ellis.

h.i.S AT FALKOFF'S
104 Front St. Sikeston, Mo.

LUCKY STRIKE
"Lucky Strike filters! I said, "Show me a filter cigarette that really delivers taste and I'll eat my hat!"
Product of The American Tobacco Company

BPS "Best Paint Sold"
Our Answer Man says—
Choose From Hundreds of Special Decorator Colors!
• Bring your color problems here, get professional decorating assistance. • 1500 colors to choose from — to suit any decor. • Our BPS ANSWER MAN will make it while you watch.
OUR BPS ANSWER MAN IS YOUR BEST INFORMED PAINT DEALER.
Sikeston LUMBER COMPANY
Buy Quality Also your Buy Satisfaction
Phone GR 1-5226

BATTERY & TIRE HEADQUARTERS
12 Months-6 Volt $8.95
36 Months-6 Volt 13.95
36 Months-12 Volt 16.95
Exchange
Close Out On All Kelly Tires
7.50x14 Blackwalls
$9.95 or 2 for $19.50
Tax Paid
A & B OIL CO.
Phone GR 1-1424

YOU ARE INVITED TO ATTEND OUR
Grand Opening
MAY 10th
9 A.M. to 5 P.M.
REGISTER FOR
FREE PRIZES
1st PRIZE - PORTABLE TELEVISION
COME IN, VISIT WITH US & SEE YOURSELF ON CLOSED CIRCUIT T.V.
FREE COKES SERVED BY MISS SIKESTON
MISS BARBARA IRWIN
BILL KEEFER
Manager
GLOBAL FINANCE COMPANY
127 E. MALONE
GR 1-9255
SIKESTON, MO.

every man is entitled to "easy living"!

GENUINE Palm Beach TAILORED BY Palm Beach COMPANY
And that's what you get in these Palm Beach* lightweight slacks! Handsome appearance, coolness, comfort . . . plus famous Palm Beach quality tailoring all add up to "easy living." And the slacks can be washed or dry-cleaned, as you prefer.
$10.95
When you look your best you do your best
THE BUCKNER RAGSDALE Co
Double Poll Parrot Stamps Every Wednesday
*Reg. T.M. Goodall Sanford Incorporated

White House Power In Kitchen

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON AP-- President Johnson, in a humorous reply to Sen. J. W. Fulbright, says if there's any arrogance of power in the White House, it's in the kitchen.

At a White House diplomatic reception Wednesday night, the smiling President pulled from a pocket of his dinner jacket a penciled note he said he received from his long-time family cook, Zephyr Wright.

He told Fulbright he had analyzed the senator's speech warning the country to guard against arrogance of power. To prove his point, the President read the note.

"Mr. President," it said, "You have been my boss for a number of years and you always tell me you want to lose weight and yet you never do much to help yourself. Now I am going to be your boss for a change. Eat what I put in front of you and don't ask for any more and don't complain."

Johnson said the note shows there is no need to worry about arrogance in the White House. "Nobody is likely to get too big for his britches when he gets notes like this," he said.

Johnson said he had read the same note Wednesday to another of his Viet Nam policy critics, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., as they flew to Detroit for the funeral of Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a vigorous critic of administration Viet Nam policies, was among the guests at the reception.

Representatives from 113 foreign missions and their wives came in colorful, formal evening gowns and native costumes to join the President for a handshake, a buffet supper and dancing in the East Room to the Marine band.

Taxi Drivers Aid In Crime Protection

By HAL COOPER

NEW YORK AP -- Taxicab drivers in major American cities serve as a little-known, unpaid detective force on the alert against crime around the clock, a survey indicated com-

Spokesmen for taxicab companies expressed some surprise at a congressional resolution by Rep. Richard C. White, D-Tex., urging the enlistment of taxi drivers and dispatchers in the fight against lawbreakers.

The Chicago drivers report not only crimes but road accidents.

Maj. Forrest Garrison of the Kansas City, Mo., police staff services division said a program enlisted cabbies and truck drivers in anticrime activities has been in effect since 1964.

"It looks like the federal government is far behind as far as we are concerned," he said. He said he was sending Rep. White a letter outlining the Kansas City operation, which includes direct telephone links to advise taxicab, trucking and public utility companies of crime alerts.

"We've been helping the police right along," said Tom Rickhard, secretary-treasurer of a Detroit cab company. "It works both ways -- the police help us and we help them. If our drivers see anything suspicious they grab their radio mikes and report it."

Capt. Frank Dyson of the Dallas, Tex., Police department said "some of our cases have stood up in court only because of a taxi driver's report and later testimony."

Rex Taylor, president of a cab company operating in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland, Calif., said:

"I don't see where we need a new law. Everything is fine as it is. Cab drivers are very cooperative in aiding police in the prevention of crime. It might help if we had a stronger law against holding up cab drivers."

THE SIKESTON PUBLISHING COMPANY
PUBLISHED
203 S. New Madrid St.
SIKESTON, MISSOURI, 63801
PUBLISHED DAILY (EXCEPT SUNDAYS AND HOLIDAYS) AT SIKESTON, MISSOURI, 63801.
Entered at the Postoffice at Sikeston, Scott County, Missouri, 63801, as Second Class Mail Matter, according to Act of Congress, March 2, 1875, Saturday, 4th, 1950.
Second-class postage paid at Sikeston, Missouri, 63801.
C. L. Blanton, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
C. L. Blanton, III ..... Business Manager
Paul Bumbarger ..... City Editor
Ruth Dillender ..... Women's Page Editor
Ronnie Jaynes ..... Sports Editor
Jerry Wilson ..... Adv. Manager
Allen M. Blanton ..... Comm. Prtg. Mgr.
Joyce Staggs ..... Classified Adv. Mgr.
Glenn Greene ..... Circulation Mgr.
MEMBER
The Inland Daily Press Association
Audit Bureau of Circulation
Missouri Associated Dailies
Associated Press
The National Editorial Association

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION 1966 AFFILIATE MEMBER

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use for republication of all the local news printed in this newspaper as well as all AP news dispatches.
National Advertising Representative
Wallace Wilmer, Memphis, Tennessee
RATES —
Classified, per word 6c
Display Advertising, per inch $1.12
Reading Notices, per line 20c
Legal Notices at the Legal Rates
All Subscriptions payable in Advance
By Carrier: 35c per week in Sikeston; 30c per week elsewhere.
By Mail: Where Carrier service is not available.
Scott and Adjoining Counties:
1 Year $10.00
6 Months ..... $ 5.50
3 Montns ..... $ 3.25
Elsewhere By Mail:
1 Year $15.00
6 Months ..... $ 8.00
3 Months ..... $ 5.00

Parma Scouts Raise Money

PARMA--The Cub Scout Pack of Parma is planning a money raising project May 7. City Officials gave the Cub Scouts the okay to fine any person who violates any city ordinance, such as jay walking or parking illegally. The money will be used to further the Cub Scouts. The Cubs will be divided into two groups and the losing group must treat the winners to a wiener roast.

Luna Plays On

MOSCOW AP -- The Soviet Union's Luna-10 satellite completed its 284th orbit of the moon today and again transmitted the "Internationale" earth, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

The squeaky-voiced radio signal from the satellite played a recording of the Communist anthem April 4, one day after it went into orbit. It was piped into the Kremlin where 6,000 Russian and foreign delegates were attending the 23rd Soviet Communist party congress.

THREE FINALISTS in the Mrs. America contest make a pretty picture against a Mission Bay setting in San Diego where the nation's number one homemaker will be named Saturday night to start reign on Mother's Day. Left to right: Mrs. District of Columbia, Audrey Burch of Washington; Mrs. Missouri, Betty Jean Cagna of Lexington, and Mrs. Utah, Rosanne Gordon of Salt Lake City. (AP Photo)

Air Force Pays Tribute To Blytheville

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., -- Blytheville Air Force Base will pay special tribute to the city of Blytheville on May 12 and May 14 as a salute to the city on its 75th anniversary observance.

The U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds will perform at the base at 4:30 p.m. May 12 and the base will hold its annual open house from 12-noon to 5 p.m. May 14.

The public is invited to visit the base on both dates. The gates will open to the public at 3:30 p.m. May 12 for the Thunderbirds performance and at 11:30 a.m. May 14 for the open house activities.

The activities of the open house May 14 start at 12:30 p.m. Included on the agenda will be the Screaming Eagles' demonstration team from Ft. Campbell, Kentucky, and a low-level aerial refueling demonstration by a B-52 Stratofortress bomber and a KC-135 Stratotanker.

The Screaming Eagles, a team of highly skilled parachutists, will free-fall for up to 75 seconds after jumping from a low-flying C-47 aircraft, before pulling their ripcords and landing directly in front of the crowd of spectators.

A typical free-fall show will find the team of four to eight men at three miles above the crowd guiding their jump aircraft in over the precise point to jump. At a signal from the Jumpmaster (who has a minimum of 200 free falls) the team will exit the aircraft in rapid succession, igniting a smoke bomb mounted on a boot bracket.

The smoke trails left by the falling jumpers outline the trajectory of their 125 mph descent which will take 75 seconds of fall from 15,000 to 2,000 feet. Upon opening their steerable parachutes at 2,000 feet the team will then guide for the landing area immediately in front of the crowd where they will perform stand-up landings.

The low-level aerial refueling demonstration between the KC-135 and B52 will give spectators a chance to see how fuel is transferred from the tanker to the bomber, a sight seldom seen by other than crew members involved.

A MITO (Minimum Interval Takeoff) of B-52s and KC-135s will be another highlight of the open house activities. Spectators will see Strategic Air Command's "heavyweight" bomber and its sister ship take off, one behind the other, as a demonstration of how the tactical fleet of aircraft can be launched in a minimum amount of time.

Also included throughout the afternoon will be various static displays of aircraft and equipment, including the B-52 and the KC-135.

A complete schedule of events for May 14 follows:

12:30 p.m. -- Simulated Nuclear Blast
12:35 p.m. -- Fort Campbell Sky Divers Arrive
1 p.m. -- NITO Takeoff - 2 B-52's and 2 KC-135's
1:30 p.m. -- Low-level Aerial Refueling Flyby Demonstration
2 p.m. -- Fort Campbell Sky Divers Perform
2:10 p.m. -- Judo Exhibition
3:10 p.m. -- Judo Exhibition
3:20 p.m. -- Fort Campbell Sky Drivers Perform
4:30 p.m. -- Fort Campbell Sky Divers Perform
5 p.m. -- Simulated Nuclear Explosion.

Tiger Under Hood

CLAWSON, Mich. AP -- "Officer," said the caller, "I got a tiger under the hood of my car."

It was a live ocelot under the hood of Bruce Crandall's car, nuzzling the manifold.

Sgt. Donald Smith and Officer Fred McIntyre extracted the animal with a dog warden's pole and loop.

William Vigus of Rochester claimed the 2-year-old beast, a pet named Occie. He said the animal, a gift from his son in Nicaragua, had run off March 30.

A tropical animal, Occie often crawled under car hoods for warmth, Vigus told police in this Detroit suburb.

Chena River Rises

FAIRBANKS, Alaska AP -- The Chena River continued a steady rise Sunday after rains.

Residents lined the Cushman street bridge downtown watching great cakes of ice float by on the high water.

Civil Defense Director Jack Murphy ordered cranes to stand by at the bridge and at the University Avenue bridge in nearby College in case logs, ice and debris threatened the spans.

Murphy said the water was about six and a half feet, up two feet from Saturday. Bank level is about 12 feet and the stream was rising rapidly.

THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

A Review of the 1964 Term

IX. PROPERTY AND BUSINESS

The Supreme Court spent a great deal of time in the 1964 term on the constitutional rights of criminals, Negroes, and dissenters, and enlarged very considerably their personal rights. But if personal rights are considered by the Court to be the "preferred" values, then property rights are the depressed values. In spite of the fact that protection of property rights and the right to engage in business and earn a livelihood were among the major aims of the framers of the Fourteenth Amendment, the present Court has given scant protection to such rights. In fact, there now seems to be more of a "constitutional right" to get money free from a bountiful government than to earn it for oneself.

Two years earlier, the Court completed the process of watering down the protection that the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment was intended to give to business to a mere trickle, by holding that States were virtually unrestricted in their regulation of businessmen; in short, that they could regulate business right out of business, or out of any other occupation. In the 1964 term, the Court demonstrated that the wellsprings of the Due Process Clause have just about run dry as far as such regulation is concerned. Summarily and without argument or opinion, the Court affirmed a district court decision that had overruled Tyson & Bros. v. Banton, a 1927 decision invalidating a New York theater ticket price fixing statute, thereby holding that States are free to fix the prices of anything as they may choose. It thus appears that the right to earn a living is now utterly devoid of constitutional protection and completely at the mercy of the State.

The Court struck one encouraging note for businessmen in the last term. If they have no right to go into business or stay in business, they at least have the right to get out of business, or to lock out their employees. To what extent the Court will hold these rights constitutionally protected, as distinguished from merely allowed under the National Labor Relations Act, remains for further explication. But the businessman whose only remaining right is to get out of business, can always exercise his constitutional right to seek employment on the ever-expanding Federal payroll.

Property rights got a jolt from another angle also. In this connection, it must be remembered that three years earlier the Supreme Court upheld a zoning ordinance in New York which, by prohibiting a landowner from mining sand and gravel below the water table, effectively rendered an existing mine useless. The Court there cast upon the landowner the burden of showing that no "state of facts either known or which could be reasonably assumed affords support for" the ordinance. Of course, because a landowner does not know what is in the files of the legislators who pass an ordinance, which affects his property, let alone what is in their minds, it is very difficult for him to rebut "any state of facts either known" to the legislators or which they "reasonably assumed" to exist. Hence, as in the case the Court then considered, the record will be likely to contain a "dearth of relevant evidence of these points." Therefore, the landowner usually will lose, and the protection of the Fourteenth Amendment which guarantees that his property will not be taken without due process of law, like a desert mirage, will vanish as he approaches it.

(To be continued)

FRATERNITY

'Tis known we never stand apart from life,
Or ever walk alone;
That men's contagious joys and sorrows all
Become, in time, our own.
And yet it takes so long for us to learn --
If learn we ever can --
That human welfare's universal scope
Extends to very man.

--William Benton Johnston

MOUNTING SURPLUSES

I was taking a group of 2nd graders from our parish school on a tour of our new bank building. I noticed one boy had left the group and was staring with a puzzled look at the escalator running to the lower level. Since escalators were not commonplace in our small town, I walked over and asked, "Can I answer any questions for you?"

"Yes," he replied. "What do you do when your basement fills up with steps?"

--Patricia M. Cunningham

Each eye of the Statue of Liberty measures 2-foot-6 across.

GOING MY WAY?

Take your pick of these locations . . .
Outer space or depth of sea;
Sealab takes you through the waters,
For outer space it's Gemini.
Some may like these newfound places.
Where great mysteries abound
What you choose may be the limit,
But I'll still take the middle ground.

--Nell T. Bruner

In a meat market on Coney Island, N. Y., over the cash register: "Don't just stand there. Pay something!"

HAVE YOU HEARD?
KMPL 1520 K C's
SIKESTON, MISSOURI

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas—If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss . . . and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

NO OBLIGATION COUPON

To: Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc.
Dept. MO - 24 . Box 66001, 3311 West Main St.
Houston, Texas 77006

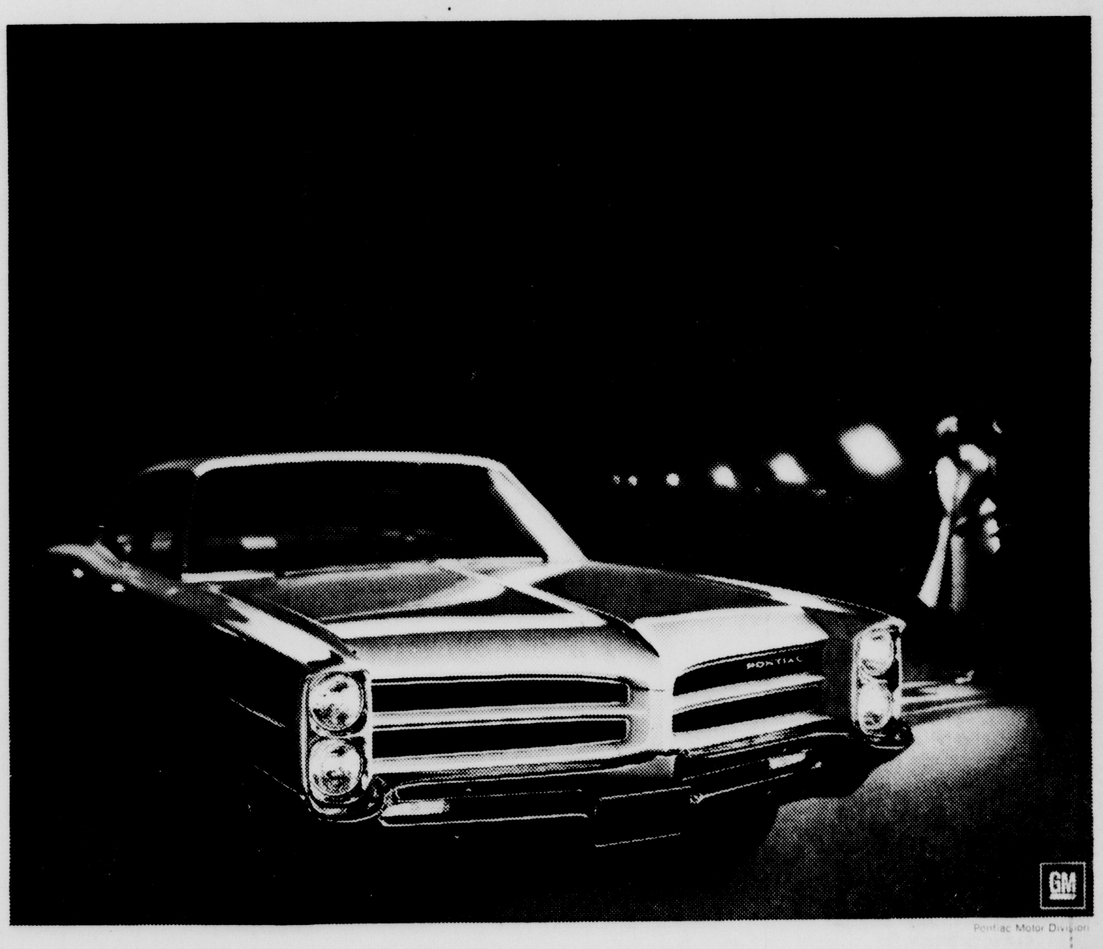

I am submitting the following information with the understanding that it will be kept strictly confidential and that I am under no obligation whatsoever. I now have or have had the following conditions:

Do you have dandruff?____Is it dry?____or oily?____
Does your scalp have pimples or other irritations?____
Does your forehead become oily or greasy?____
Does your scalp itch?____When?____
How long has your hair been thinning?____
Do you still have hair?____or fuzz?____on top of your head.
How long is it?____Is it dry?____Is it oily?____

Attach any other information you feel may be helpful.

NAME____
ADDRESS____
CITY____STATE____

The low-priced high-price car.

Low-priced because it's a Catalina with a sticker that's right down within reach of a lot of low-priced car buyers. And high-priced because it's a big, powerful Pontiac, complete with the Pontiac name and everything that goes with it. Like a full 121 inches of road-leveling wheelbase. And 50 more standard horsepower than those low-priced cars offer. And steady Wide-Track ride and handling. With luxurious interiors you practically sink up to your knees in. (And, of course, standard safety items like a padded dashboard.) All backed up by Pontiac's legendary resale value that makes such exciting reading in the record books year after year. Makes you wonder why anybody would buy a low-priced car when you can get a Pontiac Catalina for the same money.

Wide-Track Pontiac Catalina
(A big, powerful Pontiac for less than $3000*.)

*Manufacturer's suggested retail prices for Catalina 2- and 4-door sedans and 2- and 4-door hardtops are all less than $3000. These prices include excise tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charges. Transportation charges, state and local taxes, accessories and optional equipment additional.

SEE YOUR AUTHORIZED PONTIAC DEALER

Pontiac Motor Division

A COMPLETE PRINTING SERVICE

What Kind of Business Image Do You Project?

See yourself as others see you: through properly printed forms, cards, billheads, letterheads — of your design or ours. You'll be satisfied with our prices and printing!

The Daily Sikeston Standard
COMMERCIAL PRINTERS
Call for Allen or III at GR 1-1137
Sikeston, Mo.

ANNOUNCEMENTS ● BOOKLETS ● BUSINESS CARDS
INVOICES ● LABELS & TAGS ● LETTERHEADS ● OFFICE FORMS

But Not If You Carry

HAIL INSURANCE

See Us!

LESLIE INSURANCE

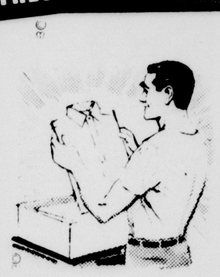

Joe Leslie
GR 1-4114

Rik Leslie
GR 1-4114

217 Tanner
Sikeston, Mo.

We don't want all the business-Just Yours

FOR THAT FRESH, CLEAN LOOK

We put our pride in your shirts... they have to be perfect!

Collars pressed right, cuffs neat, no embarassing wrinkles or uncomfortable scratching . . . and shiny clean. That's a well-groomed shirt!

Ask about our uniform Rental Plan

W. B. "Bill" Guess
Route Man For

Budget Laundry & Cleaners

PHONE GR 1-1080 Day
GR 1-1352 Night - Sikeston

Politics Grow Tense in Viet Nam

The World's Weekend
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The political situation in South Viet Nam grew more tense over the weekend.

A powerful Buddhist leader in Saigon, Thich Thien Minh, said there would be strong protests if the central government delays national assembly elections next fall.

The developments were spurred by a statement by President Nugyen Cao Ky that his military regime would remain in office for at least another year. Buddhists have demanded a quick end to military rule and a return to civilian government.

Ky's regime moved to stifle any political agitation that might come from the pledge to stay in power.

There was evidence that U. S. officials in Saigon were bracing for more trouble following Ky's statement.

President Johnson, at his Texas ranch, proposed that the United States, the Soviet Union, and other space powers join in a treaty outlawing military activity on the moon. The pact also would deny any nation lunar sovereignty.

Johnson said the objective is to make sure that astronauts from all nations can conduct scientific investigations freely on the moon.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has told associates he regards as excellent a proposal by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., for creation of a high-level commission to reassess U. S. relations with Red China. Kennedy's proposal has been seconded by Sen. George McGovern, D-S. D.

Other weekend developments:

The President picked a new director of the Tennessee Valley Administration Sunday. He is Donald Opie McBride, 63, a native of Cowles, Neb., who has been living in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Gov. John B. Connally of Texas, long-time friend of President Johnson, easily won Democratic renomination for a third two-year term.

The Office of Education in Washington said 255 school districts have ignored requests to pledge compliance with civil rights laws in order to qualify for new federal aid. The office said the districts are regarded as out of compliance.

The Johnson administration, acting in the face of declining hog prices and considerable farm belt criticism, rescinded an order curtailing pork-buying by the Armed Forces.

Walter S. Gifford, former U. S. ambassador to Great Britain and retired president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., died Saturday. He was 81.

Mansfield Says To Recognize Mongolia

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON AP -- Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield proposed today that the United States recognize Mongolia, a Communist-controlled nation sandwiched between Red China and the Soviet Union in mainland Asia.

This would help ease international tensions, Mansfield said in an interview, and give the United States "a valuable listening post" between the two Communist giants.

Mansfield's proposal came as he endorsed the call by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and George S. McGovern, D-S.C., for appointment of a "blue ribbon" commission to reassess U.S. policy toward Communist China.

The Kennedy-McGovern suggestions also brought these developments during the weekend:

--Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who testifies before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today, described the commission proposal as "an intriguing idea." But Rusk said for more than a year the executive branch has had a very competent group making an intensive study of these matters. He did not further identify the group. "They have been in touch with experts outside; they have visited universities and they have searched the literature for possible new ideas," Rusk said on the ABC television-radio program "Issues and Answers."

He also said he has discussed recently with President Johnson "the desirability of systematizing outside advance in the general areas of the world." He added: "I think it is very likely that we shall do this somethat more systematically than we have done before."

--Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was reported actively supporting the proposal to create a commission. Although he was silent about Johnson's reaction, Humphrey's endorsement was viewed as indicating a willingness by the administration to explore new avenues in Asin policies.

--Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N. Y., said Humphrey's support encourages him to believe such a policy review may materialize. "I certainly think we need to have a searching look at possible future relations with Communist China," he said.

Rusk disagreed with Sen. J. W. Fulbright's view that American forces in Viet Nam have turned Saigon into a brothel. Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, expressed this view in a speech last Thursday night.

"It just isn't true," said Rusk. He said Fulbright's allegations reflect "unfairly and inaccurately on what our men are doing over there."

Rusk also took issue with comments made Sunday by historian Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. on the CBS television program "Face the Nation."

Schlesinger said Johnson lacks the judgment to overrule wrong advice about Viet Nam from the State Department and the military. He said "the motion that the Viet Cong equals Hanoi equals Peking seems to me crazy." And he said there is fear among intellectuals that Johnson "is not in personal control of his government."

Asked about Schlesinger's statements, Rusk said "Mr. Schlesinger is not an expert on Asia. He played a very small role on Asian questions when he was in the government."

The American ambassador to Saigon, Henry Cabot Lodge, arrives in Washington late today for consultations on the situation in South Viet Nam. He is expected to meet with President Johnson Tuesday or Wednesday.

Mansfield said in an interview that while Viet Nam poses problems for any action at this time, "I would like to see recognition given to Outer Mongolia.

"I believe such action on our part would contribute toward the relaxation of international tensions," he said. "It would also give us a valuable listening post in that part of the world."

The State Department recently said the possible establishment of diplomatic relations with Mongolia was under study.

Mansfield said he is informed Mongolia is eager to establish relations but that the United States has held back. He said Mongolia fears mainland China, which regards the area as its own. Mongolia leans toward the Soviet Union at this point, he added.

The Republic of China on Formosa does not recognize Mongolia as an independent state and would object strenuously to U.S. recognition.

Mansfield said he thinks the Kennedy - McGovern commission proposal has a great deal of merit.

"I am sure the State Department has been studying and reviewing China policies for a long time," he said. "But it seems to me the recent hearings before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on China have given impetus to a further move to review those policies."

Mansfield indicated he believes the establishment of such a commission depends on President Johnson's attitude.

It would be "a delicate matter," Mansfield said, for Congress to act independently of the President to set up a commission on international policies.

Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N. Y., said the commission "might be an appearance on the Mutual Broadcasting System's "Reporters Roundup," that the main issue should be a peace settlement n Viet Nam.

To Be Ordained

ORAN, Mo. -- Reverend Edward Martin Eftink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Eftink, Oran, Missouri, will be ordained to the priesthood on Saturday, May 14, 1966 at Guardian Angels Church, Oran, 10:00 a.m., by the Most Reverend Ignatius J. Strecker, S.T.D., Bishop of Springfield-Cape Girardeau.

Father Eftink will celebrate his First Solemn Mass on Sunday, May 15, 1966 at 1:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Other ministers of the Mass will be the Reverend Gervase W. Ingoldsby, M.A., pastor of Guardian Angels Parish, Oran, as Arch-priest; Reverend Joseph E. Gosche, Vice-Chancellor of the Springfield-Cape Girardeau Diocese, as Deacon; Reverend Louis J. Wyrsch, assistant pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Poplar Bluff, as Subdeacon; Reverend Robert A. Landewee, assistant pastor of St. Augustine Church, Kelso, as Master of Ceremonies; Reverend Robert Schumacher, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Caruthersville, will give the sermon. The minor ministers are David, Louis, Carl, Mark and Stephen Eftink.

Father Edward M. Eftink was born in Portageville, Missouri. He attended Oran Public High School and Notre Dame High School, Cape Girardeau, graduating in 1957 as Salutatorian. He attended St. Louis University, summer classes at Conception Seminary, Conception, Mo. and Cardinal Glennon College, St. Louis, Mo.

Father Eftink studied Philosophy and Theology at the Catholic University of America, Washington, D.C. He received a three year scholarship under the Basselin Foundation which led to a Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees in Philosophy. Currently he is working on his Doctorate of Philosophy degree in Education.

Besides his parents, Father Eftink has six brothers and one sister, all younger than he; Michael of Kelso, Mo., Thomas, Larry, David, Louis and Kenneth all of Oran, and Miss Barbara Eftink of Cape Girardeau, Mo.

A reception will be held after the Mass in Guardian Angels Hall, Oran.

Cobb Gives One Of Best Ever

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK AP -- The end of a man when his dream world is shattered was powerfully depicted Sunday night in CBS-TV's fine adaptation of Arthur Miller's famous "Death of a Salesman."

In two hours of tense, even painful drama we watched an aging, defeated traveling salesman move inexorably to self destruction clinging desperately to the fantasies of quick fortune, of fame, of popularity on which he built his shabby life.

Lee J. Cobb, playing the distraught Willy Loman, turned in a overwhelming performance that was as effective as his Broadway portrayal of the role 17 years ago. So was Mildred Dunnock's portrait of his loving, patient and blindly loyal wife.

The drama was related largely in flashbacks to happier days in the story of the salesman--"just a hard-working drummer" as his son screamed in his moment of truth.

Loman's grandiose dreams ballooned everything larger than reality -- money he had made in the past was big, a son who had been a stock clerk was inflated to be a star salesman.

His pathetic values, mostly involving being important and well-liked, were shaken with age and faltering sales success. But the fantasies also had destroyed his two sons, Biff, 34, making $28 a week, and who was a petty theft, and Happy, a bum, braggart and liar.

George Segal and James Farentino, playing the sons, gave fine performances.

Earlier in the evening on ABC, "I Am a Soldier" was an absorbing documentary on Viet Nam. It concentrated on one company commander, a West Point graduate, for about three days of combat with the elusive Viet Cong.

We were with Capt. Theodore Danielsen and some of his men in training. We went along jungle trails, avoiding booby traps and dodging sniper bullets to find and destroy a Charlie outpost.

The photography was excellent. Producer John Secondari who wrote and narrated the program has an ornate, oratorical style that seemed a little lush for the stark and grim subject matter.

Recommended tonight: "The Hill Country: Lyndon Johnson's Texas," NBC, 9-10 CDT, special program in which the president of the United States conducts a tour around the country in which he was born.

Population To Double

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. AP--Population experts are raising the flag on long-range estimates of how many people will inhabit the earth after the turn of the century.

This is reported in a new United Nations booklet on population problems prepared by T. E. Smith of the Institute of Commonwealth Studies at the University of London.

A U.N. report in 1963 said the world's population, estimated at three billion in 1960, might double to six billion by the year 2,000. This was based on assumptions as to trends in fertility and mortality made for various world regions.

The report said also the estimate at the low point could be 5,300,000,000 and at the high point 6,800,000,000.

Governments and international agencies have been using the U. N. estimates as a framework for assessments of future social and economic needs.

In summing up the findings of the second U. N. world population conference, Smith said the participants stressed that it was unwise to take long-range estimates literally because of the many uncertainties that lie ahead.

One of the handicaps faced by population analysts is the lack of data from Communist China.

In surbaban Atlanta a pediatrician uses old typewriters to keep children pacified in his waiting room. He cut down the legs of a table and placed several typewriters on it for them. Now his small patients cry only when they leave.

--Hugh Park

A Brooklyn dentist has found a way to make children's visits a bit more pleasant. He hands the youngsters a water pistol to use in rinsing out their mouths.

--Akron Beacon Journal

Grandmother Makes Hit Records

By MARY CAMPBELL

NEW YORK AP -- Listening to records made by a plump-gray-haired grandmother who warbles and whistles rock 'n' roll songs, mostly off-key, is the current kick in U. S. pop music.

The singer is Mrs. Elva Miller of Claremont, Calif., 35 miles east of Los Angeles. Her family was against Mrs. Miller's trying to make records but she went ahead.

Her first long-playing record, "Mrs. Miller's Greatest Hits," was released by Capitol Records April 11 and sold 50,000 copies its first two days out. The "LP" and two songs taken from it and released as a single, "Downtown" and "A Lovers Concerto," all are on the best-selling charts compiled by Billboard Magazine.

Mrs. Miller sings with a vibrato which sounds as if she had once studied voice, which she did. Meanwhile she often changes key and goes flat, reminiscent of the late Florence Foster Jenkins.

She sucks ice cubes while she does her bird-like whistles, to contract the muscles for a more controlled pucker.

Ed Sullivan has signed her for an appearance on his TV show May 22.

Disc jockeys apparently love the novelty of "The Miller sound." A station in Denver played the record 24 hours straight.

Statistics show that every four seconds a woman gives birth to a baby. Our problem is to find this woman and stop her.

--Henny Youngman

I said,
"Show me a filter cigarette that really delivers taste and I'll eat my hat!"

FREE FREE

TO SENIOR CITIZENS 62 AND OVER

Information as to how you can own your own new home!

If you live in a town under 5500 population, or in a rural area and can pay $28.00 per month, you can own your own new home!!!

GOVERNMENT FINANCED LOAN

See us for details

E. C. ROBINSON LUMBER COMPANY

SIKESTON, MISSOURI

PHONE GR 1-3284

solid success!

$35.00

Zephyrweight Oxford Weaves are this season's newest note in solid color sportcoats. And Palm Beach* brings you this fashion at its peak of perfection. A crisp, wrinkle-fighting fabric of Dacron® polyester and cotton . . . tailoring that's outstanding . . . and models as up-to-date as the news in today's newspaper. Come in and have a look.

THE BUCKNER RAGSDALE CO

*Reg. T.M. Goods

Chocolate milk is just chocolate milk

...unless it's

Reiss

©1965, Quality Chekd Dairy Assn.

Then you know it's Quality Chekd®!

We always keep in mind the main reason that you buy chocolate milk. Because—simply—you like the taste of chocolate. So we never skimp on it. Yet there are plenty of vitamins and minerals, too. So our chocolate milk not only satisfies your craving for chocolate, but also helps meet your daily nutritional needs.

Next time you buy chocolate milk, remember that ours is one of the select dairies authorized to carry the Quality Chekd label. It does make a difference.

Reiss

PUPPY DOG'S TAILS AND SUGAR 'N SPICE both find something nice in these matching knitted suits. It has delightful detail, the grey band around the bottom of her skirt is repeated on the bottom of his trousers and around both shirts in pearl grey with squares of scarlet. They are knitted in nylon and wool sport yarn which is light enough for Spring and early Fall. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper, along with your request for leaflet

Golden Age for Unused Theories

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON AP -- This has become a golden age for theories -- by people who don't have to carry them out -- on how President Johnson should handle foreign affairs better. The critics have never got off his back.

Two of the most prominent of them -- historian Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., and Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., -- had their say recently. As usual, they not only wound up being vague but didn't see eye to eye, either.

Schlesinger made one of the harshest attacks on Johnson that anyone has attempted. In effect, he said Johnson lacked leadership in foreign affairs. He had worked with President John F. Kennedy and, briefly, with Johnson.

He called Johnson "gullible" for "passively" accepting the judgment of the State and Defense departments. On CBS's television program "Face the Nation" Schlesinger was asked what else Johnson could do since he can't go to Viet Nam.

Schlesinger said "we have elected a president because we think his judgment is better. President Johnson's trouble is lack of self-confidence that he does not appear to have."

He said some members of the American intellectual community do not so much question Johnson's "purposes but fear that he is not in personal control of his government as presidents like Kennedy and Roosevelt were."

This was all vague. Schlesinger was just as obscure when, trying to say something pleasant about Johnson, he said he thinks Johnson's "instincts . . . goals . . . and objectives in Viet Nam are right."

Right now? He didn't say. Nor did he say how Johnson's goals and objectives differ from those of the State and Defense departments. He got specific on just about one point.

That was Johnson's trip last February to Honolulu to meet South Viet Nam's Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. Schlesinger was critical here, too, saying Johnson had let the State Department convince him Ky was popular in Viet Nam. But on what could Johnson base his judgment if he couldn't depend on Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamera?

Later, on ABC's television-radio program "Issues and Answers," Rusk was asked about the Schlesinger criticism but brushed it off, saying, in short, the historian was shooting his mouth off without being informed. He said "we have facts."

"Mr. Schlesinger," Rusk said, "is not an expert on Asia. He took a very small role in Asian questions when he was in the government. I worked on Asia for 25 years and I don't think I'm going to get into a discussion with Mr. Schlesinger on Asia."

Rusk said he, Johnson and McNamara, with the full backing of men who have spent their lives working on Asia, try to make the best judgments they can.

Schlesinger was -- and wasn't -- in agreement with Fulbright, chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee. The senator has been endlessly critical of Johnson's Viet Nam policies.

But his most recent attack, a speech last week, not only was vague but seemed to have its roots in negativism.

This was the point he tried to make: A powerful country like this can't do much to help a backward Asian country develop an orderly life. At the same time he warned the United States against feeling self-righteous and equating power with virtue.

Schlesinger said he is in sympathy with much Fulbright said -- he didn't say what, specifically -- but dismissed the senator's argument that this country might be equating power with virtue.

He said that might have been truer in the days of President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration than now.

Holland Seeking Re-Election

By JAMES H. RUBIN

TRENTON, N. J. AP -- Mayor Arthur J. Holland -- who made headlines by moving to a racially mixed neighborhood -- seeks a new term of office Tuesday in an election in which the Negro vote could be pivotal.

The 47-year-old mayor says he might lose votes among "some white people" who consider him an integrationist, but he insists his record is the key issue and will withstand any "white backlash."

Holland also said he has heard rumors that some Negroes would oppose him because they regard his change in residence as a grandstand play to gain Negro votes. He discounted this as "illogical and unrealistic."

"There are some Negro leaders who oppose me because I'm too independent," he said in an interview, but he expressed confidence the majority of Negroes would support him.

Apart from the racial question, campaign issues have included birth control, urban renewal and management of the antipoverty program.

Polls indicate Holland's opponent, Carmen J. Armenti, 37, a city councilman the past four years, has made inroads into the Negro and Italian vote.

Holland moved two years ago from an area that bordered on an Italian section to a neighborhood that is about half white. Other residents are Negro and Puerto Rican.

Holland said he bought the house in hope of halting deterioration eating away at much of Trenton, and because his wife, Betty, wanted an old home that could be restored to authentic early American style.

Holland has had strong support from Italians in past elections. Now some observers believe Armenti, an Italian, will draw off some of that support.

Holland entered city government 15 years ago when he was appointed deputy director of the public affairs department. He was elected to the city commission in 1955 and became mayor in 1959 when he won more votes than anyone else in the commission election.

He led a fight to change the commission system and strengthen the mayor's position, then became Trenton's first mayor under the new form of government in 1962.

He received about 17,400 votes in that election, 10,000 more than his closest competitor. There were 54,000 registered voters, including 8,000 negroes.

An election official who is backing Armenti estimates that about 4,000 Negroes voted in 1962 and that probably three fourths were for Holland.

Although voter registration has decreased by 5,000 since then, registration of Negro voters has increased to more than 11,000. Both camps acknowledge the Negro vote could be decisive in a close race.

Dexter Youth Gets Award

DEXTER -- Briney Welborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe. E. Welborn, Bloomfield, and a Dexter high school senior, has been named the winner of the South Central Region Soroptimist Foundation Citizenship Award competition. He will represent the region in national Competition for the $2,500 foundation award.

At a dinner given in his honor by the Soroptimist Club of Stoddard county at Dexter, Mrs. Nina Arnold, president, presented him with a plaque from the county and district clubs and a $50 check from the south central region.

USE THE DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD CLASSIFIED ADS

Six Hundred Teachers To Receive Free Training

About 600 Missouri and Arkansas Teachers will get scholarships which will pay all their expenses for attending Teachers Institutes for six to eight weeks during next summer.

The institutes will be sponsored by the Office of Education, and paid for by the federal government. The teachers must make arrangements with the respective colleges before attending the institutes, and getting approval for the scholarships.

Four courses for United States History will be given in Missouri and Arkansas colleges as a part of the institutes on the subject. One will be at Northwest State (Maryville), and one at Northeast State (Kirkville), beginning June 19. In Arkansas one will be at State College (Jonesboro), and another at State Teachers College (Conway) beginning June 13 and Aug. 5. Those who want to attend an institute on U.S. History as related to Latin America, can get the course at Southwest Missouri (Springfield) June 13.

Institute on Viet Nam

Teachers who want to brush up on their history of Viet Nam, and Southeast Asia, may attend an institute at St. Louis University, to begin June 19. The Institute will last from six to eight weeks.

Teachers who want to get fresh ideas to teach Johnny to read may attend at the University (K. C. Campus), June 30. In Arkansas teachers may go to Arkansas State for the same type of course, to begin June 13.

Teachers and supervisors who want to get the latest methods and procedures for teaching English and Literature, will find an institute at Southwest (Springfield) to begin June 6, or at the state university of Arkansas (Fayetteville) to begin June 6.

Supervisors of French who want to learn the latest techniques can attend an institute at the University (Columbia) June 20, or at Fayetteville. An institute for teachers on teaching "disadvantaged" children will be held at Washington University, to begin June 20. There will be an institute at the same university on teaching deaf children, according to the announcement, to begin July 5.

QUICK QUIZ

Q—Did the Germans occupy any British soil in World War II?

A—The Channel Islands, off the northwest coast of France, were the only British soil occupied by German troops in that war.

Q—Is a bald eagle really bald?

A—The head of a mature bald eagle is covered with white feathers. At a distance the white head looks bald, thus deceiving observers.

Q—How large does the common lobster grow?

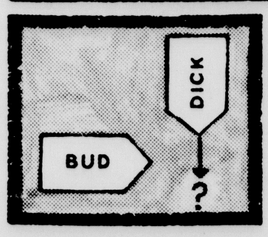

A—Largest recorded weighed 35 pounds, but few grow to more than a fraction of this in these days of heavy fishing.

Q—Who was the first United States minister to Great Britain?

A—John Adams, appointed in 1785.

Bud Stumpe couldn't possibly outguess Dick Sullivan

Bud's a defensive driver. So when they met at that intersection, he didn't assume the right-of-way. He waited, and made sure Dick would come to a full stop, and thus saved them both from a crushing experience. Are you a defensive driver?

WATCH OUT FOR THE OTHER GUY

Published to save lives in cooperation with The Advertising Council, The National Safety Council and The International Newspaper Advertising Executives.

THE FUTURE BELONGS TO THE FIT

On the ice continents or in the Peace Corps, in farming or finance, the future belongs to the fit. The future belongs to those vigorous enough to live it, and shape it. Are your schools providing for physical fitness as part of the sound education your children need to carve out their share of the future? You parents can help see that they do. Write: The President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington, D.C., for information.

PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL ON PHYSICAL FITNESS

Published as a public service in cooperation with The Advertising Council

Published by the Patriotic Individuals and Business Firms Listed Below

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS
SHY'S DRUG STORE
THE SIKESTON STANDARD
MISSOURI UTILITIES CO.
SIKESTON LUMBER CO.
BANK OF SIKESTON
SCOTT-NEW MADRID-MISSISSIPPI ELECTRIC CORPORATIVE

Legal Notices

Required by law to inform citizens of matters affecting them or their property.

THE CITY OF SIKESTON, MISSOURI

RESOLUTION

A resolution declaring the necessity for the construction of 1½" hotmix asphaltic pavement on 6" soil cement base with concrete curb and gutter on the west side only of Dona Street from Malone to Matthews in accordance with plans and specifications in the City of Sikeston, Missouri; stating the nature of the improvement; the estimated cost and providing that payment for all of the improvement shall be made by special tax bills levied and assessed against the abutting property. Be it resolved by the Council of the City of Sikeston, State of Missouri, as follows: SECTION 1: That the Council of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, deems and declares the construction of said Street necessary to the welfare and improvement of the City of Sikeston. SECTION 2: That the nature and scope of the improvement shall consist of furnishing all cost, including labor, materials and transportation necessary for the complete construction of the improvement. SECTION 3: That the estimated cost of the improvement is $3.75 per lineal foot of abutting property, to be charged against the lots and tracts of land abutting the improvement. SECTION 4: That payment for all of the improvement shall be made by special tax bills evidencing special assessments against the abutting property in the manner specified by the statutes of the State of Missouri and the ordinances of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, because in the opinion of the City Council the General Revenue fund of the City of Sikeston is not in a condition to warrant an expenditure therefrom to pay for the improvement. SECTION 5: That any work performed on construction of the improvement shall be in compliance with the provisions of the prevailing wage laws of the State of Missouri, such prevailing wage rates having been established by the Industrial Commission of Missouri. SECTION 6: That the City Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to furnish a copy of this Resolution to a daily newspaper of general circulation in the City of Sikeston, so that it shall be published for seven consecutive insertions. Read the first, second and third times and passed and approved this 2nd day of May, 1966. Approved: Kendall Sikes, Mayor; Attest: John W. Vaughn, City Clerk. 187 inc 193

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce as a candidate subject to the will of the voters of Scott County in the Democratic Primary Election on Tuesday, August 2nd, 1966:

COLLECTOR
C. E. FELKER,
Sikeston, Mo.

HAROLD E. HAHN,
Benton, Mo.

DENNIS HOLLAND
Lusk Chapel, Scott Co.

AUBREY MICHAEL
Benton, Mo.

RECORDER
JOHN J. BOLLINGER,
Benton, Mo.

JOHNNIE GREGG
723 Main
Sikeston, Missouri

FOR COUNTY CLERK
PHIL WALDMAN, JR.
804 Courtney Drive
Sikeston, Mo.

FOR CIRCUIT COURT
LYNN INGRAM
704 Hickory
Sikeston, Mo.

MELVIN GLUECK
Route one
Illmo, Missouri

FOR COMMITTEEMAN
Richland Township
V. L. (RED) KIRBY
204 N. Prairie
Sikeston, Mo.

BILL LEWIS
508 Carroll
Sikeston, Mo.

CLYDE "PECK" WISDOM
103 Comstock Place
Sikeston, Mo.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE
157th District
7 South Township of Scott County
TONY HECKEMEYER
916 Hawthorne
Sikeston, Mo.

District 156
Kelso Township in Scott Co.
MARVIN E. PROFFER
Jackson, Missouri

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY
DANIEL S. NORTON
Route one
Sikeston, Missouri

LET WANT ADS WORK FOR YOU

WANT ADS at work!

SLEEPING ROOMS 1

FOR RENT -- Sleeping room. Men preferred. GR 1-1837. 4-28-tf

FOR RENT -- Sleeping room. Men preferred. GR 1-0630. 4-22-tf

FURNISHED APARTMENTS 2

FURNISHED APTS -- Modern close in utilities furnished. Tel. GR 1-5702 or GR 1-9276.

FOR RENT -- Furnished apartment. Adults only. Phone GR 1-5707. 5-18-tf

FOR RENT -- 3 Room furnished apartment. Utilities paid. Phone GR 1-9870. 4-30-tf

FOR RENT -- Furnished apartment. 538 Vernon. Utilities paid. $70. Telephone GR 1-2500 or GR 1-5476. 4-29-tf

FOR RENT -- Air conditioned, 3 room furnished apartment. Phone GR 1-2131 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. 5-4-tf

UNFURNISHED APARTMENTS 2a

FOR RENT -- Large 3 room air conditioned apartment. Utilities furnished. GR 1-1262. 4-12-tf

FOR RENT -- Unfurnished garage apartment. Adults. 300 E. Kathleen. 5-3-tf

HOUSES FOR RENT 3

FOR RENT -- 4 Room house. 205 Missouri Ave. $40. Phone GR 1-2500 or GR1-5476. 5-9-tf

FOR RENT -- 5 Room house, air conditioned. Full basement. 216 N. Ranney. GR 1-5339. 5-6-tf

FOR RENT -- 2 Bedroom with air conditioning. Call after 5:00 p.m.; GR 1-1878. 5-6-6t

FOR RENT -- Four room furnished house. Adults. 210 Edmondson. GR 1-3403. 5-7-4t

FOR RENT -- 5 Room house. Call GR 1-5134 between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. 5-3-tf

MISC. FOR SALE 5

FOR SALE -- Thin aluminum plates. 24" by 36" 15 cents each. The Daily Sikeston Standard. 10-17-tf

"Repossessed furniture and appliances. Some new, used and abused." GR 1-2078. 1-27-tf

Welders
225 Amp Lincoln complete $125.00
Welding Equipment, parts & Gases.
WEBB ELECTRIC SUPPLY
Highway 61 South
Sikeston 12-13-tf

ELECTROLUX
Orville Yates
GR 1-3341 7-12-tf

FOR SALE -- Geraniums. Goode's Nursery. GR 1-3119. 4-8-tf

3 Complete rooms of furniture! $995.00
$49.75 down -- $8.22 weekly. Includes double door refrigerator, 36" gas range, 5 piece dinnette set, 3 piece bedroom suite, mattress & springs; living room suite, tables & lamps. Wilcoxson & Sons Furniture Co. Sikeston, Missouri 4-23-tf

MOBILE HOME SPECIAL
12' wide $3695.00
2 & 3 bedrooms
gas heat
Gas Hot water heater
JOE GALEMORE MOBILE HOMES
2 miles E. of Charleston
open 7:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.
Sunday Afternoons 1 to 5

FOR SALE -- Used televisions, automatic washers, and refrigerators. Service on all makes and models (white & color). All work guaranteed DELTA APPLIANCE SERVICE CENTER Leroy Conley and Mac McRoy 881 (Rear) W. Malone -- GR 1-1565. 4-6-tf

FOR SALE -- Tappan Ranges--Gibson air conditioners. See or Call Royce Ayers. Midwest L. P. Gas Co. Highway zz North Morehouse - NO 7-2091 4-30-30t

DO you count wear and tear and labor too? Then Wipe Lustre is the rug cleaner for you. Machine Rental $1 per day with purchase. Smith-Alsop Paint & Wallpaper Co. 5-7-6t

FOR SALE -- 8' fully assembled, Redwood stained picnic table with tubular steel frame; only $22.50. E. C. Robinson Lumber Company. GR 1-3284. 5-6-6t

FOR SALE -- 400 lb. capacity lawn & garden wheelbarrow. Reg. $10.75 -- $8.95. E. C. Robinson Lumber Co., GR 1-3284. 5-6-6t

FOR SALE -- IHC Scouts, '63, right-hand drive, full top-roll up windows, 3 spd. trans. 4 cyl. eng., 6:70 x 15 tires, some units with positraction, perfect for rural letter carriers -- Contact: Motor Transportation Co. 3534 Gratiot Street, St. Louis, Mo. 63103. Phone: 314-PR 3-0800. 5-6-6t

FOR SALE -- Repossessed Honda Sport 90; one repossessed Honda Super Hawk. For information, call GR 1-3365.5-6-5t

FOR SALE -- 20' Cabin Cruiser, 75 h.p. Johnson motor and boat trailer. Sleeps 4 to 6. Enclosed head. Perfect condition. Call GR 1-2754 or see at 619 Moore St. 5-9-6t

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS 5a

For Sale
2 Good pianos; rebuilt and guaranteed or money back within two years.
Expert tuning & Repair.
SIKESTON PIANO CENTER
118 W. Front
GR 1-5899

FOR SALE
Piano -- Used Upright
$35.00
Keith Collins Piano Co.
98 N. Kingshighway, Sikeston 5-9-2t

PIANOS -- ORGANS -- Baldwin --Wurlitzer. Rental plan --Easy terms. Prices from $399.00. Keith Collins Piano Co. 98 N. Kingshighway, Sikeston GR 1-4531 5-9-tf

REAL ESTATE 6

FOR SALE -- Residence with 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, dining room, central air conditioning, family room, fireplace, 2 screened porches, large lot, beautiful trees. Shown by appointment. Call Dr. Frank Sisson, GR 1-2626 days; GR 1-0281 evenings. 4-29-tf

FOR SALE -- 6 Room house with bath. Extra lot. In Morehouse. Call NO 7-5570. 5-5-12t

For Sale -- 2,600 Acres of river bottom land near Amary, Mississippi. Small cotton allotment. Adequate housing. Call John R. Young, 534-7886, New Albany, Mississippi. 3-1-5t

FOR SALE -- By owner. 4 Room house and 15 acres 20 minutes from Sikeston. $4,500.00. LO 8-2458. 4-12-tf

FOR SALE -- 209 Marion St. House, large lot, $2,500 down. Take over $3,200, 4½ percent FHA mortgage. Payments about $50.00 per month. Write E. E. Trail, 1510 Channel Dr., Round Lake, Ill. 4-9-26t

FOR SALE -- 2 Bedroom home on paved street. Close in. Small downpayment. Assume loan. GR 1-5181. 5-9-3t

CAFE
with living quarters; located in north Arkansas town. Established years. Owner leaving for service. Priced to sell. Write P. O. Box 662 or phone GR 1-1930.

MISC. WANTED 10

WANTED -- Good used furniture and appliances. Hezzie Furniture Mart. Phone GR 1-5617. 11-30-tf

HELP WANTED FEMALE 11

WANTED -- Girl over 21. Apply in person after 7 p.m. Park-A-Lot Drive In. 5-9-tf

ARE YOU LOOKING? For a good-paying part - time job? Avon offers a marvelous opportunity. Call GR 1-2439 after 6 p.m. 5-9-3t

SPEED TYPIST
Must type 70 w.p.m. with accuracy. Apply between 12 and 2 p.m. Daily Standard.

GIRL WANTED -- 21 or over. Apply in person. Ira & Louise's Drive In, 1805 E. Malone. 5-3-tf

HELP WANTED MALE 12

EXPERIENCED Truck Driver, $2.05 per hour. Hedrick Concrete Products Corp. GR 1-3379. 5-9-3t

DEDICATED CHRISTIAN MAN who is active in Sunday School and Church. Earnings $7,000 to $10,000 first year. May begin part time. Write me: Paul van Antwerpen, 22 West Madison St., Chicago, Ill. 60602. 5-9-1t

3 YOUNG MEN
Free to relocate Kentucky -- Tennessee. Must be neat, aggressive and willing to learn. No experience necessary. Transportation furnished. Immediate drawing account. Above average earnings. See Mr. Gentry, Pine Motel 10 to 12 only. No phone calls. 5-5-6t

OPPORTUNITIES 14

--OPPORTUNITY--
Looking for a career selling job? Old established company has opening for aggressive sales representative. Travel limited to Southeast Missouri. Age -- preferrably 23-40. Must have high school education. Company trains -- Many fringe benefits -- Established territory. Must be able to start work in June. For further information, application & interview write
SHELBY BUSINESS FORMS
6609 Clayton Road
St. Louis, Mo. 63117

U.S. CIVIL SERVICE TESTS!
Men - women 18 and over. Secure jobs. High starting pay. Short hours. Advancement. Preparatory training as long as required. Thousands of jobs open. Experience usually unnecessary. FREE booklet on jobs, salaries, requirements. Write TODAY giving name, address and phone. Lincoln Service Box 100, c-o Daily Sikeston Standard.

USE THE DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD CLASSIFIED ADS

SPECIAL SERVICES 17

Exterior & Interior painting
Call Sherman Cambron
NO 7-2231 after 5 p.m. 4-22-tf

We Build
Automatic Feeding Systems & Silos complete
Memphis Concrete Silo Co.
D. H. Temples, Salesman.
Rt. 2, Dexter, Ph. LO 8-2720. 4-13-26t

For Light Hauling or City Delivery
Call GR 1-4552 4-18-30t

POULTRY & LIVESTOCK 18

FOR SALE -- 2 Ponies. Call GR 1-2188 or after 5 -- GR 1-5650. 4-26-tf

*BLOODLIVER
*Domestic Mischief
*LAMPLIGHTERS
*C.M.R.
Homer Oliver, Mgr.
Dearmont Oliver & Sons
East Prairie, Missouri
Phone Ni 9-3740
Reg. Polled Herefords For Sale
VISITORS WELCOME

FEED & SEED 20

FOR SALE -- Tiftgreen Bermuda: Beautiful Hybrid turfgrass used by many Southeast Missourians. Quick ground cover! -- Order by phone and pickup 24 hours later. $2.70 per square yard. Discount for over 5 yards.
Raymond D. Hicks, Ph. D.
Route 1, Portageville
Call DR 9-5510 after 5 p.m. 5-3-8t

NEW & USED CARS 21

FOR SALE -- 1953 Ford truck. Call GR 1-2666 after 5 p.m. 5-6-5t

'54 Chevrolet. Just overhauled, at 320 Edmondson. $225.00. 4-28-12t

LOANS & INSURANCE 24

WE HAVE THE BEST MONEY IN TOWN
See us for fast "CASH"
KEY LOAN CO.
GR 1-0428
"WE LIKE TO SAY YES"

EARN GOOD MONEY WHILE YOU LEARN AT
MCDONNELL
World Famous Designer and Builder of Phantom II Jet Fighters and Gemini Spacecraft in St. Louis

Trainee classes start every week for those who want to learn a valuable skill or trade.

If you've had a class or some experience in manual training or metalworking, no doubt you're ready for one of our training classes.

Headed for the Service? Take a good trade or skill with you! You'll get a better break in your Military assignment and a head start on a good rating.

AND you'll have a job priority at MCDONNELL when you return from Service.

FOR A 40-HOUR WEEK YOU'LL BE PAID...
$66 per week for the first 4 weeks while you're in school.
$70 per week for the next 7 weeks learning on the Production Line.
$78 per week for the next six weeks on the Production Line.
THEN...
$97.20 per week, followed by automatic increases of $1.20 every 10 weeks within grade in your job classification.

THAT'S A $31.20 PER WEEK PAY INCREASE IN JUST 4 MONTHS.

PICK YOUR CAREER...

Mechanic, Airplane Production Trainees
Instruction in use of tools and measuring instruments to install aircraft equipment. Blueprint reading and the use of planning sheets will also be taught.

Mechanic, Electrical and Radio Trainees
Instruction in use of tools to install electrical equipment. Read and use wiring diagrams and engineering specifications.

Sheet Metal Assembler and Riveter Trainees
Instruction in use of tools, measuring instruments and blueprints for assembly work.

To apply, contact your nearest State Employment office.

MCDONNELL
ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI
A PLANS FOR PROGRESS COMPANY AND AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

Channel 12

MONDAY MAY 9
5:45 THE SCOREBOARD
5:50 WATCHING THE WEATHER
6:00 CBS EVENING NEWS - COLOR CBS
6:30 TO TELL THE TRUTH CBS
7:00 I'VE GOT A SECRET CBS
7:30 THE LUCY SHOW - COLOR CBS
8:00 ANDY GRIFFITH SHOW - COLOR CBS
8:30 HAZEL - COLOR CBS
9:00 HOLLYWOOD TALENT SCOUTS - COLOR
10:00 CHANNEL 12 REPORTS
10:15 THE LATE WEATHER
10:25 THE SPORTS FINAL
10:30 CHANNEL 12 THEATRE
(THE 400 BLOWS-FRANCIS TRUFFAUT & JEAN PIERRE LEAUD)
12:15 LATE NEWS HIGHLIGHTS

TUESDAY MAY 10
6:00 SUNRISE SEMESTER CBS
6:30 CHUCK WAGON GANG
6:45 CH. 12 BREAKFAST SHOW
7:05 CBS MORNING NEWS CBS
7:30 CH. 12 BREAKFAST SHOW
8:00 CAPTAIN KANGAROO CBS
9:00 I LOVE LUCY CBS
9:30 THE REAL MCCOYS CBS
10:00 ANDY OF MAYBERRY CBS
10:30 DICK VAN DYKE SHOW CBS
11:00 LOVE OF LIFE CBS
11:25 NOONDAY NEWS CBS
11:30 SEARCH FOR TOMORROW CBS
11:45 THE GUIDING LIGHT CBS
12:00 NOON-DAY NEWS
12:15 THE FARM SCENE
2:20 KITCHING THE WEATHER
12:30 AS THE WORLD TURNS CBS
1:00 EDGE OF NIGHT CBS
1:30 HOUSE PARTY - COLOR CBS
2:00 TO TELL THE TRUTH CBS
2:25 DOUGLAS EDWARDS NEWS CBS
2:30 THE EDGE OF NIGHT CBS
3:00 THE SECRET STORM CBS
3:30 COLOR FEATURE
4:00 BACHELOR FATHER
4:30 LEAVE IT TO BEAVER
5:00 WOODY WOODPECKER SHOW - COLOR

3 Network

MONDAY, MAY 9
6:00 Cactus Pete
6:25 Weather
6:30 12 O'Clock High
7:30 Jesse James
8:00 Shenandoah
8:30 Peyton Place
9:00 The Avengers
10:00 Weather & News
10:20 Untouchables
11:20 Maverick
12:30 News & Sign Off

4

9:00 Jack Lalanne
9:30 M-Not For Hire
T-Family Theatre
W-Agriculture & Edu.
T-Family Theatre
F-Douglas & Dirksen
10:00 Supermarket Sweep
10:30 Dating Game
11:30 Donna Reed
11:30 Father Knows Best
12:00 Ben Casey
1:00 Confidential-Women
1:30 A Time For Us
1:54 News-Womans Touch
2:00 General Hospital
2:30 The Nurses
3:00 Never Too Young
3:24 Arlene Dahl-Beauty C
3:30 Where The Action Is
4:00 The Hour
5:00 M-W-F Adventure Club
Tu-Blue Angles
Th-Lone Ranger
5:30 Rocky & His Friends
5:45 Peter Jennings-News

6

MONDAY -P.M. May 9
6:30 Hullabaloo - c
7:00 John Forsythe Show - c
7:30 Dr. Kildare - c
8:00 Andy Williams - c
9:00 Lyndon Johnsons' Texas - c
10:00 News Picture
10:15 Tonight Show - c

DAILY (Monday thru Friday)
7:00 Today Show - c
9:00 Romper Room
9:25 NBC News
9:30 Concentration
10:00 Morning Star - c
10:30 Paradise Bay - c
11:00 Jeopardy - c
11:30 Let's Play Post Office - c
11:55 NBC News
12:00 News, Farm Markets
12:15 Pastor Speaks
12:30 Let's Make a Deal - c
12:55 NBC News
1:00 Days of our Lives - c
1:30 The Doctors
2:00 Another World
2:30 You Don't Say - c
3:00 Match Game - c
3:25 NBC News
3:30 Bingo
4:00 Popeye - c
4:30 M.T.W.Th. Cheyenne to 5:30
Fri Dance Party to 5:30
5:50 Huntley-Brinkley - c
6:00 News
6:10 Weather
6:20 Sports

KMPI 1520 K.C.

PROGRAM SCHEDULE — MONDAY THRU FRIDAY
5:30 Sign On
5:32 Town and Country
6:25 Perspective on Markets
6:55 KMPL World Report
7:05 KMPL Regional & Local News
7:15 KMPL Weather
7:20 KMPL Market Report
7:25 KMPL Sports Report
7:30 The Morning Watch
8:25 Perspective for Women
9:05 Around the Town
10:05 Musical Fun
10:25 Perspective on Lighter Side
10:30 Musical Fun
11:40 Let's Pretend
11:55 Mid-Day Meditations
12:00 KMPL World Report
12:10 KMPL Sports Report
12:20 KMPL Regional & Local Report
12:35 KMPL Markets
12:45 KMPL Weather Report
12:55 News Sound: Analysis
1:00 Bal room
2:05 Open Line
2:30 Country Fare
3:25 Perspective on Business
3:30 Bootheel Beat
3:45 KMPL Market Report
4:55 KMPL World News Report
5:00 KMPL Regional & Local Report
6:05 KMPL Sports Report
6:10 KMPL Weather Report
6:15 Vespers in Music
6:30 Interlude - Music
7:30 This Night Watch - Music
11:25 KMPL News Final
11:30 Sign Off
NOTE: KMPL NEWS at 55 PAST EACH HOUR

Looking Back Over the Years

50 years ago
May 9, 1916

W. L. Gordon, who has been in the Farmers Supply Dry Goods Co., departed Sunday for Cape Girardeau, to fill a clerical position there.

Mrs. A. B. Skillman gave a birthday dinner Sunday in honor of Dave Kevil.

Will Sikes bought a car load of cattle from E. J. and John Keith of Knoxall last week.

40 years ago
May 9, 1926

Charlie Watson, small son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Watson of Dorothy street, had the misfortune to fall off the porch Wednesday, breaking one of his arms. He is getting along nicely now.

The cast has been selected for "Adam and Eve" the senior play, which will be presented May 18. The cast is composed of: Ivan Randolph, Janice Bone, Linn Smith, Burdeen Schroff, Evelyn Smith, Elizabeth Stallcup, Frank Trousdale, John Putnam, Lyman Fox, and Vernon Skillman.

The management of the Malone Theatre has discontinued the family nights, on account of the abuse of the privilege. It has been the custom to admit children free when accompanied by parents, but people who were not married attempted to and did pass in children free. From now on everybody pays.

30 years ago
May 9, 1936

N. C. Watkins of Vanduser, Scott County, who has been employed in the state park service at numerous localities in the Ozarks, has been transferred to Troy, Mo., for duty in connection with the Federal park in that community. His family will remain in DeSoto until school closes.

About 45 grammar and junior high school students will undergo tonsillectomies today at a free clinic sponsored jointly by the Kiwanis Club and the Red Cross chapter.

A plan for organization for Kiwanis club sponsored Cub packs was arranged Thursday night when boys between 9 and 12 years old and their parents met with Scouters in the American Legion club rooms in the McCoy-Tanner building. Mrs. A. J. Renner will be den mother for cubs living in the north part of town and Mrs. L. R. Burns will serve as den mother for a southside pack. Mrs. Burns will have in her den: Tommy Roberts, Billy Foley, Charles Boardman, Harold T. Lindley, Joe Dye, Peter Burns, Bob Burns, Miller Moll and John Richard Ensor. Present members of Mrs. Renner's den are: Tommy McClure, Larry Shain, Billy Swacker, Lowell Greer, Ed Dan Renner, Billy Sikes, Tommy Roberts, Charles Mitchell, Bobby Mitchell, Harold Stacy, Billy Anderson, Jimmy Powers, John Boardman, Joe Rabb and Bobby Joe Vowels.

Mrs. Wm. Graham entertained members of her family at dinner Sunday in honor of Mother's Day and her 74th birth anniversary on the following day, May 11.

20 years ago
May 9, 1946

Mrs. Moore Greer, Mrs. Ralph Anderson, Mrs. Irma Allen, Mrs. O. T. Elder and Miss Myra Tanner spent Tuesday in Memphis, where they attended the concert in which Miss Mimi Allen of Sikeston was featured.

Rex Theatre, tomorrow, double feature, "Step Lively" with Frank Sinatra plus "Invisible Man's Revenge" with Jon Hall. Malone Theatre, tomorrow, "Scarlett Street" with Edward G. Robinson and Joan Bennett.

High school notes. The 1946-47 cayenne of the Red Peppers, Jo Ann Botter, and the other officers: Vice cayenne, Dot Matthews; secretary, Peggy Lair; and treasurer, Mary Ellen Sensenbaugh, were announced at the annual Red Pepper banquet held in the dining room of the Dunn Coffee shop, Friday night.

Harry C. Blanton of Sikeston, who for the past 12 years, has held the office of United States District Attorney in St. Louis, has submitted his resignation to United States Senator Frank B. Briggs.

Mechanic, after overhauling motor, to medic: "Pity they don't have Blue Cross for cars, eh, doc?" --Bob Brown

The Prayer
For Today From The Upper Room

This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein. (Joshua 1:8)

PRAYER: Father I thank Thee for the Bible which Thou hast given us. Guide me in my daily reading of Thy Word that I may learn to use it as my guidebook for life. Help me to turn to Thy Word at all times. Through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, I ask these things. Amen.

ANN LANDERS
Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: This may be one of the strangest letters you have ever received. I hope you won't think it is too strange to print because I suspect other mothers have the same problems but refuse to admit it.

My husband and I rasied our four children to be independent and self-reliant. Everyone told us we did a wonderful job. As the children grew older I began to wish we hadn't done such a good job. I resented their independence. I wanted them to need me and ask for my advice. Before long I began to meddle in their affairs. I even tried to take over their children.

After a run-in with my daughter-in-law I decided to talk to my doctor. He told me I had an over-supply of mother love and that I needed another baby — which was impossible at my age. So he suggested an alternative. He send me to the welfare people and I obtained a child care license. I put an ad in the paper and within three days I had a 13-month-old baby boy. Two weeks later I advertised for a second baby. Now I have two little boys and I'm happier than I've been in years.

The mothers of these children say I am the answer to their prayers. I KNOW they are the answer to mine. When these mothers take their babies away I will get replacements. There will always be mothers who must work and babies who need a mama-substitute. This is my specialty.

My relationship with my own children is better than ever. And I have no time for aches and pains or crying spells. How I wish I had seen a letter like this in your column five years ago. It could have saved me a lot of unhappiness. -- SPARK REKINDLED

Dear Spark: What a beautiful example of receiving through giving! And your doctor deserves a standing ovation for coming up with the ideal solution to your problem. Cheers for him and hooray for you.

Dear Ann Landers: Recently I took a job distributing phone directories. The job turned out to be interesting as well as educational. I wish everyone would try to deliver phone directories for just one day. They'd have new respect for the postman and other delivery people

It is shocking that thousands of residents don't display their house numbers either on the mailbox or anywhere else. How do they expect to locate them? I had to enlist the help of neighbors in a great many cases. I asked one woman who had no number on her porch or mailbox how she got her deliveries. Her answer was "They figure it out somehow."

Why should THEY have to "figure it out?" It seems to me that the burden should rest on the residents and not the carriers.

Please print my letter. It is the surest route to millions of eyes that I know of. -- DISGUSTED WITH PEOPLE

Dear People: The moment you finish reading this column, go outside and see if you could find your home if you didn't where you live.

If your residence is not properly marked, run -- don't walk -- to the nearest hardware store or the five and dime. Buy some paint and a brush -- or some metal numerals and a hammer and nails. It could be the most useful thing you did all week.

Confidential to Tree Top Tall: Shakespeare notwithstanding -- life is NOT a stage. You will not receive your satisfactions and rewards from playing to an audience. So what if he IS a few inches shorter than your? What does it matter? If you let this marvelous man get away you are out of your ever-loving mind.

Liquor can ruin your mind, your body and your life. To learn the booby traps of teen-age drinking, write for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mail Box

To the Editor
DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD
Sikeston, Missouri

There are many non-communists and a relatively few active anti-communists. The best known of the latter are frequently charged with being anti-semitic, anti-union labor, anti-Negro and accompanying anti's, although patriots are generally "for" in trying to preserve freedom. In most cases the charges against "anti's" are untrue and those intended to be defamed are merely actively opposing communism. A question can be raised about the ones who are making the charges or starting rumors. Sometimes these false charges are repeated even by the general public and are in no way a badge of honor for the minorities which the "chargers" purport to protect. It is said "truth will out" and when it does, the facts will finally, if slowly, emerge in favor of many of the victims of the charges.

Constructively,
H. L. Hunt
1401 Elm Street
Dallas, Texas

To the Editor:
I, and myself,
Live all alone
In a small town
We call our own.

'Twas an easy job
To make this out
But now I've done
Without a doubt.

I read THE STANDARD
To get the news
I read Drew Pearson
To get his views.
Important items
Of every kind
I read daily
To enrich the mind.

Now for poems
Of any size,
My entry is filed
To draw a prize.

Written with PLEASURE,
Submitted in HUMILITY
And wishing much
SUCCESS to the STANDARD
John Fletcher
East Prairie, Mo.

To the Editor:
We would like to take this means of expressing our appreciation for the good coverage you gave the convention meeting here last week, through the daily write-ups and also the pictures.

Thanks again!
First Assembly of God Church
and
Rev. T. A. McDonough

Mr. C. L. Blanton, Jr.
Publisher
The Daily Sikeston Standard
Sikeston, Missouri

Dear Charlie:
As a member of the County Board of Education, I wish to thank you for the excellent coverage you gave to the reorganization proposal for Scott County. While it was defeated, I feel that it has caused much thinking and evaluation of schools which will yield a dividend for the children of Scott County in the future.

Again thanks for your extra news coverage done by Dan Whittle for your paper.

Very truly yours,
Tharon E. Stallings
116 South Kingshighway
Sikeston, Missouri

Parma News

Mrs. Ruth Allstun visited Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Brown of Dexter Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rehms and grandson of Advance, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rehms of Henderson, Ky., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Norman, Wednesday. Mrs. Joe Bagby of Vinson was also a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Norman of Carbondale, Ill., visited Mr. and Mrs. Earl Norman during the past week.

Mrs. Emma Jean Dunn and Sherry of Waynesville, Mo., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Gregg last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Gregg of St. Louis visited Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Gregg Saturday through Monday. Sunday guests of the Greggs were Morris Gregg and sons of Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Link of Malden and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dieter.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Lindley of St. Louis visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lindley during the weekend.

Dr. and Mrs. George W. Husted visited her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Floral White of Sikeston.

Mrs. W. L. Ramsey visited in Kennett Saturday afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Buchanan of Portageville, were guests Sunday of Mrs. Gertie Nolan.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Orman spent the weekend with her son, Donald Nelson and family in O'Fallon. They also visited Mrs. Helen Ledbetter and children of O'Fallon, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald of Affton. Mrs. Brenda Patton and children accompanied the Ormans to Affton where they visited her brother and family, the Donald Chappells.

Mrs. Ray Gratz, Teresa and Alan, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Perry of Bloomfield.

Mrs. Harold Harchous spent the weekend in Atlanta, Ga., visiting relatives.

Rev. and Mrs. Peter Fischer attended funeral services for Harry Wilcox in Dexter, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Val Sharp of Sikeston, visited Thursday with Mrs. Encil Knight.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Perry and Family of Bloomfield were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Encil Knight.

Mr. and Mrs. Narvel Cameron visited in Malden Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Nancy Ruby.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ramsey were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Vieth in Bernie.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. White and Mrs. Lieulla Ziegler attended funeral services for a cousin, Oscar Westmoreland in Patterson, Mo., April 27.

A "going-out-of-business linen shop on 3rd Ave. in New York City displayed this sign: "Closed for vacation. Will resume going out of business on Sept. 15."

--V. C. Palat

ATTENTION FARMERS

Now is the time to check your small grain for army worms.

Call one of the most experienced operaters in Southeast Missouri, with new airplanes and equipment.

HOLYFIELD FLYING SERVICE, INC.
DAY OR NIGHT Phone GR 1-5577

For Sikeston ...a distinguished event!

GEORGE STEVENS presents THE GREATEST STORY EVER TOLD
TECHNICOLOR United Artists

EXCLUSIVE LIMITED ENGAGEMENT
Thru Thursday MAY 12
NIGHTS 7:30
Wed. Matinee 2 P.M.

ADMISSION: ADULTS $1.25 - CHILDREN 75¢
REX THEATRE — Sikeston, Mo.

WOOLWORTH'S PETTICOAT SALE
10% TO 30% OFF AS THE GALS TAKE OVER

Save 10c on every pair you buy!
SEAMLESS NYLONS
Reg. 49c
Seamless mesh beauties. Take advantage of our low, low price and stock up now. Choose fashionable rose-tone or sun-tone shades. Sizes 9-11.
39¢ pr.

BUY THEM BY THE DOZENS
LIFE-LIKE PLASTIC FLOWERS

- Snap Dragon
- Cosmos
- Geranium
- Sweet Pea
- Golden Pothos
- Rose
- Assorted Ferns

Perennial blooming favorites duplicate nature's very own. They're washable, fadeproof; stems can be easily cut or bent for arranging. Come pick a bouquet in exciting colors to accent or complement your home's decor. At this low price you can buy all you want and still enjoy big savings.

SAVE 1.00
Reg. 6.99 quality...
MOULDED LUGGAGE
5.99 each

Vinyl clad pieces include traincase, vanity, 16" weekend, 21", 26" pullmans. Rayon lined. Colors.

King size...
17oz. STYLE® HAIR SPRAY
83¢
Reg. 1.89

Contains Protex... exclusive texturizer. Has increased holding power. Adds beauty as you spray.

Reg. 1.29 plastic
BALLERINA SHADES
88¢

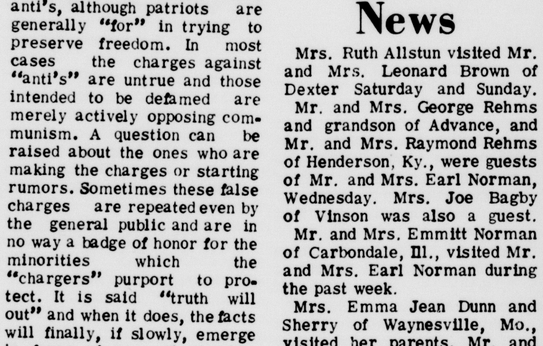

Frothy favorites have unbreakable, washable bodies. Choice of many colors, trims. 12" size.

COME IN, REGISTER FOR FREE GIFTS DURING THE MONTH OF MAY SEE DISPLAY IN WINDOW

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED WOOLWORTH'S REPLACEMENT OR MONEY REFUNDED
YOUR MONEY'S WORTH MORE AT WOOLWORTH'S

MALONE Shows Begin 2:00 Sun. - Fri. 1:00 Saturday

MONDAY TUESDAY WEDNESDAY
MATT HELM SHOOTS THE WORKS!

COLUMBIA PICTURES presents DEAN MARTIN as MATT HELM in THE SILENCERS
co-starring STELLA STEVENS · DALIAH LAVI · VICTOR BUONO · ARTHUR O'CONNELL · ROBERT WEBBER
JAMES GREGORY · ROGER C CARMEL BEVERLY ADAMS and CYD CHARISSE
Produced by IRVING ALLEN Directed by PHIL KARLSON COLUMBIACOLOR
Original Sound Track Album Available on RCA Victor Records

LEASE A TORONADO!
IMMEDIATE DELIVERY!
IT'S LOADED with 4-season air conditioning and many luxury accessories. Maintenance and insurance available.
$129 MO.* delivered F.O.B. Detroit
*Price may vary due to local taxes and license costs.
International LEASING SYSTEM
TOM BALDWIN, Dist.
TU 8-5268 Kennett, Mo.

ANNOUNCING . . . A NEW SERVICE TO SOUTHEAST MISSOURI RESIDENTS!

Lease An Automobile!!

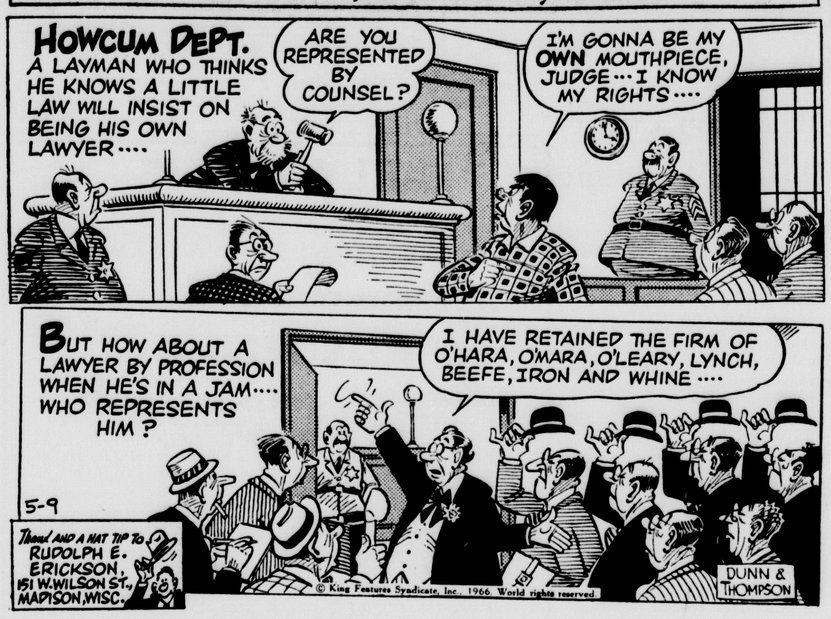

International Leasing Corp. of Detroit is proud to announce the appointment of Mr. Tom Baldwin as our distributor in Southeast Missouri!

International Leasing Corporation

Phone TU 8-5268 TOM BALDWIN, Distributor Kennett, Mo.

DELTA DRIVE-IN
Monday Tuesday
JOSEPH E. LEVINE presents
CARROLL BAKER "HARLOW"
TECHNICOLOR PANAVISION

Hatlo's They'll Do It Every Time ®

THE FAMILY CIRCUS By Bil Keane

"So this is where your Follow the Leader game was heading!"

BEN CASEY by Neal Adams

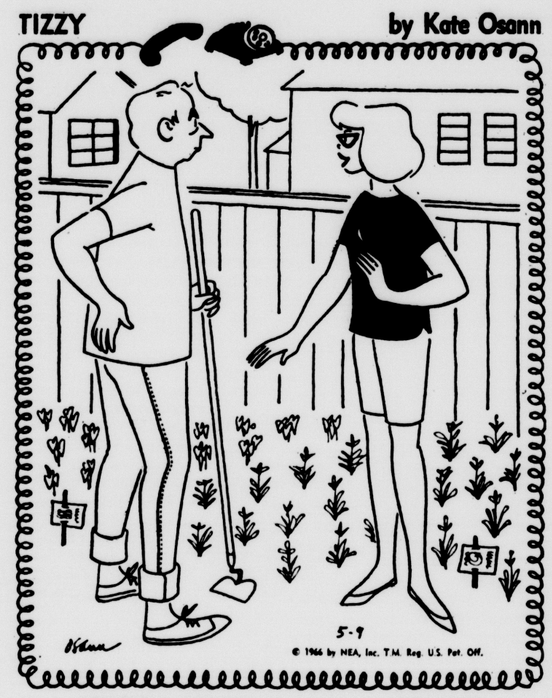

PEANUTS by Schulz

MARY WORTH by Saunders & Ernst

TIZZY by Kate Osann

"Isn't it a lot less work just to defrost?"

CAPTAIN EASY by Leslie Turner

STEVE CANYON by Milton Caniff

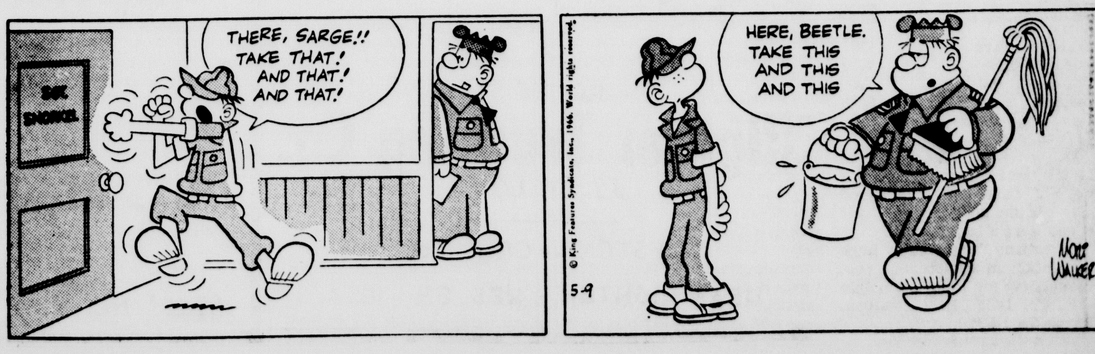

THE PHANTOM by Lee Falk & Sy Barry

ALLEY OOP by V. T. Hamlin

BEETLE BAILEY by Mort Walker

Today In U.S. History

Today is Monday, May 9, the 129th day of 1966. There are 236 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1945, Marshal Hermann Goering of Germany surrendered to the U. S. 7th Army.

On this date

In 1502, Christopher Columbus sailed from Spain on his last voyage -- seeking a route to the spice islands.

In 1781, the Spaniards captured Pensacola, Fla.

In 1914, Mothers Day was established as the second Sunday in May by proclamation of President Woodrow Wilson.

In 1926, Adm. Richard E. Byrd flew over the North Pole.

In 1936, Italy annexed Ethiopia.

Ten years ago -- British Prime Minister Anthony Eden hinted that a British frogman, Lionel Crabb, may have been engaged in spying when he disappeared while diving near a Soviet cruiser anchored in Portsmouth Harbor.

Five years ago -- The new chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, Newton Minow, referred to television as a "vast wasteland."

One year ago -- Russia launched an effort to make a soft landing on the moon -- but it was a failure.

Lilbourn Cancer Drive Ceases

LILBOURN -- Mrs. Mary Francis Strong and Bill Tope, co-chairmen of the 1966 Cancer Crusade which has just closed in Lilbourn have announced that contributions to the Crusade reached a total of $287.14.

Of this total $86.33 was contributed in the house-to-house canvass of the town; $20.88 came from a coffee day, when Jones Drug Store, Jimmy's Cafe, The Palace Cafe and The Freeze Queen gave the receipts from coffee sales that day to the fund; a small amount came from the cancer cans placed in business houses and the balance of the total came in contributions from business men of the town.

Ladies who made the house-to-house drive under the direction of Mrs. Strong were: Mdmes. Patsy Twitty, Curley Robertson, Betty Jo Weeks, Myrtle Camp, Marjorie Stevens, Lucille Baughman, Ellen Rose Speight, Dolly Beavers, Evelyn Hall, Juanita Newton and Miss Shirley Taylor.

The co-chairmen of the drive offer their thanks to the people of the community for their generosity and to the ladies who so ably assisted in the fund raising effort.

Q—Under which president were the largest number of states admitted?

A—Six states were admitted to the Union during the administration of President Benjamin Harrison. They were North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Washington in 1889; Idaho and Wyoming in 1890.

Q—Which is the smallest continent in the world?

A—Australia.

CARNIVAL By Dick Turner

"Since I quit dating Herbie, Jack and Tom, my allowance lasts all week!"

SIDE GLANCES By Gill Fox

"Harry seems to think he should look after her since he learned she's assigned to our lifeboat!"

STAR GAZER

By CLAY R. POLLAN

Your Daily Activity Guide According to the Stars.

To develop message for Tuesday, read words corresponding to numbers of your Zodiac birth sign.

1 Take	31 Of	61 Are
2 Rejoice!	32 Taken	62 Guard
3 A	33 Limit	63 Against
4 New	34 Aided	64 And
5 Regular	35 Needed	65 Morale
6 Cooperate	36 Legal	66 Approach
7 Incoming	37 Enthusiasm	67 Help
8 Another's	38 Personal	68 Aspects
9 Opinion	39 And	69 Should
10 Periods	40 Right	70 Suggestions
11 Your	41 However	71 You
12 Messages	42 Will	72 Be
13 Avoid	43 Money	73 Relaxation
14 Trip	44 Or	74 Documents
15 May	45 To	75 Disappearing
16 May	46 Some	76 Theft
17 New	47 And	77 Now
18 Ventures	48 By	78 Checked
19 With	49 Rest	79 Of
20 Contain	50 Good	80 And
21 Your	51 Family	81 Expect
22 Things	52 Other	82 You'll
23 Be	53 Unusual	83 Buy
24 The	54 Planning	84 Overcome
25 Fears	55 New	85 Uncertainties
26 New	56 People	86 Opposition
27 Signing	57 Finances	87 Progress
28 Open	58 Problems	88 Ideas
29 Are	59 Help	89 Valuables
30 A	60 And	90 Them

Good — Adverse — 5/10 Neutral

ARIES MAR. 22 – APR. 20	6-19-24-40 56-64-82-87	LIBRA SEPT. 23 – OCT. 23	1-5-10-31 49-60-73
TAURUS APR. 21 – MAY 21	38-47-51-57 69-72-78	SCORPIO OCT. 24 – NOV. 22	17-22-35-45 59-65-83-90
GEMINI MAY 22 – JUNE 22	4-18-29-34 48-50-68	SAGITTARIUS NOV. 23 – DEC. 22	7-12-20-46 53-70-80-88
CANCER JUNE 23 – JULY 23	3-14-16-23 32-41-81-85	CAPRICORN DEC. 23 – JAN. 20	21-26-37-42 67-71-84-86
LEO JULY 24 – AUG. 23	13-27-36-44 52-74-77	AQUARIUS JAN. 21 – FEB. 19	2-11-25-39 58-61-75
VIRGO AUG. 24 – SEPT. 22	8-9-15-28 30-55-66	PISCES FEB. 20 – MAR. 21	33-43-54-62 63-76-79-89

Special Days

ACROSS

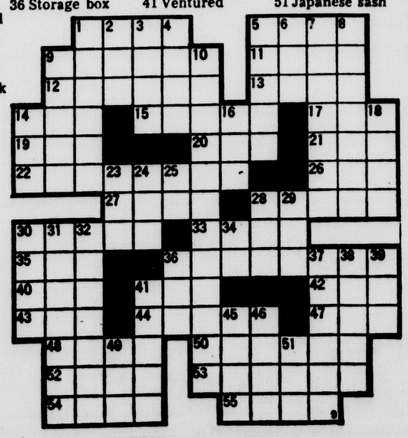

1 December 25 (var.)
5 —— Friday
9 Necktie
11 Mature
12 Vegetable
13 Fish sauce
14 Islet
15 Keen
17 Fishing pole
19 Number
20 Born
21 Arabian name
22 Foundations
26 Rocky hill
27 Greek love god
28 Watchful
30 Type of cheese
33 Strong wind
35 Craft
36 Of a sacred book
40 Constellation
41 Dividend (ab.)
42 Self-esteem
43 Serpent
44 Infirm
47 Emmet
48 Row
50 Knotty
52 Roof edge
53 Diving birds
54 Lop (Scot.)
55 Arthurian lady

DOWN

1 Treated with radiation
2 Insane
3 Bird (Latin)
4 Window part
5 Vine fruit
6 Lubricant
7 Runs
8 Bleach
9 Wading bird
10 —— Day
14 Male swan
16 Legal point
18 Loose soil
23 Crimson
24 Mouths (anat.)
25 Company (ab.)
28 Whole of
29 Hawaiian garland
30 Festival
31 Son of Agamemnon
32 Visionary
34 Bachelor degree (ab.)
36 Storage box
37 Stopped
38 Saint —— Eve
39 Land parcel
41 Ventured
45 Learning
46 Paradise
49 Christmas ——
51 Japanese sash

Answer to Previous Puzzle

P	I	G		C	R	O	P		S	E	A	L
A	C	E		R	O	M	I		E	R	S	E
S	E	R		I	D	E	A	L	I	S	T	S
T	R	A	M	M	E	L		A	N	T	I	S
		N	E	P		E	D	G	E
F	A	I	R		S	T	A	G		S	A	W
A	M	U	L	E	T		R	E	S	I	D	E
C	A	M	E	R	A		L	O	I	T	E	D
E	D	S		A	R	C	S		T	U	N	S
		A	G	E	A		P	E	A	L
R	O	U	G	E		R	O	A	S	T	E	R
I	N	T	E	R	F	E	R	E		I	S	A
A	T	E	N		L	E	D	A		O	A	F
L	O	S	T		A	N	O	N		N	U	T

A TANTALIZING TRYST IN TURKEY isn't necessary to enjoy these jeweled turkish slippers. They're a great way to greet the morning in your own home. These are crocheted in chartreuse green Knit-Cro-Sheen and trimmed in sequins and small pearls. You pick a wake-up color that goes with your robe. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet PC 9000.

Sorenson Makes Bid For Governor

OMAHA, Neb. AP -- Philip C. Sorensen, younger brother of former presidential counsel Theodore Sorensen, makes his bid for the Democratic nomination for governor in Tuesday's Nebraska primary.

The Lincoln attorney won the lieutenant governorship two years ago in his first try for public office.

He is aiming now for the office being vacated by Democrat Frank Morrison who is running for the U.S. Senate.

Sorensen has two primary opponents: Henry Ley, 62, of Wayne, who quit as state banking director to seek the nomination, and state Senator J. W. Burbach, 54, Crofton grain dealer.

On the Republican side, former Gov. Val Peterson, 62, again is seeking the office he held from 1947 to 1953.

Peterson, former federal Civil Defense administrator and ambassador to Denmark, has four opponents including a hard-campaigning newcomer, Norbert T. Tieman, 41, Wausau banker; former State Normal Board President Bruce F. Hagemeister, 56, Hemingford; Henry Kuhlmann, 49, former rancher and farmer from Grand Island, and Albert E. Hahn, 52, retired Grand Island junk dealer.

When the Morrison-Sorensen combination won election in 1964, it was the first time in 30 years Democrats had taken both governorship and lieutenant governorship in Nebraska.

The Sorensen name is a political asset. Philip's father --- a Republican -- had been Nebraska attorney general. His brother Ted kept the name in the news as an aide to Presidents Kennedy and Johnson.

Although the governorship contests hold the center of the stage in the primary, a heated contest appears in the offing for the Senate in the general election.

U. S. Sen. Carl Curtis, a Republican, is unopposed for the nomination. Morrison is expected to be an easy primary victor over his only Democratic opponent, power district employe Raymond Arndt of Columbus.

New Church Twist

ST. LOUIS AP -- Three guitars, a bass violin and a banjo added a new twist to Sunday services at the First Presbyterian Church in suburban Webster Groves.

They accompanied the regular church choice in the performance of a "Folk Mass."

The associate director of music at the church, Mrs. William Symes, said "I lost a little sleep last night worrying about how it would come off. But, the congregation seem very pleased."

Mrs. Griffin, Charleston, Dies Sunday

CHARLESTON -- Mrs. Willie Mae Griffin, 60, died at 5:30 a.m. Sunday in the Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau after several years' illness.

She was born April 2, 1906, in Charleston, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Baker. She lived in Charleston most of her life.

On May 23, 1925, she married Leland Griffin, who survives. Other survivors are three sons, Leland Spencer Griffin of St. Charles, Joe Bob Griffin serving with the U.S. Navy in Honolulu, Hawaii, and John Marshall Griffin of West Chicago, Ill.; four daughters, Mrs. Bernard Norris, Mrs. R. W. Boyd, both of Dewitt, Ark., Mrs. Robert Glass of Japan and Mrs. William Powell; three sisters, Mrs. Murray Grace, Mrs. Lizzie Baker, both of Cape Girardeau, and Mrs. Ezell Griffith of Lake View, Iowa, and 20 grandchildren.

The body is at the McMikle Funeral Home.

Blodgett Child Dies Saturday

BLODGETT -- Graveside services were held Sunday at 11 a.m. for Joseph Raymond Myers, infant son of Joseph and Evelyn Myers. Jackson Funeral Home of Sikeston was in charge.

The child died Saturday at 4 p.m. at the Missouri Delta Community Hospital, Sikeston.

Other survivors, one sister, Sandra Kay Myers; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Washburn; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Lillie Myers.

Local Stocks

	BID	ASK
Airlift Intern'al	2⅞	3½
Anheuser Busch	47¼	50
Ark Mo Power	17⅝	19
Fed. Compress	29	31
Malone & Hyde	28½	30½
Mo Utilities	22¼	24½
Pabst Brewing	38	40
Potlatch Forest	34	36
Wetterau	25	27
Gen. Life Wis.	5¼	6
Mid Amer. Life	5¾	6½
Mid West Life	5¾	6½
Tower Nat. Life	1¾	2⅜
LISTED STOCKS
Allied Stores		2⅜
Amer. Tel. & Tel.		56⅛
Chrysler		45
Columbia Gas		26⅝
Eaton Mfg.		61⅝
Emerson Elec.		60
Ford Motors		48¼
Foremost Dairy		24
General Motors		88¾
New England Elec.		27½
Transogram		8

Editors Note: The bid price is the approximate price if one were a seller and the asked price is the approximate price if one were a buyer.

Quotations furnished by Hugh T. McCollum registered representative for Fusz Schmelzle and Co. 1405 East Malone. Phone GR 1-5350.

National Stockyards

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Ill. AP -- Estimates for Tuesday: hogs 8,500; cattle 4,000; calves 250; sheep 300.

Hogs 7,000; moderately active, barrows, gilts and sows 25-50 higher; barrows and gilts 190-240 lbs 24.25-25.25; sows 280-650 lbs 17.00-19.50.

Cattle 5,000; steers slow, steady to 25 lower; good to prime steers 24.00-27.00; good to choice heifers 23.00-26.00; cows 18.50-20.50; good to choice vealers 25.00-35.00.

Sheep 200; spring lambs steady to strong; choice and prime 26.50-28.00; good and choice old crop lambs wooled 21.00-23.50; shorn ewes 4.00-8.00.

(NEA Radio-Telephoto)

TERRORIST VICTIM—Rescuers aid a Korean construction worker badly wounded in a terrorist bombing at a Saigon bus stop. Ten died and 37 were injured in the blast.

U. S. Knocks Out Missile Sites

SAIGON, South Viet Nam AP-- U. S. fighter-bombers knocked out two more Soviet built missile sites in North Viet Nam and chased off a flight of Communist MIG17s southeast of Hanoi, the U. S. Command reported today.

Navy A4 Skyhawks hit a surface-to-air missile site 12 miles north-northwest of Haiphong Sunday, the U. S. command said, while Air Force pilots reported they destroyed a SAM site 30 miles northnortheast of Hanoi.

It was the closest penetration so far to Haiphong, North Viet Nam's major port.

A military spokesman said U. S. fliers evaded 11 missiles fired from sites in three different areas during air strikes Sunday.

The spokesman said Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs encountered the MIGs 70 miles southeast of Hanoi. He said the American pilots closed in, but the MIGs turned and fled before they could be engaged.

The number of MIGs was not announced.

The missile sites were hit Sunday during a break in the monsoon rains. American planes flew 51 missions against the Communist north after a week of limited assaults because of the weather.

The American fliers also kept up their pummeling of bridges and highways in the north to cut further supply routes to Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital, and Haiphong.

An Air Force spokesman reported Sunday that three weeks of raids had severed all the main road and rail supply routes between Hanoi and Haiphong and to Red China.

"All these arteries can be bypassed, but I think it will slow down the movement of supplies. They will have to find some other means -- by junks or barges," the spokesman said.

He said aerial photographs confirmed the destruction to bridges and highways leading to Hanoi from four directions.

Although North Viet Nam claimed that six U. S. planes were shot down over the north Sunday, the U. S. Command reported only one loss- a U. S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief that was hit during strikes against the Cao Nung railroad bridge 55 miles northeast of Hanoi.

A military spokesman said the pilot was seen to parachute to the ground but could not be rescued. He was listed as missing in action.

This brought the total number of planes lost over North Viet Nam to 232.

In the ground war, only light skirmishes were reported. Air Force B52s from Guam struck again at the suspected Viet Cong troop concentration area in the C Zone near Cambodia, 70 miles northwest of Saigon.

It was the ninth day in a row that the giant B52s -- each carrying a destructive load of 22 to 30 tons of explosives-- hit at the enemy stronghold in support of the U. S. 1st Infantry Division's Operation Birmingham.

Other American planes flew 284 sorties over South Viet Nam, striking at Viet Cong troops, camps, river traffic and storage areas. The South Vietnamese air force flew 174 sorties, about half of them flare drops in support of ground troops.

A new political storm buffeted Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government in the wake of Ky's statement Saturday that he expected to remain in power at least another year.

Government censors eliminated the statement from the Vietnamese press, indicating the ruling generals may not have been entirely pleased. In Da Nang, a Buddhist leader threatened new street protests if the government backs down on its promise to hold elections for a national assembly this fall.

The pilots who knocked out the missile site northeast of Hanoi reported they set off one large and two smaller secondary explosions, indicating they touched off enemy ammunition and explosives. Returning fliers said smoke from the explosions rose 500 feet.

One of the pilots said he saw a long orange streak shoot across the ground for a quarter of a mile. He said it looked like the engine of a missile on the ground had been ignited and fired the missile across the site.

Thunderchief fighter-bombers also hit the Thai Nguyen railroad yards 35 miles north of Hanoi and reported destroying 12 rail cars, cutting the tracks in eight places and cratering the yard.

The closest previous penetration to Haiphong was the bombing of the Uong Bi power plant 14 miles northwest of the port last December and in April.

On the ground, the U. S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division continued mopping up operations in the Bong Son coastal area where on Thursday and Friday they and Vietnamese troops wiped out a mixed battalion of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong.

The spokesman reported three more enemy killed by the Americans and seven captured, bringing their total to 278 and 65 captured. South Vietnamese units earlier reported killing 84 Viet Cong in the operation, known as Dave Crockett.

LBJ Entertaining At His Ranch

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

KANSAS CITY, Mo. AP -- Harry S. Truman, more than 13 years out of the White House, was lauded as "the man of peace" today as more than 400 friends gathered to wish him a happy 82nd birthday.

President Johnson and Chief Justice Earl Warren plan to telephone their congratulations.

Truman's birthday actually was Sunday, and he celebrated it by dedicating a federal office building in his home town of Independence -- a structure he worked hard to obtain for the city. The building is only a few blocks from the square where Truman got his political start 44 years ago.

Truman gave a brief talk after he was presented with a miniature of the seal of the United States which is on the front of the building.

The former president said he could not claim any more credit for completion of the building than many other government officials and elected representatives.

He said, with a grin, "I just tried to prod them along a little when they got a little slow."

Centerpiece for the birthday luncheon today was a huge cake, decorated with a frosted picture of the proposed Truman Center for the Advancement of Peace, to be built at Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

President Johnson, in one of his two visits to the Truman Library in Independence last year, hailed the center as a fitting memorial to Truman who had much to do with the recognition by the United States of the new state of Israel.

The guest list for the annual luncheon included the governors of Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Arkansas and many dignitaries from the Truman administration.

For Truman, the highlight at these birthday luncheons always is the "happy birthday" said in their native tongues by students from dozens of foreign countries.

The luncheon is held each year by Henry J. Talge, a Kansas City industrialist. When Talge first conceived the idea of giving a birthday party in 1953 -- the year Truman returned from Washington -- it was a simple affair with 22 guests. Last year the total was nearly 400 and this year the guest list was 411.

First graders normally twist and turn continuously in their straight-backed chairs. As an experiment last year, an inspired Ohio teacher installed rocking chairs for her first-grade reading class. The children rocked quietly instead of squirming and were later found to be a month ahead of their normal reading level.

--Milwaukee Journal

USE THE DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD CLASSIFIED ADS

WATCH REPAIR
RAYMOND WRIGHT
Jeweler
125 N. New Madrid GR 1-2308
Certified Master Watchmaker
No. 8535

Wilda Buntin, Charleston, Dies

CHARLESTON -- Mrs. Wilda C. Buntin, 88, died at 10:29 a.m. today at her home, after three weeks' illness.

She was born Aug. 20, 1878, in Rapids, Ky., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Clack. She had lived in Charleston since childhood. She was a member of the First Methodist church.

Her husband, James B. Buntin preceded her in death Jan. 12, 1952.

She is survived by two sons, Harold Buntin of Dearborn, Mich., and Lynch Buntin of Portland, Ore.; three daughters, Mrs. Carl Jensen of Sun City, Ariz., Mrs. Vincent Robinson of Tucson, Ariz., and Mrs. Dorothy Winchester of Benton, Ky.; six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Services will be at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the McMikle Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Winford House officiating. Burial will be in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

Brother of Mrs. Carl Luber, Dies in Accident

ST. LOUIS--Robert L. Reeves, 45, brother of Mrs. Carl Luper of Sikeston, was killed in an automobile accident, Saturday night at 10 p.m.

Other survivors are his wife, who was injured in the accident and is a patient in St. Luke's Hospital; one daughter, Bonnie Reeves; one brother, William Reeves, St. Louis, and one other sister, Mrs. Goldie Clary, Dexter.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Buckholz Mortuary, 5967 Florissant, St. Louis.

Winston Churchill On Dealing With Communists

It is idle to reason or argue with the communists. It is, however, possible to deal with them on a realistic basis, and, in my experience, they will keep their bargain as long as it is in their interest to do so.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

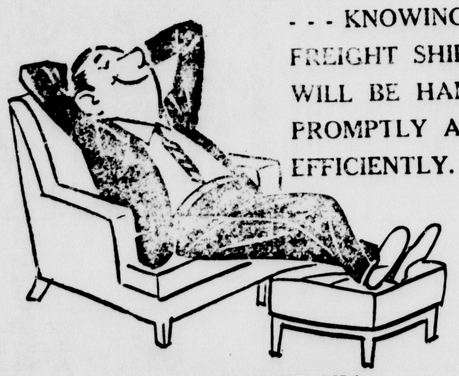

Outside a Catholic church in London, England: "If your trouble is deep-seated and of long standing, try kneeling."
--English Digest

Confuscius spoke . . .
and his words are true
That many man smoke
But Fu-Manchu.
---B.G. Wilkes

EARLY-MAGIC
AUBURN-M
OFFICIAL TESTS HAVE PROVEN AUBURN-M TO BE THE EARLIEST AND HIGHEST YIELDING COTTON GROWN IN TWELVE S.E.MO. TESTS 1963-1965
TO MAXIMIZE YOUR COTTON PRODUCTION PLANT AUBURN-M
MATTHEWS COTTON CO.
GR 1-3790
Distributors for AUBURN-M

NEED STEEL
CALL
STEWARD
CR 1-2121
Sikeston, Missouri

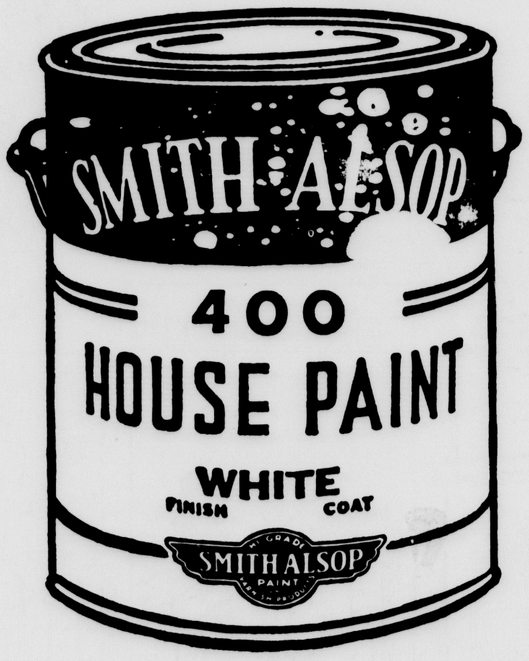

RELAX

- - - KNOWING YOUR FREIGHT SHIPMENTS WILL BE HANDLED PROMPTLY AND EFFICIENTLY.

ROUTE VIA
Righter Trucking Co.
AT ST. LOUIS
SIKESTON -- GR 1-1860
DEAN RIGHTER - RES. GR 1-0267

SMITH-ALSOP PAINT
SPECIAL
MAY 9 THRU MAY 14

400 House Paint
WHITE
FINISH COAT
REGULAR $5.29
$3.95
GALLON
SMITH-ALSOP PAINT & WALLPAPER CO.
Phone: GR 1-3145
129-131 No. New Madrid Street Sikeston, Missouri

Penneys
ALWAYS FIRST QUALITY
COMPARE THE VALUES!
MAY HOME FAIR

THERMAL FASHIONS
span the seasons...cost little at Penney's!

TIQUE SELF-INSULATED DRAPERIES KEEP OUT HEAT, COLD, SUNRAYS!
Heavy quality rayon-cotton drapes lend elegance to rooms, keep interiors warmer in winter and cooler in summer! Carry a 2-yr. sun-fading guarantee*. And Penney's has sizes for all your windows, single to wall-to-wall. In stock or rush-ordered.
*or Penney's will replace
8.98 pair
48" wide, floor length
7.98 pair
48" wide, 63" length

FASHIONAIRE BEDSPREAD DOUBLES AS A THERMAL BLANKET!
Our dreamy Fashionaire spread plays a dual role . . . dresses your bed by day, becomes a thermal blanket by night! Keeps you summer-cool, winter-warm! Lovely diamond crochet-look weave and designer colors. Deeply fringed. All cotton, machine wash in lukewarm water.
7.99 twin or full

OUR FASHIONAIRE COTTON THERMAL BLANKET FOR ALL SEASONS!
Sleep warm, sleep cool, sleep comfortably 365 nights a year! Toss on a light cover and thousands of tiny air cells warm you. It's so cool on its own. All cotton, nylon bound. Machine wash. Lots of colors.
5.99 72" x 90" fits twin or full

CHARGE IT! PENNEY'S IS OPEN MONDAY 9 til 8 P.M. TUESDAY THRU FRIDAY 9 til 5:30. SATURDAY 9 til 8 P.M.

As near as your phone!
Penney's Catalogue Center
EVERYTHING YOUR FAMILY NEEDS FOR SUMMER!
CALL LOCAL GR 1-0955

DREW PEARSON SAYS: George Christopher is glaring example of California Doddism; quick to cry smear when expose of misconduct threatens; Goodie Knight called him worst Republican candidate.

THE DAILY STANDARD

Published Daily Except Sunday in Sikeston, Mo.

DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD AVAILABLE AT: Paylor's Stone, Lambert's Cafe, Bus Station, Holiday Inn, Rafferty's Gro., Barkett's Big Star, Park-A-Lot, Proffers Bi-Rite, War Drum, El Capri, Hospital, Jolly Cab, Ellis Conf., Penney's Corner, Post Office, Dunn Hotel, Blackburn's Grill, Imperial Lanes, Marks & Stearnes, and Mr. C's.

OUR 56TH YEAR | 10¢ PER COPY | SIKESTON, SCOTT COUNTY, MISSOURI, MONDAY, MAY 9, 1966 | NUMBER 191

Charleston Mother And Daughter Found

CHARLESTON -- Katherine LaCour, 35, and her eight year old daughter, Jona Kay Donaldson, were found this morning in Sikeston after they were allegedly abducted last night at gun-point from their home here.

Charleston police said this morning the two were abducted last night after Mrs. LaCour's husband, Cleo LaCour, 35, allegedly kicked in the back door. They were taken to Paducah, Ky., and Brookport, Ill. Police said LaCour brought them back to Sikeston this morning.

Mrs. LaCour is reported suffering from several fractured ribs and is spitting up blood from being beaten severely. Her daughter is reported unharmed.

Mrs. LaCour called her mother, Mrs. Harry Brewer, also of Charleston, from somewhere in Illinois last night after the alleged abduction and told her first, "I am all right." Mrs. Brewer then asked if she had gone of her own free will, there was a pause, and Mrs. LaCour finally said, as if in pain, "yes." Mrs. Brewer said then Cleo LaCour grabbed the phone and said, "She's with me."

Police said that LaCour has assaulted his wife before.

They said a 17 year old son of Mrs. LaCour's, Charles "Jake" Donaldson, was at the house when forcible entry was made into the house. Young Donaldson ran to a neighbor's house and called Mrs. Brewer and by the time that he returned, the trio was gone.

Mrs. LaCour had received a call earlier Sunday evening and had been told that LaCour had suffered a heart attack at his home near Sikeston.

Mrs. LaCour went to his home, saw that he was alright, and then returned to her home in Charleston last night, LaCour allegedly followed her home and made the abduction.

Charges are pending.

The LaCours are married, but have been separated for more than a month.

Viet Cong To Come Out From Hiding

SAIGON, South Viet Nam AP-- There is growing belief that the Viet Cong and more than 20,000 recent reinforcements from North Viet Nam will come out of hiding soon and fight.

They have been lying low for weeks. One reason, American military men say, is that the Communists have been critically short of supplies. They have been hurt by the repeated search-and-destroy sweeps by allied ground forces and incessant U.S. air strikes.

The Reds are thought to be regrouping and resupplying to take the initiative with the onset of the monsoon rains, when the weather prevents the Americans from providing ground forces with full-scale air cover and support.

The monsoon season, just beginning, runs into August.

Some military men argue that instead of a single massive offensive, the Communists will make many small-scale attacks. The most probable targets are allied outposts along the Laotian and Cambodian frontiers.

Military sources say that Cambodia is where some of the infiltrating North Vietnamese have joined Viet Cong units and sought sanctuary from American guns. Some branches of the Ho Chi Minh Trail from the north end there.

In recent weeks, however, the United States has ruled out Cambodia as a sanctuary. Artillery and infantrymen have fired across the border when attacked from Cambodia.

To counter this, intelligence reports say, the Communists have pulled back into Cambodia about 20 miles. The monsoon drives are expected from these new sanctuaries.

One particularly sensitive spot, long a Viet Cong stronghold, is the French-named C Zone just inside South Viet Nam along the Cambodian border.

American infantrymen have repeatedly swept through this area and destroyed huge caches of supplies but have made only minor contact with the enemy. The giant B52 bombers also have subjected the area to incessant heavy bombing.

U.S. intelligence is reasonably sure that more than 20,000 North Vietnamese have entered South Viet Nam and neighboring Laos and Cambodia since the first of the year.

They filter down the Ho Chi Minh Trail, not as organized units but in small groups or individually.

U.S. officials say the infiltration rate reached 5,500 in March, about 1,000 more than previous months, and the April figure could have been as high as 7,000.

Schade Takes First Place At Columbia

FIRST PLACE news picture award at the Annual Journalism Week was won by Leo L. Schade, reporter-photographer of the Daily Standard.

SEVEN DISTINGUISHED award winners at the 57th Annual Journalism Week at Columbia, awarded last Friday, standing from left, Walter D. Scott, chairman National Broadcasting system, New York; John Schwada, chancellor, University of Missouri; Charles L. Blanton Jr., Daily Sikeston Standard; Henry Swirner, Fairchild Publications, New York; Alton F. Baker Jr., editor, Eugene, Ore. Seated from left, Dean Earl R. English; University of Missouri; Thomas M. Storke, editor emeritus, Santa Barbara, Calif.; Robert M. Jackson, editor, Corpus Christi, Tex.; and Alton Blakeslee, Associated Press science writer, New York.

The Daily Standard added additional honors at the fifty-seventh annual Journalism Week, which ended in Columbia Saturday.

In addition to the Distinguished Service Award to the publisher, Charles L. Blanton, Jr., a reporter-photographer, of the Standard staff, Leo L. Schade, received a first place plaque award for the best feature picture, and a second place honor was awarded to the Daily Standard for the best young people's page, published by the Sikeston High School.

Honorable mention went to the Daily Standard Woman's Page, edited by Mrs. Ruth Dillender; the best advertising idea of promotion by the Daily Standard Advertising staff; and for the best use of local pictures.

The Distinguished Service Award received by the publisher of the Daily Standard reads: "In recognition of his dedication for nearly 40 years as the co-publisher and editor of the Sikeston Standard; his distinguished service to his community as exemplified by his being chosen 'Man of the Year' by his fellow citizens; his untiring work and devotion in behalf of professional newspaper organizations, both regional and national, and in particular the Missouri Press Association; his demonstrated belief that newspapers must be free and independent, that their editorial voice should be felt; and his reputation for printing, saying and doing whatever he believes an editor must say and do in support of truth and honest news."

The award was signed by John Schwada, chancellor of the university, and Earl English, dean of the School of Journalism.

Five Arrests

Five arrests were made by police during the weekend.

Samuel Hurn, 356 Magnolia Drive, was charged with careless driving.

Lloyd G. Freeman, 209 Young, was charged with disturbing the peace.

Floy Stevenson, East Prairie, was charged with careless driving.

Linda Castleburry, 308 Bynum, charged with speeding.

Billy J. Duncan, Essex, was charged with speeding.

The Literary Cabinet, published by Yale University in 1806, is regarded as the first college magazine in America.

A game called paw-paw, in which sea shells were used as dice, was popular in this country in the 1800's.

Cancer Victim Dies, Ends Life Optimistically

TUCSON, Ariz. AP -- "Up to the end he had a hopeful, optimistic attitude."

This was how Dr. T. E. A. von Dedenroth recalled the optimism of Robert Allen, who died Sunday, ending his fight against a rare form of bone cancer.

Allen, suffering from osteogenic sarcoma, underwent a transfer of cancerous tissue with Harry T. Griffith, 63, of Flourtown, Pa., about eight weeks ago at Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Allen never knew that Griffith, a former minor league baseball player, died April 25.

Allen was admitted to a Tucson hospital Friday. Dr. von Dedenroth said the cancer had spread too far through Allen's pelvic area.

"He had been under hyponotherapy treatment," Von Dedenroth said, "and thought that he had this thing licked."

The doctor said that Allen, who returned from Buffalo 12 days ago, had been under a hypnosis treatment which enabled him to develop a positive outlook toward his disease.

Even when Allen's condition worsened last week, requiring his hospitalization, he "felt he was merely recuperating from the operation," Von Dedenroth said.

Thursday, when Von Dedenroth realized "only a miracle" would save Allen's life, the doctor broke the news to the stricken man's wife, Anita. She has been in seclusion and under a doctor's care since.

Doctors at the Roswell Park institute said they did not think the two men had died in vain.

"The deaths of Mr. Allen and Mr. Griffith are regretted here," a spokesman at the institute said. "Both men knew that the method, at best, was highly experimental and unproven. Apparently, in these two cases, the procedure was of little value."

The spokesman said the knowledge gained from the experiments "has been beneficial" to cancer research.

Specialists hoped the transfer of cancer tissues would produce antibodies in the blood of both men and help stop the spread of cancer.

"Apparently the surgery was performed too late. There is a possibility that if they had gotten to him sooner, something might have been worked out," Von Dedenroth said.

Allen, who lost a leg last fall because of cancer, was a former football player for the University of Illinois and an award-winning insurance man.

Schools Lose 5.7 Millions

Public schools of Missouri lost almost $6 million in funds allotted them for special educational help to children who are from low income families.

The state was allotted $30,225,091 under the Elementary and secondary Education Act of 1965. The funds were to be used in projects to help those considered to be "disadvantaged" or deprived of usual opportunities. A family of this type was supposed to be one with an income of $3,000 or less.

Projects for helping such children were supposed to be proposed by local officials, and approved by the Office of Education in Washington. However the Office of Education here said that only $24,427,395 in projects were submitted for their approval. The cut off date beyond which no more projects could be approved was May 3.

The actual loss to the state schools was $5,797,395 for the year. Officials of some states where the money has not all been used have complained that there was not enough time to plan the projects carefully, and spend the money well.

The House has approved more money for this purpose for next year.

Two Men Drown

CLIMAX SPRINGS, Mo. AP -- Two men drowned in Lick Creek near Climax Springs Sunday after one of them went down while water skiing and the other tried to rescue him.

The men were Thomas Junior Root, 36, of 7004 Arlington Ave., Raytown, and Ray Claunch, 31, of Kansas City.

Officers said Root was in a speedboat towing Claunch when the latter floundered. Root, a good swimmer, jumped into the water to help, but both men went down.

Root's body was recovered. A search for Claunch's body continued.

Root, an electrician for the Kansas City Power & Light Co. for 15 years, was on the last day of a vacation with his family. He owned a cabin in the resort area and had just completed a boat dock. His wife, two sons and a daughter survive.

Four Seriously Injured Saturday

Four teenagers were seriously injured when their car went out of control traveling at a high rate of speed on a gravel road, four miles west of Hayti.

Margaret McIntyre, 16, and three companions all from Pascola, were injured. The driver received cuts on her face.

Passengers in her car, Diane Hill, 18, received a broken shoulder and cuts; Marilyn Smith, received a back injury; and Bonnie Smith, 15, broken ribs and bruises.

The driver lost control in loose gravel, ran into a ditch and turned over.

In an accident Saturday morning, one mile west of Essex on highway 60, a 1966 Volkswagen, driven by Denzil Keith, 37, Morrisonville, went out of control, ran into a ditch and turned over.

The driver received cuts in the back of his head, and a passenger, Richard Gibson, 22, Tulare, Calif., received cuts on his head.

Both were treated by a Bloomfield physician, and the driver was arrested by the patrol for driving while intoxicated.

A Metropolis, Ill., man is in the Mississippi county jail, following an accident on highway 60, three miles east of Charleston, Sunday at 9 a.m.

A 1961 Oldsmobile, driven by Raymond Goodman, 30, Metropolis, Ill., attempted to pass a 1966 International trailer truck, driven by David Perryman, 41, Garland, Texas. When he found it impossible to pass he took to the shoulder and passed the truck on the right side.

He received minor head injuries and upon investigation by the patrol and Mississippi County authorities, it was found that the car had been stolen that day in Metropolis.

Three persons were injured in an accident, Sunday at 5 p.m. six miles west of Morehouse at junction 60 and 153 in a two-car accident.

A 1962 Buick, driven by Ray Whitten, 56, Alhambra, Calif., was hit by a 1961 Mercury, driven by David Slusher, 63, Hammond, Ind., when the latter failed to stop at the intersection.

Injured were, Edna Slusher, 62, a passenger in the Mercury with chest injuries and cuts, while the driver received cuts on his head. Both were taken to the Missouri Delta Community Hospital. Mrs. Witten was taken to a Dexter clinic.

Band Concert

The annual Junior High School Band Concert will be held at the Middle School Gymnasium tomorrow evening at 7:30 p.m.

The 93 member Seventh Grade Band under the direction of Ed Carson and the 75 member Eighth Grade Band, directed by Keith Collins, will be presented in the program.

The public is invited to attend. There is no attendance charge.

Collins Granted Change

CARUTHERSVILLE -- Judge Arthur U. Goodman, Jr., of Kennett granted a change of venue in the James A. Collins murder case from Pemiscot County to New Madrid County Circuit Court Saturday afternoon.

Judge Goodman also disqualified himself and will ask the Missouri Supreme Court to transfer another judge to hear the case in New Madrid.

Collins, charged with the 1965 murder by rape of Mrs. Sue Melton, appeared before Judge Goodman in the Pemiscot County Circuit Court in Caruthersville. Collins' attorney, Raymond Klemp, had requested the original arraignment be postponed from last Wednesday until Saturday. He also asked that the judge disqualify himself and grant a change of venue.

Collins was arrested last August 28 and charged with the murder of Mrs. Melton after the victim was found by a Caruthersville couple on the Triangle Boat Club Chute Road, several miles west of Caruthersville, at 12:05 a.m. that day. She was taken to Pemiscot Memorial Hospital at Hayti where she died a few hours later of internal injuries and loss of blood.

Collins was arraigned in Magistrate Court September 17 and in later proceedings Judge William L. Ragland was disqualified and Judge Goodman appointed to try the case.

Soldier Drowns

WAYNESVILLE, Mo. AP -- Charles J. Henry, 22, a Ft. Leonard Wood soldier, drowned in the Gasconade River a mile north of Waynesville Sunday.

Another soldier, Rene Aguirre, 21, tried to rescue Henry but was swept under by the current and was pulled out by bystanders.

Weather

Fair tonight and Tuesday. Cooler tonight. Lows upper 30s to around 50. Tuesday a little warmer. Highs in 60s. Northerly winds 10 to 18 diminishing tonight. Partly cloudy and warmer Wednesday.

HIGH AND LOW YESTERDAY

High and low temperatures Sunday were 86 and 41. High and low's Saturday, 84 and 57. Rainfall Sunday was .32.

Sunset today---------7:54 p.m.
Sunrise tomorrow----5:55 a.m.
Moonrise tomorrow--1:02 a.m.
Last Quarter--------May 12
This week the planet, Jupiter, sets further north on the horizon than it has at any time in the past 24 years. The 2 bright stars above Jupiter are the Twins.

Computed for
THE SIKESTON STANDARD
Sikeston, Missouri
by Bailey R. Frank
Quechee, Vermont

Chase Ends With Death

LOS ANGELES AP -- The high-speed chase ended, a police bullet in his chest, his head cradled in his pregnant wife's lap, Leonard Deadwyler's dying words were: "She's having a baby."

Authorities gave this account of Deadwyler's death Saturday night.

Deadwyler, 21, was driving his wife, Barbara, 25, to a hospital. With them was their son, Leonard Jr., 2, and Gamaliel Ferguson, 31, owner of the car.

Several police cars pursued Deadwyler at speeds up to 80 miles per hour before he eased off to a slow roll.

Deadwyler's car continued to inch forward as Officers J. M. Bova and K. E. Ross approached and ordered a complete stop.

The car continued to inch forward.

Bova, pistol in hand, thrust his head, shoulders and arms through Deadwyler's open window to remove the ignition key.

The car suddenly lurched forward, knocking Bova off balance and causing his pistol to fire. The bullet struck Deadwyler in the chest.

CUT PRICES

CLOVIS, N.M.--A Clovis furniture store advertised "slashed prices." When it opened its doors for the sale, it discovered that vandals had broken into the store during the night and slashed some $2,000 worth of new sofas and chairs, apparently with a razor blade. The store now is planning a truly "slashed" furniture sale.

Two Johnson Bills Before House Today

WASHINGTON AP -- A bill containing money for two of President Johnson's pet projects, the National Teacher Corps and the rent subsidy program, comes before the House today.

Congress has been cool this session toward both projects. The Teacher Corps is designed to improve the education of children in slum areas. The rent program provides federal funds to augment rent payments of low-income families living in privately built housing.

On today's House docket is a catch-all compromise appropriation bill providing $2.78 billion to tide over various agencies until June 30, when this fiscal year ends. It includes $9.5 million for the Teacher Corps and $100,000 in cash for the rent subsidy program plus authority for another $12 million in contractural commitments.

Tuesday the House is scheduled to consider an omnibus $14 billion bill that contains $900,000 for the rent program. Johnson requested $38 million for the rent program, but the House Appropriations Committee approved only $900,000--all earmarked for administrative expenses -- with no contracts allowed after June 30.

Administration leaders promised a fight to bolster the subsidy program and keep it going through at least next year.

Senate leaders planned to call up today 10 House-passed bills authorizing sales of surplus metals and materials from the defense stockpile.

Both houses have scheduled floor action early in the week on bills authorizing a construction program for the Atomic Energy Commission.

If its appropriations committee acts in time, the Senate may vote later in the week on House-passed bills financing the Treasury, Post Office and Interior departments.

The House will take up later in the week a miscellany of bills including one designed to relieve the shortage of railroad box cars.

Committee action during the week centers on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the House Judiciary Committee and the Joint Economic Committee.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is the top witness scheduled today before the Senate committee considering the $3.4 billion foreign aid authorization.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach will resume testimony Tuesday before the House committee studying the new civil rights bill.

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz leads off Joint Economic Committee hearings starting today on private and public pension plans.

Medicare Benefits, Second of Series

EDITOR'S NOTE -- This is the second of a three part series concerning Medicare for the aged. Today's article deals primarily with the Medicare Basic Plan, Part "A".

By LEO SCHADE

In order that no one may become confused, there is but one Medicare plan, but it does consist of two parts, as provided by the Social Security amendments voted last year, which includes hospital and physicians services, as outlined in the first article.

Today's article deals with Part "A" of the Medicare, and explains what the basic plan will pay for.

What will Medicare pay for?

Under the present plan which goes into effect July 1, any spell of sickness, from the time the patient is admitted to the hospital, to 60 days after their discharge from hospital or the nursing home.

The bed and board of the patient in a two or four room semi-private accommodations, for a maximum of 90 days.

All related nursing services, include social services that are ordinarily furnished the patients, and includes drugs, supplies or therapeutic items or services usually furnished by hospitals, including blood, except the first three pints.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1967, after the patient has been hospitalized for three days, and within fourteen days of his hospital discharge, the patient may enter a nursing home which has an agreement with the hospital for the transfer of the patients and interchange of medical records.

This part includes four parts, room and board in two to four bed accommodation. It also includes nursing care, physical occupational and speech therapy, and drugs ordinarily furnished.

The plan also gives home health services if ordered by the physician, after the patient has been in the hospital for three days, or from a nursing home, where the patient is entitled to 100 home health visits for each spell of illness.

The patient is also entitled to intermittent nursing care, occupational and speech therapy if available in the area. Included is also medical supplies and the use of medical appliances. The part-time services of a health aide is also included.

Services offered to the outpatient includes diagnostic services, which is a twenty-day hospital diagnostic study on an outpatient basis. The patient may have the use of non-qualified hospitals for emergency care only if the charge is "reasonable."

What the Medicare plan will not pay for.

The patient will not be entitled to a private room unless required for medical reasons.

The medicare plan will not pay for the first three pints of blood.

Medical or surgical service by a physician, including services in field of pathology, radiology, physical therapy and anesthetics, is not paid for in the plan, nor is the service of physician paid for.

A private duty nurse or attendant will not be paid for. The unskilled nursing home care where there has been no agreement for transfer of patients and the interchange of medical records.

The medicare plan does not pay for constant home nursing care, nor pay for the drugs the patient can take himself.

It will not pay for continual services of a home health aide, nor does it pay for the use of non-qualified hospitals for routine care.

Money Stolen

MONETT, Mo. AP -- A burglar stole an estimated $800 to $1,000 from a carnival in Monett Saturday night, but Sheriff Bill Hemphill said the man was arrested in Joplin. The money was recovered.

The sheriff said the man, Marvin Ray Johnson, 27, caught a ride to Joplin and tried to buy an airline ticket to Honolulu. There was no flight out of Joplin immediately so the man went to a hotel, where he was arrested.

Boy Hangs Self

WESTON, Mo. AP-- The body of 15-year-old John L. Fritzel was found hanging in a barn near his home in Weston Sunday. He had been missing since Saturday morning.

The coroner, Roland Griffee, said the boy apparently had been playing with a rope and the hanging was accidental.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel E. Fritzel, was born in Lawrence, Kan., and lived in Weston seven years.

Scott County Declared Natural Disaster Area

BENTON -- Roy Proctor, Jr., Chairman of the Scott County ASC Committee has announced that due to excessive rainfall, Scott County has been declared a natural disaster area by the Secretary of Agriculture.

This action will permit cotton and feed grains that cannot be timely planted to be transferred from one farm to another for the 1966 crop year.

Regulations provide that the producer on the transferring farm must have an interest in the cotton or feed grain on the receiving farm. These crops may be transferred within Scott County or to adjoining counties. If a producer wishes to make a transfer, he must first file an application at the Scott County ASCS Office in Benton.

Cotton farmers in Scott County will vote this month to decide whether they want to be able to sell or lease their cotton allotments outside the county. The referendum on the question will be conducted by mail during the period May 16 through May 25. Ballots may also be delivered by hand to the ASCS County Office.

The only question to be declared by the balloting is whether upland cotton allotments may be transferred during the next 3 years to other farms outside the county which are owned or controlled by someone else. Such transfers may be made by sale or by lease. In no case may transfers be made outside the State. An affirmative vote by at least two-thirds of the county's cotton farmers who vote will permit such transfers for the next three upland cotton crops, 1967-69.

A referendum on the same question was conducted last fall throughout the Cotton Belt, and growers in 349 counties at that time approved the allotment transfers. The vote this May will be held only in counties which disapproved such transfers in last fall's vote.

The upcoming vote by mail marks a first in program administration, according to Mr. Proctor. Farmers previously have been able to vote by mail in annual ASC committeeman elections, but the method has never before been used in a commodity program referendum.

Mr. Proctor said, "It's easy to vote by mail, and we hope all producers will vote. The vote should be fully representative of the wishes of the cotton farmers in our county."

Proctor said that copies of the ballot are being sent to all cotton producers of record in the county, together with information describing the program's purpose and operation. Any cotton producer who has a question about the referendum or about who is eligible to vote, is urged to get in touch with the ASCS County Office.

DREW PEARSON SAYS: George Christopher is glaring example of California Doddism; quick to cry smear when expose of misconduct threatens; Goodie Knight called him worst Republican candidate.

THE DAILY STANDARD

Published Daily Except Sunday in Sikeston, Mo.

DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD AVAILABLE AT: Paylor's Stone, Lambert's Cafe, Bus Station, Holiday Inn, Rafferty's Gro., Barkett's Big Star, Park-A-Lot, Proffers Bi-Rite, War Drum, El Capri, Hospital, Jolly Cab, Ellis Conf., Penney's Corner, Post Office, Dunn Hotel, Blackburn's Grill, Imperial Lanes, Marks & Stearnes, and Mr. C's.

OUR 56TH YEAR | 10¢ PER COPY | SIKESTON, SCOTT COUNTY, MISSOURI, MONDAY, MAY 9, 1966 | NUMBER 191

Charleston Mother And Daughter Found

CHARLESTON -- Katherine LaCour, 35, and her eight year old daughter, Jona Kay Donaldson, were found this morning in Sikeston after they were allegedly abducted last night at gun-point from their home here.

Charleston police said this morning the two were abducted last night after Mrs. LaCour's husband, Cleo LaCour, 35, allegedly kicked in the back door. They were taken to Paducah, Ky., and Brookport, Ill. Police said LaCour brought them back to Sikeston this morning.

Mrs. LaCour is reported suffering from several fractured ribs and is spitting up blood from being beaten severely. Her daughter is reported unharmed.

Mrs. LaCour called her mother, Mrs. Harry Brewer, also of Charleston, from somewhere in Illinois last night after the alleged abduction and told her first, "I am all right." Mrs. Brewer then asked if she had gone of her own free will, there was a pause, and Mrs. LaCour finally said, as if in pain, "yes." Mrs. Brewer said then Cleo LaCour grabbed the phone and said, "She's with me."

Police said that LaCour has assaulted his wife before.

They said a 17 year old son of Mrs. LaCour's, Charles "Jake" Donaldson, was at the house when forcible entry was made into the house. Young Donaldson ran to a neighbor's house and called Mrs. Brewer and by the time that he returned, the trio was gone.

Mrs. LaCour had received a call earlier Sunday evening and had been told that LaCour had suffered a heart attack at his home near Sikeston.

Mrs. LaCour went to his home, saw that he was alright, and then returned to her home in Charleston last night, LaCour allegedly followed her home and made the abduction.

Charges are pending.

The LaCours are married, but have been separated for more than a month.

Viet Cong To Come Out From Hiding

SAIGON, South Viet Nam AP-- There is growing belief that the Viet Cong and more than 20,000 recent reinforcements from North Viet Nam will come out of hiding soon and fight.

They have been lying low for weeks. One reason, American military men say, is that the Communists have been critically short of supplies. They have been hurt by the repeated search-and-destroy sweeps by allied ground forces and incessant U.S. air strikes.

The Reds are thought to be regrouping and resupplying to take the initiative with the onset of the monsoon rains, when the weather prevents the Americans from providing ground forces with full-scale air cover and support.

The monsoon season, just beginning, runs into August.

Some military men argue that instead of a single massive offensive, the Communists will make many small-scale attacks. The most probable targets are allied outposts along the Laotian and Cambodian frontiers.

Military sources say that Cambodia is where some of the infiltrating North Vietnamese have joined Viet Cong units and sought sanctuary from American guns. Some branches of the Ho Chi Minh Trail from the north end there.

In recent weeks, however, the United States has ruled out Cambodia as a sanctuary. Artillery and infantrymen have fired across the border when attacked from Cambodia.

To counter this, intelligence reports say, the Communists have pulled back into Cambodia about 20 miles. The monsoon drives are expected from these new sanctuaries.

One particularly sensitive spot, long a Viet Cong stronghold, is the French-named C Zone just inside South Viet Nam along the Cambodian border.

American infantrymen have repeatedly swept through this area and destroyed huge caches of supplies but have made only minor contact with the enemy. The giant B52 bombers also have subjected the area to incessant heavy bombing.

U.S. intelligence is reasonably sure that more than 20,000 North Vietnamese have entered South Viet Nam and neighboring Laos and Cambodia since the first of the year.

They filter down the Ho Chi Minh Trail, not as organized units but in small groups or individually.

U.S. officials say the infiltration rate reached 5,500 in March, about 1,000 more than previous months, and the April figure could have been as high as 7,000.

Schade Takes First Place At Columbia

FIRST PLACE news picture award at the Annual Journalism Week was won by Leo L. Schade, reporter-photographer of the Daily Standard.

SEVEN DISTINGUISHED award winners at the 57th Annual Journalism Week at Columbia, awarded last Friday, standing from left, Walter D. Scott, chairman National Broadcasting system, New York; John Schwada, chancellor, University of Missouri; Charles L. Blanton Jr., Daily Sikeston Standard; Henry Swirner, Fairchild Publications, New York; Alton F. Baker Jr., editor, Eugene, Ore. Seated from left, Dean Earl R. English; University of Missouri; Thomas M. Storke, editor emeritus, Santa Barbara, Calif.; Robert M. Jackson, editor, Corpus Christi, Tex.; and Alton Blakeslee, Associated Press science writer, New York.

The Daily Standard added additional honors at the fifty-seventh annual Journalism Week, which ended in Columbia Saturday.

In addition to the Distinguished Service Award to the publisher, Charles L. Blanton, Jr., a reporter-photographer, of the Standard staff, Leo L. Schade, received a first place plaque award for the best feature picture, and a second place honor was awarded to the Daily Standard for the best young people's page, published by the Sikeston High School.

Honorable mention went to the Daily Standard Woman's Page, edited by Mrs. Ruth Dillender; the best advertising idea of promotion by the Daily Standard Advertising staff; and for the best use of local pictures.

The Distinguished Service Award received by the publisher of the Daily Standard reads: "In recognition of his dedication for nearly 40 years as the co-publisher and editor of the Sikeston Standard; his distinguished service to his community as exemplified by his being chosen 'Man of the Year' by his fellow citizens; his untiring work and devotion in behalf of professional newspaper organizations, both regional and national, and in particular the Missouri Press Association; his demonstrated belief that newspapers must be free and independent, that their editorial voice should be felt; and his reputation for printing, saying and doing whatever he believes an editor must say and do in support of truth and honest news."

The award was signed by John Schwada, chancellor of the university, and Earl English, dean of the School of Journalism.

Five Arrests

Five arrests were made by police during the weekend.

Samuel Hurn, 356 Magnolia Drive, was charged with careless driving.

Lloyd G. Freeman, 209 Young, was charged with disturbing the peace.

Floy Stevenson, East Prairie, was charged with careless driving.

Linda Castleburry, 308 Bynum, charged with speeding.

Billy J. Duncan, Essex, was charged with speeding.

The Literary Cabinet, published by Yale University in 1806, is regarded as the first college magazine in America.

A game called paw-paw, in which sea shells were used as dice, was popular in this country in the 1800's.

Cancer Victim Dies, Ends Life Optimistically

TUCSON, Ariz. AP -- "Up to the end he had a hopeful, optimistic attitude."

This was how Dr. T. E. A. von Dedenroth recalled the optimism of Robert Allen, who died Sunday, ending his fight against a rare form of bone cancer.

Allen, suffering from osteogenic sarcoma, underwent a transfer of cancerous tissue with Harry T. Griffith, 63, of Flourtown, Pa., about eight weeks ago at Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

Allen never knew that Griffith, a former minor league baseball player, died April 25.

Allen was admitted to a Tucson hospital Friday. Dr. von Dedenroth said the cancer had spread too far through Allen's pelvic area.

"He had been under hypnotherapy treatment," Von Dedenroth said, "and thought that he had this thing licked."

The doctor said that Allen, who returned from Buffalo 12 days ago, had been under a hypnosis treatment which enabled him to develop a positive outlook toward his disease.

Even when Allen's condition worsened last week, requiring his hospitalization, he "felt he was merely recuperating from the operation," Von Dedenroth said.

Thursday, when Von Dedenroth realized "only a miracle" would save Allen's life, the doctor broke the news to the stricken man's wife, Anita. She has been in seclusion and under a doctor's care since.

Doctors at the Roswell Park institute said they did not think the two men had died in vain.

"The deaths of Mr. Allen and Mr. Griffith are regretted here," a spokesman at the institute said. "Both men knew that the method, at best, was highly experimental and unproven. Apparently, in these two cases, the procedure was of little value."

The spokesman said the knowledge gained from the experiments "has been beneficial" to cancer research.

Specialists hoped the transfer of cancer tissues would produce antibodies in the blood of both men and help stop the spread of cancer.

"Apparently the surgery was performed too late. There is a possibility that if they had gotten to him sooner, something might have been worked out," Von Dedenroth said.

Allen, who lost a leg last fall because of cancer, was a former football player for the University of Illinois and an award-winning insurance man.

Schools Lose 5.7 Millions

Public schools of Missouri lost almost $6 million in funds allotted them for special educational help to children who are from low income families.

The state was allotted $30,225,091 under the Elementary and secondary Education Act of 1965. The funds were to be used in projects to help those considered to be "disadvantaged" or deprived of usual opportunities. A family of this type was supposed to be one with an income of $3,000 or less.

Projects for helping such children were supposed to be proposed by local officials, and approved by the Office of Education in Washington. However the Office of Education here said that only $24,427,395 in projects were submitted for their approval. The cut off date beyond which no more projects could be approved was May 3.

The actual loss to the state schools was $5,797,395 for the year. Officials of some states where the money has not all been used have complained that there was not enough time to plan the projects carefully, and spend the money well.

The House has approved more money for this purpose for next year.

Two Men Drown

CLIMAX SPRINGS, Mo. AP -- Two men drowned in Lick Creek near Climax Springs Sunday after one of them went down while water skiing and the other tried to rescue him.

The men were Thomas Junior Root, 36, of 7004 Arlington Ave., Raytown, and Ray Claunch, 31, of Kansas City.

Officers said Root was in a speedboat towing Claunch when the latter floundered. Root, a good swimmer, jumped into the water to help, but both men went down.

Root's body was recovered. A search for Claunch's body continued.

Root, an electrician for the Kansas City Power & Light Co. for 15 years, was on the last day of a vacation with his family. He owned a cabin in the resort area and had just completed a boat dock. His wife, two sons and a daughter survive.

Four Seriously Injured Saturday

Four teenagers were seriously injured when their car went out of control traveling at a high rate of speed on a gravel road, four miles west of Hayti.

Margaret McIntyre, 16, and three companions all from Pascola, were injured. The driver received cuts on her face.

Passengers in her car, Diane Hill, 18, received a broken shoulder and cuts; Marilyn Smith, received a back injury; and Bonnie Smith, 15, broken ribs and bruises.

The driver lost control in loose gravel, ran into a ditch and turned over.

In an accident Saturday morning, one mile west of Essex on highway 60, a 1966 Volkswagen, driven by Denzil Keith, 37, Morrisonville, went out of control, ran into a ditch and turned over.

The driver received cuts in the back of his head, and a passenger, Richard Gibson, 22, Tulare, Calif., received cuts on his head.

Both were treated by a Bloomfield physician, and the driver was arrested by the patrol for driving while intoxicated.

A Metropolis, Ill., man is in the Mississippi county jail, following an accident on highway 60, three miles east of Charleston, Sunday at 9 a.m.

A 1961 Oldsmobile, driven by Raymond Goodman, 30, Metropolis, Ill., attempted to pass a 1966 International trailer truck, driven by David Perryman, 41, Garland, Texas. When he found it impossible to pass he took to the shoulder and passed the truck on the right side.

He received minor head injuries and upon investigation by the patrol and Mississippi County authorities, it was found that the car had been stolen that day in Metropolis.

Three persons were injured in an accident, Sunday at 5 p.m. six miles west of Morehouse at junction 60 and 153 in a two-car accident.

A 1962 Buick, driven by Ray Whitten, 56, Alhambra, Calif., was hit by a 1961 Mercury, driven by David Slusher, 63, Hammond, Ind., when the latter failed to stop at the intersection.

Injured were, Edna Slusher, 62, a passenger in the Mercury with chest injuries and cuts, while the driver received cuts on his head. Both were taken to the Missouri Delta Community Hospital. Mrs. Witten was taken to a Dexter clinic.

Band Concert

The annual Junior High School Band Concert will be held at the Middle School Gymnasium tomorrow evening at 7:30 p.m.

The 93 member Seventh Grade Band under the direction of Ed Carson and the 75 member Eighth Grade Band, directed by Keith Collins, will be presented in the program.

The public is invited to attend. There is no attendance charge.

Collins Granted Change

CARUTHERSVILLE -- Judge Arthur U. Goodman, Jr., of Kennett granted a change of venue in the James A. Collins murder case from Pemiscot County to New Madrid County Circuit Court Saturday afternoon.

Judge Goodman also disqualified himself and will ask the Missouri Supreme Court to transfer another judge to hear the case in New Madrid.

Collins, charged with the 1965 murder by rape of Mrs. Sue Melton, appeared before Judge Goodman in the Pemiscot County Circuit Court in Caruthersville. Collins' attorney, Raymond Klemp, had requested the original arraignment be postponed from last Wednesday until Saturday. He also asked that the judge disqualify himself and grant a change of venue.

Collins was arrested last August 28 and charged with the murder of Mrs. Melton after the victim was found by a Caruthersville couple on the Triangle Boat Club Chute Road, several miles west of Caruthersville, at 12:05 a.m. that day. She was taken to Pemiscot Memorial Hospital at Hayti where she died a few hours later of internal injuries and loss of blood.

Collins was arraigned in Magistrate Court September 17 and in later proceedings Judge William L. Ragland was disqualified and Judge Goodman appointed to try the case.

Soldier Drowns

WAYNESVILLE, Mo. AP -- Charles J. Henry, 22, a Ft. Leonard Wood soldier, drowned in the Gasconade River a mile north of Waynesville Sunday.

Another soldier, Rene Aguirre, 21, tried to rescue Henry but was swept under by the current and was pulled out by bystanders.

Weather

Fair tonight and Tuesday. Cooler tonight. Lows upper 30s to around 50. Tuesday a little warmer. Highs in 60s. Northerly winds 10 to 18 diminishing tonight. Partly cloudy and warmer Wednesday.

HIGH AND LOW YESTERDAY

High and low temperatures Sunday were 86 and 41. High and low's Saturday, 84 and 57. Rainfall Sunday was .32.

Sunset today---------7:54 p.m.
Sunrise tomorrow----5:55 a.m.
Moonrise tomorrow--1:02 a.m.
Last Quarter--------May 12

This week the planet, Jupiter, sets further north on the horizon than it has at any time in the past 24 years. The 2 bright stars above Jupiter are the Twins.

Computed for
THE SIKESTON STANDARD
Sikeston, Missouri
by Bailey R. Frank
Quechee, Vermont

Chase Ends With Death

LOS ANGELES AP -- The high-speed chase ended, a police bullet in his chest, his head cradled in his pregnant wife's lap, Leonard Deadwyler's dying words were: "She's having a baby."

Authorities gave this account of Deadwyler's death Saturday night.

Deadwyler, 21, was driving his wife, Barbara, 25, to a hospital. With them was their son, Leonard Jr., 2, and Gamaliel Ferguson, 31, owner of the car.

Several police cars pursued Deadwyler at speeds up to 80 miles per hour before he eased off to a slow roll.

Deadwyler's car continued to inch forward as Officers J. M. Bova and K. E. Ross approached and ordered a complete stop.

The car continued to inch forward.

Bova, pistol in hand, thrust his head, shoulders and arms through Deadwyler's open window to remove the ignition key.

The car suddenly lurched forward, knocking Bova off balance and causing his pistol to fire. The bullet struck Deadwyler in the chest.

CUT PRICES

CLOVIS, N.M.--A Clovis furniture store advertised "slashed prices." When it opened its doors for the sale, it discovered that vandals had broken into the store during the night and slashed some $2,000 worth of new sofas and chairs, apparently with a razor blade. The store now is planning a truly "slashed" furniture sale.

Two Johnson Bills Before House Today

WASHINGTON AP -- A bill containing money for two of President Johnson's pet projects, the National Teacher Corps and the rent subsidy program, comes before the House today.

Congress has been cool this session toward both projects. The Teacher Corps is designed to improve the education of children in slum areas. The rent program provides federal funds to augment rent payments of low-income families living in privately built housing.

On today's House docket is a catch-all compromise appropriation bill providing $2.78 billion to tide over various agencies until June 30, when this fiscal year ends. It includes $9.5 million for the Teacher Corps and $100,000 in cash for the rent subsidy program plus authority for another $12 million in contractural commitments.

Tuesday the House is scheduled to consider an omnibus $14 billion bill that contains $900,000 for the rent program. Johnson requested $38 million for the rent program, but the House Appropriations Committee approved only $900,000--all earmarked for administrative expenses -- with no contracts allowed after June 30.

Administration leaders promised a fight to bolster the subsidy program and keep it going through at least next year.

Senate leaders planned to call up today 10 House-passed bills authorizing sales of surplus metals and materials from the defense stockpile.

Both houses have scheduled floor action early in the week on bills authorizing a construction program for the Atomic Energy Commission.

If its appropriations committee acts in time, the Senate may vote later in the week on House-passed bills financing the Treasury, Post Office and Interior departments.

The House will take up later in the week a miscellany of bills including one designed to relieve the shortage of railroad box cars.

Committee action during the week centers on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the House Judiciary Committee and the Joint Economic Committee.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is the top witness scheduled today before the Senate committee considering the $3.4 billion foreign aid authorization.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach will resume testimony Tuesday before the House committee studying the new civil rights bill.

Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz leads off Joint Economic Committee hearings starting today on private and public pension plans.

Medicare Benefits, Second of Series

EDITOR'S NOTE -- This is the second of a three part series concerning Medicare for the aged. Today's article deals primarily with the Medicare Basic Plan, Part "A".

By LEO SCHADE

In order that no one may become confused, there is but one Medicare plan, but it does consist of two parts, as provided by the Social Security amendments voted last year, which includes hospital and physicians services, as outlined in the first article.

Today's article deals with Part "A" of the Medicare, and explains what the basic plan will pay for.

What will Medicare pay for?

Under the present plan which goes into effect July 1, any spell of sickness, from the time the patient is admitted to the hospital, to 60 days after their discharge from hospital or the nursing home.

The bed and board of the patient in a two or four room semi-private accommodations, for a maximum of 90 days.

All related nursing services, include social services that are ordinarily furnished the patients, and includes drugs, supplies or therapeutic items or services usually furnished by hospitals, including blood, except the first three pints.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1967, after the patient has been hospitalized for three days, and within fourteen days of his hospital discharge, the patient may enter a nursing home which has an agreement with the hospital for the transfer of the patients and interchange of medical records.

This part includes four parts, room and board in two to four bed accommodation. It also includes nursing care, physical occupational and speech therapy, and drugs ordinarily furnished.

The plan also gives home health services if ordered by the physician, after the patient has been in the hospital for three days, or from a nursing home, where the patient is entitled to 100 home health visits for each spell of illness.

The patient is also entitled to intermittent nursing care, occupational and speech therapy if available in the area. Included is also medical supplies and the use of medical appliances. The part-time services of a health aide is also included.

Services offered to the outpatient includes diagnostic services, which is a twenty-day hospital diagnostic study on an outpatient basis. The patient may have the use of non-qualified hospitals for emergency care only if the charge is "reasonable."

What the Medicare plan will not pay for.

The patient will not be entitled to a private room unless required for medical reasons.

The medicare plan will not pay for the first three pints of blood.

Medical or surgical service by a physician, including services in field of pathology, radiology, physical therapy and anesthetics, is not paid for in the plan, nor is the service of physician paid for.

A private duty nurse or attendant will not be paid for. The unskilled nursing home care where there has been no agreement for transfer of patients and the interchange of medical records.

The medicare plan does not pay for constant home nursing care, nor pay for the drugs the patient can take himself.

It will not pay for continual services of a home health aide, nor does it pay for the use of non-qualified hospitals for routine care.

Money Stolen

MONETT, Mo. AP -- A burglar stole an estimated $800 to $1,000 from a carnival in Monett Saturday night, but Sheriff Bill Hemphill said the man was arrested in Joplin. The money was recovered.

The sheriff said the man, Marvin Ray Johnson, 27, caught a ride to Joplin and tried to buy an airline ticket to Honolulu. There was no flight out of Joplin immediately so the man went to a hotel, where he was arrested.

Boy Hangs Self

WESTON, Mo. AP--The body of 15-year-old John L. Fritzel was found hanging in a barn near his home in Weston Sunday. He had been missing since Saturday morning.

The coroner, Roland Griffee, said the boy apparently had been playing with a rope and the hanging was accidental.

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel E. Fritzel, was born in Lawrence, Kan., and lived in Weston seven years.

Scott County Declared Natural Disaster Area

BENTON -- Roy Proctor, Jr., Chairman of the Scott County ASC Committee has announced that due to excessive rainfall, Scott County has been declared a natural disaster area by the Secretary of Agriculture.

This action will permit cotton and feed grains that cannot be timely planted to be transferred from one farm to another for the 1966 crop year.

Regulations provide that the producer on the transferring farm must have an interest in the cotton or feed grain on the receiving farm. These crops may be transferred within Scott County or to adjoining counties. If a producer wishes to make a transfer, he must first file an application at the Scott County ASCS Office in Benton.

Cotton farmers in Scott County will vote this month to decide whether they want to be able to sell or lease their cotton allotments outside the county. The referendum on the question will be conducted by mail during the period May 16 through May 25. Ballots may also be delivered by hand to the ASCS County Office.

The only question to be declared by the balloting is whether upland cotton allotments may be transferred during the next 3 years to other farms outside the county which are owned or controlled by someone else. Such transfers may be made by sale or by lease. In no case may transfers be made outside the State. An affirmative vote by at least two-thirds of the county's cotton farmers who vote will permit such transfers for the next three upland cotton crops, 1967-69.

A referendum on the same question was conducted last fall throughout the Cotton Belt, and growers in 349 counties at that time approved the allotment transfers. The vote this May will be held only in counties which disapproved such transfers in last fall's vote.

The upcoming vote by mail marks a first in program administration, according to Mr. Proctor. Farmers previously have been able to vote by mail in annual ASC committeeman elections, but the method has never before been used in a commodity program referendum.

Mr. Proctor said, "It's easy to vote by mail, and we hope all producers will vote. The vote should be fully representative of the wishes of the cotton farmers in our county."

Proctor said that copies of the ballot are being sent to all cotton producers of record in the county, together with information describing the program's purpose and operation. Any cotton producer who has a question about the referendum or about who is eligible to vote, is urged to get in touch with the ASCS County Office.

The Daily Sikeston Standard

C. L. BLANTON, Jr., Managing Editor, Entered at the Postoffice of Sikeston, Scott County, Missouri as Second Class Mail Matter according to Act of Congress March 3, 1879, Saturday, February 4th, 1960.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Monday, May 9, 1675, Malobuena, Spain: The Olla Well is dug by frenzied flamenco dancers.

* * *

M IS FOR THE MONEY SPENT ON MOTHER

IF YOURS IS an average family, it spent about $20 for Mother's day gifts this weekend. That adds up, for all America, to a billion dollars.

And so Mother's day has become a huge financial success. It wasn't 100 per cent easy going all the way, even with the backing of the traditional love Americans have for their mothers.

For one thing, the founder of the day, Anna Jarvis, fought to keep it from becoming commercialized.

For another, America's No. 1 son, George Washington, could never be quoted in a testimonial--he didn't even like his mother.

The billion-dollar sales figure comes from the National Committee on the Observance of Mother's Day, which salutes the occasion as:

"This gift-giving holiday which, for emotional response and intensity of impact throughout the nation, is surpassed only by Christmas."

The National Committee is a New York-based outfit that supplies posters, pennants, streamers, badges, carnations and other business builders for Mother's Day.

Weeks ago the committee called on retailers to "plan a powerful, concentrated merchandising effort that will better serve the consumers' gift-buying needs, and may readily establish an all-time peak in sales volume and profits."

The Committee's Mother's day theme: "Remember mother with a gift she'll remember."

That might have been enough to make Anna Jarvis turn over in her grave. She died in 1948, saddened and made bitter by the commercialism that had overwhelmed her intensely personal Mother's day crusade.

The first official Mother's day service was held in the Andrews Methodist Church at Grafton, W. Va., on May 10, 1908. It was arranged by Miss Jarvis, who sent 500 carnations to be presented to each son, daughter and mother attending the service.

Years later, when the price of greenhouse carnations went too high to suit her, Miss Jarvis tried to popularize celluloid badges.

Mother's day caught on rather quickly, and in 1914 Congress adopted a resolution providing for an official declaration. Woodrow Wilson, on May 8 of that year, was the first President to proclaim national Mother's day, the second Sunday in May.

Sadly enough, Mother's day 1966 finds a dispute going on over the care of the grave of Mary Washington, mother of George, at Fredericksburg, Va. The dispute, between two memorial associations, has been marked by accusations of bad faith and neglect. It is now in federal court.

In her lifetime Mary Washington implied that her famous son, the wealthy owner of Mount Vernon and the father of his country, had neglected her. She asked the Virginia Legislature for a pension, as though she were not being cared for by George, and this grieved and angered him. He wrote her in protest:

"I am viewed as a delinquent and considered by the world to be an unjust and undutiful son."

What sort of a son was George? What sort of a mother was she? One of Washington's biographers, Douglas Southall Freeman, wrote:

"He supplied her with what she asked, if he possibly could do so, and he tried always to show patience toward her, but he did not wish to be with her and he seldom gave her his confidence, if ever."

George wrote his mother that he did not think it would work out for her to live with him at Mount Vernon. He said that if she did she would always have to be dressed for company, or appear in dishabille, or remain in her room--none of which would be satisfactory.

Dr. Freeman added:

"She had never elicited the warm love a man usually has for his mother. She had seemed to him grasping, unreasonable in her demands and untidy in her person."

But if George Washington were alive today, he'd probably go along with the slogan: "Remember mother with a gift she'll remember."

And Anna Jarvis probably would wear a carnation.

* * *

The Colonel said: "If a woman who is a good cook has company for dinner, her conversation consists of "Do try some of this," and "You are not eating a thing."

* * *

COMPLEXITY: A WOOLY CAMOUFLAGE?

One of the favorite arguments of the advocates of big government is that Americans should not try to think about the principles and policies of their government, which are said to be far too complex for them to understand.

A constant refrain in the criticism of American constructives ties in closely with the idea that the ordinary citizen is not competent to think about issues of government policy: i.e., constructive ideas are too simple. They do not take into account, so this argument goes, what is called the "immense complexity" of modern life. They show a desire to retreat to some earlier period of more limited knowledge. This attitude finds common expression in rather bad jokes about people allegedly wishing to "turn their backs on the 20th century."

No one doubts that modern life is complex. But it is made much more complex that it needs to be--and less controllable and more dangerous--by the rejection of basic values.

Actually, constructives are truly facing up to the basic challenges of life today. The real retreat in the free world is not a retreat from the 20th century; it is a retreat from sound solutions. It is an endless counsel of despair that the currents of history are running against us and we must submit to ever-growing collectivism, because there is just no way to stop it.

If this is all that "sophisticated" and "expert" analysis of the modern world can produce, it is a very poor excuse for responsible thinking. It gives up control over our own destiny as a nation and as individuals. As we give up that kind of control, it will assuredly be seized upon by the forces of tyranny bent upon our destruction. They know where they are going even if our policy makers do not. They are not disturbed by the "immense complexity of modern life." They have clear-cut goals.

Great issues may be complex, but the facts surrounding them usually are not. Military strategy, for example, has been called "an art of immense and almost infantile simplicity," while military tactics are so difficult and complex that long years of professional experience are required to master them. So in World War Two, American civilians understood why we must beat Nazi Germany, but few in their right mind would have thought themselves capable of planning a military operation.

It is the same with the great political and policy issues today. Cuba is an example. The facts surrounding Castro's dealings with Russia and Red China, and his web of subversion throughout Latin America are complex, and require experts for their proper interpretation. But the basic issues of whether to let Castro continue his operations unhampered is a simple one. Every thoughtful American is qualified to give an opinion on that issue.

No policy, however "complex," makes any sense unless it is based on fundamental truths and conclusions. What Americans demand of their government today is a clear and forthright statement of the fundamental truths and conclusions on which our national policies are based. And they do not mean by this the usual wordy, high-sounding Madison Avenue formulas used to fill great voids in thinking.

American constructives want to know if the makers of our foreign policy start by assuming that communism is a deadly threat to our existence and that victory over it must be our final aim. They suspect that in many echelons of our State Department, for instance, no such assumption actually exists. Without it, they maintain, the most "expert" policy will fail to support American interests.

The argument over the "simple" versus the "complex" view of American policy problems cuts much deeper than the dispute about conclusions and actions. A mounting body of evidence suggests that the constant talk of "complexity" and "expertise" is largely a smoke screen designed to hide unpleasant truths about our policy.

We are not talking about treason or secret communism in high places. We are talking about views and values which are perfectly legitimate and which any American citizen, enjoying as he does the freedom of thought and expression, has a perfect right to hold; but not to hold in secret when he is making policy for this country. For example, there is so-called democratic socialism which would bring Marxism to America by peaceful means. It is perfectly legal to be a democratic socialist; but in America, it is not safe politically. Americans devoted to their personal enterprise system wonder how many Washington bureaucrats personally committed to the ideas and goals of democratic socialism use the excuse of "great complexity" to screen from public view the real policies they favor.

The same question arises in the field of foreign policy. We do not have to talk about treason or secret communists to wonder if there are policymakers in our State Department who are sincere and convinced believers in world government but dare not let this fact be known. It is perfectly legal to believe in world government and work for its realization; but it wins little support. Are the main issues in our foreign policy so fearfully complex that no one but a career foreign service officer can possibly understand them? Or is the truth simply that many State Department policymakers habitually put the interests of other countries and of a mythical "world community" ahead of the interests of America, and conceal the fact in order to continue supporting such interests?

In a free country, straight thinking by the majority of the voters and straight talk by the policymakers in government are essential. Without straight thinking by the people, tyranny is sure to win in the end, destroying both freedom and popular rule; without straight talk by the policymakers in government, the voters cannot make an intelligent choice among candidates and an intelligent judgment of any administration. They are bound to become suspicious and distrustful--with good reason.

No American wants to distrust his government. It is neither comfortable nor natural. But we can never afford to forget that our country was founded in opposition to the overreaching power of government, and the danger of a recurrence of such power is ever-present. The danger can only be averted by preserving the Constitutional safeguards against excessive concentration of power, and by honesty between government and people, especially where basic policy goals are concerned.

* * *

Sound travels more quickly through warm air than through cool. In air at a temperature of 80 degrees Fahrenheit, sound travels at about 775 miles per hour. At a temperature of 40 degrees below zero, it travels at a rate of only about 690 miles per hour.

Down to His Shorts

TOMORROW

MAY 10 - TUESDAY

CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL DAY, N. C., S. C.

FOUNDERS DAY OF TAURIUS INTERNATIONAL. Purpose: "202nd anniversary of the world's oldest professional society of communicators."

GOLDEN SPIKE CEREMONY. At Golden Spike Historical Monument at Promontory, Corrine, Utah. Commemorates driving of golden spike uniting East and West by railroad on this date, 1869.

HOUSE AND GARDEN TOUR begins. Through 11th. Hartford, Conn.

* * *

A man took his dog to a movie house and sat it in the seat beside him. The usherette was going to throw the dog out until she noticed that it was paying close attention to the film.

After the movie she went up to the man and said, "It really amazed me to see your dog enjoying the picture."

"Amazed me, too," replied the man.

"He didn't like the book at all."

* * *

ROCKETING INTO THE FUTURE

"A Method of Reaching Extreme Altitudes" was how Robert H. Goddard titled a 1919 paper on rockets.

At the recent Fourth Goddard Memorial Symposium, sponsored by the American Astronautical Society, the rocket pioneer's successors launched a few flights of fancy into the extreme altitudes of the future--specifically, into "Fiscal Year 2001."

"The interplanetary flight corridors from Mercury to Saturn are alive with manned vehicles of relatively luxurious and sophisticated design, driven by quite advanced propulsion systems," said former V-2 scientist Krafft A. Ehricke, describing the first year of the 21st century.

By that time, he predicted, unmanned probes will have approached the sun as close as 14 million miles and gone as far out as Pluto, an average of 3.7 billion miles from the earth.

Men will also have placed an automatic scientific station on the asteroid Icarus; astrophysicists will be stationed on Mercury; biologists will be on Mars; planetologists will have landed on Venus; and other teams of scientists will be studying Jupiter and Saturn from research stations on Callisto and Titan, two of the moons of those planets.

That the scientists had at least one foot planted on the ground while their heads were among the stars is shown by the fact that they chose the fiscal rather than the calendar year of 2001 as the object of their prognostications.

According to symposium chairman Dr. Eugene B. Konecci, we will see economical manned transportation in service to the near planets, with costs reduced "down to the order of $10 a pound."

From 1966 to 2001 is a mere 35 years--five years closer to us than the day in March 1926 when Goddard's first liquid-fueled rocket soared for 184 feet.

* * *

In 1831 there was six miles of railroad track in the United States. Today there are more than 200,000 miles of first track mileage.

* * *

SARTORIAL STAR of the Week --Hollywood's Hugh O'Brian, whose overwhelming interest in clothes causes him to add many of his own color ideas to his own wardrobe. His outstandingly good taste, and his ability to wear clothes, has made him much more than just a well-groomed man -- he has become an "example" who has been followed by an ever-increasing number of men throughout this country.

* * *

FUTURE MARTINIS MAY BE DIFFERENT

Your hors d'oeuvres tray and the traditional martini might look considerably different soon, the Catholic Digest warns. The future of olive growing is bleak.

The main reason is that oils from oilseeds are so much cheaper. These are grown mainly in the tropics, where wages are lower and their production, unlike that of the olive, can be highly mechanized. The conservative Latin prefers olive oil, but now that he can buy peanut oil at half the price, he buys peanut oil. The difference between 35 pesetas a kilo and 17 pesetas is about 25¢, and that is still a lot of money to the average Mediterranean man.

Nor is there much prospect of olive growers bringing down productions costs. Many landowners in Spain, Italy, and Greece are uprooting their olive trees and, where there is water for irrigation, planting more profitable things, like citrus trees. Where there is no water, they are getting rich because olive land always has plenty of sun and often a view of the sea. Northerners, they find, will pay good prices for it for villas, and developers are hungry to cover it with hotels and bars and flats.

The gentle olive, it is said, civilized the Mediterranean shores, and the marauding goat denuded but never quite destroyed the trees. The property developer and the tourist, as anyone who has been recently to Spain will know, are well on the way to doing what the goat never quite achieved and undoing what the olive accomplished.

* * *

Feed costs for milk production can be reduced 20 to 25 percent through better use of high-quality forages.

* * *

As a former press agent for the movies, I think I know something about Hollywood. You know what Hollywood really is? It's a place where your best friend will plunge a knife into your back and then phone the police to tell them you're carrying a concealed weapon.

* * *

Solution -- DE TWITTER--"I'd like to make my own antifreeze and save some money. How?"

MC TWEET --"No problem--hide her nightgown."

* * *

H. L. Hunt Says

SURPRISE ELECTIONS IN 1965-66

June 8th Republicans elected mayors in Hattiesburg and Columbus, Mississippi, November 2nd in Stamford, New Britain and Waterbury, Connecticut, the latter two receiving 61% vote and in Akron, Ohio, the first Republican mayor in 12 years received 61.8%, an increase in Republican vote of 44.4% since 1963. June 15th in South Carolina, Albert Watson, inspired by Senator Strom Thurmond turning Republican, resigned his Congressional seat as a Democrat and ran in the following special election as a Republican receiving 69.2% vote.

In a recent election in Fort Worth, Texas, urban renewal was supported by the powerful Fort Worth Star Telegram, the Mayor and the City Council, supposedly without formidable opposition. Election eve both the "for" and "against" urban renewal forces conceded that it was a "horse race", neither claiming victory. Next day urban renewal was defeated by a vote of 38,397 to 9,248 and the 4 to 1 margin was a supersurprise.

May 3, 1966, in the Democrat Primary, Alabama Governor George Wallace, battling with the Federal Government throughout his 4 year term, ineligible for re-election, campaigned for Mrs. Wallace. Mrs. Lurleen Wallace, mother of 4 children, defeated the Attorney General, 2 former Governors, and 6 other opponents by a clear marjority precluding a run-off.

An earnest speaker for freedom who was admonishing his listeners to "become active now" told of a man buying a parrot with cage for $50 and sending it home to surprise his wife. He rushed home early anxious to find his wife elated. He opened the door and, surprised, asked, "Where is the bird?" She answered, In the oven." Horrified, he exclaimed, "That is awful. That bird spoke 7 languages." She replied meekly, "Well, why didn't it speak up?" HLH

Doc. Duncan Says

New York Editor wrote a piece bout the war. It sed: Forgive them not, for they knew what they did.

Si say that would be a good one to use on them burn-cots an double-crossers in Washington when they comes up fur lection.

* * *

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

SAN FRANCISCO -- It's a long way in miles between Washington and San Francisco. But it's not far in ethical standards between the conduct of Sen. Tom Dodd, Democrat, and that of the ex-mayor of San Francisco, now running for governor of the biggest state in the union. In fact, the record of George Christopher, Republican, puts Dodd, a Democrat, in the shade.

Christopher, a big diary operator, by trading on the fact that he is a Greek - American immigrant, has been yelling persecution in the same way Dodd claimed the Communists are out to get him. He has so skillfully put himself in the role of the vilified underdog that anyone who reports the true facts is accused of McCarthyism.

No later than March 30 of this year, Christopher's headquarters issued a letter signed by Arch Monson, Jr., as "coordinator," warning editors to be on the alert against a smear of Christopher. This was an old dodge. It was practiced in 1962 when Christopher was running for lieutenant governor. At that time his headquarters put up a similar smokesscreen -a letter, Feb. 14, 1962, signed by GOP State Chairman J. F. Sullivan warning editors to beware of a forthcoming "smear."

In each case Christopher's backers enclosed a 1955 letter from A. E. Bagshaw, the district attorney who prosecuted Christopher in 1940. In the letter Bagshaw placed a casual coloring around that conviction, though admitting basic facts in the case.

Bagshaw has now written a second letter, as of last week, withdrawing the casual interpretation of his 1955 letter.

I happen to be among those who were fooled by Christopher's earlier cries of smear. As a result, I reported favorably on his early campaigns to become mayor of San Francisco. I was not only fooled but I believed it was a healthy demonstration of Americanism to elect as mayor of an important city a naturalized U. S. citizen born in Greece.

Since that time many Americans of Greek descent have become disillusioned with Christopher's conduct and withdrawn their support, among them George C. Vournas, past president of AHEPA, and George E. Johnson of Sacramento, once one of Christopher's heaviest supporters.

CHRISTOPHER'S REAL RECORD

Careful examination of the alleged "smear" shows that, in real fact, Christopher has erected a smokescreen to prevent free and fair discussion of his career while simultaneously wanting to be elected to the highest office in his state.

Believing that no election, under the American system, can be fairly held without free and fair discussion of the qualifications of all candidates, I have dug into Christopher's record. It shows conclusively that the candidate for governor:

1. Lied about his 1940 arrest in Marin County, in that he put $10,000 in kickbacks into his own pocket. He did not, as he claimed, try to sell milk cheaper "for the kids and mothers."

2. Distorted the truth about his 1943-44 conviction in San Francisco by claiming it stemmed from an "industrial hazard" when in real fact he was warned 193 times, charging the watering of milk by as much as 20 per cent; filthy conditions at his plant; and other violations. His conviction was part of this series of warnings extending over several years.

3. Used his high office as mayor of San Francisco in selling to the schools, city concessionaires, and city licensees who were beholden to him.

4. Secured a draft deferment during World War II on the grounds that he was an agricultural worker, though at that very same time he was bilking the public and violating city and state health standards to build up a multimillion-dollar milk company.

Those are some of the facts that Christopher has wanted to hush up. And this is why former Governor Goodwin "Goodie" Knight, an eminent and respected Republican, wrote Tom Storke, publisher of the Santa Barbara News-Press during the gubernatorial campaign of 1962:

"George Christopher pled guilty in 1941 to extortion and was fined $5,000. His record is the worst I have ever seen and the Republicans in nominating him have made a basic blunder."

HIS FIRST CONVICTION

Mayor Christopher's first conviction took place when he was no juvenile, but 34 years old, an age when behavior patterns are already set, and when voters have a right to examine those patterns in order to judge how a candidate will act if elected.

Christopher had acquired the Meadow Glen Dairy in Marin county where, along with every other dairy, he was subject to the California law which fixed the price of milk according to a milk marketing plan. In order to increase his profits, however, Christopher exacted kickbacks from farmers. If they would not kick back, he threatened to refuse their milk. Naturally, they couldn't afford to let their milk spoil, so they paid Christopher on the side.

While some other dairies did the same, Christopher's high-handed operation was described by C. J. Carey, chief of the California agriculture department's enforcement bureau, as the "most flagrant and defiant we have ever experienced."

Finally one milk farmer, Charles J. Lane, had the courage to stand up to Christopher and in January, 1940, filed criminal charges. Later that year other farmers did likewise; so that Christopher faced charges of taking 57 separate kickbacks totaling $10,000.

The man who now wants to be governor of California waived trial, pleaded guilty to ten counts, was fined $5,000, and was given two years in jail, which was suspended on condition that he stay out of the milk business for one year. More on his record follows in an early column.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Why The Labor Leaders Did Not Get to Dine at The White House.

Washington, D. C.: -- On April 19 a considerable number of national labor leaders checked to see that their black ties and dinner jackets were in shape.

They had received telegrams advising them to keep clear the end of the May 2nd week for dinner at the White House.

They were delighted. It had been a long time.

And with the grape pickers' crisis over, they could even sip the fine domestic wines with a clear class conscience.

But the actual invitation never came.

Instead, President Johnson gave a smaller dinner exactly two weeks later in honor of Ambassador Arthur Goldberg. A handful of labor leaders and business men were asked.

All were pledged to secrecy. Very little leaked. So the conversation had to be about far more than Viet Nam. It was.

In effect, what Mr. Johnson wanted was eyeball to eyeball advice on how to reconcile his economists with the realists out in the field.

Unfortunately, the handful of national labor chiefs who did sup with him could do little more than talk. They are prestigious. But they are actually powerless to deliver what the President wants -- a brake on wage demands.

They could not if they wanted to and they don't want to.

At this moment the AFL-CIO national headquarters' Research Dept., under the scholarly Nat Goldfinger, is preparing for a public showdown to smash the President's wage - price guidelines, which aim at keeping pay increases at a 3.2 per cent hike annually.

Rarely has there been such a concentration of labor's brain power. Experts from such unions as Walter Reuther's auto workers and Dave Dubinsky's garment workers are being called in. Together the experts are readying their propaganda for a public hearing before a Senate committee to be chaired by Wisconsin's William Proxmire.

It could not be otherwise. Everywhere union chiefs -- down amongst the locals where the real power lies -- are asking for wage hikes and imaginative fringe benefits running from $28 to $54 a week over two- and three-year contracts.

Right in this capital, the carpenters have been striking for a package increase of over $30 weekly.

No one can stop them -- certainly not the diners at the White House or the veteran ex-labor lawyer Arthur Goldberg, to whose New York Waldorf Tower suite a bid now has the accolade of a White House invitation.

The carpenters are not even picketing. They simply are not working. The other crafts can go in. Of course, at a certain point millions of dollars in construction will stop.

The carpenters set up the wooden molds into which concrete is poured. No molds, no concrete. And they handle the shoring up and the pile-driving equipment.

They could not care less about the table conversation down the street.

They are pressed by zooming costs of living. And there are scores of other construction contracts expiring in the spring and summer -- a strategic moment for the union chiefs.

Thus it goes unnoticed by the public. A bright lawyer who now is giving ulcers to all guideline - ists is Lee Pressman whom Arthur Golberg succeeded as old CIO counsel.

Recently he negotiated for his client, the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Assn. (MEBA -- an AFL - CIO union) an 18-month contract giving its members an increase of about $35 a week.

Significant here is the fact that the MEBA men work on Great Lakes vessels owned by such companies as U. S. Steel. They carry ore.

Thus the spectre of this victory will haunt the United Steelworkers as they prepare for their next go-round with the steel industry. Mr. Pressman also preceded Mr. Goldberg as steel union counsel.

And there are the railroads.

The public will hear from the newest of unpublicized rail brotherhood leaders, drawling Charles Luna, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen -- 190,000 strong.

He will ask for a 25 per cent increase per week and some mighty fine fringe benefits--more holidays, a guaranteed work month and a $2,000 policy for retirees.

If this conflict does not make considerable noise this July, the experts will be surprised.

And as on the (inland) sea, and on the land, there is turbulence in the air.

If the machinists don't strike the commercial airlines around July 4 for a 15 per cent hike, it will be the miracle of modern aviation.

There are a hundred such contracts upcoming -- in oil, chemical and atomic works and in the plants of General Electric and Westinghouse, to name a few.

It will take more than even the President's art of persuasion to keep the peace on the home front this hot summer.

The Daily Sikeston Standard

C. L. BLANTON, Jr., Managing Editor, Entered at the Postoffice of Sikeston, Scott County, Missouri as Second Class Mail Matter according to Act of Congress March 3, 1879, Saturday, February 4th, 1960.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

Monday, May 9, 1675, Malobuena, Spain: The Olla Well is dug by frenzied flamenco dancers.

* * *

M IS FOR THE MONEY SPENT ON MOTHER

IF YOURS IS an average family, it spent about $20 for Mother's day gifts this weekend. That adds up, for all America, to a billion dollars.

And so Mother's day has become a huge financial success. It wasn't 100 per cent easy going all the way, even with the backing of the traditional love Americans have for their mothers.

For one thing, the founder of the day, Anna Jarvis, fought to keep it from becoming commercialized.

For another, America's No. 1 son, George Washington, could never be quoted in a testimonial--he didn't even like his mother.

The billion-dollar sales figure comes from the National Committee on the Observance of Mother's Day, which salutes the occasion as:

"This gift-giving holiday which, for emotional response and intensity of impact throughout the nation, is surpassed only by Christmas."

The National Committee is a New York-based outfit that supplies posters, pennants, streamers, badges, carnations and other business builders for Mother's Day.

Weeks ago the committee called on retailers to "plan a powerful, concentrated merchandising effort that will better serve the consumers' gift-buying needs, and may readily establish an all-time peak in sales volume and profits."

The Committee's Mother's day theme: "Remember mother with a gift she'll remember."

That might have been enough to make Anna Jarvis turn over in her grave. She died in 1948, saddened and made bitter by the commercialism that had overwhelmed her intensely personal Mother's day crusade.

The first official Mother's day service was held in the Andrews Methodist Church at Grafton, W. Va., on May 10, 1908. It was arranged by Miss Jarvis, who sent 500 carnations to be presented to each son, daughter and mother attending the service.

Years later, when the price of greenhouse carnations went too high to suit her, Miss Jarvis tried to popularize celluloid badges.

Mother's day caught on rather quickly, and in 1914 Congress adopted a resolution providing for an official declaration. Woodrow Wilson, on May 8 of that year, was the first President to proclaim national Mother's day, the second Sunday in May.

Sadly enough, Mother's day 1966 finds a dispute going on over the care of the grave of Mary Washington, mother of George, at Fredericksburg, Va. The dispute, between two memorial associations, has been marked by accusations of bad faith and neglect. It is now in federal court.

In her lifetime Mary Washington implied that her famous son, the wealthy owner of Mount Vernon and the father of his country, had neglected her. She asked the Virginia Legislature for a pension, as though she were not being cared for by George, and this grieved and angered him. He wrote her in protest:

"I am viewed as a delinquent and considered by the world to be an unjust and undutiful son."

What sort of a son was George? What sort of a mother was she? One of Washington's biographers, Douglas Southall Freeman, wrote:

"He supplied her with what she asked, if he possibly could do so, and he tried always to show patience toward her, but he did not wish to be with her and he seldom gave her his confidence, if ever."

George wrote his mother that he did not think it would work out for her to live with him at Mount Vernon. He said that if she did she would always have to be dressed for company, or appear in dishabille, or remain in her room--none of which would be satisfactory.

Dr. Freeman added:

"She had never elicited the warm love a man usually has for his mother. She had seemed to him grasping, unreasonable in her demands and untidy in her person."

But if George Washington were alive today, he'd probably go along with the slogan: "Remember mother with a gift she'll remember."

And Anna Jarvis probably would wear a carnation.

* * *

The Colonel said: "If a woman who is a good cook has company for dinner, her conversation consists of "Do try some of this," and "You are not eating a thing."

* * *

COMPLEXITY: A WOOLY CAMOUFLAGE?

One of the favorite arguments of the advocates of big government is that Americans should not try to think about the principles and policies of their government, which are said to be far too complex for them to understand.

A constant refrain in the criticism of American constructives ties in closely with the idea that the ordinary citizen is not competent to think about issues of government policy: i.e., constructive ideas are too simple. They do not take into account, so this argument goes, what is called the "immense complexity" of modern life. They show a desire to retreat to some earlier period of more limited knowledge. This attitude finds common expression in rather bad jokes about people allegedly wishing to "turn their backs on the 20th century."

No one doubts that modern life is complex. But it is made much more complex that it needs to be--and less controllable and more dangerous--by the rejection of basic values.

Actually, constructives are truly facing up to the basic challenges of life today. The real retreat in the free world is not a retreat from the 20th century; it is a retreat from sound solutions. It is an endless counsel of despair that the currents of history are running against us and we must submit to ever-growing collectivism, because there is just no way to stop it.

If this is all that "sophisticated" and "expert" analysis of the modern world can produce, it is a very poor excuse for responsible thinking. It gives up control over our own destiny as a nation and as individuals. As we give up that kind of control, it will assuredly be seized upon by the forces of tyranny bent upon our destruction. They know where they are going even if our policy makers do not. They are not disturbed by the "immense complexity of modern life." They have clear-cut goals.

Great issues may be complex, but the facts surrounding them usually are not. Military strategy, for example, has been called "an art of immense and almost infantile simplicity," while military tactics are so difficult and complex that long years of professional experience are required to master them. So in World War Two, American civilians understood why we must beat Nazi Germany, but few in their right mind would have thought themselves capable of planning a military operation.

It is the same with the great political and policy issues today. Cuba is an example. The facts surrounding Castro's dealings with Russia and Red China, and his web of subversion throughout Latin America are complex, and require experts for their proper interpretation. But the basic issues of whether to let Castro continue his operations unhampered is a simple one. Every thoughtful American is qualified to give an opinion on that issue.

No policy, however "complex," makes any sense unless it is based on fundamental truths and conclusions. What Americans demand of their government today is a clear and forthright statement of the fundamental truths and conclusions on which our national policies are based. And they do not mean by this the usual wordy, high-sounding Madison Avenue formulas used to fill great voids in thinking.

American constructives want to know if the makers of our foreign policy start by assuming that communism is a deadly threat to our existence and that victory over it must be our final aim. They suspect that in many echelons of our State Department, for instance, no such assumption actually exists. Without it, they maintain, the most "expert" policy will fail to support American interests.

The argument over the "simple" versus the "complex" view of American policy problems cuts much deeper than the dispute about conclusions and actions. A mounting body of evidence suggests that the constant talk of "complexity" and "expertise" is largely a smoke screen designed to hide unpleasant truths about our policy.

We are not talking about treason or secret communism in high places. We are talking about views and values which are perfectly legitimate and which any American citizen, enjoying as he does the freedom of thought and expression, has a perfect right to hold; but not to hold in secret when he is making policy for this country. For example, there is so-called democratic socialism which would bring Marxism to America by peaceful means. It is perfectly legal to be a democratic socialist; but in America, it is not safe politically. Americans devoted to their personal enterprise system wonder how many Washington bureaucrats personally committed to the ideas and goals of democratic socialism use the excuse of "great complexity" to screen from public view the real policies they favor.

The same question arises in the field of foreign policy. We do not have to talk about treason or secret communists to wonder if there are policymakers in our State Department who are sincere and convinced believers in world government but dare not let this fact be known. It is perfectly legal to believe in world government and work for its realization; but it wins little support. Are the main issues in our foreign policy so fearfully complex that no one but a career foreign service officer can possibly understand them? Or is the truth simply that many State Department policymakers habitually put the interests of other countries and of a mythical "world community" ahead of the interests of America, and conceal the fact in order to continue supporting such interests?

In a free country, straight thinking by the majority of the voters and straight talk by the policymakers in government are essential. Without straight thinking by the people, tyranny is sure to win in the end, destroying both freedom and popular rule; without straight talk by the policymakers in government, the voters cannot make an intelligent choice among candidates and an intelligent judgment of any administration. They are bound to become suspicious and distrustful--with good reason.

No American wants to distrust his government. It is neither comfortable nor natural. But we can never afford to forget that our country was founded in opposition to the overreaching power of government, and the danger of a recurrence of such power is ever-present. The danger can only be averted by preserving the Constitutional safeguards against excessive concentration of power, and by honesty between government and people, especially where basic policy goals are concerned.

* * *

Sound travels more quickly through warm air than through cool. In air at a temperature of 80 degrees Fahrenheit, sound travels at about 775 miles per hour. At a temperature of 40 degrees below zero, it travels at a rate of only about 690 miles per hour.

Down to His Shorts

TOMORROW

MAY 10 - TUESDAY

CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL DAY, N. C., S. C.

FOUNDERS DAY OF TAURIUS INTERNATIONAL. Purpose: "202nd anniversary of the world's oldest professional society of communicators."

GOLDEN SPIKE CEREMONY. At Golden Spike Historical Monument at Promontory, Corrine, Utah. Commemorates driving of golden spike uniting East and West by railroad on this date, 1869.

HOUSE AND GARDEN TOUR begins. Through 11th. Hartford, Conn.

* * *

A man took his dog to a movie house and sat it in the seat beside him. The usherette was going to throw the dog out until she noticed that it was paying close attention to the film.

After the movie she went up to the man and said, "It really amazed me to see your dog enjoying the picture."

"Amazed me, too," replied the man.

"He didn't like the book at all."

* * *

ROCKETING INTO THE FUTURE

"A Method of Reaching Extreme Altitudes" was how Robert H. Goddard titled a 1919 paper on rockets.

At the recent Fourth Goddard Memorial Symposium, sponsored by the American Astronautical Society, the rocket pioneer's successors launched a few flights of fancy into the extreme altitudes of the future--specifically, into "Fiscal Year 2001."

"The interplanetary flight corridors from Mercury to Saturn are alive with manned vehicles of relatively luxurious and sophisticated design, driven by quite advanced propulsion systems," said former V-2 scientist Krafft A. Ehricke, describing the first year of the 21st century.

By that time, he predicted, unmanned probes will have approached the sun as close as 14 million miles and gone as far out as Pluto, an average of 3.7 billion miles from the earth.

Men will also have placed an automatic scientific station on the asteroid Icarus; astrophysicists will be stationed on Mercury; biologists will be on Mars; planetologists will have landed on Venus; and other teams of scientists will be studying Jupiter and Saturn from research stations on Callisto and Titan, two of the moons of those planets.

That the scientists had at least one foot planted on the ground while their heads were among the stars is shown by the fact that they chose the fiscal rather than the calendar year of 2001 as the object of their prognostications.

According to symposium chairman Dr. Eugene B. Konecci, we will see economical manned transportation in service to the near planets, with costs reduced "down to the order of $10 a pound."

From 1966 to 2001 is a mere 35 years--five years closer to us than the day in March 1926 when Goddard's first liquid-fueled rocket soared for 184 feet.

* * *

In 1831 there was six miles of railroad track in the United States. Today there are more than 200,000 miles of first track mileage.

* * *

SARTORIAL STAR of the Week --Hollywood's Hugh O'Brian, whose overwhelming interest in clothes causes him to add many of his own color ideas to his own wardrobe. His outstandingly good taste, and his ability to wear clothes, has made him much more than just a well-groomed man -- he has become an "example" who has been followed by an ever-increasing number of men throughout this country.

* * *

FUTURE MARTINIS MAY BE DIFFERENT

Your hors d'oeuvres tray and the traditional martini might look considerably different soon, the Catholic Digest warns. The future of olive growing is bleak.

The main reason is that oils from oilseeds are so much cheaper. These are grown mainly in the tropics, where wages are lower and their production, unlike that of the olive, can be highly mechanized. The conservative Latin prefers olive oil, but now that he can buy peanut oil at half the price, he buys peanut oil. The difference between 35 pesetas a kilo and 17 pesetas is about 25¢, and that is still a lot of money to the average Mediterranean man.

Nor is there much prospect of olive growers bringing down productions costs. Many landowners in Spain, Italy, and Greece are uprooting their olive trees and, where there is water for irrigation, planting more profitable things, like citrus trees. Where there is no water, they are getting rich because olive land always has plenty of sun and often a view of the sea. Northerners, they find, will pay good prices for it for villas, and developers are hungry to cover it with hotels and bars and flats.

The gentle olive, it is said, civilized the Mediterranean shores, and the marauding goat denuded but never quite destroyed the trees. The property developer and the tourist, as anyone who has been recently to Spain will know, are well on the way to doing what the goat never quite achieved and undoing what the olive accomplished.

* * *

Feed costs for milk production can be reduced 20 to 25 percent through better use of high-quality forages.

* * *

As a former press agent for the movies, I think I know something about Hollywood. You know what Hollywood really is? It's a place where your best friend will plunge a knife into your back and then phone the police to tell them you're carrying a concealed weapon.

* * *

Solution -- DE TWITTER--"I'd like to make my own antifreeze and save some money. How?"

MC TWEET --"No problem--hide her nightgown."

* * *

Doc. Duncan Says

New York Editor wrote a piece bout the war. It sed: Forgive them not, for they knew what they did.

Si say that would be a good one to use on them burn-cots an double-crossers in Washington when they comes up fur lection.

* * *

H. L. Hunt Says

SURPRISE ELECTIONS IN 1965-66

June 8th Republicans elected mayors in Hattiesburg and Columbus, Mississippi, November 2nd in Stamford, New Britain and Waterbury, Connecticut, the latter two receiving 61% vote and in Akron, Ohio, the first Republican mayor in 12 years received 61.8%, an increase in Republican vote of 44.4% since 1963. June 15th in South Carolina, Albert Watson, inspired by Senator Strom Thurmond turning Republican, resigned his Congressional seat as a Democrat and ran in the following special election as a Republican receiving 69.2% vote.

In a recent election in Fort Worth, Texas, urban renewal was supported by the powerful Fort Worth Star Telegram, the Mayor and the City Council, supposedly without formidable opposition. Election eve both the "for" and "against" urban renewal forces conceded that it was a "horse race", neither claiming victory. Next day urban renewal was defeated by a vote of 38,397 to 9,248 and the 4 to 1 margin was a supersurprise.

May 3, 1966, in the Democrat Primary, Alabama Governor George Wallace, battling with the Federal Government throughout his 4 year term, ineligible for re-election, campaigned for Mrs. Wallace. Mrs. Lurleen Wallace, mother of 4 children, defeated the Attorney General, 2 former Governors, and 6 other opponents by a clear marjority precluding a run-off.

An earnest speaker for freedom who was admonishing his listeners to "become active now" told of a man buying a parrot with cage for $50 and sending it home to surprise his wife. He rushed home early anxious to find his wife elated. He opened the door and, surprised, asked, "Where is the bird?" She answered, In the oven." Horrified, he exclaimed, "That is awful. That bird spoke 7 languages." She replied meekly, "Well, why didn't it speak up?" HLH

Washington Merry - Go - Round

By Drew Pearson

SAN FRANCISCO -- It's a long way in miles between Washington and San Francisco. But it's not far in ethical standards between the conduct of Sen. Tom Dodd, Democrat, and that of the ex-mayor of San Francisco, now running for governor of the biggest state in the union. In fact, the record of George Christopher, Republican, puts Dodd, a Democrat, in the shade.

Christopher, a big diary operator, by trading on the fact that he is a Greek - American immigrant, has been yelling persecution in the same way Dodd claimed the Communists are out to get him. He has so skillfully put himself in the role of the vilified underdog that anyone who reports the true facts is accused of McCarthyism.

No later than March 30 of this year, Christopher's headquarters issued a letter signed by Arch Monson, Jr., as "coordinator," warning editors to be on the alert against a smear of Christopher. This was an old dodge. It was practiced in 1962 when Christopher was running for lieutenant governor. At that time his headquarters put up a similar smokesscreen --a letter, Feb. 14, 1962, signed by GOP State Chairman J. F. Sullivan warning editors to beware of a forthcoming "smear."

In each case Christopher's backers enclosed a 1955 letter from A. E. Bagshaw, the district attorney who prosecuted Christopher in 1940. In the letter Bagshaw placed a casual coloring around that conviction, though admitting basic facts in the case.

Bagshaw has now written a second letter, as of last week, withdrawing the casual interpretation of his 1955 letter.

I happen to be among those who were fooled by Christopher's earlier cries of smear. As a result, I reported favorably on his early campaigns to become mayor of San Francisco. I was not only fooled but I believed it was a healthy demonstration of Americanism to elect as mayor of an important city a naturalized U. S. citizen born in Greece.

Since that time many Americans of Greek descent have become disillusioned with Christopher's conduct and withdrawn their support, among them George C. Vournas, past president of AHEPA, and George E. Johnson of Sacramento, once one of Christopher's heaviest supporters.

CHRISTOPHER'S REAL RECORD

Careful examination of the alleged "smear" shows that, in real fact, Christopher has erected a smokescreen to prevent free and fair discussion of his career while simultaneously wanting to be elected to the highest office in his state.

Believing that no election, under the American system, can be fairly held without free and fair discussion of the qualifications of all candidates, I have dug into Christopher's record. It shows conclusively that the candidate for governor:

1. Lied about his 1940 arrest in Marin County, in that he put $10,000 in kickbacks into his own pocket. He did not, as he claimed, try to sell milk cheaper "for the kids and mothers."

2. Distorted the truth about his 1943-44 conviction in San Francisco by claiming it stemmed from an "industrial hazard" when in real fact he was warned 193 times, charging the watering of milk by as much as 20 per cent; filthy conditions at his plant; and other violations. His conviction was part of this series of warnings extending over several years.

3. Used his high office as mayor of San Francisco in selling to the schools, city concessionaires, and city licensees who were beholden to him.

4. Secured a draft deferment during World War II on the grounds that he was an agricultural worker, though at that very same time he was bilking the public and violating city and state health standards to build up a multimillion-dollar milk company.

Those are some of the facts that Christopher has wanted to hush up. And this is why former Governor Goodwin "Goodie" Knight, an eminent and respected Republican, wrote Tom Storke, publisher of the Santa Barbara News-Press during the gubernatorial campaign of 1962:

"George Christopher pled guilty in 1941 to extortion and was fined $5,000. His record is the worst I have ever seen and the Republicans in nominating him have made a basic blunder."

HIS FIRST CONVICTION

Mayor Christopher's first conviction took place when he was no juvenile, but 34 years old, an age when behavior patterns are already set, and when voters have a right to examine those patterns in order to judge how a candidate will act if elected.

Christopher had acquired the Meadow Glen Dairy in Marin county where, along with every other dairy, he was subject to the California law which fixed the price of milk according to a milk marketing plan. In order to increase his profits, however, Christopher exacted kickbacks from farmers. If they would not kick back, he threatened to refuse their milk. Naturally, they couldn't afford to let their milk spoil, so they paid Christopher on the side.

While some other dairies did the same, Christopher's high-handed operation was described by C. J. Carey, chief of the California agriculture department's enforcement bureau, as the "most flagrant and defiant we have ever experienced."

Finally one milk farmer, Charles J. Lane, had the courage to stand up to Christopher and in January, 1940, filed criminal charges. Later that year other farmers did likewise; so that Christopher faced charges of taking 57 separate kickbacks totaling $10,000.

The man who now wants to be governor of California waived trial, pleaded guilty to ten counts, was fined $5,000, and was given two years in jail, which was suspended on condition that he stay out of the milk business for one year. More on his record follows in an early column.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Why The Labor Leaders Did Not Get to Dine at The White House.

Washington, D. C.: -- On April 19 a considerable number of national labor leaders checked to see that their black ties and dinner jackets were in shape.

They had received telegrams advising them to keep clear the end of the May 2nd week for dinner at the White House.

They were delighted. It had been a long time.

And with the grape pickers' crisis over, they could even sip the fine domestic wines with a clear class conscience.

But the actual invitation never came.

Instead, President Johnson gave a smaller dinner exactly two weeks later in honor of Ambassador Arthur Goldberg. A handful of labor leaders and business men were asked.

All were pledged to secrecy. Very little leaked. So the conversation had to be about far more than Viet Nam. It was.

In effect, what Mr. Johnson wanted was eyeball to eyeball advice on how to reconcile his economists with the realists out in the field.

Unfortunately, the handful of national labor chiefs who did sup with him could do little more than talk. They are prestigious. But they are actually powerless to deliver what the President wants -- a brake on wage demands.

They could not if they wanted to and they don't want to.

At this moment the AFL-CIO national headquarters' Research Dept., under the scholarly Nat Goldfinger, is preparing for a public showdown to smash the President's wage - price guidelines, which aim at keeping pay increases at a 3.2 per cent hike annually.

Rarely has there been such a concentration of labor's brain power. Experts from such unions as Walter Reuther's auto workers and Dave Dubinsky's garment workers are being called in. Together the experts are readying their propaganda for a public hearing before a Senate committee to be chaired by Wisconsin's William Proxmire.

It could not be otherwise. Everywhere union chiefs -- down amongst the locals where the real power lies -- are asking for wage hikes and imaginative fringe benefits running from $28 to $54 a week over two- and three-year contracts.

Right in this capital, the carpenters have been striking for a package increase of over $30 weekly.

No one can stop them -- certainly not the diners at the White House or the veteran ex-labor lawyer Arthur Goldberg, to whose New York Waldorf Tower suite a bid now has the accolade of a White House invitation.

The carpenters are not even picketing. They simply are not working. The other crafts can go in. Of course, at a certain point millions of dollars in construction will stop.

The carpenters set up the wooden molds into which concrete is poured. No molds, no concrete. And they handle the shoring up and the pile-driving equipment.

They could not care less about the table conversation down the street.

They are pressed by zooming costs of living. And there are scores of other construction contracts expiring in the spring and summer -- a strategic moment for the union chiefs.

Thus it goes unnoticed by the public. A bright lawyer who now is giving ulcers to all guideline - ists is Lee Pressman whom Arthur Golberg succeeded as old CIO counsel.

Recently he negotiated for his client, the Marine Engineers' Beneficial Assn. (MEBA -- an AFL - CIO union) an 18-month contract giving its members an increase of about $35 a week.

Significant here is the fact that the MEBA men work on Great Lakes vessels owned by such companies as U. S. Steel. They carry ore.

Thus the spectre of this victory will haunt the United Steelworkers as they prepare for their next go-round with the steel industry. Mr. Pressman also preceded Mr. Goldberg as steel union counsel.

And there are the railroads.

The public will hear from the newest of unpublicized rail brotherhood leaders, drawling Charles Luna, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen -- 190,000 strong.

He will ask for a 25 per cent increase per week and some mighty fine fringe benefits--more holidays, a guaranteed work month and a $2,000 policy for retirees.

If this conflict does not make considerable noise this July, the experts will be surprised.

And as on the (inland) sea, and on the land, there is turbulence in the air.

If the machinists don't strike the commercial airlines around July 4 for a 15 per cent hike, it will be the miracle of modern aviation.

There are a hundred such contracts upcoming -- in oil, chemical and atomic works and in the plants of General Electric and Westinghouse, to name a few.

It will take more than even the President's art of persuasion to keep the peace on the home front this hot summer.

The Women's Page

RUTH DILLENDER, Women's Page Editor
PHONE GR 1-1137

Miss Linda Diane Merick

Linda Merick Plans May Vows With Dwight Ott

BELL CITY -- Mr. and Mrs. Harold Merick, Sr., wish to announce the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Linda Diane, to Dwight Ott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ott of Clinton, Ark.

The bride-elect is a 1965 graduate of Bell City high school. The prospective groom is employed as an art teacher at the school. He is a graduate of Arkansas State Teachers College.

The wedding will be Saturday, May 21, at 4 p.m. at the Garden Ridge church near here. After the ceremony, a reception will be held in the church dining hall. Friends and relatives are invited.

After their marriage the couple plans to live in Clinton, Ark.

Mrs. Johnson Is Honored at Cradle Shower

BELL CITY -- Mrs. Arch Lemmons and her sister, Miss Edna Allison were hostesses to a cradle shower at the former's home for Mrs. Irwin Johnson, Thursday evening, April 28.

Decorations of pink and blue were used. Refreshments of punch and cupcakes, decorated with miniature infants and names were served to the guests.

Attending were Mrs. Max Richardson, Mrs. Lester Karnes, Mrs. Bennie Hesselrode, Mrs. Doy Bell, Mrs. Edd Britton, the honoree's mother, Mrs. Lloyd Lemmons, Mrs. Cleatus Lemmons, Mrs. Frank Dunn, Mrs. Raymond Carpenter, Mrs. Robert Britton, Mrs. Pat James, Mrs. Gary Watkins, Mrs. Ival Karnes, Miss Judy Chailland, Miss Shirley Carpenter, and Miss Linda McAnually.

Square Dancers to Appear on TV

The Cotton Square Dance Club of Kennett of which Bill Volner is the caller will appear on the Breakfast Show on Channel 12, KFVS television in Cape Girardeau from 7 to 8 a.m. Tuesday.

Refresh Your Summer Wardrobe

Now is the time to have your summer wardrobe brought right up to par. Our experienced cleaners can brighten and clean your present sportswear and other summer clothes so they'll look just as sharp and attractive as new. Bring them in today.

SIKESTON LAUNDRY & CLEANERS

Free pickup & delivery
517 E. Malone GR 1-5165

District PTA School To Be Thursday

The Southeast District P. T. A. school of instruction will be held Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in the library of the senior high school.

Sandwiches, coffee, and dessert will be available in the cafetorium at 6:30.

Mrs. Barbara Johnston, Southeast District president, will introduce Mrs. Roy E. Lister, treasurer and budget chairman of state board. A film strip, "How to Preside and Conduct a Meeting," will be shown.

All newly elected officers are urged to attend.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Patients Admitted To Missouri Delta Community Hospital
May 7, 1966
Opal Jones, Sikeston
Karen Corlies, Sikeston
Jonus Thornton, Portageville
Oma Perry, Charleston
Georgia Copeland, Wyatt
Charles Fausett, Sikeston
William Turnbo, Matthews
Howard Walker, Idalia
Carl Parker, Charleston

Patients Dismissed May 7
Louis Heckert, Bertrand
Mrs. Charlotte Lewis and Baby Boy, New Madrid
Goldie Holman, Sikeston
Phyllis Dockins, Sikeston
Robert Marshall, East Prairie
Horace McClellon, Sikeston
Sarah Dickison, Dexter
Nona Aleta Garnett, Sikeston
Baby Boy Hamilton, Benton
Robert Zimmer, East Prairie

Patients Admitted To Missouri Delta Community Hospital
May 8, 1966
Michael Slaven, Charleston
May Ann Davis, Bertrand
Dessie Chastain, Catron
Charles Terrell, Sikeston
Dempsey Lyons, Benton
Carrie Carr, Dexter
Sarah Slatham, Anniston
Bonnie Collins, Sikeston
Roy B. Nall, Sikeston
Sarah Dickison, Dexter
Jeffrey Runnels, Charleston
Esther Slusher, Hammond, Ind.

Patients Dismissed May 8
Suzanne Lewis, East Prairie
Mary Carter, East Prairie
Alisa Martin, Charleston
Mrs. Cloteria Ware and Baby Boy, Sikeston
Ruth Hale, East Prairie
Nora Gilmore, New Madrid
Opal Jones, Sikeston

Walter Adams of Dexter has been admitted to Doctors Hospital in Poplar Bluff.

Roy Bennett and Mrs. Martha Gaines, both of Dexter, have been released from Doctors Hospital in Poplar Bluff.

Larry Forkum, Mrs. Willene Simpson, both of Dexter, and Mrs. Addie Gromer of Bloomfield have been admitted to Lucy Lee Hospital in Poplar Bluff.

Chester G. Walters of Dexter and Mrs. Mildred E. Wilson of Gray Ridge have been admitted to Poplar Bluff Hospital.

John R. Abanatha of Sikeston and Mrs. Louise Allstun of Dexter have been dismissed from Poplar Bluff Hospital.

Jacqueline and Monty Shaffer of Oran, Mrs. Leland Griffin of Charleston, Marvin Link of Advance and Keith Ziegenhorn of Sikeston have been admitted to Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Harold Lipe of Oran has been admitted to Cape Osteopathic Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Mrs. Ray Evans of Oran and Mrs. Ralph Bogert of East Prairie have been released from St. Francis Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Mrs. Russell D. Hoggard of Portageville has been released from Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Thomas Helton of Dexter has been released from Cape Osteopathic Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Social Calender

TUESDAY

Chapter JU of the P. E. O. Sisterhood will meet at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 10, at the home of Mrs. Gene Dement.

WEDNESDAY

The Lions Club fish fry will be at 7:30 p.m. C.D.T. Wednesday, May 11, at the Lakeview Dining Hall, Reelfoot, Tenn.

WEDNESDAY

The Entre Nous Club will meet at 2 p.m. Wednesday, May 11, at the home of Mrs. Carrie Petifurd, 625 Vernon.

The law of Iceland requires that all children be taught to swim.

YOUR HEALTH! comes first, but we're helpful in many ways

TOILETRIES

Accurately filling your doctor's prescriptions is our primary function, but we are also your most convenient source for all toiletries and sundries.

JAMES DRUG STORE
PRESCRIPTION SPECIALISTS
Sikeston, Mo.
Phone GR 1-5707
Yours For Good Health

Auxiliary Meets May 5

HENRY MELDRUM Unit No. 114, American Legion Auxiliary, met Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the American Legion Hall with the first vice president, Mrs. Myrtle Moll, presiding.

The meeting was opened with the regular ceremony and a special prayer by the national chaplain was read by Mrs. Moll.

A letter from the 14th District membership chairman was read. She was urging all Units to reach their goal in membership by June 1. State department books close on June 29.

Girls State chairman announced the girls to attend Girls State had received their application blanks and were to have them completed by that day and returned to the chairman to mail to state headquarters.

Discussion was held concerning Poppy Days which will be held May 27 and 28. Poppies will be offered to the public for donations which the Unit uses in their child welfare and rehabilitation programs.

Americanism Chairman, Mrs. J. S. Wallace, announced she had received 13 essays from the school students. The theme is "What Being an American Means To Me." The essays were judged and the best one was sent to the 14th District Americanism chairman.

It was announced that the next regular 14th District meeting would be held Sunday, May 22, at 2 p.m. at Jackson in the American Legion Hall. Each Unit is urged to send delegates as new District officers will be elected for 1966-1967.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned with prayer by Mrs. Moll.

THE NEWS in Brief

Mrs. Blance Cobb, 322 Greer, had as Mother's Day guests, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Caruthers of Mount Vernon, Ill., and Mr. Caruthers' mother, Mrs. Corinne Caruthers of Cape Girardeau.

A2c Victor A. McClung of Stewart air force base, Tenn., spent the weekend visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McClung. He arrived Friday afternoon and returned Sunday evening.

Mrs. Mary Harwood of Kankakee, Ill., Mrs. Evie Briar and Donna, Patsy and Sue of Gordonville and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brenner were dinner guests Sunday of Mrs. Robert Greer, 205 Mill Row.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo L. Schade visited his mother, Mrs. Mary Schade of Cape Girardeau, and her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Lee, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Bumgardaner

Does Student Teaching

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Mrs. Carol Issacs Bumgardaner, a senior at Southeast Missouri State College, will student teach physical education at College high school for the current semester.

Student teaching is a part of the "professional semester" which precedes graduation of the teacher. This nine-week period allows the student to apply his specialty knowledge and teaching skills under the direct supervision of an experienced teacher.

Mrs. Bumgardaner, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fearl Issacs of Morley, graduated from Scott County Central high school in Scott county. While at Southeast Missouri State College she participated in the activities of the Physical Education Majors Club, the American Association for Health and Physical Education and Recreation.

Panbroiling Makes Use of Dry Heat

When you use a frying-pan or griddle without fat, that's one of the dry heat methods employed for cooking meat.

Dry heat cooking methods are used for tender cuts of meat. They mean simply that heat is used for cooking the meat, but moisture in the form of liquid is not added.

Meats which are suitable for broiling may also be panbroiled. Panbroiling is usually preferred for meats which are cut thin, since this method makes it possible to serve the steaks browned on the outside yet rare or medium on the inside, says Reba Staggs, meat authority.

Panbroiling is also preferred for steaks and chops when you have a small quantity for cooking such as one, two or three.

Pans or griddles used for panbroiling need not be sizzling hot. If heated, the meat will, however, start cooking sooner than if you use a cold pan.

It's important to pour off fat as it accumulates or you will have a panfried product rather than a panbroiled one.

Turning more than once is often recommended for even cooking and attractive browning.

Should you cover or add water? The answer's an emphatic "no" for this would no longer be a dry heat method under these circumstances.

Get Your
Wedding Invitations
At
Superior Stationery
112 E. Center

• SWIMMING POOL
• CARPETING
• GARAGE
• MODERNIZATION

Whatever you need at THIS MINUTE

CAN BE FINANCED ALMOST AS FAST! . . .

An Economy Plan Improvement Loan is available for a wide range of home and property improvements, including wall-to-wall carpeting, kitchen modernization, central air conditioning and heating and even swimming pools. Discuss your needs with us very soon.

Has the time come when YOU need money:

SECURITY NATIONAL BANK
OF SIKESTON
SIKESTON, MISSOURI
MEMBER FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

Judith Ann Chailland Says Vows With Kenneth Sissum

BELL CITY -- In a late Sunday afternoon ceremony on May 1, Miss Judith Ann Chailland and Kenneth Gene Sissum were united in marriage at the Garden Ridge General Baptist church with the Rev. Noah Cox, pastor, officiating in the double ring exchange of vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Chailland of Painton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sissum of Bloomfield.

Norval Driscoll was pianist for the wedding march when the bride came down the aisle at the arm of her brother, Kenneth Chailland, who presented her in marriage. She wore a street length gown of white brocade satin with bracelet length sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt. Complements to her attire a veil of illusion and a corsage of white carnation.

Mrs. Frank Dunn of Advance, sister of the groom, attended the bride as matron of honor. Mrs. Dunn wore a gown of pale blue whipped cream fabric and a white carnation corsage. Her husband, Frank Dunn, attended the groom as best man.

The bride is a graduate of the Bell City high school and is employed at the Inland Shoe factory at Advance. Sissum attended high school in Bell City and returned from a tour of duty in Viet Nam in January. He is employed by Mirley Implement Co., Advance.

At a reception held in the church dining room, the bride's sister, Miss Kathy Chailland, and Miss Sheila White and Miss Mary Teets served at the guest table, which was decorated with wedding bells and blue streamers.

Births

GRAHAM

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Graham of Blodgett are the parents of a baby boy born Saturday at the Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

NEAL

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Neal of Oran are the parents of a baby girl born Saturday at the Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau. The new arrival weighed six pounds and has been named Paula Jean. This is the couple's first child. Mrs. Neal is the former Miss Jean Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Carter of Oran. The father is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neal of Oran.

MCWHIRTER

Mr. and Mrs. John W. McWhirter of Charleston are the parents of a baby girl born Friday at the Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau. The baby daughter has been named Linda Joyce and weighed six pounds and eight ounces. This is the couple's fourth child and third daughter. Mrs. McWhirter is the former Miss Melba Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reynolds of Linneus. The father is the son of Mrs. Dessie McWhirter of Benton.

Parma 4-H Meets

PARMA -- Fourteen members and leaders were present for the regular meeting of the 4-H Club which was held in the music room of the elementary school, Friday evening, April 29.

After a short business meeting a program was given on "Safety and Health." Kathy Dickerson gave a report on "Safety in General." Marlene Lueker gave "Safety During the Tornado Season." Francis Hardesty gave a lesson on "Health and Physical Fitness," after which she led the girls in exercises.

Games were led by Vicky Cox. Refreshments of brownies and hot chocolate were served to those present.

My Neighbors

"Say, Pop, shouldn't I be getting a cost-of-living adjustment?"

DID YOU KNOW?
THE NATIONAL MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS SOCIETY FIGHTS MS through research and patient services
A Public Service of Publications Advertising

Flowers
THE PERFECT GIFT
CARROLL'S FLORIST
208 Sikes GR 1-3163

GOOD MUSIC RADIO
KMPL 1520 K.C.s
FOR YOUNG ADULTS

WORKING WITH the Holiday Art Exhibit, May 28 and 29 in mind, Barbara Irwin paints a still life and Randy York adds touches to his painting. Both are students in Miss Emily Brennecke's high school art class.

Party Marks Fifth Birthday

DEXTER--John Chamberlain, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Chamberlain, former Sikeston residents, was honored on his fifth birthday with a party Saturday, April 23.

Blue and white streamers and white bells accented the party room's decorations with a Flintstone theme being used in the table decorations.

A birthday cake decorated in blue and white, ice cream, potato chips and punch were served to the guests.

Guests included Earlinda Adams, Karen Alsup, Lee Godwin, Angela McRoy, Tis Boyt, Andy Boyt, Jimmy Hill, Mike Griffin, Randy Ziegler, Janice Lincoln, Terry Cattron, and Randy Cattron, Dexter; Sherry and Mike Spitler and Karen Krauss, of Sikeston.

Adults attending were Mrs. Yewell Lawrence, Sr., Mrs. Shirley McRoy, Mrs. Kenneth Spitler and Mrs. Sarah Woolem.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were Richard Thrower, John and Elizabeth Honner, Mrs. George Jarbo, Mrs. William Stover, Mrs. Barbara Grissom, Mrs. Byron Curtner, and Mrs. William Chamberlain.

Sikeston TUESDAY SPECIAL
Kentucky Fried Chicken©

"It's Finger Lickin' Good—North America's Hospitality Dish"

Reg. $1.00
BOX DINNER
only 89¢

COMPLETE DINNER INCLUDES: 3 pieces of Chicken, Potatoes, Chicken Gravy, Roll
INSPECTED CHICKENS ONLY. No Substitutions. WE USE U.S. GOV'T.

available at HARRIS'
Kentucky Fried Chicken©
Midtowner Village

Wilcoxson & Sons
SIKESTON, MISSOURI

The Women's Page

RUTH DILLENDER, Women's Page Editor
PHONE GR 1-1137

Miss Linda Diane Merick

Linda Merick Plans May Vows With Dwight Ott

BELL CITY -- Mr. and Mrs. Harold Merick, Sr., wish to announce the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Linda Diane, to Dwight Ott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ott of Clinton, Ark.

The bride-elect is a 1965 graduate of Bell City high school. The prospective groom is employed as an art teacher at the school. He is a graduate of Arkansas State Teachers College.

The wedding will be Saturday, May 21, at 4 p.m. at the Garden Ridge church near here. After the ceremony, a reception will be held in the church dining hall. Friends and relatives are invited.

After their marriage the couple plans to live in Clinton, Ark.

District PTA School To Be Thursday

The Southeast District P. T. A. school of instruction will be held Thursday at 7:15 p.m. in the library of the senior high school.

Sandwiches, coffee, and dessert will be available in the cafetorium at 6:30.

Mrs. Barbara Johnston, Southeast District president, will introduce Mrs. Roy E. Lister, treasurer and budget chairman of state board. A film strip, "How to Preside and Conduct a Meeting," will be shown.

All newly elected officers are urged to attend.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Patients Admitted To Missouri Delta Community Hospital
May 7, 1966

Opal Jones, Sikeston
Karen Corlies, Sikeston
Jonus Thornton, Portageville
Oma Perry, Charleston
Georgia Copeland, Wyatt
Charles Fausett, Sikeston
William Turnbo, Matthews
Howard Walker, Idalia
Carl Parker, Charleston

Patients Dismissed May 7

Louis Heckert, Bertrand
Mrs. Charlotte Lewis and Baby Boy, New Madrid
Goldie Holman, Sikeston
Phyllis Dockins, Sikeston
Robert Marshall, East Prairie
Horace McClellon, Sikeston
Sarah Dickison, Dexter
Nona Aleta Garnett, Sikeston
Baby Boy Hamilton, Benton
Robert Zimmer, East Prairie

Patients Admitted To Missouri Delta Community Hospital
May 8, 1966

Michael Slaven, Charleston
May Ann Davis, Bertrand
Dessie Chastain, Catron
Charles Terrell, Sikeston
Dempsey Lyons, Benton
Carrie Carr, Dexter
Sarah Slatham, Anniston
Bonnie Collins, Sikeston
Roy B. Nall, Sikeston
Sarah Dickison, Dexter
Jeffrey Runnels, Charleston
Esther Slusher, Hammond, Ind.

Patients Dismissed May 8

Suzanne Lewis, East Prairie
Mary Carter, East Prairie
Alisa Martin, Charleston
Mrs. Cloteria Ware and Baby Boy, Sikeston
Ruth Hale, East Prairie
Nora Gilmore, New Madrid
Opal Jones, Sikeston

Walter Adams of Dexter has been admitted to Doctors Hospital in Poplar Bluff.

Roy Bennett and Mrs. Martha Gaines, both of Dexter, have been released from Doctors Hospital in Poplar Bluff.

Larry Forkum, Mrs. Willene Simpson, both of Dexter, and Mrs. Addie Gromer of Bloomfield have been admitted to Lucy Lee Hospital in Poplar Bluff.

Chester G. Walters of Dexter and Mrs. Mildred E. Wilson of Gray Ridge have been admitted to Poplar Bluff Hospital.

John R. Abanatha of Sikeston and Mrs. Louise Allstun of Dexter have been dismissed from Poplar Bluff Hospital.

Jacqueline and Monty Shaffer of Oran, Mrs. Leland Griffin of Charleston, Marvin Link of Advance and Keith Ziegenhorn of Sikeston have been admitted to Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Harold Lipe of Oran has been admitted to Cape Osteopathic Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Mrs. Ray Evans of Oran and Mrs. Ralph Bogert of East Prairie have been released from St. Francis Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Mrs. Russell D. Hoggard of Portageville has been released from Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Thomas Helton of Dexter has been released from Cape Osteopathic Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Mrs. Johnson Is Honored at Cradle Shower

BELL CITY -- Mrs. Arch Lemmons and her sister, Miss Edna Allison were hostesses to a cradle shower at the former's home for Mrs. Irwin Johnson, Thursday evening, April 28.

Decorations of pink and blue were used. Refreshments of punch and cupcakes, decorated with miniature infants and names were served to the guests.

Attending were Mrs. Max Richardson, Mrs. Lester Karnes, Mrs. Bennie Hesselrode, Mrs. Doy Bell, Mrs. Edd Britton, the honoree's mother, Mrs. Lloyd Lemmons, Mrs. Cleatus Lemmons, Mrs. Frank Dunn, Mrs. Raymond Carpenter, Mrs. Robert Britton, Mrs. Pat James, Mrs. Gary Watkins, Mrs. Ival Karnes, Miss Judy Chailland, Miss Shirley Carpenter, and Miss Linda McAnually.

Square Dancers to Appear on TV

The Cotton Square Dance Club of Kennett of which Bill Volner is the caller will appear on the Breakfast Show on Channel 12, KFVS television in Cape Girardeau from 7 to 8 a.m. Tuesday.

Social Calender

TUESDAY

Chapter JU of the P. E. O. Sisterhood will meet at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 10, at the home of Mrs. Gene Dement.

WEDNESDAY

The Lions Club fish fry will be at 7:30 p.m. C.D.T. Wednesday, May 11, at the Lakeview Dining Hall, Reelfoot, Tenn.

WEDNESDAY

The Entre Nous Club will meet at 2 p.m. Wednesday, May 11, at the home of Mrs. Carrie Petifurd, 625 Vernon.

The law of Iceland requires that all children be taught to swim.

Auxiliary Meets May 5

HENRY MELDRUM Unit No. 114, American Legion Auxiliary, met Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the American Legion Hall with the first vice president, Mrs. Myrtle Moll, presiding.

The meeting was opened with the regular ceremony and a special prayer by the national chaplain was read by Mrs. Moll.

A letter from the 14th District membership chairman was read. She was urging all Units to reach their goal in membership by June 1. State department books close on June 29.

Girls State chairman announced the girls to attend Girls State had received their application blanks and were to have them completed by that day and returned to the chairman to mail to state headquarters.

Discussion was held concerning Poppy Days which will be held May 27 and 28. Poppies will be offered to the public for donations which the Unit uses in their child welfare and rehabilitation programs.

Americanism Chairman, Mrs. J. S. Wallace, announced she had received 13 essays from the school students. The theme is "What Being an American Means To Me." The essays were judged and the best one was sent to the 14th District Americanism chairman.

It was announced that the next regular 14th District meeting would be held Sunday, May 22, at 2 p.m. at Jackson in the American Legion Hall. Each Unit is urged to send delegates as new District officers will be elected for 1966-1967.

There being no further business the meeting was adjourned with prayer by Mrs. Moll.

THE NEWS in Brief

Mrs. Blance Cobb, 322 Greer, had as Mother's Day guests, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Caruthers of Mount Vernon, Ill., and Mr. Caruthers' mother, Mrs. Corinne Caruthers of Cape Girardeau.

A2c Victor A. McClung of Stewart air force base, Tenn., spent the weekend visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McClung. He arrived Friday afternoon and returned Sunday evening.

Mrs. Mary Harwood of Kankakee, Ill., Mrs. Evie Briar and Donna, Patsy and Sue of Gordonville and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brenner were dinner guests Sunday of Mrs. Robert Greer, 205 Mill Row.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo L. Schade visited his mother, Mrs. Mary Schade of Cape Girardeau, and her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Lee, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Bumgardaner

Does Student Teaching

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Mrs. Carol Issacs Bumgardaner, a senior at Southeast Missouri State College, will student teach physical education at College high school for the current semester.

Student teaching is a part of the "professional semester" which precedes graduation of the teacher. This nine-week period allows the student to apply his specialty knowledge and teaching skills under the direct supervision of an experienced teacher.

Mrs. Bumgardaner, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fearl Issacs of Morley, graduated from Scott County Central high school in Scott county. While at Southeast Missouri State College she participated in the activities of the Physical Education Majors Club, the American Association for Health and Physical Education and Recreation.

Panbroiling Makes Use of Dry Heat

When you use a frying-pan or griddle without fat, that's one of the dry heat methods employed for cooking meat.

Dry heat cooking methods are used for tender cuts of meat. They mean simply that heat is used for cooking the meat, but moisture in the form of liquid is not added.

Meats which are suitable for broiling may also be panbroiled. Panbroiling is usually preferred for meats which are cut thin, since this method makes it possible to serve the steaks browned on the outside yet rare or medium on the inside, says Reba Staggs, meat authority.

Panbroiling is also preferred for steaks and chops when you have a small quantity for cooking such as one, two or three.

Pans or griddles used for panbroiling need not be sizzling hot. If heated, the meat will, however, start cooking sooner than if you use a cold pan.

It's important to pour off fat as it accumulates or you will have a panfried product rather than a panbroiled one.

Turning more than once is often recommended for even cooking and attractive browning.

Should you cover or add water? The answer's an emphatic "no" for this would no longer be a dry heat method under these circumstances.

Get Your
Wedding Invitations
At
Superior Stationery
112 E. Center

Judith Ann Chailland Says Vows With Kenneth Sissum

BELL CITY -- In a late Sunday afternoon ceremony on May 1, Miss Judith Ann Chailland and Kenneth Gene Sissum were united in marriage at the Garden Ridge General Baptist church with the Rev. Noah Cox, pastor, officiating in the double ring exchange of vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Chailland of Painton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sissum of Bloomfield.

Norval Driscoll was pianist for the wedding march when the bride came down the aisle at the arm of her brother, Kenneth Chailland, who presented her in marriage. She wore a street length gown of white brocade satin with bracelet length sleeves, fitted bodice and full skirt. Complements to her attire a veil of illusion and a corsage of white carnation.

Mrs. Frank Dunn of Advance, sister of the groom, attended the bride as matron of honor. Mrs. Dunn wore a gown of pale blue whipped cream fabric and a white carnation corsage. Her husband, Frank Dunn, attended the groom as best man.

The bride is a graduate of the Bell City high school and is employed at the Inland Shoe factory at Advance. Sissum attended high school in Bell City and returned from a tour of duty in Viet Nam in January. He is employed by Mirley Implement Co., Advance.

At a reception held in the church dining room, the bride's sister, Miss Kathy Chailland, and Miss Sheila White and Miss Mary Teets served at the guest table, which was decorated with wedding bells and blue streamers.

Births

GRAHAM

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Graham of Blodgett are the parents of a baby boy born Saturday at the Missouri Delta Community Hospital.

NEAL

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Neal of Oran are the parents of a baby girl born Saturday at the Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau. The new arrival weighed six pounds and has been named Paula Jean. This is the couple's first child. Mrs. Neal is the former Miss Jean Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Carter of Oran. The father is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neal of Oran.

MCWHIRTER

Mr. and Mrs. John W. McWhirter of Charleston are the parents of a baby girl born Friday at the Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau. The baby daughter has been named Linda Joyce and weighed six pounds and eight ounces. This is the couple's fourth child and third daughter. Mrs. McWhirter is the former Miss Melba Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reynolds of Linneus. The father is the son of Mrs. Dessie McWhirter of Benton.

Parma 4-H Meets

PARMA -- Fourteen members and leaders were present for the regular meeting of the 4-H Club which was held in the music room of the elementary school, Friday evening, April 29.

After a short business meeting a program was given on "Safety and Health." Kathy Dickerson gave a report on "Safety in General." Marlene Lueker gave "Safety During the Tornado Season." Francis Hardesty gave a lesson on "Health and Physical Fitness," after which she led the girls in exercises.

Games were led by Vicky Cox. Refreshments of brownies and hot chocolate were served to those present.

My Neighbors

"Say, Pop, shouldn't I be getting a cost-of-living adjustment?"

DID YOU KNOW?
THE NATIONAL MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS SOCIETY FIGHTS MS through research and patient services
A Public Service of Publications Advertising

Flowers
THE PERFECT GIFT
CARROLL'S FLORIST
208 Sikes GR 1-3163

WORKING WITH the Holiday Art Exhibit, May 28 and 29 in mind, Barbara Irwin paints a still life and Randy York adds touches to his painting. Both are students in Miss Emily Brennecke's high school art class.

Party Marks Fifth Birthday

DEXTER--John Chamberlain, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Chamberlain, former Sikeston residents, was honored on his fifth birthday with a party Saturday, April 23.

Blue and white streamers and white bells accented the party room's decorations with a Flintstone theme being used in the table decorations.

A birthday cake decorated in blue and white, ice cream, potato chips and punch were served to the guests.

Guests included Earlinda Adams, Karen Alsup, Lee Godwin, Angela McRoy, Tis Boyt, Andy Boyt, Jimmy Hill, Mike Griffin, Randy Ziegler, Janice Lincoln, Terry Cattron, and Randy Cattron, Dexter; Sherry and Mike Spitler and Karen Krauss, of Sikeston.

Adults attending were Mrs. Yewell Lawrence, Sr., Mrs. Shirley McRoy, Mrs. Kenneth Spitler and Mrs. Sarah Woolem.

Unable to attend but sending gifts were Richard Thrower, John and Elizabeth Honner, Mrs. George Jarbo, Mrs. William Stover, Mrs. Barbara Grissom, Mrs. Byron Curtner, and Mrs. William Chamberlain.

GOOD MUSIC RADIO
KMPL 1520 K.C.s
FOR YOUNG ADULTS

Sikeston TUESDAY SPECIAL
Kentucky Fried Chicken
Reg. $1.00
BOX DINNER
only 89¢
"It's Finger Lickin' Good—North America's Hospitality Dish"
COMPLETE DINNER INCLUDES: 3 pieces of Chicken, Potatoes, Chicken Gravy, Roll
INSPECTED CHICKENS ONLY. No Substitutions.
WE USE U.S. GOV'T.
available at HARRIS'
Kentucky Fried Chicken
Midtowner Village

• SWIMMING POOL
• CARPETING
• GARAGE
• MODERNIZATION
Whatever you need at
THIS MINUTE
CAN BE FINANCED ALMOST AS FAST! . . .
An Economy Plan Improvement Loan is available for a wide range of home and property improvements, including wall-to-wall carpeting, kitchen modernization, central air conditioning and heating and even swimming pools. Discuss your needs with us very soon.
Has the time come when YOU need money!
SECURITY NATIONAL BANK
OF SIKESTON
SIKESTON, MISSOURI
MEMBER FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

Refresh Your Summer Wardrobe
Now is the time to have your summer wardrobe brought right up to par. Our experienced cleaners can brighten and clean your present sportswear and other summer clothes so they'll look just as sharp and attractive as new. Bring them in today.
SIKESTON LAUNDRY & CLEANERS
Free pickup & delivery
517 E. Malone GR 1-5165

YOUR HEALTH!
comes first, but we're helpful in many ways
TOILETRIES
Accurately filling your doctor's prescriptions is our primary function, but we are also your most convenient source for all toiletries and sundries.
JAMES DRUG STORE
PRESCRIPTION SPECIALISTS
Sikeston, Mo.
Phone GR 1-5707
Yours For Good Health

in tune for Spring
DESIGNED FOR YEAR 'ROUND USE INSIDE AND OUTSIDE
5 PC. ENSEMBLE
Now Priced $129.50
Wilcoxson & Sons
SIKESTON, MISSOURI

Cards Hand Giants 10-5 Victory

Home-run balls and the sounds of "Auld Lang Syne" punctuated the St. Louis Cardinals' last defeat at historic Busch Stadium Sunday.

The Cards' lost their third straight game to the San Francisco Giants, 10-5, and then marched, with nearly 18,000 fans, two miles to dedicate the new, $24 - million Busch Memorial Stadium.

While the home runs were flying in St. Louis, it took the Washington Senators only two hits to down the A's, 3-2 in Kansas City.

The Giants' Willie McCovey and Willie Mays punched hits out of the ballpark for San Francisco Sunday. It was Mays' eighth four-bagger of the season and the 513th of his career. McCovey's eighth inning effort accounted for three San Francisco runs.

All the Cards' tallies came on round-trippers. Tim McCarver slammed a two-run homer and Bob Skinner hit a pinch-hit two-run four-bagger to give St. Louis a four-run fourth inning.

Mike Shannon completed the Card's scoring with a solo homer in the fifth.

San Francisco's Lindsay McDaniel received credit for the victory against Tracy Stallard of the Cards.

Washington took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Fred Valentine raced home from third after a wild throw on a pick-off attempt.

Then, A's starter Fred Talbot hurled seven innings of no-hit ball before he was tagged with a leadoff homer by Paul Casanova in the eighth.

Kansas City tied the count at 2-all when Bert Campaneris drove in Ozzie Chavarria with a triple and scored himself on a sacrifice by Wayne Causey.

The Senators won it in the tenth on Bob Saverine's pinch-hit single.

Talbot left in the eighth for a pinch-hitter. He allowed only one hit in his eight inning stint. The loss was charged to John Wyatt who gave up only one hit in two innings of relief.

Kansas City will host Boston tonight with Rolland Sheldon starting against Jim Lonborg of the Red Sox.

St. Louis goes to Chicago where Al Jackson will face Bob Hendley of the Cubs today.

Tennis Team Ends Season With Win

Sikeston high school tennis team ended the season by whipping the Poplar Bluff Mules 4-3.

No exhibition matches were played so they played five single matches. In the first match Dean Childers of Sikeston lost to Richard Brooks, 6-3, and 6-0, Hank Lippert of Sikeston lost to Jim Fogle 7-5 and 6-2, Wythe Miller of Sikeston won over Greg Gillis 6-1 and 6-1, Brad Crumpecker of Sikeston beat Adrian Bratcher 6-2 and 6-2, and Jim Brestow of Poplar Bluff forfeited to Sikeston's Jerry Humes after Jerry had won the first match 7-5 and Brestow the second 6-3.

In doubles, Childers and Dickerson of Sikeston dropped two games to Brooks and Vogel 6-3 and 6-0, and ending the days tennis matches, Miller and Lippert won over Poplar Bluff's Gillis and Bristol 6-4 and 6-3.

In the district tournament at Cape Girardeau Saturday Sikeston was defeated with Dickerson winning the only match for the Bulldogs.

League Leaders

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Batting 45 at bats -- Morgan, Houston, .370; Smith, St. Louis, .358.

Runs--Aaron, Atlanta, 21; Hart, San Francisco, 20.

Runs batted in -- Mays, San Francisco, 21; McCovey, San Francisco, 19.

Hits -- Morgan, Houston, 34; Alou, Atlanta, 33.

Double -- Alou, Atlanta, and Johnson, Los Angeles, 7.

Triples -- Alou, Pittsburgh, 7; Pinson, Cincinnati, and Parker, Los Angeles, 3.

Home runs -- Aaron, Atlanta, 9; Lefebvre, Los Angeles, and Mays, San Francisco, 8.

Stolen bases - Jackson, Houston, 11; Wills, Los Angeles, 8.

Pitching -- Marichal, San Francisco, 6-0; Perry, San Francisco, 4-0.

Strikeouts -- Gibson, St. Louis, 47; Veale, Pittsburgh, 41.

American League

Batting 45 at bats -- F. Robinson, Baltimore, .406; Oliva, Minnesota, .394.

Runs -- F. Robinson, Baltimore, 21; Yastrzemski, Boston, Reichardt, California, and Agee, Chicago, 16.

Runs batted in -- B. Robinson, Baltimore, 23; Scott, Boston, 22.

Hits -- Yastrzemski, Boston, 29; B. Robinson and F. Robinson, Baltimore, 28.

Doubles -- B. Robinson, Baltimore, 8; Freehan, Detroit, Blair, Baltimore, and Allen, Minnesota, 6.

Triples -- Scott, Boston, Schaal, California, and Davalillo, Cleveland, 3.

Home runs -- Scott, Boston, 10; F. Robinson, Baltimore, and Oliva, Minnesota, 7.

Stolen bases -- Agee, Chicago, 6; Oliva, Minnesota, 5.

Pitching -- McDowell, Cleveland, 4-0; McNally, Baltimore, 3-0.

Strikeouts -- McDowell, Cleveland, 59; Richert, Washington, 41.

Clay Predicts Winner

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK AP -- Cassius Clay flew off to London predicting a speed fight with Henry Cooper and already looking beyond the Cockney veteran to his next opponent.

"I'm gonna be about 203 pounds for Cooper, that's about 11 under what I was when I beat George Chuvalo," the world heavyweight champion from Kentucky said before taking off to England.

"This is gonna be a speed fight. I gotta be fast. That man can get in and punch fast. And I might be in trouble if he tagged me."

Clay, who will defend his title against Cooper May 31 at Highbury Stadium in London, knows what it is to be tagged by the British champion. He stopped Cooper in 1963 but not before being knocked down.

"He really hurt me, with a long left hook," Clay admitted.

"They say I was looking at Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor when he hit me, but that's not so.

"I just didn't see the punch coming."

"Now, let me tell you about my new campaign. Hey, Angie, you listening?" he yelled to his manager, Angelo Dundee.

"The man I fight after Cooper is any ranking heavyweight who can whip James Ellis, my sparring partner. Any heavyweight that whips James Ellis will qualify to fight me."

Dundee scarcely monplussed at anything Clay says or does after his long association with the colorful fighter, allowed as how it sounded like a good idea. After all, Dundee also manages Ellis.

Cape Relays

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Cape Central captured their own track meet here Saturday, by winning with a total of 110 points without the services of Sylvester Johnson.

Eight meet records were shattered in the days events, with records falling in the mile run, high hurdles, 880 yd. relay, broad jump, discus, shot put, 440 yd. low hurdles and mile relay.

Others finished in the following order: Kennett 80, Poplar Bluff 70, Dexter 60, Charleston 46, Cleveland of St. Louis 45, Jackson 30, and Perryville 8.

Keane Fired

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK AP -- Johnny Keane came in a gentleman and went out the same way -- with kind words for the New York Yankees, who fired him Saturday as manager.

Keane arrived in New York late Sunday afternoon from Los Angeles and met his wife, Lela, who had flown up from their Houston home. He didn't even know the Yanks had won their second straight under Ralph Houk until a reporter told him.

"If they can get them hitting," said Keane, "that is all there will be to it. The pitching wasn't bad, but we just were not hitting.

"I left the Yankees with all good feelings. It has been a privilege to have worked for them. It is their right to make a change when they see fit. My wife and I really enjoyed New York. Contrary to talk about the big, cold cty, we found it a very warm experience.

"I haven't had time to talk to anybody about the future. But I plan to contact all the major league teams. They all know that I am out. I want them to know I am available -- if and when."

The lean, soft-spoken veteran of 37 years in baseball shrugged his shoulders when he spoke of his problems with the Yankees, who were in last place with a 4-16 record when he was replaced.

"Things like this happen in baseball," he said. "You do your best, and that's all you can do. It wasn't frustrating to me, just disappointing. You go with the best you have and keep punching."

Keane said he did not know the ax was about to fall when he left on the long road trip last Thursday night. He had sent his wife home rather than have her alone in New York during his absence.

"The first I knew was about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon," said Keane. "I asked them to hold off the announcement until I could tell the players myself. They agreed."

Keane spent his entire pre-Yankee career as a player, coach and manager in the St. Louis Cardinals organization.

COLD TENT

Tent cold? Rustle up some cardboard sheets and line inside of the tent with them. Cuts drafts, holds in heat.

TAPED

A roll of white adhesive tape makes a good emergency repair kit. Fix loose guides. Patch tent holes, hold mirror on tree. Tape, unstuck, even makes a fair stustitute for porkrind.

Cards Exchange Pitcher For Bat Power

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

ST. LOUIS AP -- The San Francisco Giants have a new left-handed pitcher -- Ray Sadecki -- the St. Louis Cardinals have a new clean-up hitter -- Orlando Cepeda -- and Cepeda has a chance to play regularly.

The straight player deal between the two National League teams was made Sunday.

Both clubs and Sadecki expressed satisfaction with the trade. Cepeda, the veteran first baseman-outfielder, had mixed emotions.

The Cardinals had been looking for someone to add punch to their weak-hitting line-up, while the Giants were casting about for a left-handed pitcher to augment their right-handed aces, Juan Marichal and Gaylord Perry.

Cepeda, who has played sparingly since he underwent surgery to remove cartilage in his right knee in December, 1964, has been anxious to play regularly.

Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst, elated about the trade, said the right-handed slugger would be installed in the clean-up spot for today's game in Chicago. Cepeda has a .286 average with three homers and 15 RBI in 19 games this season.

The Cardinals' doubts about Cepeda's knee apparently have been satisfied.

Cepeda, 28, who has 226 home runs and a lifetime average of .303, was told of the deal after the St. Louis-San Francisco game Sunday.

"I had a feeling I would be traded," Cepeda said, "and I guess I'm happy because I'll get a chance to play every day. But I've been with the Giants so long."

The 25-year-old Sadecki, who won 20 games in 1964 when the Cardinals captured the pennant and the World Series, said he expected the trade.

"We're in first, and I hope I can do my share to help out," he said. "I'm looking forward to going to San Francisco."

Scott Central Captures Second In Class S Meet

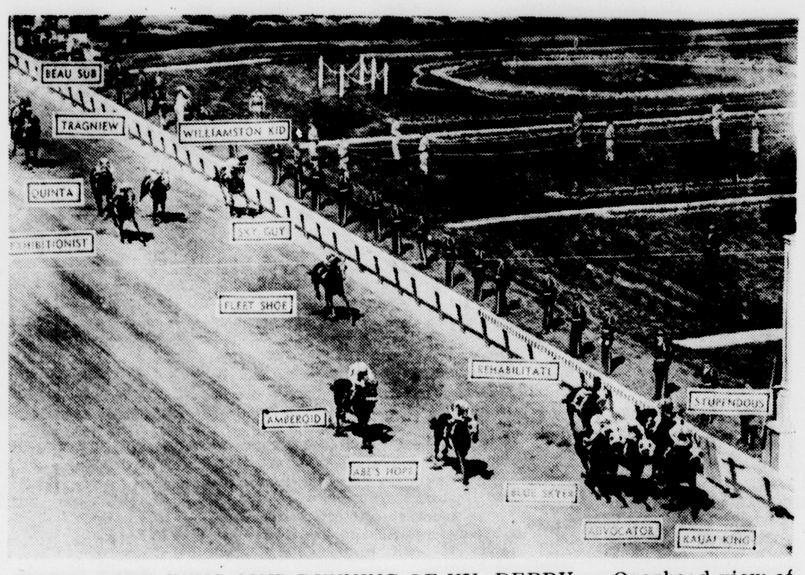

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Delta won the Class S track meet here Saturday afternoon by whipping the Scott Central Braves 82-79, with Oak Ridge placing third with 36 points.

No records were broken as the hot day seemed to slow up the runners.

Scott Central placed second in the state indoor track meet and was expected to take this title but was upset by the Delta Bobcats.

In the M finals, Portageville captured first place in the field of 17 schools, with 31½ points and was followed by Valle of Ste. Genevieve 26, East Prairie 25, Malden 20, Flat River 16, Ste. Genevieve 13.

"Truth is as clear as a bell, but it is not always tolled."
--Harold S. May

KAUAI KING WINS 92ND RUNNING OF KY. DERBY -- Overhead view of the finish of the Kentucky Derby shows (lower right) Kauai King winning by a half-length over fast-closing Advocator. Jockey Don Brumfield put Kauai King in front and held him there, winning in 2:02 on a fast track at Churchill Downs, Ky. Owner Michael J. Ford received $120,500 for the win and Kauai King paid $6.80, $4.20 and $3.60. Advocator returned $13 and $8.60 for second and Blue Skyer $5.40 for third.

Kentucky Derby Winner Off To Run In Preakness

By BOB COOPER
Associated Press Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. AP -- Trainer Henry Forrest has been too busy the past year to even visit his new Tennessee home and there's no let-up in sight. He was preparing today to ship Kauai King, the Kentucky Derby winner, east for the Preakness.

"I bought a little, six-acre place at Brentwood, near Nashville, more than a year ago, but I've spent only one night there since then," Forrest said.

Reminded that Kauai King's half-length Derby victory Saturday was his 230th at Churchill Downs, the 58-year-old native of Covington, Ky., reminisced over his 40 years in racing.

"I started out when I was 18 years old with a horse for J. B. Respess at the old Latonia track," Forrest said.

Apparently, that was a good omen. Respess" Wintergreen had won the Derby 16 years before that and, like Kauai King in Saturday's 92nd running of the classic, led all the way.

Forrest, a winner with the first colt he ever saddled for the Derby, gave much of the credit to jockey Don Brumfield.

"He rode just wonderful," Forrest said. "I told him before the race there might be some horses in front of him at the start, but to use his own judgment.

"He did just that."

Almost as pleased as Forrest were some in the camp of Advocator, a surprise second finisher in America's most glamorous race. A groom, Albert Foley, proudly predicted the colt would become horse of the year.

Jim Padgett, trainer of third finisher Blue Skyer, said he "couldn't have been more tickled" with the race.

Padgett, who entered Blue Skyer after he was goaded into it, said he had planned to move from here to Chicago, but now "I guess we'll go in the Preakness. I'll have to talk to the owners to be sure, though."

With exception of Fleet Shoe, all of the colts from the Derby were pronounced in good health. Trainer Larry Sterling said Fleet Shoe was "a little touchy in the left knee."

Both Fleet Shoe and Abe's Hope, the second choice in the betting and fifth colt under the finish wire, may get some rest from the racing wars. The others will continue training for summer racing.

"We'll go to Sportsman's Park and may give him a little rest," trainer Del Carroll said of Abe's Hope. A groom noted the Better Bee colt has been in 10 races, including the Derby, this year and all but two were at more than a mile.

All of the first six finishers--Kauai King, Advocator, Blue Skyer, Stupendous, Abe's Hope and Rehabilitate -- thought they had a top shot at the $120,500 first prize until the last.

BATTING -- Frank Robinson, Baltimore, lashed a single, double, triple and two homers, driving in three runs and scoring four, as the Orioles swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 8-2 and 8-3.

PITCHING -- Jim Palmer, Baltimore, pitched no-hit ball for five innings and wound up with a three-hitter as the Orioles whipped Cleveland 8-2 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Major League Standings

NATINAL LEAGUE

	W.	L.	G.B.
San Fran.	18	7	--
Pittsburgh	14	8	2½
Houston	15	10	3
Phila.	11	9	4½
Atlanta	13	12	5
Los Angeles	13	12	5
New York	8	10	6½
ST. LOUIS	8	14	8½
Cincinnati	7	14	9
Chicago	6	17	11

Saturday's Results

Chicago 3, New York 2
Philadelphia 7, Pittsburgh 3
Los Angeles 14, Cincinnati 2
San Francisco 15, St. Louis 2
Houston 3, Atlanta 0

Sunday's Results

Pittsburgh 3, Philadelphia 2
San Francisco 10, St. Louis 5
Houston 5, Atlanta 4
Cincinnati 2, Los Angeles 1
Chicago 3-1, New York 1-5

Today's Games

Los Angeles at Philadelphia, N
San Francisco at Pittsburgh, N
Cincinnati at Atlanta, N
St. Louis at Chicago
Only games scheduled

Tuesday's Games

Houston at New York, N
Los Angeles at Philadelphia, N
San Francisco at Pittsburgh, N
St. Louis at Chicago
Cincinnati at Atlanta, 2, twi-night

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	W.	L.	G.B.
Baltimore	15	4	--
Cleveland	15	4	--
Detroit	13	9	3½
Chicago	11	8	4
California	12	9	4
Minnesota	9	9	5½
Washington	7	12	8
Boston	7	14	9
New York	6	16	10½
Kansas City	5	15	10½

Saturday's Results

Cleveland 6, Baltimore 3
Minnesota 6, Boston 4
Chicago 1, Detroit 0
KansasCity 5, Washington 2
New York 3, California 1

Sunday's Results

New York 5, California 2
Washington 3, Kansas City 2, 10 innings
Boston 8-4, Minnesota 1-1
Detroit 3, Chicago 1, 1st game 11 innings, 2nd game, postponed, cold
Baltimore 8-8, Cleveland 2-3

Today's Games

Washington at California, N
Boston at Kansas City, N
New York at Minnesota, N
Only games scheduled

Tuesday's Games

Washington at California, N
Boston at Kansas City, N
New York at Minnesota, N
Detroit at Cleveland, N
Chicago at Baltimore, N

BOXING

Weekend Fights

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PAU, France -- Marcel Cerdan, Jr., 141, Paris, outpointed Roger Malezieux, 140½, Pau, 8.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico -- Luis Rodriguez, 140½, Miami, Fla., stopped Tommy Caldwell, 159½, Chicago, 2; Frankie Narvaez, 135, New York, outpointed Percy Hayles, 136, Jamaica, 10; Teo Cruz, 136, Santo Domingo, outpointed Bunny Grant, 135, Jamaica, 10.

CULIACAN, Mexico--Antonio Amaya, 125½, Panama, outpointed Fino Rosales, 128, Mexico, 10.

h.i.s AT FALKOFF'S
104 Front St. Sikeston, Mo.

every man is entitled to "easy living"!

GENUINE Palm Beach TAILORED BY Palm Beach COMPANY

And that's what you get in these Palm Beach* lightweight slacks! Handsome appearance, coolness, comfort . . . plus famous Palm Beach quality tailoring all add up to "easy living." And the slacks can be washed or dry-cleaned, as you prefer.

$10.95

When you look your best you do your best

THE BUCKNER RAGSDALE Co

Double Poll Parrot Stamps Every Wednesday

*Reg. T.M. Goodall Sanford Incorporated

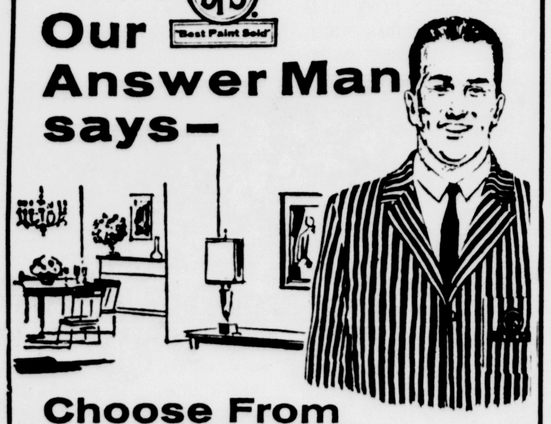

YOU ARE INVITED TO ATTEND OUR
Grand Opening
MAY 10th
9 A.M. to 5 P.M.
REGISTER FOR
FREE PRIZES
1st PRIZE - PORTABLE TELEVISION
COME IN, VISIT WITH US & SEE YOURSELF ON CLOSED CIRCUIT T.V.
FREE COKES SERVED BY MISS SIKESTON
MISS BARBARA IRWIN

BILL KEEFER
Manager

GLOBAL FINANCE COMPANY
127 E. MALONE
GR 1-9255
SIKESTON, MO.

Our Answer Man says—

Choose From Hundreds of Special Decorator Colors!

• Bring your color problems here, get professional decorating assistance. • 1500 colors to choose from — to suit any decor. • Our BPS ANSWER MAN will make it while you watch.

OUR BPS ANSWER MAN IS YOUR BEST INFORMED PAINT DEALER.

Sikeston LUMBER COMPANY
Buy Quality and you Buy Satisfaction
Phone GR 1-5226

BATTERY & TIRE HEADQUARTERS

12 Months-6 Volt	$8.95
36 Months-6 Volt	13.95
36 Months-12 Volt	16.95

Exchange
Close Out On All Kelly Tires
7.50x14 Blackwalls
$9.95 or 2 for $19.50
Tax Paid
A & B OIL CO.
Phone GR 1-1424

Cards Hand Giants 10-5 Victory

Home-run balls and the sounds of "Auld Lang Syne" punctuated the St. Louis Cardinals' last defeat at historic Busch Stadium Sunday.

The Cards' lost their third straight game to the San Francisco Giants, 10-5, and then marched, with nearly 18,000 fans, two miles to dedicate the new, $24 - million Busch Memorial Stadium.

While the home runs were flying in St. Louis, it took the Washington Senators only two hits to down the A's, 3-2 in Kansas City.

The Giants' Willie McCovey and Willie Mays punched hits out of the ballpark for San Francisco Sunday. It was Mays' eighth four-bagger of the season and the 513th of his career. McCovey's eighth inning effort accounted for three San Francisco runs.

All the Cards' tallies came on round-trippers. Tim McCarver slammed a two-run homer and Bob Skinner hit a pinch-hit two-run four-bagger to give St. Louis a four-run fourth inning.

Mike Shannon completed the Card's scoring with a solo homer in the fifth.

San Francisco's Lindsay McDaniel received credit for the victory against Tracy Stallard of the Cards.

Washington took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Fred Valentine raced home from third after a wild throw on a pick-off attempt.

Then, A's starter Fred Talbot hurled seven innings of no-hit ball before he was tagged with a leadoff homer by Paul Casanova in the eighth.

Kansas City tied the count at 2-all when Bert Campaneris drove in Ozzie Chavarria with a triple and scored himself on a sacrifice by Wayne Causey.

The Senators won it in the tenth on Bob Saverine's pinch-hit single.

Talbot left in the eighth for a pinch-hitter. He allowed only one hit in his eight inning stint. The loss was charged to John Wyatt who gave up only one hit in two innings of relief.

Kansas City will host Boston tonight with Rolland Sheldon starting against Jim Lonborg of the Red Sox.

St. Louis goes to Chicago where Al Jackson will face Bob Hendley of the Cubs today.

Tennis Team Ends Season With Win

Sikeston high school tennis team ended the season by whipping the Poplar Bluff Mules 4-3.

No exhibition matches were played so they played five single matches. In the first match Dean Childers of Sikeston lost to Richard Brooks, 6-3, and 6-0, Hank Lippert of Sikeston lost to Jim Fogle 7-5 and 6-2, Wythe Miller of Sikeston won over Greg Gillis 6-1 and 6-1, Brad Crumpecker of Sikeston beat Adrian Bratcher 6-2 and 6-2, and Jim Brestow of Poplar Bluff forfeited to Sikeston's Jerry Humes after Jerry had won the first match 7-5 and Brestow the second 6-3.

In doubles, Childers and Dickerson of Sikeston dropped two games to Brooks and Vogel 6-3 and 6-0, and ending the days tennis matches, Miller and Lippert won over Poplar Bluff's Gillis and Bristol 6-4 and 6-3.

In the district tournament at Cape Girardeau Saturday Sikeston was defeated with Dickerson winning the only match for the Bulldogs.

League Leaders

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Batting 45 at bats -- Morgan, Houston, .370; Smith, St. Louis, .358.

Runs--Aaron, Atlanta, 21; Hart, San Francisco, 20.

Runs batted in -- Mays, San Francisco, 21; McCovey, San Francisco, 19.

Hits -- Morgan, Houston, 34; Alou, Atlanta, 33.

Double -- Alou, Atlanta, and Johnson, Los Angeles, 7.

Triples -- Alou, Pittsburgh, 7; Pinson, Cincinnati, and Parker, Los Angeles, 3.

Home runs -- Aaron, Atlanta, 9; Lefebvre, Los Angeles, and Mays, San Francisco, 8.

Stolen bases - Jackson, Houston, 11; Wills, Los Angeles, 8.

Pitching -- Marichal, San Francisco, 6-0; Perry, San Francisco, 4-0.

Strikeouts -- Gibson, St. Louis, 47; Veale, Pittsburgh, 41.

American League

Batting 45 at bats -- F. Robinson, Baltimore, .406; Oliva, Minnesota, .394.

Runs -- F. Robinson, Baltimore, 21; Yastrzemski, Boston, Reichardt, California, and Agee, Chicago, 16.

Runs batted in -- B. Robinson, Baltimore, 23; Scott, Boston, 22.

Hits -- Yastrzemski, Boston, 29; B. Robinson and F. Robinson, Baltimore, 28.

Doubles -- B. Robinson, Baltimore, 8; Freehan, Detroit, Blair, Baltimore, and Allen, Minnesota, 6.

Triples -- Scott, Boston, Schaal, California, and Davalillo, Cleveland, 3.

Home runs --Scott, Boston, 10; F. Robinson, Baltimore, and Oliva, Minnesota, 7.

Stolen bases -- Agee, Chicago, 6; Oliva, Minnesota, 5.

Pitching -- McDowell, Cleveland, 4-0; McNally, Baltimore, 3-0.

Strikeouts -- McDowell, Cleveland, 59; Richert, Washington, 41.

Clay Predicts Winner

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK AP -- Cassius Clay flew off to London predicting a speed fight with Henry Cooper and already looking beyond the Cockney veteran to his next opponent.

"I'm gonna be about 203 pounds for Cooper, that's about 11 under what I was when I beat George Chuvalo," the world heavyweight champion from Kentucky said before taking off to England.

"This is gonna be a speed fight. I gotta be fast. That man can get in and punch fast. And I might be in trouble if he tagged me."

Clay, who will defend his title against Cooper May 31 at Highbury Stadium in London, knows what it is to be tagged by the British champion. He stopped Cooper in 1963 but not before being knocked down.

"He really hurt me, with a long left hook," Clay admitted.

"They say I was looking at Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor when he hit me, but that's not so.

"I just didn't see the punch coming."

"Now, let me tell you about my new campaign. Hey, Angie, you listening?" he yelled to his manager, Angelo Dundee.

"The man I fight after Cooper is any ranking heavyweight who can whip James Ellis, my sparring partner. Any heavyweight that whips James Ellis will qualify to fight me."

Dundee scarcely nonplussed at anything Clay says or does after his long association with the colorful fighter, allowed as how it sounded like a good idea. After all, Dundee also manages Ellis.

Cape Relays

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Cape Central captured their own track meet here Saturday, by winning with a total of 110 points without the services of Sylvester Johnson.

Eight meet records were shattered in the days events, with records falling in the mile run, high hurdles, 880 yd. relay, broad jump, discus, shot put, 440 yd. low hurdles and mile relay.

Others finished in the following order: Kennett 80, Poplar Bluff 70, Dexter 60, Charleston 46, Cleveland of St. Louis 45, Jackson 30, and Perryville 8.

Keane Fired

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK AP -- Johnny Keane came in a gentleman and went out the same way -- with kind words for the New York Yankees, who fired him Saturday as manager.

Keane arrived in New York late Sunday afternoon from Los Angeles and met his wife, Lela, who had flown up from their Houston home. He didn't even know the Yanks had won their second straight under Ralph Houk until a reporter told him.

"If they can get them hitting," said Keane, "that is all there will be to it. The pitching wasn't bad, but we just were not hitting.

"I left the Yankees with all good feelings. It has been a privilege to have worked for them. It is their right to make a change when they see fit. My wife and I really enjoyed New York. Contrary to talk about the big, cold city, we found it a very warm experience.

"I haven't had time to talk to anybody about the future. But I plan to contact all the major league teams. They all know that I am out. I want them to know I am available -- if and when."

The lean, soft-spoken veteran of 37 years in baseball shrugged his shoulders when he spoke of his problems with the Yankees, who were in last place with a 4-16 record when he was replaced.

"Things like this happen in baseball," he said. "You do your best, and that's all you can do. It wasn't frustrating to me, just disappointing. You go with the best you have and keep punching."

Keane said he did not know the ax was about to fall when he left on the long road trip last Thursday night. He had sent his wife home rather than have her alone in New York during his absence.

"The first I knew was about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon," said Keane. "I asked them to hold off the announcement until I could tell the players myself. They agreed."

Keane spent his entire pre-Yankee career as a player, coach and manager in the St. Louis Cardinals organization.

COLD TENT

Tent cold? Rustle up some cardboard sheets and line inside of the tent with them. Cuts drafts, holds in heat.

TAPED

A roll of white adhesive tape makes a good emergency repair kit. Fix loose guides. Patch tent holes, hold mirror on tree. Tape, unstuck, even makes a fair stustitute for porkrind.

Cards Exchange Pitcher For Bat Power

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

ST. LOUIS AP -- The San Francisco Giants have a new left-handed pitcher -- Ray Sadecki -- the St. Louis Cardinals have a new clean-up hitter -- Orlando Cepeda -- and Cepeda has a chance to play regularly.

The straight player deal between the two National League teams was made Sunday.

Both clubs and Sadecki expressed satisfaction with the trade. Cepeda, the veteran first baseman-outfielder, had mixed emotions.

The Cardinals had been looking for someone to add punch to their weak-hitting line-up, while the Giants were casting about for a left-handed pitcher to augment their right-handed aces, Juan Marichal and Gaylord Perry.

Cepeda, who has played sparingly since he underwent surgery to remove cartilage in his right knee in December, 1964, has been anxious to play regularly.

Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst, elated about the trade, said the right-handed slugger would be installed in the clean-up spot for today's game in Chicago. Cepeda has a .286 average with three homers and 15 RBI in 19 games this season.

The Cardinals' doubts about Cepeda's knee apparently have been satisfied.

Cepeda, 28, who has 226 home runs and a lifetime average of .303, was told of the deal after the St. Louis-San Francisco game Sunday.

"I had a feeling I would be traded," Cepeda said, "and I guess I'm happy because I'll get a chance to play every day. But I've been with the Giants so long."

The 25-year-old Sadecki, who won 20 games in 1964 when the Cardinals captured the pennant and the World Series, said he expected the trade.

"We're in first, and I hope I can do my share to help out," he said. "I'm looking forward to going to San Francisco."

Scott Central Captures Second In Class S Meet

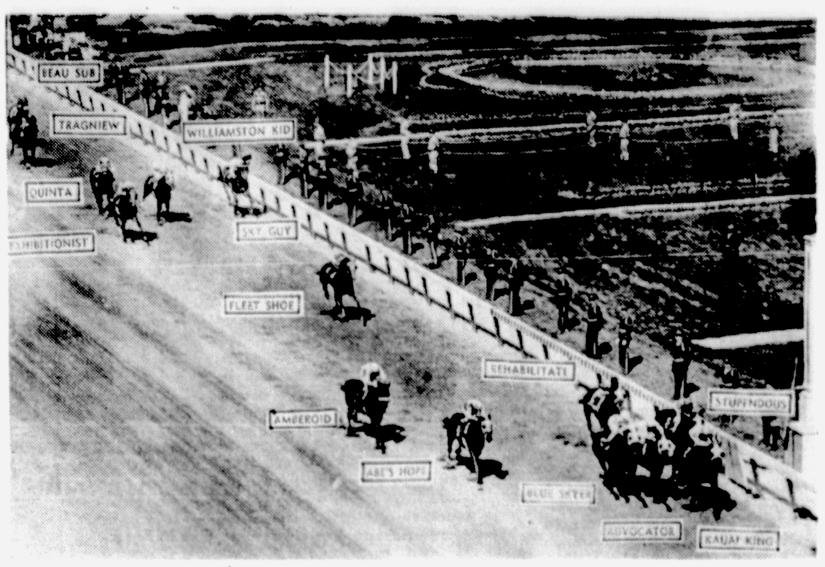

CAPE GIRARDEAU -- Delta won the Class S track meet here Saturday afternoon by whipping the Scott Central Braves 82-79, with Oak Ridge placing third with 36 points.

No records were broken as the hot day seemed to slow up the runners.

Scott Central placed second in the state indoor track meet and was expected to take this title but was upset by the Delta Bobcats.

In the M finals, Portageville captured first place in the field of 17 schools, with 31½ points and was followed by Valle of Ste. Genevieve 26, East Prairie 25, Malden 20, Flat River 16, Ste. Genevieve 13.

"Truth is as clear as a bell, but it is not always tolled."
--Harold S. May

KAUAI KING WINS 92ND RUNNING OF KY. DERBY -- Overhead view of the finish of the Kentucky Derby shows (lower right) Kauai King winning by a half-length over fast-closing Advocator. Jockey Don Brumfield put Kauai King in front and held him there, winning in 2:02 on a fast track at Churchill Downs, Ky. Owner Michael J. Ford received $120,500 for the win and Kauai King paid $6.80, $4.20 and $3.60. Advocator returned $13 and $8.60 for second and Blue Skyer $5.40 for third.

Kentucky Derby Winner Off To Run In Preakness

By BOB COOPER
Associated Press Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. AP -- Trainer Henry Forrest has been too busy the past year to even visit his new Tennessee home and there's no let-up in sight. He was preparing today to ship Kauai King, the Kentucky Derby winner, east for the Preakness.

"I bought a little, six-acre place at Brentwood, near Nashville, more than a year ago, but I've spent only one night there since then," Forrest said.

Reminded that Kauai King's half-length Derby victory Saturday was his 230th at Churchill Downs, the 58-year-old native of Covington, Ky., reminisced over his 40 years in racing.

"I started out when I was 18 years old with a horse for J. B. Respess at the old Latonia track," Forrest said.

Apparently, that was a good omen. Respess" Wintergreen had won the Derby 16 years before that and, like Kauai King in Saturday's 92nd running of the classic, led all the way.

Forrest, a winner with the first colt he ever saddled for the Derby, gave much of the credit to jockey Don Brumfield.

"He rode just wonderful," Forrest said. "I told him before the race there might be some horses in front of him at the start, but to use his own judgment.

"He did just that."

Almost as pleased as Forrest were some in the camp of Advocator, a surprise second finisher in America's most glamorous race. A groom, Albert Foley, proudly predicted the colt would become horse of the year.

Jim Padgett, trainer of third finisher Blue Skyer, said he "couldn't have been more tickled" with the race.

Padgett, who entered Blue Skyer after he was goaded into it, said he had planned to move from here to Chicago, but now "I guess we'll go in the Preakness. I'll have to talk to the owners to be sure, though."

With exception of Fleet Shoe, all of the colts from the Derby were pronounced in good health. Trainer Larry Sterling said Fleet Shoe was "a little touchy in the left knee."

Both Fleet Shoe and Abe's Hope, the second choice in the betting and fifth colt under the finish wire, may get some rest from the racing wars. The others will continue training for summer racing.

"We'll go to Sportsman's Park and may give him a little rest," trainer Del Carroll said of Abe's Hope. A groom noted the Better Bee colt has been in 10 races, including the Derby, this year and all but two were at more than a mile.

All of the first six finishers--Kauai King, Advocator, Blue Skyer, Stupendous, Abe's Hope and Rehabilitate -- thought they had a top shot at the $120,500 first prize until the last.

BATTING -- Frank Robinson, Baltimore, lashed a single, double, triple and two homers, driving in three runs and scoring four, as the Orioles swept a doubleheader from Cleveland 8-2 and 8-3.

PITCHING -- Jim Palmer, Baltimore, pitched no-hit ball for five innings and wound up with a three-hitter as the Orioles whipped Cleveland 8-2 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Major League Standings

NATINAL LEAGUE

	W.	L.	G.B.
San Fran.	18	7	--
Pittsburgh	14	8	2½
Houston	15	10	3
Phila.	11	9	4½
Atlanta	13	12	5
Los Angeles	13	12	5
New York	8	10	6½
ST. LOUIS	8	14	8½
Cincinnati	7	14	9
Chicago	6	17	11

Saturday's Results

Chicago 3, New York 2
Philadelphia 7, Pittsburgh 3
Los Angeles 14, Cincinnati 2
San Francisco 15, St. Louis 2
Houston 3, Atlanta 0

Sunday's Results

Pittsburgh 3, Philadelphia 2
San Francisco 10, St. Louis 5
Houston 5, Atlanta 4
Cincinnati 2, Los Angeles 1
Chicago 3-1, New York 1-5

Today's Games

Los Angeles at Philadelphia, N
San Francisco at Pittsburgh, N
Cincinnati at Atlanta, N
St. Louis at Chicago
Only games scheduled

Tuesday's Games

Houston at New York, N
Los Angeles at Philadelphia, N
San Francisco at Pittsburgh, N
St. Louis at Chicago
Cincinnati at Atlanta, 2, twi-night

AMERICAN LEAGUE

	W.	L.	G.B.
Baltimore	15	4	--
Cleveland	15	4	--
Detroit	13	9	3½
Chicago	11	8	4
California	12	9	4
Minnesota	9	9	5½
Washington	7	12	8
Boston	7	14	9
New York	6	16	10½
Kansas City	5	15	10½

Saturday's Results

Cleveland 6, Baltimore 3
Minnesota 6, Boston 4
Chicago 1, Detroit 0
KansasCity 5, Washington 2
New York 3, California 1

Sunday's Results

New York 5, California 2
Washington 3, Kansas City 2, 10 innings
Boston 8-4, Minnesota 1-1
Detroit 3, Chicago 1, 1st game 11 innings, 2nd game, postponed, cold
Baltimore 8-8, Cleveland 2-3

Today's Games

Washington at California, N
Boston at Kansas City, N
New York at Minnesota, N
Only games scheduled

Tuesday's Games

Washington at California, N
Boston at Kansas City, N
New York at Minnesota, N
Detroit at Cleveland, N
Chicago at Baltimore, N

BOXING

Weekend Fights

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

PAU, France -- Marcel Cerdan, Jr., 141, Paris, outpointed Roger Malezieux, 140½, Pau, 8.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico -- Luis Rodriguez, 140½, Miami, Fla., stopped Tommy Caldwell, 159½, Chicago, 2; Frankie Narvaez, 135, New York, outpointed Percy Hayles, 136, Jamaica, 10; Teo Cruz, 136, Santo Domingo, outpointed Bunny Grant, 135, Jamaica, 10.

CULIACAN, Mexico--Antonio Amaya, 125½, Panama, outpointed Fino Rosales, 128, Mexico, 10.

h.i.s AT FALKOFF'S
104 Front St. Sikeston, Mo.

BATTERY & TIRE HEADQUARTERS

12 Months-6 Volt	$8.95
36 Months-6 Volt	13.95
36 Months-12 Volt	16.95
Exchange

Close Out On All Kelly Tires
7.50x14 Blackwalls
$9.95 or 2 for $19.50
Tax Paid
A & B OIL CO.
Phone GR 1-1424

BPS "Best Paint Sold"
Our Answer Man says—

Choose From Hundreds of Special Decorator Colors!

• Bring your color problems here, get professional decorating assistance. • 1500 colors to choose from — to suit any decor. • Our BPS ANSWER MAN will make it while you watch.

OUR BPS ANSWER MAN IS YOUR BEST INFORMED PAINT DEALER.

Sikeston LUMBER COMPANY
Buy Quality and you Buy Satisfaction
Phone GR 1-5226

YOU ARE INVITED TO ATTEND OUR
Grand Opening
MAY 10th
9 A.M. to 5 P.M.
REGISTER FOR
FREE PRIZES
1st PRIZE - PORTABLE TELEVISION
COME IN, VISIT WITH US & SEE YOURSELF ON CLOSED CIRCUIT T.V.
FREE COKES SERVED BY MISS SIKESTON
MISS BARBARA IRWIN

BILL KEEFER
Manager

GLOBAL FINANCE COMPANY
127 E. MALONE
GR 1-9255
SIKESTON, MO.

every man is entitled to "easy living"!

GENUINE Palm Beach TAILORED BY Palm Beach COMPANY

And that's what you get in these Palm Beach* lightweight slacks! Handsome appearance, coolness, comfort . . . plus famous Palm Beach quality tailoring all add up to "easy living." And the slacks can be washed or dry-cleaned, as you prefer.

$10.95

When you look your best you do your best

THE BUCKNER RAGSDALE Co

Double Poll Parrot Stamps Every Wednesday

*Reg. T.M. Goodall Sanford Incorporated

White House Power In Kitchen

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON AP-- President Johnson, in a humorous reply to Sen. J. W. Fulbright, says if there's any arrogance of power in the White House, it's in the kitchen.

At a White House diplomatic reception Wednesday night, the smiling President pulled from a pocket of his dinner jacket a penciled note he said he received from his long-time family cook, Zephyr Wright.

He told Fulbright he had analyzed the senator's speech warning the country to guard against arrogance of power. To prove his point, the President read the note.

"Mr. President," it said, "You have been my boss for a number of years and you always tell me you want to lose weight and yet you never do much to help yourself. Now I am going to be your boss for a change. Eat what I put in front of you and don't ask for any more and don't complain."

Johnson said the note shows there is no need to worry about arrogance in the White House. "Nobody is likely to get too big for his britches when he gets notes like this," he said.

Johnson said he had read the same note Wednesday to another of his Viet Nam policy critics, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., as they flew to Detroit for the funeral of Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a vigorous critic of administration Viet Nam policies, was among the guests at the reception.

Representatives from 113 foreign missions and their wives came in colorful, formal evening gowns and native costumes to join the President for a handshake, a buffet supper and dancing in the East Room to the Marine band.

Taxi Drivers Aid In Crime Protection

By HAL COOPER

NEW YORK AP -- Taxicab drivers in major American cities serve as a little-known, unpaid detective force on the alert against crime around the clock, a survey indicated com-

Spokesmen for taxicab companies expressed some surprise at a congressional resolution by Rep. Richard C. White, D-Tex., urging the enlistment of taxi drivers and dispatchers in the fight against lawbreakers.

The Chicago drivers report not only crimes but road accidents.

Maj. Forrest Garrison of the Kansas City, Mo., police staff services division said a program enlisted cabbies and truck drivers in anticrime activities has been in effect since 1964.

"It looks like the federal government is far behind as far as we are concerned," he said. He said he was sending Rep. White a letter outlining the Kansas City operation, which includes direct telephone links to advise taxicab, trucking and public utility companies of crime alerts.

"We've been helping the police right along," said Tom Rickhard, secretary-treasurer of a Detroit cab company. "It works both ways -- the police help us and we help them. If our drivers see anything suspicious they grab their radio mikes and report it."

Capt. Frank Dyson of the Dallas, Tex., Police department said "some of our cases have stood up in court only because of a taxi driver's report and later testimony."

Rex Taylor, president of a cab company operating in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland, Calif., said:

"I don't see where we need a new law. Everything is fine as it is. Cab drivers are very cooperative in aiding police in the prevention of crime. It might help if we had a stronger law against holding up cab drivers."

Parma Scouts Raise Money

PARMA--The Cub Scout Pack of Parma is planning a money raising project May 7. City Officials gave the Cub Scouts the okay to fine any person who violates any city ordinance, such as jay walking or parking illegally. The money will be used to further the Cub Scouts. The Cubs will be divided into two groups and the losing group must treat the winners to a wiener roast.

Luna Plays On

MOSCOW AP -- The Soviet Union's Luna-10 satellite completed its 284th orbit of the moon today and again transmitted the "Internationale" earth, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

The squeaky-voiced radio signal from the satellite played a recording of the Communist anthem April 4, one day after it went into orbit. It was piped into the Kremlin where 6,000 Russian and foreign delegates were attending the 23rd Soviet Communist party congress.

THE SIKESTON PUBLISHING COMPANY
PUBLISHED
203 S. New Madrid St.
SIKESTON, MISSOURI, 63801
PUBLISHED DAILY (EXCEPT SUNDAYS AND HOLIDAYS) AT SIKESTON, MISSOURI, 63801.
Entered at the Postoffice at Sikeston, Scott County, Missouri, 63801, as Second Class Mail Matter, according to Act of Congress, March 2, 1875, Saturday, 4th, 1950.
Second-class postage paid at Sikeston, Missouri, 63801.

C. L. Blanton, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
C. L. Blanton, III ..... Business Manager
Paul Bumbarger ..... City Editor
Ruth Dillender ..... Women's Page Editor
Ronnie Jaynes ..... Sports Editor
Jerry Wilson ..... Adv. Manager
Allen M. Blanton ..... Comm. Prtg. Mgr.
Joyce Staggs ..... Classified Adv. Mgr.
Glenn Greene ..... Circulation Mgr.

MEMBER
The Inland Daily Press Association
Audit Bureau of Circulation
Missouri Associated Dailies
Associated Press
The National Editorial Association

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION 1966 AFFILIATE MEMBER

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use for republicaion of all the local news printed in this newspaper as well as all AP news dispatches.
National Advertising Representative
Wallace Wilmer, Memphis, Tennessee

RATES —
Classified, per word 6c
Display Advertising, per inch $1.12
Reading Notices, per line 20c
Legal Notices at the Legal Rates
All Subscriptions payable in Advance
By Carrier: 35c per week in Sikeston; 30c per week elsewhere.
By Mail: Where Carrier service is not available.
Scott and Adjoining Counties:
1 Year $10.00
6 Months ..... $ 5.50
3 Months ..... $ 3.25
Elsewhere By Mail:
1 Year $15.00
6 Months ..... $ 8.00
3 Months ..... $ 5.00

THREE FINALISTS in the Mrs. America contest make a pretty picture against a Mission Bay setting in San Diego where the nation's number one homemaker will be named Saturday night to start reign on Mother's Day. Left to right: Mrs. District of Columbia, Audrey Burch of Washington; Mrs. Missouri, Betty Jean Cagna of Lexington, and Mrs. Utah, Rosanne Gordon of Salt Lake City. (AP Photo)

Air Force Pays Tribute To Blytheville

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., -- Blytheville Air Force Base will pay special tribute to the city of Blytheville on May 12 and May 14 as a salute to the city on its 75th anniversary observance.

The U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds will perform at the base at 4:30 p.m. May 12 and the base will hold its annual open house from 12-noon to 5 p.m. May 14.

The public is invited to visit the base on both dates. The gates will open to the public at 3:30 p.m. May 12 for the Thunderbirds performance and at 11:30 a.m. May 14 for the open house activities.

The activities of the open house May 14 start at 12:30 p.m. Included on the agenda will be the Screaming Eagles' demonstration team from Ft. Campbell, Kentucky, and a low-level aerial refueling demonstration by a B-52 Stratofortress bomber and a KC-135 Stratotanker.

The Screaming Eagles, a team of highly skilled parachutists, will free-fall for up to 75 seconds after jumping from a low-flying C-47 aircraft, before pulling their ripcords and landing directly in front of the crowd of spectators.

A typical free-fall show will find the team of four to eight men at three miles above the crowd guiding their jump aircraft in over the precise point to jump. At a signal from the Jumpmaster (who has a minimum of 200 free falls) the team will exit the aircraft in rapid succession, igniting a smoke bomb mounted on a boot bracket.

The smoke trails left by the falling jumpers outline the trajectory of their 125 mph descent which will take 75 seconds of fall from 15,000 to 2,000 feet. Upon opening their steerable parachutes at 2,000 feet the team will then guide for the landing area immediately in front of the crowd where they will perform stand-up landings.

The low-level aerial refueling demonstration between the KC-135 and B52 will give spectators a chance to see how fuel is transferred from the tanker to the bomber, a sight seldom seen by other than crew members involved.

A MITO (Minimum Interval Takeoff) of B-52s and KC-135s will be another highlight of the open house activities. Spectators will see Strategic Air Command's "heavyweight" bomber and its sister ship take off, one behind the other, as a demonstration of how the tactical fleet of aircraft can be launched in a minimum amount of time.

Also included throughout the afternoon will be various static displays of aircraft and equipment, including the B-52 and the KC-135.

A complete schedule of events for May 14 follows:

12:30 p.m. -- Simulated Nuclear Blast
12:35 p.m. -- Fort Campbell Sky Divers Arrive
1 p.m. -- NITO Takeoff - 2 B-52's and 2 KC-135's
1:30 p.m. -- Low-level Aerial Refueling Flyby Demonstration
2 p.m. -- Fort Campbell Sky Divers Perform
2:10 p.m. -- Judo Exhibition
3:10 p.m. -- Judo Exhibition
3:20 p.m. -- Fort Campbell Sky Drivers Perform
4:30 p.m. -- Fort Campbell Sky Divers Perform
5 p.m. -- Simulated Nuclear Explosion.

Tiger Under Hood

CLAWSON, Mich. AP -- "Officer," said the caller, "I got a tiger under the hood of my car."

It was a live ocelot under the hood of Bruce Crandall's car, nuzzling the manifold.

Sgt. Donald Smith and Officer Fred McIntyre extracted the animal with a dog warden's pole and loop.

William Vigus of Rochester claimed the 2-year-old beast, a pet named Occie. He said the animal, a gift from his son in Nicaragua, had run off March 30.

A tropical animal, Occie often crawled under car hoods for warmth, Vigus told police in this Detroit suburb.

Chena River Rises

FAIRBANKS, Alaska AP -- The Chena River continued a steady rise Sunday after rains.

Residents lined the Cushman street bridge downtown watching great cakes of ice float by on the high water.

Civil Defense Director Jack Murphy ordered cranes to stand by at the bridge and at the University Avenue bridge in nearby College in case logs, ice and debris threatened the spans.

Murphy said the water was about six and a half feet, up two feet from Saturday. Bank level is about 12 feet and the stream was rising rapidly.

THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

A Review of the 1964 Term

IX. PROPERTY AND BUSINESS

The Supreme Court spent a great deal of time in the 1964 term on the constitutional rights of criminals, Negroes, and dissenters, and enlarged very considerably their personal rights. But if personal rights are considered by the Court to be the "preferred" values, then property rights are the depressed values. In spite of the fact that protection of property rights and the right to engage in business and earn a livelihood were among the major aims of the framers of the Fourteenth Amendment, the present Court has given scant protection to such rights. In fact, there now seems to be more of a "constitutional right" to get money free from a bountiful government than to earn it for oneself.

Two years earlier, the Court completed the process of watering down the protection that the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment was intended to give to business to a mere trickle, by holding that States were virtually unrestricted in their regulation of businessmen; in short, that they could regulate business right out of business, or out of any other occupation. In the 1964 term, the Court demonstrated that the wellsprings of the Due Process Clause have just about run dry as far as such regulation is concerned. Summarily and without argument or opinion, the Court affirmed a district court decision that had overruled Tyson & Bros. v. Banton, a 1927 decision invalidating a New York theater ticket price fixing statute, thereby holding that States are free to fix the prices of anything as they may choose. It thus appears that the right to earn a living is now utterly devoid of constitutional protection and completely at the mercy of the State.

The Court struck one encouraging note for businessmen in the last term. If they have no right to go into business or stay in business, they at least have the right to get out of business, or to lock out their employees. To what extent the Court will hold these rights constitutionally protected, as distinguished from merely allowed under the National Labor Relations Act, remains for further explication. But the businessman whose only remaining right is to get out of business, can always exercise his constitutional right to seek employment on the ever-expanding Federal payroll.

Property rights got a jolt from another angle also. In this connection, it must be remembered that three years earlier the Supreme Court upheld a zoning ordinance in New York which, by prohibiting a landowner from mining sand and gravel below the water table, effectively rendered an existing mine useless. The Court there cast upon the landowner the burden of showing that no "state of facts either known or which could be reasonably assumed affords support for" the ordinance. Of course, because a landowner does not know what is in the files of the legislators who pass an ordinance, which affects his property, let alone what is in their minds, it is very difficult for him to rebut "any state of facts either known" to the legislators or which they "reasonably assumed" to exist. Hence, as in the case the Court then considered, the record will be likely to contain a "dearth of relevant evidence of these points." Therefore, the landowner usually will lose, and the protection of the Fourteenth Amendment which guarantees that his property will not be taken without due process of law, like a desert mirage, will vanish as he approaches it.

(To be continued)

FRATERNITY

'Tis known we never stand apart
from life,
Or ever walk alone;
That men's contagious joys and sorrows all
Become, in time, our own.
And yet it takes so long for us
to learn --
If learn we ever can --
That human welfare's universal
scope
Extends to very man.

--William Benton Johnston

MOUNTING SURPLUSES

I was taking a group of 2nd graders from our parish school on a tour of our new bank building. I noticed one boy had left the group and was staring with a puzzled look at the escalator running to the lower level. Since escalators were not commonplace in our small town, I walked over and asked, "Can I answer any questions for you?"

"Yes," he replied. "What do you do when your basement fills up with steps?"

--Patricia M. Cunningham

Each eye of the Statue of Liberty measures 2-foot-6 across.

GOING MY WAY?

Take your pick of these locations . . .
Outer space or depth of sea;
Sealab takes you through the waters,
For outer space it's Gemini.
Some may like these newfound places.
Where great mysteries abound
What you choose may be the limit,
But I'll still take the middle ground.

--Nell T. Bruner

In a meat market on Coney Island, N. Y., over the cash register: "Don't just stand there. Pay something!"

HAVE YOU HEARD?
KMPL 1520 K C's
SIKESTON, MISSOURI

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas—If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss . . . and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

NO OBLIGATION COUPON

To: Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc.
Dept. MO - 24, Box 66001, 3311 West Main St.
Houston, Texas 77006

I am submitting the following information with the understanding that it will be kept strictly confidential and that I am under no obligation whatsoever. I now have or have had the following conditions:

Do you have dandruff?____Is it dry?____or oily?____
Does your scalp have pimples or other irritations?____
Does your forehead become oily or greasy?____
Does your scalp itch?____When?____
How long has your hair been thinning?____
Do you still have hair?____or fuzz?____on top of your head.
How long is it?____Is it dry?____Is it oily?____
Attach any other information you feel may be helpful.

NAME____
ADDRESS____
CITY____STATE____

A COMPLETE PRINTING SERVICE

ANNOUNCEMENTS ● BOOKLETS ● BUSINESS CARDS ● INVOICES ● LABELS & TAGS ● LETTERHEADS ● OFFICE FORMS ●

What Kind of Business Image Do You Project?

See yourself as others see you: through properly printed forms, cards, billheads, letterheads — of your design or ours. You'll be satisfied with our prices and printing!

The Daily Sikeston Standard
COMMERCIAL PRINTERS
Call for Allen or III at GR 1-1137
Sikeston, Mo.

But Not If You Carry

HAIL INSURANCE

See Us!

LESLIE INSURANCE

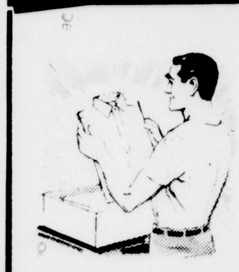

Joe Leslie
GR 1-4114

Rik Leslie
GR 1-4114

217 Tanner
Sikeston, Mo.

We don't want all the business-Just Yours

FOR THAT FRESH, CLEAN LOOK

We put our pride in your shirts... they have to be perfect!

Collars pressed right, cuffs neat, no embarassing wrinkles or uncomfortable scratching . . . and shiny clean. That's a well-groomed shirt!

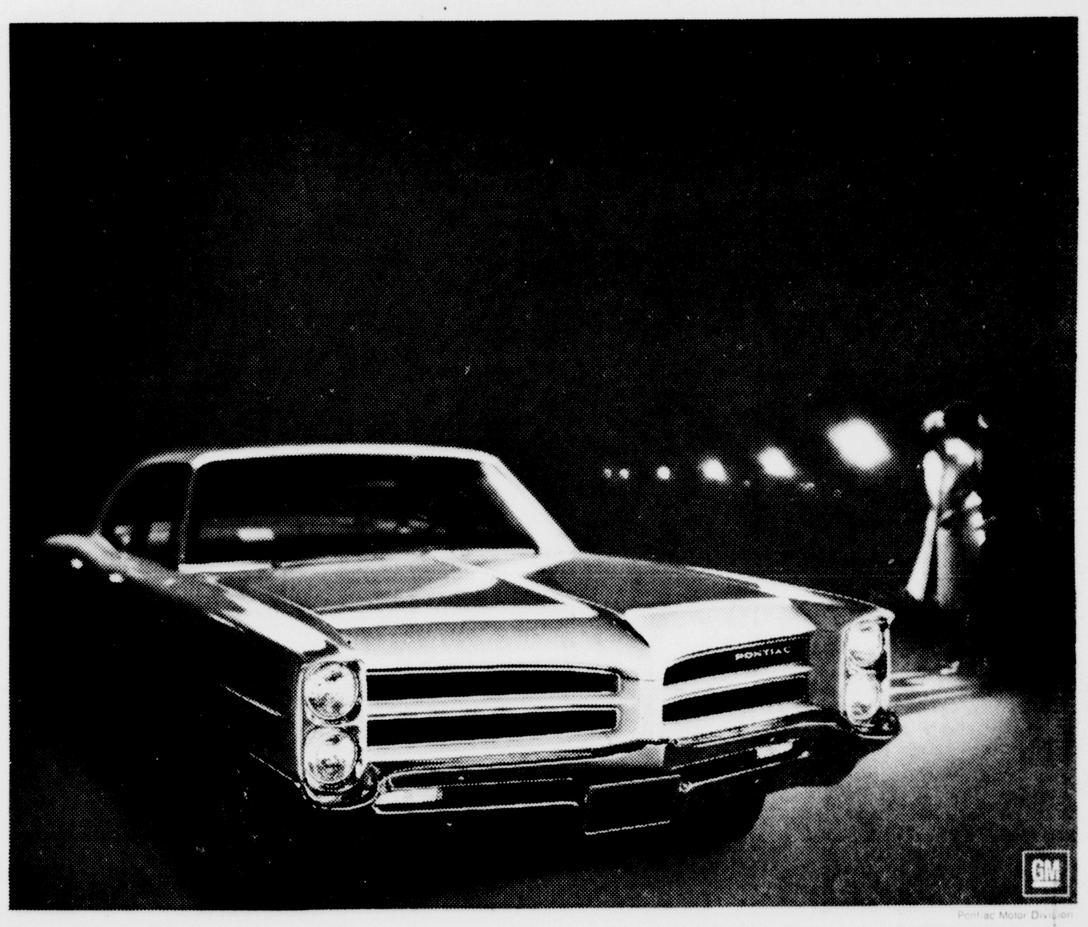

Ask about our uniform Rental Plan

W. B. "Bill" Guess
Route Man For

Budget Laundry & Cleaners

PHONE GR 1-1080 Day
GR 1-1352 Night - Sikeston

The low-priced high-price car.

Pontiac Motor Division

Low-priced because it's a Catalina with a sticker that's right down within reach of a lot of low-priced car buyers. And high-priced because it's a big, powerful Pontiac, complete with the Pontiac name and everything that goes with it. Like a full 121 inches of road-leveling wheelbase. And 50 more standard horsepower than those low-priced cars offer. And steady Wide-Track ride and handling. With luxurious interiors you practically sink up to your knees in. (And, of course, standard safety items like a padded dashboard.) All backed up by Pontiac's legendary resale value that makes such exciting reading in the record books year after year. Makes you wonder why anybody would buy a low-priced car when you can get a Pontiac Catalina for the same money.

Wide-Track Pontiac Catalina
(A big, powerful Pontiac for less than $3000*.)

*Manufacturer's suggested retail prices for Catalina 2- and 4-door sedans and 2- and 4-door hardtops are all less than $3000. These prices include state tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charges. Transportation charges, state and local taxes, accessories and optional equipment additional.

SEE YOUR AUTHORIZED PONTIAC DEALER

White House Power In Kitchen

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON AP-- President Johnson, in a humorous reply to Sen. J. W. Fulbright, says if there's any arrogance of power in the White House, it's in the kitchen.

At a White House diplomatic reception Wednesday night, the smiling President pulled from a pocket of his dinner jacket a penciled note he said he received from his long-time family cook, Zephyr Wright.

He told Fulbright he had analyzed the senator's speech warning the country to guard against arrogance of power. To prove his point, the President read the note.

"Mr. President," it said, "You have been my boss for a number of years and you always tell me you want to lose weight and yet you never do much to help yourself. Now I am going to be your boss for a change. Eat what I put in front of you and don't ask for any more and don't complain."

Johnson said the note shows there is no need to worry about arrogance in the White House. "Nobody is likely to get too big for his britches when he gets notes like this," he said.

Johnson said he had read the same note Wednesday to another of his Viet Nam policy critics, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., as they flew to Detroit for the funeral of Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and a vigorous critic of administration Viet Nam policies, was among the guests at the reception.

Representatives from 113 foreign missions and their wives came in colorful, formal evening gowns and native costumes to join the President for a handshake, a buffet supper and dancing in the East Room to the Marine band.

Taxi Drivers Aid In Crime Protection

By HAL COOPER

NEW YORK AP -- Taxicab drivers in major American cities serve as a little-known, unpaid detective force on the alert against crime around the clock, a survey indicated com-

Spokesmen for taxicab companies expressed some surprise at a congressional resolution by Rep. Richard C. White, D-Tex., urging the enlistment of taxi drivers and dispatchers in the fight against lawbreakers.

The Chicago drivers report not only crimes but road accidents.

Maj. Forrest Garrison of the Kansas City, Mo., police staff services division said a program enlisted cabbies and truck drivers in anticrime activities has been in effect since 1964.

"It looks like the federal government is far behind as far as we are concerned," he said. He said he was sending Rep. White a letter outlining the Kansas City operation, which includes direct telephone links to advise taxicab, trucking and public utility companies of crime alerts.

"We've been helping the police right along," said Tom Rickhard, secretary-treasurer of a Detroit cab company. "It works both ways -- the police help us and we help them. If our drivers see anything suspicious they grab their radio mikes and report it."

Capt. Frank Dyson of the Dallas, Tex., Police department said "some of our cases have stood up in court only because of a taxi driver's report and later testimony."

Rex Taylor, president of a cab company operating in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland, Calif., said:

"I don't see where we need a new law. Everything is fine as it is. Cab drivers are very cooperative in aiding police in the prevention of crime. It might help if we had a stronger law against holding up cab drivers."

THE SIKESTON PUBLISHING COMPANY
PUBLISHED
203 S. New Madrid St.
SIKESTON, MISSOURI, 63801
PUBLISHED DAILY (EXCEPT SUNDAYS AND HOLIDAYS) AT SIKESTON, MISSOURI, 63801.
Entered at the Postoffice at Sikeston, Scott County, Missouri, 63801, as Second Class Mail Matter, according to Act of Congress, March 2, 1875, Saturday, 4th, 1950.
Second-class postage paid at Sikeston, Missouri, 63801.

C. L. Blanton, Jr. ..... Managing Editor
C. L. Blanton, III ..... Business Manager
Paul Bumbarger ..... City Editor
Ruth Dillender ..... Women's Page Editor
Ronnie Jaynes ..... Sports Editor
Jerry Wilson ..... Adv. Manager
Allen M. Blanton ..... Comm. Prtg. Mgr.
Joyce Staggs ..... Classified Adv. Mgr.
Glenn Greene ..... Circulation Mgr.

MEMBER
The Inland Daily Press Association
Audit Bureau of Circulation
Missouri Associated Dailies
Associated Press
The National Editorial Association

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION 1966 AFFILIATE MEMBER

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use for republication of all the local news printed in this newspaper as well as all AP news dispatches.
National Advertising Representative
Wallace Wilmer, Memphis, Tennessee
RATES —
Classified, per word 6c
Display Advertising, per inch $1.12
Reading Notices, per line 20c
Legal Notices at the Legal Rates
All Subscriptions payable in Advance
By Carrier: 35c per week in Sikeston; 30c per week elsewhere.
By Mail: Where Carrier service is not available.
Scott and Adjoining Counties:
1 Year $10.00
6 Months ..... $ 5.50
3 Months ..... $ 3.25
Elsewhere By Mail:
1 Year $15.00
6 Months ..... $ 8.00
3 Months ..... $ 5.00

Parma Scouts Raise Money

PARMA--The Cub Scout Pack of Parma is planning a money raising project May 7. City Officials gave the Cub Scouts the okay to fine any person who violates any city ordinance, such as jay walking or parking illegally. The money will be used to further the Cub Scouts. The Cubs will be divided into two groups and the losing group must treat the winners to a wiener roast.

Luna Plays On

MOSCOW AP -- The Soviet Union's Luna-10 satellite completed its 284th orbit of the moon today and again transmitted the "Internationale" earth, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

The squeaky-voiced radio signal from the satellite played a recording of the Communist anthem April 4, one day after it went into orbit. It was piped into the Kremlin where 6,000 Russian and foreign delegates were attending the 23rd Soviet Communist party congress.

THREE FINALISTS in the Mrs. America contest make a pretty picture against a Mission Bay setting in San Diego where the nation's number one homemaker will be named Saturday night to start reign on Mother's Day. Left to right: Mrs. District of Columbia, Audrey Burch of Washington; Mrs. Missouri, Betty Jean Cagna of Lexington, and Mrs. Utah, Rosanne Gordon of Salt Lake City. (AP Photo)

Air Force Pays Tribute To Blytheville

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., -- Blytheville Air Force Base will pay special tribute to the city of Blytheville on May 12 and May 14 as a salute to the city on its 75th anniversary observance.

The U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds will perform at the base at 4:30 p.m. May 12 and the base will hold its annual open house from 12-noon to 5 p.m. May 14.

The public is invited to visit the base on both dates. The gates will open to the public at 3:30 p.m. May 12 for the Thunderbirds performance and at 11:30 a.m. May 14 for the open house activities.

The activities of the open house May 14 start at 12:30 p.m. Included on the agenda will be the Screaming Eagles' demonstration team from Ft. Campbell, Kentucky, and a low-level aerial refueling demonstration by a B-52 Stratofortress bomber and a KC-135 Stratotanker.

The Screaming Eagles, a team of highly skilled parachutists, will free-fall for up to 75 seconds after jumping from a low-flying C-47 aircraft, before pulling their ripcords and landing directly in front of the crowd of spectators.

A typical free-fall show will find the team of four to eight men at three miles above the crowd guiding their jump aircraft in over the precise point to jump. At a signal from the Jumpmaster (who has a minimum of 200 free falls) the team will exit the aircraft in rapid succession, igniting a smoke bomb mounted on a boot bracket.

The smoke trails left by the falling jumpers outline the trajectory of their 125 mph descent which will take 75 seconds of fall from 15,000 to 2,000 feet. Upon opening their steerable parachutes at 2,000 feet the team will then guide for the landing area immediately in front of the crowd where they will perform stand-up landings.

The low-level aerial refueling demonstration between the KC-135 and B52 will give spectators a chance to see how fuel is transferred from the tanker to the bomber, a sight seldom seen by other than crew members involved.

A MITO (Minimum Interval Takeoff) of B-52s and KC-135s will be another highlight of the open house activities. Spectators will see Strategic Air Command's "heavyweight" bomber and its sister ship take off, one behind the other, as a demonstration of how the tactical fleet of aircraft can be launched in a minimum amount of time.

Also included throughout the afternoon will be various static displays of aircraft and equipment, including the B-52 and the KC-135.

A complete schedule of events for May 14 follows:

12:30 p.m. -- Simulated Nuclear Blast
12:35 p.m. -- Fort Campbell Sky Divers Arrive
1 p.m. -- NITO Takeoff - 2 B-52's and 2 KC-135's
1:30 p.m. -- Low-level Aerial Refueling Flyby Demonstration
2 p.m. -- Fort Campbell Sky Divers Perform
2:10 p.m. -- Judo Exhibition
3:10 p.m. -- Judo Exhibition
3:20 p.m. -- Fort Campbell Sky Drivers Perform
4:30 p.m. -- Fort Campbell Sky Divers Perform
5 p.m. -- Simulated Nuclear Explosion.

Tiger Under Hood

CLAWSON, Mich. AP -- "Officer," said the caller, "I got a tiger under the hood of my car."

It was a live ocelot under the hood of Bruce Crandall's car, nuzzling the manifold.

Sgt. Donald Smith and Officer Fred McIntyre extracted the animal with a dog warden's pole and loop.

William Vigus of Rochester claimed the 2-year-old beast, a pet named Occie. He said the animal, a gift from his son in Nicaragua, had run off March 30.

A tropical animal, Occie often crawled under car hoods for warmth, Vigus told police in this Detroit suburb.

Chena River Rises

FAIRBANKS, Alaska AP -- The Chena River continued a steady rise Sunday after rains.

Residents lined the Cushman street bridge downtown watching great cakes of ice float by on the high water.

Civil Defense Director Jack Murphy ordered cranes to stand by at the bridge and at the University Avenue bridge in nearby College in case logs, ice and debris threatened the spans.

Murphy said the water was about six and a half feet, up two feet from Saturday. Bank level is about 12 feet and the stream was rising rapidly.

THE SUPREME COURT OF THE UNITED STATES

A Review of the 1964 Term

IX. PROPERTY AND BUSINESS

The Supreme Court spent a great deal of time in the 1964 term on the constitutional rights of criminals, Negroes, and dissenters, and enlarged very considerably their personal rights. But if personal rights are considered by the Court to be the "preferred" values, then property rights are the depressed values. In spite of the fact that protection of property rights and the right to engage in business and earn a livelihood were among the major aims of the framers of the Fourteenth Amendment, the present Court has given scant protection to such rights. In fact, there now seems to be more of a "constitutional right" to get money free from a bountiful government than to earn it for oneself.

Two years earlier, the Court completed the process of watering down the protection that the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment was intended to give to business to a mere trickle, by holding that States were virtually unrestricted in their regulation of businessmen; in short, that they could regulate business right out of business, or out of any other occupation. In the 1964 term, the Court demonstrated that the wellsprings of the Due Process Clause have just about run dry as far as such regulation is concerned. Summarily and without argument or opinion, the Court affirmed a district court decision that had overruled Tyson & Bros. v. Banton, a 1927 decision invalidating a New York theater ticket price fixing statute, thereby holding that States are free to fix the prices of anything as they may choose. It thus appears that the right to earn a living is now utterly devoid of constitutional protection and completely at the mercy of the State.

The Court struck one encouraging note for businessmen in the last term. If they have no right to go into business or stay in business, they at least have the right to get out of business, or to lock out their employees. To what extent the Court will hold these rights constitutionally protected, as distinguished from merely allowed under the National Labor Relations Act, remains for further explication. But the businessman whose only remaining right is to get out of business, can always exercise his constitutional right to seek employment on the ever-expanding Federal payroll.

Property rights got a jolt from another angle also. In this connection, it must be remembered that three years earlier the Supreme Court upheld a zoning ordinance in New York which, by prohibiting a landowner from mining sand and gravel below the water table, effectively rendered an existing mine useless. The Court there cast upon the landowner the burden of showing that no "state of facts either known or which could be reasonably assumed affords support for" the ordinance. Of course, because a landowner does not know what is in the files of the legislators who pass an ordinance, which affects his property, let alone what is in their minds, it is very difficult for him to rebut "any state of facts either known" to the legislators or which they "reasonably assumed" to exist. Hence, as in the case the Court then considered, the record will be likely to contain a "dearth of relevant evidence of these points." Therefore, the landowner usually will lose, and the protection of the Fourteenth Amendment which guarantees that his property will not be taken without due process of law, like a desert mirage, will vanish as he approaches it.

(To be continued)

FRATERNITY

'Tis known we never stand apart
from life,
Or ever walk alone;
That men's contagious joys and sorrows all
Become, in time, our own.
And yet it takes so long for us
to learn --
If learn we ever can --
That human welfare's universal
scope
Extends to very man.

--William Benton Johnston

MOUNTING SURPLUSES

I was taking a group of 2nd graders from our parish school on a tour of our new bank building. I noticed one boy had left the group and was staring with a puzzled look at the escalator running to the lower level. Since escalators were not commonplace in our small town, I walked over and asked, "Can I answer any questions for you?"

"Yes," he replied. "What do you do when your basement fills up with steps?"

--Patricia M. Cunningham

Each eye of the Statue of Liberty measures 2-foot-6 across.

GOING MY WAY?

Take your pick of these locations . . .
Outer space or depth of sea;
Sealab takes you through the waters,
For outer space it's Gemini,
Some may like these newfound places.
Where great mysteries abound
What you choose may be the limit,
But I'll still take the middle ground.

--Nell T. Bruner

In a meat market on Coney Island, N. Y., over the cash register: "Don't just stand there. Pay something!"

HAVE YOU HEARD?
KMPL 1520 K C's
SIKESTON, MISSOURI

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas—If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss . . . and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

NO OBLIGATION COUPON

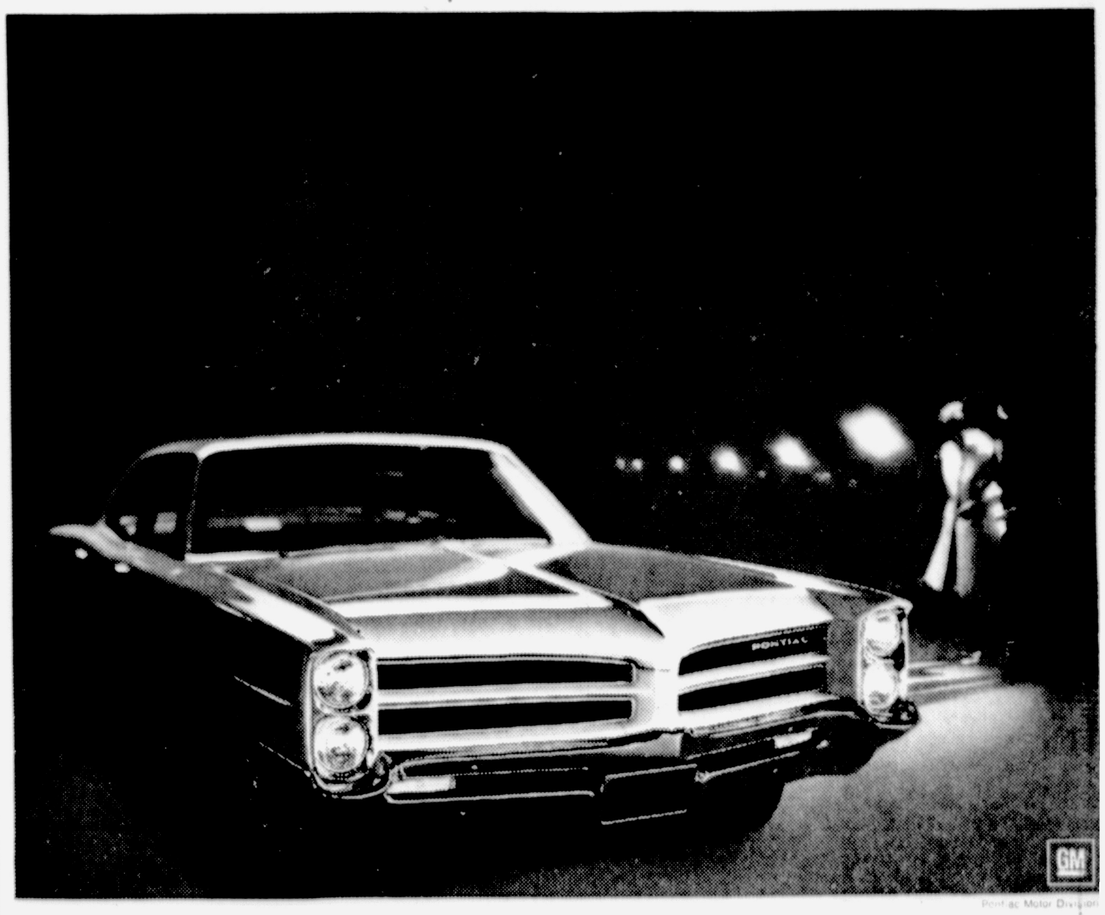

To: Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc.
Dept. MO - 24 . Box 66001, 3311 West Main St.
Houston, Texas 77006

I am submitting the following information with the understanding that it will be kept strictly confidential and that I am under no obligation whatsoever. I now have or have had the following conditions:

Do you have dandruff?____Is it dry?____or oily?____
Does your scalp have pimples or other irritations?____
Does your forehead become oily or greasy?____
Does your scalp itch?____When?____
How long has your hair been thinning?____
Do you still have hair?____or fuzz?____on top of your head.
How long is it?____Is it dry?____Is it oily?____
Attach any other information you feel may be helpful.

NAME____
ADDRESS____
CITY____STATE____

The low-priced high-price car.

Low-priced because it's a Catalina with a sticker that's right down within reach of a lot of low-priced car buyers. And high-priced because it's a big, powerful Pontiac, complete with the Pontiac name and everything that goes with it. Like a full 121 inches of road-leveling wheelbase. And 50 more standard horsepower than those low-priced cars offer. And steady Wide-Track ride and handling. With luxurious interiors you practically sink up to your knees in. (And, of course, standard safety items like a padded dashboard.) All backed up by Pontiac's legendary resale value that makes such exciting reading in the record books year after year. Makes you wonder why anybody would buy a low-priced car when you can get a Pontiac Catalina for the same money.

Wide-Track Pontiac Catalina
(A big, powerful Pontiac for less than $3000*.)

*Manufacturer's suggested retail prices for Catalina 2- and 4-door sedans and 2- and 4-door hardtops are all less than $3000. These prices include state tax and suggested dealer delivery and handling charges. Transportation charges, state and local taxes, accessories and optional equipment additional.

SEE YOUR AUTHORIZED PONTIAC DEALER

Pontiac Motor Division

A COMPLETE PRINTING SERVICE

What Kind of Business Image Do You Project?

See yourself as others see you: through properly printed forms, cards, billheads, letterheads — of your design or ours. You'll be satisfied with our prices and printing!

The Daily Sikeston Standard
COMMERCIAL PRINTERS
Call for Allen or Ill at GR 1-1137
Sikeston, Mo.

ANNOUNCEMENTS ● BOOKLETS ● BUSINESS CARDS ● INVOICES ● LABELS & TAGS ● LETTERHEADS ● OFFICE FORMS

But Not If You Carry

HAIL INSURANCE

See Us!

LESLIE INSURANCE

Joe Leslie
GR 1-4114

Rik Leslie
GR 1-4114

217 Tanner
Sikeston, Mo.

We don't want all the business-Just Yours

FOR THAT FRESH, CLEAN LOOK

We put our pride in your shirts... they have to be perfect!

Collars pressed right, cuffs neat, no embarassing wrinkles or uncomfortable scratching . . . and shiny clean. That's a well-groomed shirt!

Ask about our uniform Rental Plan

W. B. "Bill" Guess
Route Man For

Budget Laundry & Cleaners

PHONE GR 1-1080 Day
GR 1-1352 Night - Sikeston

Politics Grow Tense in Viet Nam

The World's Weekend
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The political situation in South Viet Nam grew more tense over the weekend.

A powerful Buddhist leader in Saigon, Thich Thien Minh, said there would be strong protests if the central government delays national assembly elections next fall.

The developments were spurred by a statement by President Nugyen Cao Ky that his military regime would remain in office for at least another year. Buddhists have demanded a quick end to military rule and a return to civilian government.

Ky's regime moved to stifle any political agitation that might come from the pledge to stay in power.

There was evidence that U. S. officials in Saigon were bracing for more trouble following Ky's statement.

President Johnson, at his Texas ranch, proposed that the United States, the Soviet Union, and other space powers join in a treaty outlawing military activity on the moon. The pact also would deny any nation lunar sovereignty.

Johnson said the objective is to make sure that astronauts from all nations can conduct scientific investigations freely on the moon.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has told associates he regards as excellent a proposal by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., for creation of a high-level commission to reassess U. S. relations with Red China. Kennedy's proposal has been seconded by Sen. George McGovern, D-S. D.

Other weekend developments:

The President picked a new director of the Tennessee Valley Administration Sunday. He is Donald Opie McBride, 63, a native of Cowles, Neb., who has been living in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Gov. John B. Connally of Texas, long-time friend of President Johnson, easily won Democratic renomination for a third two-year term.

The Office of Education in Washington said 255 school districts have ignored requests to pledge compliance with civil rights laws in order to qualify for new federal aid. The office said the districts are regarded as out of compliance.

The Johnson administration, acting in the face of declining hog prices and considerable farm belt criticism, rescinded an order curtailing pork-buying by the Armed Forces.

Walter S. Gifford, former U. S. ambassador to Great Britain and retired president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., died Saturday. He was 81.

Mansfield Says To Recognize Mongolia

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON AP -- Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield proposed today that the United States recognize Mongolia, a Communist-controlled nation sandwiched between Red China and the Soviet Union in mainland Asia.

This would help ease international tensions, Mansfield said in an interview, and give the United States "a valuable listening post" between the two Communist giants.

Mansfield's proposal came as he endorsed the call by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and George S. McGovern, D-S.C., for appointment of a "blue ribbon" commission to reassess U.S. policy toward Communist China.

The Kennedy-McGovern suggestions also brought these developments during the weekend:

--Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who testifies before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today, described the commission proposal as "an intriguing idea." But Rusk said for more than a year the executive branch has had a very competent group making an intensive study of these matters. He did not further identify the group. "They have been in touch with experts outside; they have visited universities and they have searched the literature for possible new ideas," Rusk said on the ABC television-radio program "Issues and Answers."

He also said he has discussed recently with President Johnson "the desirability of systematizing outside advance in the general areas of the world." He added: "I think it is very likely that we shall do this somethat more systematically than we have done before."

--Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was reported actively supporting the proposal to create a commission. Although he was silent about Johnson's reaction. Humphrey's endorsement was viewed as indicating a willingness by the administration to explore new avenues in Asin policies.

--Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N. Y., said Humphrey's support encourages him to believe such a policy review may materialize. "I certainly think we need to have a searching look at possible future relations with Communist China," he said.

Rusk disagreed with Sen. J. W. Fulbright's view that American forces in Viet Nam have turned Saigon into a brothel. Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, expressed this view in a speech last Thursday night.

"It just isn't true," said Rusk. He said Fulbright's allegations reflect "unfairly and inaccurately on what our men are doing over there."

Rusk also took issue with comments made Sunday by historian Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. on the CBS television program "Face the Nation."

Schlesinger said Johnson lacks the judgment to overrule wrong advice about Viet Nam from the State Department and the military. He said "the motion that the Viet Cong equals Hanoi equals Peking seems to me crazy." And he said there is fear among intellectuals that Johnson "is not in personal control of his government."

Asked about Schlesinger's statements, Rusk said "Mr. Schlesinger is not an expert on Asia. He played a very small role on Asian questions when he was in the government."

The American ambassador to Saigon, Henry Cabot Lodge, arrives in Washington late today for consultations on the situation in South Viet Nam. He is expected to meet with President Johnson Tuesday or Wednesday.

Mansfield said in an interview that while Viet Nam poses problems for any action at this time, "I would like to see recognition given to Outer Mongolia.

"I believe such action on our part would contribute toward the relaxation of international tensions," he said. "It would also give us a valuable listening post in that part of the world."

The State Department recently said the possible establishment of diplomatic relations with Mongolia was under study.

Mansfield said he is informed Mongolia is eager to establish relations but that the United States has held back. He said Mongolia fears mainland China, which regards the area as its own. Mongolia leans toward the Soviet Union at this point, he added.

The Republic of China on Formosa does not recognize Mongolia as an independent state and would object strenuously to U.S. recognition.

Mansfield said he thinks the Kennedy - McGovern commission proposal has a great deal of merit.

"I am sure the State Department has been studying and reviewing China policies for a long time," he said. "But it seems to me the recent hearings before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on China have given impetus to a further move to review those policies."

Mansfield indicated he believes the establishment of such a commission depends on President Johnson's attitude.

It would be "a delicate matter," Mansfield said, for Congress to act independently of the President to set up a commission on international policies.

Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N. Y., said the commission "might be an appearance on the Mutual Broadcasting System's "Reporters Roundup," that the main issue should be a peace settlement n Viet Nam.

To Be Ordained

ORAN, Mo. -- Reverend Edward Martin Eftink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Eftink, Oran, Missouri, will be ordained to the priesthood on Saturday, May 14, 1966 at Guardian Angels Church, Oran, 10:00 a.m., by the Most Reverend Ignatius J. Strecker, S.T.D., Bishop of Springfield-Cape Girardeau.

Father Eftink will celebrate his First Solemn Mass on Sunday, May 15, 1966 at 1:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Other ministers of the Mass will be the Reverend Gervase W. Ingoldsby, M.A., pastor of Guardian Angels Parish, Oran, as Arch-priest; Reverend Joseph E. Gosche, Vice-Chancellor of the Springfield-Cape Girardeau Diocese, as Deacon; Reverend Louis J. Wyrsch, assistant pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Poplar Bluff, as Subdeacon; Reverend Robert A. Landewee, assistant pastor of St. Augustine Church, Kelso, as Master of Ceremonies; Reverend Robert Schumacher, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Caruthersville, will give the sermon. The minor ministers are David, Louis, Carl, Mark and Stephen Eftink.

Father Edward M. Eftink was born in Portageville, Missouri. He attended Oran Public High School and Notre Dame High School, Cape Girardeau, graduating in 1957 as Salutatorian. He attended St. Louis University, summer classes at Conception Seminary, Conception, Mo. and Cardinal Glennon College, St. Louis, Mo.

Father Eftink studied Philosophy and Theology at the Catholic University of America, Washington, D.C. He received a three year scholarship under the Basselin Foundation which led to a Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees in Philosophy. Currently he is working on his Doctorate of Philosophy degree in Education.

Besides his parents, Father Eftink has six brothers and one sister, all younger than he; Michael of Kelso, Mo., Thomas, Larry, David, Louis and Kenneth all of Oran, and Miss Barbara Eftink of Cape Girardeau, Mo.

A reception will be held after the Mass in Guardian Angels Hall, Oran.

Cobb Gives One Of Best Ever

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK AP -- The end of a man when his dream world is shattered was powerfully depicted Sunday night in CBS-TV's fine adaptation of Arthur Miller's famous "Death of a Salesman."

In two hours of tense, even painful drama we watched an aging, defeated traveling salesman move inexorably to self destruction clinging desperately to the fantasies of quick fortune, of fame, of popularity on which he built his shabby life.

Lee J. Cobb, playing the distraught Willy Loman, turned in a overwhelming performance that was as effective as his Broadway portrayal of the role 17 years ago. So was Mildred Dunnock's portrait of his loving, patient and blindly loyal wife.

The drama was related largely in flashbacks to happier days in the story of the salesman--"just a hard-working drummer" as his son screamed in his moment of truth.

Loman's grandiose dreams ballooned everything larger than reality -- money he had made in the past was big, a son who had been a stock clerk was inflated to be a star salesman.

His pathetic values, mostly involving being important and well-liked, were shaken with age and faltering sales success. But the fantasies also had destroyed his two sons, Biff, 34, making $28 a week, and who was a petty theft, and Happy, a bum, braggart and liar.

George Segal and James Farentino, playing the sons, gave fine performances.

Earlier in the evening on ABC, "I Am a Soldier" was an absorbing documentary on Viet Nam. It concentrated on one company commander, a West Point graduate, for about three days of combat with the elusive Viet Cong.

We were with Capt. Theodore Danielsen and some of his men in training. We went along jungle trails, avoiding booby traps and dodging sniper bullets to find and destroy a Charlie outpost.

The photography was excellent. Producer John Secondari who wrote and narrated the program has an ornate, oratorical style that seemed a little lush for the stark and grim subject matter.

Recommended tonight: "The Hill Country: Lyndon Johnson's Texas," NBC, 9-10 CDT, special program in which the president of the United States conducts a tour around the country in which he was born.

Population To Double

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. AP--Population experts are raising the flag on long-range estimates of how many people will inhabit the earth after the turn of the century.

This is reported in a new United Nations booklet on population problems prepared by T. E. Smith of the Institute of Commonwealth Studies at the University of London.

A U.N. report in 1963 said the world's population, estimated at three billion in 1960, might double to six billion by the year 2,000. This was based on assumptions as to trends in fertility and mortality made for various world regions.

The report said also the estimate at the low point could be 5,300,000,000 and at the high point 6,800,000,000.

Governments and international agencies have been using the U. N. estimates as a framework for assessments of future social and economic needs.

In summing up the findings of the second U. N. world population conference, Smith said the participants stressed that it was unwise to take long-range estimates literally because of the many uncertainties that lie ahead.

One of the handicaps faced by population analysts is the lack of data from Communist China.

In surbaban Atlanta a pediatrician uses old typewriters to keep children pacified in his waiting room. He cut down the legs of a table and placed several typewriters on it for them. Now his small patients cry only when they leave.

--Hugh Park

A Brooklyn dentist has found a way to make children's visits a bit more pleasant. He hands the youngsters a water pistol to use in rinsing out their mouths.

--Akron Beacon Journal

Grandmother Makes Hit Records

By MARY CAMPBELL

NEW YORK AP -- Listening to records made by a plump-gray-haired grandmother who warbles and whistles rock 'n' roll songs, mostly off-key, is the current kick in U. S. pop music.

The singer is Mrs. Elva Miller of Claremont, Calif., 35 miles east of Los Angeles. Her family was against Mrs. Miller's trying to make records but she went ahead.

Her first long-playing record, "Mrs. Miller's Greatest Hits," was released by Capitol Records April 11 and sold 50,000 copies its first two days out. The "LP" and two songs taken from it and released as a single, "Downtown" and "A Lovers Concerto," all are on the best-selling charts compiled by Billboard Magazine.

Mrs. Miller sings with a vibrato which sounds as if she had once studied voice, which she did. Meanwhile she often changes key and goes flat, reminiscent of the late Florence Foster Jenkins.

She sucks ice cubes while she does her bird-like whistles, to contract the muscles for a more controlled pucker.

Ed Sullivan has signed her for an appearance on his TV show May 22.

Disc jockeys apparently love the novelty of "The Miller sound." A station in Denver played the record 24 hours straight.

Statistics show that every four seconds a woman gives birth to a baby. Our problem is to find this woman and stop her.

--Henny Youngman

Product of The American Tobacco Company ©A. T. Co.
L.S./M.F.T.
LUCKY STRIKE
filters
I said,
"Show me a filter cigarette that really delivers taste and I'll eat my hat!"

FREE FREE

TO SENIOR CITIZENS 62 AND OVER

Information as to how you can own your own new home!

If you live in a town under 5500 population, or in a rural area and can pay $28.00 per month, you can own your own new home!!!

GOVERNMENT FINANCED LOAN

See us for details

E. C. ROBINSON LUMBER COMPANY

SIKESTON, MISSOURI

PHONE GR 1-3284

solid success!

$35.00

Zephyrweight Oxford Weaves are this season's newest note in solid color sportcoats. And Palm Beach* brings you this fashion at its peak of perfection. A crisp, wrinkle-fighting fabric of Dacron® polyester and cotton . . . tailoring that's outstanding . . . and models as up-to-date as the news in today's newspaper. Come in and have a look.

THE BUCKNER RAGSDALE CO

*Reg. T.M. Goods

Chocolate milk is just chocolate milk

...unless it's

Reiss

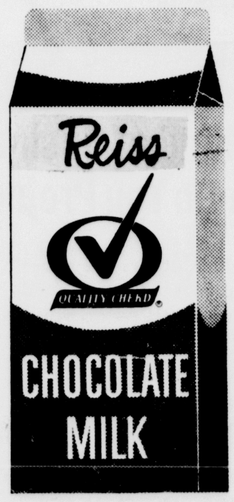

©1965, Quality Chekd Dairy Assn.

Then you know it's Quality Chekd®!

We always keep in mind the main reason that you buy chocolate milk. Because—simply—you like the taste of chocolate. So we never skimp on it. Yet there are plenty of vitamins and minerals, too. So our chocolate milk not only satisfies your craving for chocolate, but also helps meet your daily nutritional needs.

Next time you buy chocolate milk, remember that ours is one of the select dairies authorized to carry the Quality Chekd label. It does make a difference.

Reiss

Politics Grow Tense in Viet Nam

The World's Weekend
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The political situation in South Viet Nam grew more tense over the weekend.

A powerful Buddhist leader in Saigon, Thich Thien Minh, said there would be strong protests if the central government delays national assembly elections next fall.

The developments were spurred by a statement by President Nugyen Cao Ky that his military regime would remain in office for at least another year. Buddhists have demanded a quick end to military rule and a return to civilian government.

Ky's regime moved to stifle any political agitation that might come from the pledge to stay in power.

There was evidence that U. S. officials in Saigon were bracing for more trouble following Ky's statement.

President Johnson, at his Texas ranch, proposed that the United States, the Soviet Union, and other space powers join in a treaty outlawing military activity on the moon. The pact also would deny any nation lunar sovereignty.

Johnson said the objective is to make sure that astronauts from all nations can conduct scientific investigations freely on the moon.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey has told associates he regards as excellent a proposal by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., for creation of a high-level commission to reassess U. S. relations with Red China. Kennedy's proposal has been seconded by Sen. George McGovern, D-S. D.

Other weekend developments:

The President picked a new director of the Tennessee Valley Administration Sunday. He is Donald Opie McBride, 63, a native of Cowles, Neb., who has been living in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Gov. John B. Connally of Texas, long-time friend of President Johnson, easily won Democratic renomination for a third two-year term.

The Office of Education in Washington said 255 school districts have ignored requests to pledge compliance with civil rights laws in order to qualify for new federal aid. The office said the districts are regarded as out of compliance.

The Johnson administration, acting in the face of declining hog prices and considerable farm belt criticism, rescinded an order curtailing pork-buying by the Armed Forces.

Walter S. Gifford, former U. S. ambassador to Great Britain and retired president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., died Saturday. He was 81.

Mansfield Says To Recognize Mongolia

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON AP -- Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield proposed today that the United States recognize Mongolia, a Communist-controlled nation sandwiched between Red China and the Soviet Union in mainland Asia.

This would help ease international tensions, Mansfield said in an interview, and give the United States "a valuable listening post" between the two Communist giants.

Mansfield's proposal came as he endorsed the call by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and George S. McGovern, D-S.C., for appointment of a "blue ribbon" commission to reassess U.S. policy toward Communist China.

The Kennedy-McGovern suggestions also brought these developments during the weekend:

--Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who testifies before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee today, described the commission proposal as "an intriguing idea." But Rusk said for more than a year the executive branch has had a very competent group making an intensive study of these matters. He did not further identify the group. "They have been in touch with experts outside; they have visited universities and they have searched the literature for possible new ideas," Rusk said on the ABC television-radio program "Issues and Answers."

He also said he has discussed recently with President Johnson "the desirability of systematizing outside advance in the general areas of the world." He added: "I think it is very likely that we shall do this somethat more systematically than we have done before."

--Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was reported actively supporting the proposal to create a commission. Although he was silent about Johnson's reaction. Humphrey's endorsement was viewed as indicating a willingness by the administration to explore new avenues in Asin policies.

--Sen.Robert F. Kennedy, D-N. Y., said Humphrey's support encourages him to believe such a policy review may materialize. "I certainly think we need to have a searching look at possible future relations with Communist China," he said.

Rusk disagreed with Sen. J. W. Fulbright's view that American forces in Viet Nam have turned Saigon into a brothel. Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat who heads the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, expressed this view in a speech last Thursday night.

"It just isn't true," said Rusk. He said Fulbright's allegations reflect "unfairly and inaccurately on what our men are doing over there."

Rusk also took issue with comments made Sunday by historian Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr. on the CBS television program "Face the Nation."

Schlesinger said Johnson lacks the judgment to overrule wrong advice about Viet Nam from the State Department and the military. He said "the motion that the Viet Cong equals Hanoi equals Peking seems to me crazy." And he said there is fear among intellectuals that Johnson "is not in personal control of his government."

Asked about Schlesinger's statements, Rusk said "Mr. Schlesinger is not an expert on Asia. He played a very small role on Asian questions when he was in the government."

The American ambassador to Saigon, Henry Cabot Lodge, arrives in Washington late today for consultations on the situation in South Viet Nam. He is expected to meet with President Johnson Tuesday or Wednesday.

Mansfield said in an interview that while Viet Nam poses problems for any action at this time, "I would like to see recognition given to Outer Mongolia.

"I believe such action on our part would contribute toward the relaxation of international tensions," he said. "It would also give us a valuable listening post in that part of the world."

The State Department recently said the possible establishment of diplomatic relations with Mongolia was under study.

Mansfield said he is informed Mongolia is eager to establish relations but that the United States has held back. He said Mongolia fears mainland China, which regards the area as its own. Mongolia leans toward the Soviet Union at this point, he added.

The Republic of China on Formosa does not recognize Mongolia as an independent state and would object strenuously to U.S. recognition.

Mansfield said he thinks the Kennedy - McGovern commission proposal has a great deal of merit.

"I am sure the State Department has been studying and reviewing China policies for a long time," he said. "But it seems to me the recent hearings before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on China have given impetus to a further move to review those policies."

Mansfield indicated he believes the establishment of such a commission depends on President Johnson's attitude.

It would be "a delicate matter," Mansfield said, for Congress to act independently of the President to set up a commission on international policies.

Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N. Y., said the commission "might be an appearance on the Mutual Broadcasting System's "Reporters Roundup," that the main issue should be a peace settlement n Viet Nam.

To Be Ordained

ORAN, Mo. -- Reverend Edward Martin Eftink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Eftink, Oran, Missouri, will be ordained to the priesthood on Saturday, May 14, 1966 at Guardian Angels Church, Oran, 10:00 a.m., by the Most Reverend Ignatius J. Strecker, S.T.D., Bishop of Springfield-Cape Girardeau.

Father Eftink will celebrate his First Solemn Mass on Sunday, May 15, 1966 at 1:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Other ministers of the Mass will be the Reverend Gervase W. Ingoldsby, M.A., pastor of Guardian Angels Parish, Oran, as Arch-priest; Reverend Joseph E. Gosche, Vice-Chancellor of the Springfield-Cape Girardeau Diocese, as Deacon; Reverend Louis J. Wyrsch, assistant pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Poplar Bluff, as Subdeacon; Reverend Robert A. Landewee, assistant pastor of St. Augustine Church, Kelso, as Master of Ceremonies; Reverend Robert Schumacher, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Caruthersville, will give the sermon. The minor ministers are David, Louis, Carl, Mark and Stephen Eftink.

Father Edward M. Eftink was born in Portageville, Missouri. He attended Oran Public High School and Notre Dame High School, Cape Girardeau, graduating in 1957 as Salutatorian. He attended St. Louis University, summer classes at Conception Seminary, Conception, Mo. and Cardinal Glennon College, St. Louis, Mo.

Father Eftink studied Philosophy and Theology at the Catholic University of America, Washington, D.C. He received a three year scholarship under the Basselin Foundation which led to a Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts degrees in Philosophy. Currently he is working on his Doctorate of Philosophy degree in Education.

Besides his parents, Father Eftink has six brothers and one sister, all younger than he; Michael of Kelso, Mo., Thomas, Larry, David, Louis and Kenneth all of Oran, and Miss Barbara Eftink of Cape Girardeau, Mo.

A reception will be held after the Mass in Guardian Angels Hall, Oran.

Cobb Gives One Of Best Ever

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK AP -- The end of a man when his dream world is shattered was powerfully depicted Sunday night in CBS-TV's fine adaptation of Arthur Miller's famous "Death of a Salesman."

In two hours of tense, even painful drama we watched an aging, defeated traveling salesman move inexorably to self destruction clinging desperately to the fantasies of quick fortune, of fame, of popularity on which he built his shabby life.

Lee J. Cobb, playing the distraught Willy Loman, turned in a overwhelming performance that was as effective as his Broadway portrayal of the role 17 years ago. So was Mildred Dunnock's portrait of his loving, patient and blindly loyal wife.

The drama was related largely in flashbacks to happier days in the story of the salesman--"just a hard-working drummer" as his son screamed in his moment of truth.

Loman's grandiose dreams ballooned everything larger than reality -- money he had made in the past was big, a son who had been a stock clerk was inflated to be a star salesman.

His pathetic values, mostly involving being important and well-liked, were shaken with age and faltering sales success. But the fantasies also had destroyed his two sons, Biff, 34, making $28 a week, and who was a petty theft, and Happy, a bum, braggart and liar.

George Segal and James Farentino, playing the sons, gave fine performances.

Earlier in the evening on ABC, "I Am a Soldier" was an absorbing documentary on Viet Nam. It concentrated on one company commander, a West Point graduate, for about three days of combat with the elusive Viet Cong.

We were with Capt. Theodore Danielsen and some of his men in training. We went along jungle trails, avoiding booby traps and dodging sniper bullets to find and destroy a Charlie outpost.

The photography was excellent. Producer John Secondari who wrote and narrated the program has an ornate, oratorical style that seemed a little lush for the stark and grim subject matter.

Recommended tonight: "The Hill Country: Lyndon Johnson's Texas," NBC, 9-10 CDT, special program in which the president of the United States conducts a tour around the country in which he was born.

Population To Double

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. AP--Population experts are raising the flag on long-range estimates of how many people will inhabit the earth after the turn of the century.

This is reported in a new United Nations booklet on population problems prepared by T. E. Smith of the Institute of Commonwealth Studies at the University of London.

A U.N. report in 1963 said the world's population, estimated at three billion in 1960, might double to six billion by the year 2,000. This was based on assumptions as to trends in fertility and mortality made for various world regions.

The report said also the estimate at the low point could be 5,300,000,000 and at the high point 6,800,000,000.

Governments and international agencies have been using the U. N. estimates as a framework for assessments of future social and economic needs.

In summing up the findings of the second U. N. world population conference, Smith said the participants stressed that it was unwise to take long-range estimates literally because of the many uncertainties that lie ahead.

One of the handicaps faced by population analysts is the lack of data from Communist China.

In surbaban Atlanta a pediatrician uses old typewriters to keep children pacified in his waiting room. He cut down the legs of a table and placed several typewriters on it for them. Now his small patients cry only when they leave.

--Hugh Park

A Brooklyn dentist has found a way to make children's visits a bit more pleasant. He hands the youngsters a water pistol to use in rinsing out their mouths.

--Akron Beacon Journal

Grandmother Makes Hit Records

By MARY CAMPBELL

NEW YORK AP -- Listening to records made by a plump-gray-haired grandmother who warbles and whistles rock 'n' roll songs, mostly off-key, is the current kick in U. S. pop music.

The singer is Mrs. Elva Miller of Claremont, Calif., 35 miles east of Los Angeles. Her family was against Mrs. Miller's trying to make records but she went ahead.

Her first long-playing record, "Mrs. Miller's Greatest Hits," was released by Capitol Records April 11 and sold 50,000 copies its first two days out. The "LP" and two songs taken from it and released as a single, "Downtown" and "A Lovers Concerto," all are on the best-selling charts compiled by Billboard Magazine.

Mrs. Miller sings with a vibrato which sounds as if she had once studied voice, which she did. Meanwhile she often changes key and goes flat, reminiscent of the late Florence Foster Jenkins.

She sucks ice cubes while she does her bird-like whistles, to contract the muscles for a more controlled pucker.

Ed Sullivan has signed her for an appearance on his TV show May 22.

Disc jockeys apparently love the novelty of "The Miller sound." A station in Denver played the record 24 hours straight.

Statistics show that every four seconds a woman gives birth to a baby. Our problem is to find this woman and stop her.

--Henny Youngman

Product of The American Tobacco Company ©A. T. Co.

I. S. M. F.

LUCKY STRIKE

filters

I said,
"Show me a filter cigarette that really delivers taste and I'll eat my hat!"

FREE FREE

TO SENIOR CITIZENS 62 AND OVER

Information as to how you can own your own new home!

If you live in a town under 5500 population, or in a rural area and can pay $28.00 per month, you can own your own new home!!!

GOVERNMENT FINANCED LOAN

See us for details

E. C. ROBINSON LUMBER COMPANY

SIKESTON, MISSOURI

PHONE GR 1-3284

solid success!

Palm Beach® ZEPHYR WEIGHT

$35.00

Zephyrweight Oxford Weaves are this season's newest note in solid color sportcoats. And Palm Beach* brings you this fashion at its peak of perfection. A crisp, wrinkle-fighting fabric of Dacron® polyester and cotton . . . tailoring that's outstanding . . . and models as up-to-date as the news in today's newspaper. Come in and have a look.

THE BUCKNER RAGSDALE Co

*Reg. T.M. Goods

Chocolate milk is just chocolate milk

...unless it's

Reiss

©1965, Quality Chekd Dairy Assn.

Then you know it's Quality Chekd®!

We always keep in mind the main reason that you buy chocolate milk. Because—simply—you like the taste of chocolate. So we never skimp on it. Yet there are plenty of vitamins and minerals, too. So our chocolate milk not only satisfies your craving for chocolate, but also helps meet your daily nutritional needs.

Next time you buy chocolate milk, remember that ours is one of the select dairies authorized to carry the Quality Chekd label. It does make a difference.

Reiss

PUPPY DOG'S TAILS AND SUGAR 'N SPICE both find something nice in these matching knitted suits. It has delightful detail, the grey band around the bottom of her skirt is repeated on the bottom of his trousers and around both shirts in pearl grey with squares of scarlet. They are knitted in nylon and wool sport yarn which is light enough for Spring and early Fall. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper, along with your request for leaflet

Golden Age for Unused Theories

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON AP -- This has become a golden age for theories -- by people who don't have to carry them out -- on how President Johnson should handle foreign affairs better. The critics have never got off his back.

Two of the most prominent of them -- historian Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., and Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., -- had their say recently. As usual, they not only wound up being vague but didn't see eye to eye, either.

Schlesinger made one of the harshest attacks on Johnson that anyone has attempted. In effect, he said Johnson lacked leadership in foreign affairs. He had worked with President John F. Kennedy and, briefly, with Johnson.

He called Johnson "gullible" for "passively" accepting the judgment of the State and Defense departments. On CBS's television program "Face the Nation" Schlesinger was asked what else Johnson could do since he can't go to Viet Nam.

Schlesinger said "we have elected a president because we think his judgment is better. President Johnson's trouble is lack of self-confidence that he does not appear to have."

He said some members of the American intellectual community do not so much question Johnson's "purposes but fear that he is not in personal control of his government as presidents like Kennedy and Roosevelt were."

This was all vague. Schlesinger was just as obscure when, trying to say something pleasant about Johnson, he said he thinks Johnson's "instincts . . . goals . . . and objectives in Viet Nam are right."

Right now? He didn't say. Nor did he say how Johnson's goals and objectives differ from those of the State and Defense departments. He got specific on just about one point.

That was Johnson's trip last February to Honolulu to meet South Viet Nam's Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. Schlesinger was critical here, too, saying Johnson had let the State Department convince him Ky was popular in Viet Nam. But on what could Johnson base his judgment if he couldn't depend on Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamera?

Later, on ABC's television-radio program "Issues and Answers," Rusk was asked about the Schlesinger criticism but brushed it off, saying, in short, the historian was shooting his mouth off without being informed. He said "we have facts."

"Mr. Schlesinger," Rusk said, "is not an expert on Asia. He took a very small role in Asian questions when he was in the government. I worked on Asia for 25 years and I don't think I'm going to get into a discussion with Mr. Schlesinger on Asia."

Rusk said he, Johnson and McNamara, with the full backing of men who have spent their lives working on Asia, try to make the best judgments they can.

Schlesinger was -- and wasn't -- in agreement with Fulbright, chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee. The senator has been endlessly critical of Johnson's Viet Nam policies.

But his most recent attack, a speech last week, not only was vague but seemed to have its roots in negativism.

This was the point he tried to make: A powerful country like this can't do much to help a backward Asian country develop an orderly life. At the same time he warned the United States against feeling self-righteous and equating power with virtue.

Schlesinger said he is in sympathy with much Fulbright said --he didn't say what, specifically -- but dismissed the senator's argument that this country might be equating power with virtue.

He said that might have been truer in the days of President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration than now.

Holland Seeking Re-Election

By JAMES H. RUBIN

TRENTON, N. J. AP -- Mayor Arthur J. Holland -- who made headlines by moving to a racially mixed neighborhood -- seeks a new term of office Tuesday in an election in which the Negro vote could be pivotal.

The 47-year-old mayor says he might lose votes among "some white people" who consider him an integrationist, but he insists his record is the key issue and will withstand any "white backlash."

Holland also said he has heard rumors that some Negroes would oppose him because they regard his change in residence as a grandstand play to gain Negro votes. He discounted this as "illogical and unrealistic."

"There are some Negro leaders who oppose me because I'm too independent," he said in an interview, but he expressed confidence the majority of Negroes would support him.

Apart from the racial question, campaign issues have included birth control, urban renewal and management of the antipoverty program.

Polls indicate Holland's opponent, Carmen J. Armenti, 37, a city councilman the past four years, has made inroads into the Negro and Italian vote.

Holland moved two years ago from an area that bordered on an Italian section to a neighborhood that is about half white. Other residents are Negro and Puerto Rican.

Holland said he bought the house in hope of halting deterioration eating away at much of Trenton, and because his wife, Betty, wanted an old home that could be restored to authentic early American style.

Holland has had strong support from Italians in past elections. Now some observers believe Armenti, an Italian, will draw off some of that support.

Holland entered city government 15 years ago when he was appointed deputy director of the public affairs department. He was elected to the city commission in 1955 and became mayor in 1959 when he won more votes than anyone else in the commission election.

He led a fight to change the commission system and strengthen the mayor's position, then became Trenton's first mayor under the new form of government in 1962.

He received about 17,400 votes in that election, 10,000 more than his closest competitor. There were 54,000 registered voters, including 8,000 negroes.

An election official who is backing Armenti estimates that about 4,000 Negroes voted in 1962 and that probably three fourths were for Holland.

Although voter registration has decreased by 5,000 since then, registration of Negro voters has increased to more than 11,000. Both camps acknowledge the Negro vote could be decisive in a close race.

Dexter Youth Gets Award

DEXTER -- Briney Welborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe. E. Welborn, Bloomfield, and a Dexter high school senior, has been named the winner of the South Central Region Soroptimist Foundation Citizenship Award competition. He will represent the region in national Competition for the $2,500 foundation award.

At a dinner given in his honor by the Soroptimist Club of Stoddard county at Dexter, Mrs. Nina Arnold, president, presented him with a plaque from the county and district clubs and a $50 check from the south central region.

USE THE DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD CLASSIFIED ADS

Six Hundred Teachers To Receive Free Training

About 600 Missouri and Arkansas Teachers will get scholarships which will pay all their expenses for attending Teachers Institutes for six to eight weeks during next summer.

The institutes will be sponsored by the Office of Education, and paid for by the federal government. The teachers must make arrangements with the respective colleges before attending the institutes, and getting approval for the scholarships.

Four courses for United States History will be given in Missouri and Arkansas colleges as a part of the institutes on the subject. One will be at Northwest State (Maryville), and one at Northeast State (Kirkville), beginning June 19. In Arkansas one will be at State College (Jonesboro), and another at State Teachers College (Conway) beginning June 13 and Aug. 5. Those who want to attend an institute on U.S. History as related to Latin America, can get the course at Southwest Missouri (Springfield) June 13.

Institute on Viet Nam

Teachers who want to brush up on their history of Viet Nam, and Southeast Asia, may attend an institute at St. Louis University, to begin June 19. The Institute will last from six to eight weeks.

Teachers who want to get fresh ideas to teach Johnny to read may attend at the University (K. C. Campus), June 30. In Arkansas teachers may go to Arkansas State for the same type of course, to begin June 13.

Teachers and supervisors who want to get the latest methods and procedures for teaching English and Literature, will find an institute at Southwest (Springfield) to begin June 6, or at the state university of Arkansas (Fayetteville) to begin June 6.

Supervisors of French who want to learn the latest techniques can attend an institute at the University (Columbia) June 20, or at Fayetteville. An institute for teachers on teaching "disadvantaged" children will be held at Washington University, to begin June 20. There will be an institute at the same university on teaching deaf children, according to the announcement, to begin July 5.

QUICK QUIZ

Q—Did the Germans occupy any British soil in World War II?

A—The Channel Islands, off the northwest coast of France, were the only British soil occupied by German troops in that war.

Q—Is a bald eagle really bald?

A—The head of a mature bald eagle is covered with white feathers. At a distance the white head looks bald, thus deceiving observers.

Q—How large does the common lobster grow?

A—Largest recorded weighed 35 pounds, but few grow to more than a fraction of this in these days of heavy fishing.

Q—Who was the first United States minister to Great Britain?

A—John Adams, appointed in 1785.

Legal Notices

Required by law to inform citizens of matters affecting them or their property.

THE CITY OF SIKESTON, MISSOURI

RESOLUTION

A resolution declaring the necessity for the construction of 1½" hotmix asphaltic pavement on 6" soil cement base with concrete curb and gutter on the west side only of Dona Street from Malone to Matthews in accordance with plans and specifications in the City of Sikeston, Missouri; stating the nature of the improvement; the estimated cost and providing that payment for all of the improvement shall be made by special tax bills levied and assessed against the abutting property. Be it resolved by the Council of the City of Sikeston, State of Missouri, as follows: SECTION 1: That the Council of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, deems and declares the construction of said Street necessary to the welfare and improvement of the City of Sikeston. SECTION 2: That the nature and scope of the improvement shall consist of furnishing all cost, including labor, materials and transportation necessary for the complete construction of the improvement. SECTION 3: That the estimated cost of the improvement is $3.75 per lineal foot of abutting property, to be charged against the lots and tracts of land abutting the improvement. SECTION 4: That payment for all of the improvement shall be made by special tax bills evidencing special assessments against the abutting property in the manner specified by the statutes of the State of Missouri and the ordinances of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, because in the opinion of the City Council the General Revenue fund of the City of Sikeston is not in a condition to warrant an expenditure therefrom to pay for the improvement. SECTION 5: That any work performed on construction of the improvement shall be in compliance with the provisions of the prevailing wage laws of the State of Missouri, such prevailing wage rates having been established by the Industrial Commission of Missouri. SECTION 6: That the City Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to furnish a copy of this Resolution to a daily newspaper of general circulation in the City of Sikeston, so that it shall be published for seven consecutive insertions. Read the first, second and third times and passed and approved this 2nd day of May, 1966. Approved: Kendall Sikes, Mayor; Attest: John W. Vaughn, City Clerk. 187 inc 193

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce as a candidate subject to the will of the voters of Scott County in the Democratic Primary Election on Tuesday, August 2nd, 1966:

COLLECTOR
C. E. FELKER,
Sikeston, Mo.

HAROLD E. HAHN,
Benton, Mo.

DENNIS HOLLAND
Lusk Chapel, Scott Co.

AUBREY MICHAEL
Benton, Mo.

RECORDER
JOHN J. BOLLINGER,
Benton, Mo.

JOHNNIE GREGG
723 Main
Sikeston, Missouri

FOR COUNTY CLERK
PHIL WALDMAN, JR.
804 Courtney Drive
Sikeston, Mo.

FOR CIRCUIT COURT
LYNN INGRAM
704 Hickory
Sikeston, Mo.

MELVIN GLUECK
Route one
Illmo, Missouri

FOR COMMITTEEMAN
Richland Township
V. L. (RED) KIRBY
204 N. Prairie
Sikeston, Mo.

BILL LEWIS
508 Carroll
Sikeston, Mo.

CLYDE "PECK" WISDOM
103 Comstock Place
Sikeston, Mo.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE
157th District
7 South Township of Scott County
TONY HECKEMEYER
916 Hawthorne
Sikeston, Mo.

District 156
Kelso Township in Scott Co.
MARVIN E. PROFFER
Jackson, Missouri

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY
DANIEL S. NORTON
Route one
Sikeston, Missouri

WANT ADS at work!

SLEEPING ROOMS 1

FOR RENT -- Sleeping room. Men preferred. GR 1-1837. 4-28-tf

FOR RENT -- Sleeping room. Men preferred. GR 1-0630. 4-22-tf

FURNISHED APARTMENTS 2

FURNISHED APTS -- Modern close in utilities furnished. Tel. GR 1-5702 or GR 1-9276.

FOR RENT -- Furnished apartment. Adults only. Phone GR 1-5707. 5-18-tf

FOR RENT -- 3 Room furnished apartment. Utilities paid. Phone GR 1-9870. 4-30-tf

FOR RENT -- Furnished apartment. 538 Vernon. Utilities paid. $70. Telephone GR 1-2500 or GR 1-5476. 4-29-tf

FOR RENT -- Air conditioned, 3 room furnished apartment. Phone GR 1-2131 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. 5-4-tf

UNFURNISHED APARTMENTS 2a

FOR RENT -- Large 3 room air conditioned apartment. Utilities furnished. GR 1-1262. 4-12-tf

FOR RENT -- Unfurnished garage apartment. Adults. 300 E. Kathleen. 5-3-tf

HOUSES FOR RENT 3

FOR RENT -- 4 Room house. 205 Missouri Ave. $40. Phone GR 1-2500 or GR1-5476. 5-9-tf

FOR RENT -- 5 Room house, air conditioned. Full basement. 216 N. Ranney. GR 1-5339. 5-6-tf

FOR RENT -- 2 Bedroom with air conditioning. Call after 5:00 p.m.; GR 1-1878. 5-6-6t

FOR RENT -- Four room furnished house. Adults. 210 Edmondson. GR 1-3403. 5-7-4t

FOR RENT -- 5 Room house. Call GR 1-5134 between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. 5-3-tf

MISC. FOR SALE 5

FOR SALE -- Thin aluminum plates. 24" by 36" 15 cents each. The Daily Sikeston Standard. 10-17-tf

"Repossessed furniture and appliances. Some new, used and abused." GR 1-2078. 1-27-tf

Welders
225 Amp Lincoln complete $125.00
Welding Equipment, parts & Gases.
WEBB ELECTRIC SUPPLY
Highway 61 South
Sikeston 12-13-tf

ELECTROLUX
Orville Yates
GR 1-3341 7-12-tf

FOR SALE -- Geraniums. Goode's Nursery. GR 1-3119. 4-8-tf

3 Complete rooms of furniture! $995.00
$49.75 down -- $8.22 weekly. Includes double door refrigerator, 36" gas range, 5 piece dinnette set, 3 piece bedroom suite, mattress & springs; living room suite, tables & lamps. Wilcoxson & Sons Furniture Co. Sikeston, Missouri 4-23-tf

MOBILE HOME SPECIAL
12' wide $3695.00
2 & 3 bedrooms
gas heat
Gas Hot water heater
JOE GALEMORE MOBILE HOMES
2 miles E. of Charleston
open 7:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.
Sunday Afternoons 1 to 5

FOR SALE -- Used televisions, automatic washers, and refrigerators. Service on all makes and models (white & color). All work guaranteed DELTA APPLIANCE SERVICE CENTER Leroy Conley and Mac McRoy 881 (Rear) W. Malone -- GR 1-1565. 4-6-tf

FOR SALE -- Tappan Ranges-Gibson air conditioners. See or Call Royce Ayers. Midwest L. P. Gas Co. Highway zz North Morehouse - NO 7-2091 4-30-30t

DO you count wear and tear and labor too? Then Wipe Lustre is the rug cleaner for you. Machine Rental $1 per day with purchase. Smith-Alsop Paint & Wallpaper Co. 5-7-6t

FOR SALE -- 8' fully assembled, Redwood stained picnic table with tubular steel frame; only $22.50. E. C. Robinson Lumber Company. GR 1-3284. 5-6-6t

FOR SALE -- 400 lb. capacity lawn & garden wheelbarrow. Reg. $10.75 -- $8.95. E. C. Robinson Lumber Co., GR 1-3284. 5-6-6t

FOR SALE -- IHC Scouts, '63, right-hand drive, full top-roll up windows, 3 spd. trans. 4 cyl. eng., 6:70 x 15 tires, some units with positraction, perfect for rural letter carriers -- Contact: Motor Transportation Co. 3534 Gratiot Street, St. Louis, Mo. 63103. Phone: 314-PR 3-0800. 5-6-6t

FOR SALE -- Repossessed Honda Sport 90; one repossessed Honda Super Hawk. For information, call GR 1-3365. 5-6-5t

FOR SALE -- 20' Cabin Cruiser, 75 h.p. Johnson motor and boat trailer. Sleeps 4 to 6. Enclosed head. Perfect condition. Call GR 1-2754 or see at 619 Moore St. 5-9-6t

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS 5a

For Sale
2 Good pianos; rebuilt and guaranteed or money back within two years.
Expert tuning & Repair.
SIKESTON PIANO CENTER
118 W. Front
GR 1-5899

FOR SALE
Piano -- Used Upright
$35.00
Keith Collins Piano Co.
98 N. Kingshighway, Sikeston 5-9-2t

PIANOS -- ORGANS -- Baldwin --Wurlitzer. Rental plan --Easy terms. Prices from $399.00. Keith Collins Piano Co. 98 N. Kingshighway, Sikeston GR 1-4531 5-9-tf

REAL ESTATE 6

FOR SALE -- Residence with 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, dining room, central air conditioning, family room, fireplace, 2 screened porches, large lot, beautiful trees. Shown by appointment. Call Dr. Frank Sisson, GR 1-2626 days; GR 1-0281 evenings. 4-29-tf

FOR SALE -- 6 Room house with bath. Extra lot. In Morehouse. Call NO 7-5570. 5-5-12t

For Sale -- 2,600 Acres of river bottom land near Amary, Mississippi. Small cotton allotment. Adequate housing. Call John R. Young, 534-7886, New Albany, Mississippi. 3-1-5t

FOR SALE -- By owner. 4 Room house and 15 acres 20 minutes from Sikeston. $4,500.00. LO 8-2458. 4-12-tf

FOR SALE -- 209 Marion St. House, large lot, $2,500 down. Take over $3,200, 4½ percent FHA mortgage. Payments about $50.00 per month. Write E. E. Trail, 1510 Channel Dr., Round Lake, Ill. 4-9-26t

FOR SALE -- 2 Bedroom home on paved street. Close in. Small downpayment. Assume loan. GR 1-5181. 5-9-3t

CAFE
with living quarters; located in north Arkansas town. Established years. Owner leaving for service. Priced to sell. Write P. O. Box 662 or phone GR 1-1930.

MISC. WANTED 10

WANTED -- Good used furniture and appliances. Hezzie Furniture Mart. Phone GR 1-5617. 11-30-tf

HELP WANTED FEMALE 11

WANTED -- Girl over 21. Apply in person after 7 p.m. Park-A-Lot Drive In. 5-9-tf

ARE YOU LOOKING? For a good-paying part - time job? Avon offers a marvelous opportunity. Call GR 1-2439 after 6 p.m. 5-9-3t

SPEED TYPIST
Must type 70 w.p.m. with accuracy. Apply between 12 and 2 p.m. Daily Standard.

HELP WANTED MALE 12

EXPERIENCED Truck Driver, $2.05 per hour. Hedrick Concrete Products Corp. GR 1-3379. 5-9-3t

DEDICATED CHRISTIAN MAN who is active in Sunday School and Church. Earnings $7,000 to $10,000 first year. May begin part time. Write me: Paul van Antwerpen, 22 West Madison St., Chicago, Ill. 60602. 5-9-1t

3 YOUNG MEN
Free to relocate Kentucky -- Tennessee. Must be neat, aggressive and willing to learn. No experience necessary. Transportation furnished. Immediate drawing account. Above average earnings. See Mr. Gentry, Pine Motel 10 to 12 only. No phone calls. 5-5-6t

OPPORTUNITIES 14

--OPPORTUNITY--
Looking for a career selling job? Old established company has opening for aggressive sales representative. Travel limited to Southeast Missouri. Age -- preferrably 23-40. Must have high school education. Company trains -- Many fringe benefits -- Established territory. Must be able to start work in June. For further information, application & interview write
SHELBY BUSINESS FORMS
6609 Clayton Road
St. Louis, Mo. 63117

U.S.CIVIL SERVICE TESTS!
Men - women 18 and over. Secure jobs. High starting pay. Short hours. Advancement. Preparatory training as long as required. Thousands of jobs open. Experience usually unnecessary. FREE booklet on jobs, salaries, requirements. Write TODAY giving name, address and phone. Lincoln Service Box 100, c-o Daily Sikeston Standard.

USE THE DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD CLASSIFIED ADS

SPECIAL SERVICES 17

Exterior & Interior painting
Call Sherman Cambron
NO 7-2231 after 5 p.m. 4-22-tf

We Build
Automatic Feeding Systems & Silos complete
Memphis Concrete Silo Co.
D. H. Temples, Salesman.
Rt. 2, Dexter, Ph. LO 8-2720. 4-13-26t

For Light Hauling or City Delivery
Call GR 1-4552 4-18-30t

POULTRY & LIVESTOCK 18

FOR SALE -- 2 Ponies. Call GR 1-2188 or after 5 -- GR 1-5650. 4-26-tf

*BLOODLIVER
*Domestic Mischief
*LAMPLIGHTERS
*C.M.R.
Homer Oliver, Mgr.
Dearmont Oliver & Sons
East Prairie, Missouri
Phone NI 9-3740
Reg. Polled Herefords For Sale
VISITORS WELCOME

FEED & SEED 20

FOR SALE -- Tiftgreen Bermuda: Beautiful Hybrid turfgrass used by many Southeast Missourians. Quick ground cover! -- Order by phone and pick up 24 hours later. $2.70 per square yard. Discount for over 5 yards.
Raymond D. Hicks, Ph. D.
Route 1, Portageville
Call DR 9-5510 after 5 p.m. 5-3-8t

NEW & USED CARS 21

FOR SALE -- 1953 Ford truck. Call GR 1-2666 after 5 p.m. 5-6-5t

'54 Chevrolet. Just overhauled, at 320 Edmondson. $225.00. 4-28-12t

LOANS & INSURANCE 24

WE HAVE THE BEST MONEY IN TOWN
See us for fast "CASH"
KEY LOAN CO.
GR 1-0428
"WE LIKE TO SAY YES"

EARN GOOD MONEY WHILE YOU LEARN AT
MCDONNELL
World Famous Designer and Builder of Phantom II Jet Fighters and Gemini Spacecraft in St. Louis

Trainee classes start every week for those who want to learn a valuable skill or trade.

If you've had a class or some experience in manual training or metalworking, no doubt you're ready for one of our training classes.

Headed for the Service? Take a good trade or skill with you! You'll get a better break in your Military assignment and a head start on a good rating.

AND you'll have a job priority at MCDONNELL when you return from Service.

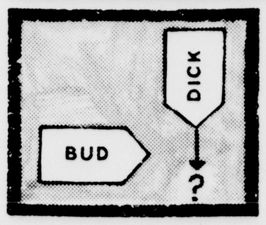

FOR A 40-HOUR WEEK YOU'LL BE PAID...
$66 per week for the first 4 weeks while you're in school.
$70 per week for the next 7 weeks learning on the Production Line.
$78 per week for the next six weeks on the Production Line.
THEN...
$97.20 per week, followed by automatic increases of $1.20 every 10 weeks within grade in your job classification.
THAT'S A $31.20 PER WEEK PAY INCREASE IN JUST 4 MONTHS.

PICK YOUR CAREER...
Mechanic, Airplane Production Trainees
Instruction in use of tools and measuring instruments to install aircraft equipment. Blueprint reading and the use of planning sheets will also be taught.
Mechanic, Electrical and Radio Trainees
Instruction in use of tools to install electrical equipment. Read and use wiring diagrams and engineering specifications.
Sheet Metal Assembler and Riveter Trainees
Instruction in use of tools, measuring instruments and blueprints for assembly work.

To apply, contact your nearest State Employment office.
MCDONNELL
ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI
A PLANS FOR PROGRESS COMPANY AND AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

Bud Stumpe couldn't possibly outguess Dick Sullivan

Bud's a defensive driver. So when they met at that intersection, he didn't assume the right-of-way. He waited, and made sure Dick would come to a full stop, and thus saved them both from a crushing experience. Are you a defensive driver?

WATCH OUT FOR THE OTHER GUY

Published to save lives in cooperation with The Advertising Council, The National Safety Council and The International Newspaper Advertising Executives.

THE FUTURE BELONGS TO THE FIT

On the ice continents or in the Peace Corps, in farming or finance, the future belongs to the fit. The future belongs to those vigorous enough to live it, and shape it. Are your schools providing for physical fitness as part of the sound education your children need to carve out their share of the future? You parents can help see that they do. Write: The President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington, D.C., for information.

PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL ON PHYSICAL FITNESS
Published as a public service in cooperation with The Advertising Council

Published by the Patriotic Individuals and Business Firms Listed Below

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS
SHY'S DRUG STORE
THE SIKESTON STANDARD
MISSOURI UTILITIES CO.
SIKESTON LUMBER CO.
BANK OF SIKESTON
SCOTT-NEW MADRID-MISSISSIPPI ELECTRIC CORPORATIVE

LET WANT ADS WORK FOR YOU

PUPPY DOG'S TAILS AND SUGAR 'N SPICE both find something nice in these matching knitted suits. It has delightful detail, the grey band around the bottom of her skirt is repeated on the bottom of his trousers and around both shirts in pearl grey with squares of scarlet. They are knitted in nylon and wool sport yarn which is light enough for Spring and early Fall. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needle[illegible] along with your request for Leaflet

Golden Age for Unused Theories

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON AP -- This has become a golden age for theories -- by people who don't have to carry them out -- on how President Johnson should handle foreign affairs better. The critics have never got off his back.

Two of the most prominent of them -- historian Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., and Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., -- had their say recently. As usual, they not only wound up being vague but didn't see eye to eye, either.

Schlesinger made one of the harshest attacks on Johnson that anyone has attempted. In effect, he said Johnson lacked leadership in foreign affairs. He had worked with President John F. Kennedy and, briefly, with Johnson.

He called Johnson "gullible" for "passively" accepting the judgment of the State and Defense departments. On CBS's television program "Face the Nation" Schlesinger was asked what else Johnson could do since he can't go to Viet Nam.

Schlesinger said "we have elected a president because we think his judgment is better. President Johnson's trouble is lack of self-confidence that he does not appear to have."

He said some members of the American intellectual community do not so much question Johnson's "purposes but fear that he is not in personal control of his government as presidents like Kennedy and Roosevelt were."

This was all vague. Schlesinger was just as obscure when, trying to say something pleasant about Johnson, he said he thinks Johnson's "instincts . . . goals . . . and objectives in Viet Nam are right."

Right now? He didn't say. Nor did he say how Johnson's goals and objectives differ from those of the State and Defense departments. He got specific on just about one point.

That was Johnson's trip last February to Honolulu to meet South Viet Nam's Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. Schlesinger was critical here, too, saying Johnson had let the State Department convince him Ky was popular in Viet Nam. But on what could Johnson base his judgment if he couldn't depend on Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamera?

Later, on ABC's television-radio program "Issues and Answers," Rusk was asked about the Schlesinger criticism but brushed it off, saying, in short, the historian was shooting his mouth off without being informed. He said "we have facts."

"Mr. Schlesinger," Rusk said, "is not an expert on Asia. He took a very small role in Asian questions when he was in the government. I worked on Asia for 25 years and I don't think I'm going to get into a discussion with Mr. Schlesinger on Asia."

Rusk said he, Johnson and McNamara, with the full backing of men who have spent their lives working on Asia, try to make the best judgments they can.

Schlesinger was -- and wasn't -- in agreement with Fulbright, chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee. The senator has been endlessly critical of Johnson's Viet Nam policies.

But his most recent attack, a speech last week, not only was vague but seemed to have its roots in negativism.

This was the point he tried to make: A powerful country like this can't do much to help a backward Asian country develop an orderly life. At the same time he warned the United States against feeling self-righteous and equating power with virtue.

Schlesinger said he is in sympathy with much Fulbright said --he didn't say what, specifically -- but dismissed the senator's argument that this country might be equating power with virtue.

He said that might have been truer in the days of President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration than now.

Holland Seeking Re-Election

By JAMES H. RUBIN

TRENTON, N. J. AP -- Mayor Arthur J. Holland -- who made headlines by moving to a racially mixed neighborhood -- seeks a new term of office Tuesday in an election in which the Negro vote could be pivotal.

The 47-year-old mayor says he might lose votes among "some white people" who consider him an integrationist, but he insists his record is the key issue and will withstand any "white backlash."

Holland also said he has heard rumors that some Negroes would oppose him because they regard his change in residence as a grandstand play to gain Negro votes. He discounted this as "illogical and unrealistic."

"There are some Negro leaders who oppose me because I'm too independent," he said in an interview, but he expressed confidence the majority of Negroes would support him.

Apart from the racial question, campaign issues have included birth control, urban renewal and management of the antipoverty program.

Polls indicate Holland's opponent, Carmen J. Armenti, 37, a city councilman the past four years, has made inroads into the Negro and Italian vote.

Holland moved two years ago from an area that bordered on an Italian section to a neighborhood that is about half white. Other residents are Negro and Puerto Rican.

Holland said he bought the house in hope of halting deterioration eating away at much of Trenton, and because his wife, Betty, wanted an old home that could be restored to authentic early American style.

Holland has had strong support from Italians in past elections. Now some observers believe Armenti, an Italian, will draw off some of that support.

Holland entered city government 15 years ago when he was appointed deputy director of the public affairs department. He was elected to the city commission in 1955 and became mayor in 1959 when he won more votes than anyone else in the commission election.

He led a fight to change the commission system and strengthen the mayor's position, then became Trenton's first mayor under the new form of government in 1962.

He received about 17,400 votes in that election, 10,000 more than his closest competitor. There were 54,000 registered voters, including 8,000 negroes.

An election official who is backing Armenti estimates that about 4,000 Negroes voted in 1962 and that probably three fourths were for Holland.

Although voter registration has decreased by 5,000 since then, registration of Negro voters has increased to more than 11,000. Both camps acknowledge the Negro vote could be decisive in a close race.

Dexter Youth Gets Award

DEXTER -- Briney Welborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe. E. Welborn, Bloomfield, and a Dexter high school senior, has been named the winner of the South Central Region Soroptimist Foundation Citizenship Award competition. He will represent the region in national Competition for the $2,500 foundation award.

At a dinner given in his honor by the Soroptimist Club of Stoddard county at Dexter, Mrs. Nina Arnold, president, presented him with a plaque from the county and district clubs and a $50 check from the south central region.

USE THE DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD CLASSIFIED ADS

Six Hundred Teachers To Receive Free Training

About 600 Missouri and Arkansas Teachers will get scholarships which will pay all their expenses for attending Teachers Institutes for six to eight weeks during next summer.

The institutes will be sponsored by the Office of Education, and paid for by the federal government. The teachers must make arrangements with the respective colleges before attending the institutes, and getting approval for the scholarships.

Four courses for United States History will be given in Missouri and Arkansas colleges as a part of the institutes on the subject. One will be at Northwest State (Maryville), and one at Northeast State (Kirkville), beginning June 19. In Arkansas one will be at State College (Jonesboro), and another at State Teachers College (Conway) beginning June 13 and Aug. 5. Those who want to attend an institute on U.S. History as related to Latin America, can get the course at Southwest Missouri (Springfield) June 13.

Institute on Viet Nam

Teachers who want to brush up on their history of Viet Nam, and Southeast Asia, may attend an institute at St. Louis University, to begin June 19. The Institute will last from six to eight weeks.

Teachers who want to get fresh ideas to teach Johnny to read may attend at the University (K. C. Campus), June 30. In Arkansas teachers may go to Arkansas State for the same type of course, to begin June 13.

Teachers and supervisors who want to get the latest methods and procedures for teaching English and Literature, will find an institute at Southwest (Springfield) to begin June 6, or at the state university of Arkansas (Fayetteville) to begin June 6.

Supervisors of French who want to learn the latest techniques can attend an institute at the University (Columbia) June 20, or at Fayetteville. An institute for teachers on teaching "disadvantaged" children will be held at Washington University, to begin June 20. There will be an institute at the same university on teaching deaf children, according to the announcement, to begin July 5.

QUICK QUIZ

Q—Did the Germans occupy any British soil in World War II?

A—The Channel Islands, off the northwest coast of France, were the only British soil occupied by German troops in that war.

Q—Is a bald eagle really bald?

A—The head of a mature bald eagle is covered with white feathers. At a distance the white head looks bald, thus deceiving observers.

Q—How large does the common lobster grow?

A—Largest recorded weighed 35 pounds, but few grow to more than a fraction of this in these days of heavy fishing.

Q—Who was the first United States minister to Great Britain?

A—John Adams, appointed in 1785.

★ Legal Notices ★

Required by law to inform citizens of matters affecting them or their property.

THE CITY OF SIKESTON, MISSOURI

RESOLUTION

A resolution declaring the necessity for the construction of 1½" hotmix asphaltic pavement on 6" soil cement base with concrete curb and gutter on the west side only of Dona Street from Malone to Matthews in accordance with plans and specifications in the City of Sikeston, Missouri; stating the nature of the improvement; the estimated cost and providing that payment for all of the improvement shall be made by special tax bills levied and assessed against the abutting property. Be it resolved by the Council of the City of Sikeston, State of Missouri, as follows: SECTION 1: That the Council of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, deems and declares the construction of said Street necessary to the welfare and improvement of the City of Sikeston. SECTION 2: That the nature and scope of the improvement shall consist of furnishing all cost, including labor, materials and transportation necessary for the complete construction of the improvement. SECTION 3: That the estimated cost of the improvement is $3.75 per lineal foot of abutting property, to be charged against the lots and tracts of land abutting the improvement. SECTION 4: That payment for all of the improvement shall be made by special tax bills evidencing special assessments against the abutting property in the manner specified by the statutes of the State of Missouri and the ordinances of the City of Sikeston, Missouri, because in the opinion of the City Council the General Revenue fund of the City of Sikeston is not in a condition to warrant an expenditure therefrom to pay for the improvement. SECTION 5: That any work performed on construction of the improvement shall be in compliance with the provisions of the prevailing wage laws of the State of Missouri, such prevailing wage rates having been established by the Industrial Commission of Missouri. SECTION 6: That the City Clerk is hereby authorized and directed to furnish a copy of this Resolution to a daily newspaper of general circulation in the City of Sikeston, so that it shall be published for seven consecutive insertions. Read the first, second and third times and passed and approved this 2nd day of May, 1966. Approved: Kendall Sikes, Mayor; Attest: John W. Vaughn, City Clerk. 187 inc 193

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

We are authorized to announce as a candidate subject to the will of the voters of Scott County in the Democratic Primary Election on Tuesday, August 2nd, 1966:

COLLECTOR
C. E. FELKER,
Sikeston, Mo.

HAROLD E. HAHN,
Benton, Mo.

DENNIS HOLLAND
Lusk Chapel, Scott Co.

AUBREY MICHAEL
Benton, Mo.

RE CORDER
JOHN J. BOLLINGER,
Benton, Mo.

JOHNNIE GREGG
723 Main
Sikeston, Missouri

FOR COUNTY CLERK
PHIL WALDMAN, JR.
804 Courtney Drive
Sikeston, Mo.

FOR CIRCUIT COURT
LYNN INGRAM
704 Hickory
Sikeston, Mo.

MELVIN GLUECK
Route one
Illmo, Missouri

FOR COMMITTEEMAN
Richland Township
V. L. (RED) KIRBY
204 N. Prairie
Sikeston, Mo.

BILL LEWIS
508 Carroll
Sikeston, Mo.

CLYDE "PECK" WISDOM
103 Comstock Place
Sikeston, Mo.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE
157th District
7 South Township of Scott County
TONY HECKEMEYER
916 Hawthorne
Sikeston, Mo.

District 156
Kelso Township in Scott Co.
MARVIN E. PROFFER
Jackson, Missouri

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY
DANIEL S. NORTON
Route one
Sikeston, Missouri

LET WANT ADS WORK FOR YOU

WANT ADS at work!

• SLEEPING ROOMS 1

FOR RENT -- Sleeping room. Men preferred. GR 1-1837. 4-28-tf

FOR RENT -- Sleeping room. Men preferred. GR 1-0630. 4-22-tf

• FURNISHED APARTMENTS 2

FURNISHED APTS -- Modern close in utilities furnished. Tel. GR 1-5702 or GR 1-9276.

FOR RENT -- Furnished apartment. Adults only. Phone GR 1-5707. 5-18-tf

FOR RENT -- 3 Room furnished apartment. Utilities paid. Phone GR 1-9870. 4-30-tf

FOR RENT -- Furnished apartment. 538 Vernon. Utilities paid. $70. Telephone GR 1-2500 or GR 1-5476. 4-29-tf

FOR RENT -- Air conditioned, 3 room furnished apartment. Phone GR 1-2131 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. 5-4-tf

• UNFURNISHED APARTMENTS 2a

FOR RENT -- Large 3 room air conditioned apartment. Utilities furnished. GR 1-1262. 4-12-tf

FOR RENT -- Unfurnished garage apartment. Adults. 300 E. Kathleen. 5-3-tf

• HOUSES FOR RENT 3

FOR RENT -- 4 Room house. 205 Missouri Ave. $40. Phone GR 1-2500 or GR1-5476. 5-9-tf

FOR RENT -- 5 Room house, air conditioned. Full basement. 216 N. Ranney. GR 1-5339. 5-6-tf

FOR RENT -- 2 Bedroom with air conditioning. Call after 5:00 p.m.; GR 1-1878. 5-6-6t

FOR RENT -- Four room furnished house. Adults. 210 Edmondson. GR 1-3403. 5-7-4t

FOR RENT -- 5 Room house. Call GR 1-5134 between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. 5-3-tf

• MISC. FOR SALE 5

FOR SALE -- Thin aluminum plates. 24" by 36" 15 cents each. The Daily Sikeston Standard. 10-17-tf

"Repossessed furniture and appliances. Some new, used and abused." GR 1-2078. 1-27-tf

Welders
225 Amp Lincoln complete $125.00
Welding Equipment, parts & Gases.
WEBB ELECTRIC SUPPLY
Highway 61 South
Sikeston
12-13-tf

ELECTROLUX
Orville Yates
GR 1-3341
7-12-tf

FOR SALE -- Geraniums. Goode's Nursery. GR 1-3119. 4-8-tf

3 Complete rooms of furniture! $995.00
$49.75 down -- $8.22 weekly. Includes double door refrigerator, 36" gas range, 5 piece dinnette set, 3 piece bedroom suite, mattress & springs; living room suite, tables & lamps. Wilcoxson & Sons Furniture Co. Sikeston, Missouri 4-23-tf

MOBILE HOME
SPECIAL
12' wide $3695.00
2 & 3 bedrooms
gas heat
Gas Hot water heater
JOE GALEMORE
MOBILE HOMES
2 miles E. of Charleston
open 7:30 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.
Sunday Afternoons 1 to 5

FOR SALE -- Used televisions, automatic washers, and refrigerators. Service on all makes and models (white & color). All work guaranteed
DELTA APPLIANCE SERVICE CENTER
Leroy Conley and Mac McRoy
881 (Rear) W. Malone -- GR 1-1565. 4-6-tf

FOR SALE -- Tappan Ranges--Gibson air conditioners. See or Call Royce Ayers.
Midwest L. P. Gas Co.
Highway zz North
Morehouse - NO 7-2091 4-30-30t

DO you count wear and tear and labor too? Then Wipe Lustre is the rug cleaner for you. Machine Rental $1 per day with purchase. Smith-Alsop Paint & Wallpaper Co. 5-7-6t

FOR SALE -- 8' fully assembled, Redwood stained picnic table with tubular steel frame; only $22.50. E. C. Robinson Lumber Company. GR 1-3284. 5-6-6t

FOR SALE -- 400 lb. capacity lawn & garden wheelbarrow. Reg. $10.75 -- $8.95. E. C. Robinson Lumber Co., GR 1-3284. 5-6-6t

FOR SALE -- IHC Scouts, '63, right-hand drive, full top-roll up windows, 3 spd. trans. 4 cyl. eng., 6:70 x 15 tires, some units with positraction, perfect for rural letter carriers -- Contact: Motor Transportation Co. 3534 Gratiot Street, St. Louis, Mo. 63103. Phone: 314-PR 3-0800. 5-6-6t

FOR SALE -- Repossessed Honda Sport 90; one repossessed Honda Super Hawk. For information, call GR 1-3365. 5-6-5t

FOR SALE -- 20' Cabin Cruiser, 75 h.p. Johnson motor and boat trailer. Sleeps 4 to 6. Enclosed head. Perfect condition. Call GR 1-2754 or see at 619 Moore St. 5-9-6t

• MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS 5a

For Sale
2 Good pianos; rebuilt and guaranteed or money back within two years.
Expert tuning & Repair.
SIKESTON PIANO CENTER
118 W. Front
GR 1-5899

FOR SALE
Piano -- Used Upright
$35.00
Keith Collins Piano Co.
98 N. Kingshighway, Sikeston 5-9-2t

PIANOS -- ORGANS -- Baldwin --Wurlitzer. Rental plan --Easy terms. Prices from $399.00. Keith Collins Piano Co.
98 N. Kingshighway, Sikeston GR 1-4531 5-9-tf

• REAL ESTATE 6

FOR SALE -- Residence with 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, dining room, central air conditioning, family room, fireplace, 2 screened porches, large lot, beautiful trees. Shown by appointment. Call Dr. Frank Sisson, GR 1-2626 days; GR 1-0281 evenings. 4-29-tf

FOR SALE -- 6 Room house with bath. Extra lot. In Morehouse. Call NO 7-5570. 5-5-12t

For Sale -- 2,600 Acres of river bottom land near Amary, Mississippi. Small cotton allotment. Adequate housing. Call John R. Young, 534-7886, New Albany, Mississippi. 3-1-5t

FOR SALE -- By owner. 4 Room house and 15 acres 20 minutes from Sikeston. $4,500.00. LO 8-2458. 4-12-tf

FOR SALE -- 209 Marion St. House, large lot, $2,500 down. Take over $3,200, 4½ percent FHA mortgage. Payments about $50.00 per month. Write E. E. Trail, 1510 Channel Dr., Round Lake, Ill. 4-9-26t

FOR SALE -- 2 Bedroom home on paved street. Close in. Small downpayment. Assume loan. GR 1-5181. 5-9-3t

CAFE
with living quarters; located in north Arkansas town. Established years. Owner leaving for service. Priced to sell. Write P. O. Box 662 or phone GR 1-1930.

• MISC. WANTED 10

WANTED -- Good used furniture and appliances. Hezzie Furniture Mart. Phone GR 1-5617. 11-30-tf

• HELP WANTED FEMALE 11

WANTED -- Girl over 21. Apply in person after 7 p.m. Park-A-Lot Drive In. 5-9-tf

ARE YOU LOOKING? For a good-paying part - time job? Avon offers a marvelous opportunity. Call GR 1-2439 after 6 p.m. 5-9-3t

SPEED TYPIST
Must type 70 w.p.m. with accuracy. Apply between 12 and 2 p.m. Daily Standard.

GIRL WANTED -- 21 or over. Apply in person. Ira & Louise's Drive In, 1805 E. Malone. 5-3-tf

• HELP WANTED MALE & FEMALE 11a

HAVE YOU used Watkins Products? If you have, then you know why so many people buy them. Have route open in Section of Sikeston. Full or part time. Average earnings $2.50 hr. Man or woman. Write C. R. Ruble, Dept. 5-2, P. O. Box 2447, Memphis, Tenn. 38102. 5-9-1t

WANTED -- Strawberry pickers. About May 10. 20 Acre patch. Contact Reuben Howell, 5½ miles southeast of Dexter, Mo. Route 1. Phone MA 4-4830. 5-2-12t

• HELP WANTED MALE 12

EXPERIENCED Truck Driver, $2.05 per hour. Hedrick Concrete Products Corp. GR 1-3379. 5-9-3t

DEDICATED CHRISTIAN MAN who is active in Sunday School and Church. Earnings $7,000 to $10,000 first year. May begin part time. Write me: Paul van Antwerpen, 22 West Madison St., Chicago, Ill. 60602. 5-9-1t

3 YOUNG MEN
Free to relocate Kentucky -- Tennessee. Must be neat, aggressive and willing to learn. No experience necessary. Transportation furnished. Immediate drawing account. Above average earnings. See Mr. Gentry, Pine Motel 10 to 12 only. No phone calls. 5-5-6t

• OPPORTUNITIES 14

--OPPORTUNITY--
Looking for a career selling job? Old established company has opening for aggressive sales representative. Travel limited to Southeast Missouri. Age -- preferrably 23-40. Must have high school education. Company trains -- Many fringe benefits -- Established territory. Must be able to start work in June. For further information, application & interview write
SHELBY
BUSINESS FORMS
6609 Clayton Road
St. Louis, Mo. 63117

U.S. CIVIL SERVICE TESTS!
Men - women 18 and over. Secure jobs. High starting pay. Short hours. Advancement. Preparatory training as long as required. Thousands of jobs open. Experience usually unnecessary. FREE booklet on jobs, salaries, requirements. Write TODAY giving name, address and phone. Lincoln Service Box 100, c-o Daily Sikeston Standard.

USE THE DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD CLASSIFIED ADS

• SPECIAL SERVICES 17

Exterior & Interior painting
Call Sherman Cambron
NO 7-2231 after 5 p.m. 4-22-tf

We Build
Automatic Feeding Systems
& Silos complete
Memphis Concrete Silo Co.
D. H. Temples, Salesman.
Rt. 2, Dexter, Ph. LO 8-2720. 4-13-26t

For Light Hauling
or City Delivery
Call GR 1-4552 4-18-30t

• POULTRY & LIVESTOCK 18

FOR SALE -- 2 Ponies. Call GR 1-2188 or after 5 -- GR 1-5650. 4-26-tf

*BLOODLIVER
*Domestic Mischief
*LAMPLIGHTERS
*C.M.R.
Homer Oliver, Mgr.
Dearmont Oliver & Sons
East Prairie, Missouri
Phone NI 9-3740
Reg. Polled Herefords
For Sale
VISITORS WELCOME

• FEED & SEED 20

FOR SALE -- Tiftgreen Bermuda: Beautiful Hybrid turfgrass used by many Southeast Missourians. Quick ground cover! -- Order by phone and pick up 24 hours later. $2.70 per square yard. Discount for over 5 yards.
Raymond D. Hicks, Ph. D.
Route 1, Portageville
Call DR 9-5510 after 5 p.m. 5-3-8t

• NEW & USED CARS 21

FOR SALE -- 1953 Ford truck. Call GR 1-2666 after 5 p.m. 5-6-5t

'54 Chevrolet. Just overhauled, at 320 Edmondson. $225.00. 4-28-12t

• LOANS & INSURANCE 24

WE HAVE THE BEST MONEY IN TOWN
See us for fast "CASH"
KEY LOAN CO.
GR 1-0428
"WE LIKE TO SAY YES"

EARN GOOD MONEY WHILE YOU LEARN AT
MCDONNELL
World Famous Designer and Builder of Phantom II Jet Fighters and Gemini Spacecraft in St. Louis

Trainee classes start every week for those who want to learn a valuable skill or trade.

If you've had a class or some experience in manual training or metalworking, no doubt you're ready for one of our training classes.

Headed for the Service? Take a good trade or skill with you! You'll get a better break in your Military assignment and a head start on a good rating.

AND you'll have a job priority at MCDONNELL when you return from Service.

FOR A 40-HOUR WEEK YOU'LL BE PAID...
$66 per week for the first 4 weeks while you're in school.
$70 per week for the next 7 weeks learning on the Production Line.
$78 per week for the next six weeks on the Production Line.

THEN...
$97.20 per week, followed by automatic increases of $1.20 every 10 weeks within grade in your job classification.

THAT'S A $31.20 PER WEEK PAY INCREASE IN JUST 4 MONTHS.

PICK YOUR CAREER...

Mechanic, Airplane Production Trainees
Instruction in use of tools and measuring instruments to install aircraft equipment. Blueprint reading and the use of planning sheets will also be taught.

Mechanic, Electrical and Radio Trainees
Instruction in use of tools to install electrical equipment. Read and use wiring diagrams and engineering specifications.

Sheet Metal Assembler and Riveter Trainees
Instruction in use of tools, measuring instruments and blueprints for assembly work.

To apply, contact your nearest State Employment office.

MCDONNELL
ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI
A PLANS FOR PROGRESS COMPANY
AND
AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER

Bud Stumpe couldn't possibly outguess Dick Sullivan

Bud's a defensive driver. So when they met at that intersection, he didn't assume the right-of-way. He waited, and made sure Dick would come to a full stop, and thus saved them both from a crushing experience. Are you a defensive driver?

WATCH OUT FOR THE OTHER GUY

Published to save lives in cooperation with The Advertising Council, The National Safety Council and The International Newspaper Advertising Executives.

THE FUTURE BELONGS TO THE FIT

On the ice continents or in the Peace Corps, in farming or finance, the future belongs to the fit. The future belongs to those vigorous enough to live it, and shape it. Are your schools providing for physical fitness as part of the sound education your children need to carve out their share of the future? You parents can help see that they do. Write: The President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington, D.C., for Information.

PRESIDENT'S COUNCIL ON PHYSICAL FITNESS
Published as a public service in cooperation with The Advertising Council

Published by the Patriotic Individuals and Business Firms Listed Below

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS
SHY'S DRUG STORE
THE SIKESTON STANDARD
SCOTT-NEW MADRID-MISSISSIPPI ELECTRIC CORPORATIVE
MISSOURI UTILITIES CO.
SIKESTON LUMBER CO.
BANK OF SIKESTON

Channel 12

MONDAY MAY 9
5:45 THE SCOREBOARD
5:50 WATCHING THE WEATHER
6:00 CBS EVENING NEWS - COLOR CBS
6:30 TO TELL THE TRUTH CBS
7:00 I'VE GOT A SECRET CBS
7:30 THE LUCY SHOW - COLOR CBS
8:00 ANDY GRIFFITH SHOW - COLOR CBS
8:30 HAZEL - COLOR CBS
9:00 HOLLYWOOD TALENT SCOUTS - COLOR
10:00 CHANNEL 12 REPORTS
10:15 THE LATE WEATHER
10:25 THE SPORTS FINAL
10:30 CHANNEL 12 THEATRE
(THE 400 BLOWS-FRANCIS TRUFFAUT & JEAN PIERRE LEAUD)
12:15 LATE NEWS HIGHLIGHTS

TUESDAY MAY 10
6:00 SUNRISE SEMESTER CBS
6:30 CHUCK WAGON GANG
6:45 CH. 12 BREAKFAST SHOW
7:05 CBS MORNING NEWS CBS
7:30 CH. 12 BREAKFAST SHOW
8:00 CAPTAIN KANGAROO CBS
9:00 I LOVE LUCY CBS
9:30 THE REAL MC COYS CBS
10:00 ANDY OF MAYBERRY CBS
10:30 DICK VAN DYKE SHOW CBS
11:00 LOVE OF LIFE CBS
11:25 NOONDAY NEWS CBS
11:30 SEARCH FOR TOMORROW CBS
11:45 THE GUIDING LIGHT CBS
12:00 NOON AN NEWS
12:15 THE FARM PICTURE
12:20 KITCHENING THE WEATHER
12:30 AS THE WORLD TURNS CBS
1:00 PASSWORD CBS
1:30 HOUSE PARTY - COLOR CBS
2:00 TO TELL THE TRUTH CBS
2:25 DOUGLAS EDWARDS NEWS CBS
2:30 THE EDGE OF NIGHT CBS
3:00 THE SECRET STORM CBS
3:30 COLOR FEATURE
4:00 BACHELOR FATHER
4:30 LEAVE IT TO BEAVER
5:00 WOODY WOODPECKER SHOW - COLOR

3 On Your TV

MONDAY, MAY 9
6:00 Cactus Pete
6:25 Weather
6:30 12 O'Clock High
7:30 Jesse James
8:00 Shenandoah
8:30 Peyton Place
9:00 The Avengers
10:00 Weather & News
10:20 Untouchables
11:20 Maverick
12:30 News & Sign Off

9:00 Jack Lalanne
9:30 M-Not For Hire
T-Family Theatre
W-Agriculture & Edu.
T-Family Theatre
F-Douglas & Dirksen
10:00 Supermarket Sweep
10:30 Dating Game
11:00 Donna Reed
11:30 Father Knows Best
12:00 Ben Casey
1:00 Confidential-Women
1:30 A Time For Us
1:54 News-Womans Touch
2:00 General Hospital
2:30 The Nurses
3:00 Never Too Young
3:24 Arlene Dahl-Beauty C
3:30 Where The Action Is
4:00 The Hour
5:00 M-W-F Adventure Club
Tu-Blue Angles
Th-Lone Ranger
5:30 Rocky & His Friends
5:45 Peter Jennings-News

6

MONDAY -P.M. May 9
6:30 Hullabaloo - c
7:00 John Forsythe Show - c
7:30 Dr. Kildare - c
8:00 Andy Williams - c
9:00 Lyndon Johnsons' Texas - c
10:00 News Picture
10:15 Tonight Show - c

DAILY (Monday thru Friday)
7:00 Today Show - c
9:00 Romper Room
9:25 NBC News
9:30 Concentration
10:00 Morning Star - c
10:30 Paradise Bay - c
11:00 Jeopardy - c
11:30 Let's Play Post Office - c
11:55 NBC News
12:00 News, Farm Markets
12:15 Pastor Speaks
12:30 Let's Make a Deal - c
12:55 NBC News
1:00 Days of our Lives - c
1:30 The Doctors
2:00 Another World
2:30 You Don't Say - c
3:00 Match Game - c
3:25 NBC News
3:30 Bingo
4:00 Popeye - c
4:30 M.T.W.Th. Cheyenne to 5:30
4:30 Fri Dance Party to 5:30
5:50 Huntley-Brinkley - c
6:00 News
6:10 Weather
6:20 Sports

KMPL 1520 K.C.

PROGRAM SCHEDULE — MONDAY THRU FRIDAY
5:30 Sign On
5:32 Town and Country
6:25 Perspective on Markets
6:55 KMPL World Report
7:05 KMPL Regional & Local News
7:15 KMPL Weather
7:20 KMPL Market Report
7:25 KMPL Sports Report
7:30 The Morning Watch
8:25 Perspective for Women
9:05 Around the Town
10:05 Musical Fun
10:15 Perspective on Lighter Side
10:30 Musical Fun
11:40 Let's Pretend
11:55 Mid-Day Meditations
12:00 KMPL World Report
12:10 KMPL Sports Report
12:20 KMPL Regional & Local Report
12:35 KMPL Markets
12:45 KMPL Weather Report
12:55 News Sound: Analysis
1:00 Ballroom
2:05 Open Line
2:30 Country Fare
3:25 Perspective on Business
3:30 Bootheel Beat
5:45 KMPL Market Report
5:55 KMPL World News Report
6:00 KMPL Regional & Local Report
6:05 KMPL Sports Report
6:10 KMPL Weather Report
6:15 Vespers in Music
6:30 Interlude - Music
7:30 The Night Watch - Music
11:25 KMPL News Final
11:30 Sign Off
NOTE: KMPL NEWS at 55 PAST EACH HOUR

Looking Back Over the Years

50 years ago
May 9, 1916

W. L. Gordon, who has been in the Farmers Supply Dry Goods Co., departed Sunday for Cape Girardeau, to fill a clerical position there.

Mrs. A. B. Skillman gave a birthday dinner Sunday in honor of Dave Kevil.

Will Sikes bought a car load of cattle from E. J. and John Keith of Knoxall last week.

40 years ago
May 9, 1926

Charlie Watson, small son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Watson of Dorothy street, had the misfortune to fall off the porch Wednesday, breaking one of his arms. He is getting along nicely now.

The cast has been selected for "Adam and Eve" the senior play, which will be presented May 18. The cast is composed of: Ivan Randolph, Janice Bone, Linn Smith, Burdeen Schroff, Evelyn Smith, Elizabeth Stallcup, Frank Trousdale, John Putnam, Lyman Fox, and Vernon Skillman.

The management of the Malone Theatre has discontinued the family nights, on account of the abuse of the privilege. It has been the custom to admit children free when accompanied by parents, but people who were not married attempted to and did pass in children free. From now on everybody pays.

30 years ago
May 9, 1936

N. C. Watkins of Vanduser, Scott County, who has been employed in the state park service at numerous localities in the Ozarks, has been transferred to Troy, Mo., for duty in connection with the Federal park in that community. His family will remain in DeSoto until school closes.

About 45 grammar and junior high school students will undergo tonsillectomies today at a free clinic sponsored jointly by the Kiwanis Club and the Red Cross chapter.

A plan for organization for Kiwanis club sponsored Cub packs was arranged Thursday night when boys between 9 and 12 years old and their parents met with Scouters in the American Legion club rooms in the McCoy-Tanner building. Mrs. A. J. Renner will be den mother for cubs living in the north part of town and Mrs. L. R. Burns will serve as den mother for a southside pack. Mrs. Burns will have in her den: Tommy Roberts, Billy Foley, Charles Boardman, Harold T. Lindley, Joe Dye, Peter Burns, Bob Burns, Miller Moll and John Richard Ensor. Present members of Mrs. Renner's den are: Tommy McClure, Larry Shain, Billy Swacker, Lowell Greer, Ed Dan Renner, Billy Sikes, Tommy Roberts, Charles Mitchell, Bobby Mitchell, Harold Stacy, Billy Anderson, Jimmy Powers, John Boardman, Joe Rabb and Bobby Joe Vowels.

Mrs. Wm. Graham entertained members of her family at dinner Sunday in honor of Mother's Day and her 74th birth anniversary on the following day, May 11.

20 years ago
May 9, 1946

Mrs. Moore Greer, Mrs. Ralph Anderson, Mrs. Irma Allen, Mrs. O. T. Elder and Miss Myra Tanner spent Tuesday in Memphis, where they attended the concert in which Miss Mimi Allen of Sikeston was featured.

Rex Theatre, tomorrow, double feature, "Step Lively" with Frank Sinatra plus "Invisible Man's Revenge" with Jon Hall. Malone Theatre, tomorrow, "Scarlett Street" with Edward G. Robinson and Joan Bennett.

High school notes. The 1946-47 cayenne of the Red Peppers, Jo Ann Botter, and the other officers: Vice cayenne, Dot Matthews; secretary, Peggy Lair; and treasurer, Mary Ellen Sensenbaugh, were announced at the annual Red Pepper banquet held in the dining room of the Dunn Coffee shop, Friday night.

Harry C. Blanton of Sikeston, who for the past 12 years, has held the office of United States District Attorney in St. Louis, has submitted his resignation to United States Senator Frank B. Briggs.

Mechanic, after overhauling motor, to medic: "Pity they don't have Blue Cross for cars, eh, doc?" --Bob Brown

The Prayer

For Today From The Upper Room

This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein. (Joshua 1:8)

PRAYER: Father I thank Thee for the Bible which Thou hast given us. Guide me in my daily reading of Thy Word that I may learn to use it as my guidebook for life. Help me to turn to Thy Word at all times. Through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, I ask these things. Amen.

ANN LANDERS

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: This may be one of the strangest letters you have ever received. I hope you won't think it is too strange to print because I suspect other mothers have the same problems but refuse to admit it.

My husband and I rasied our four children to be independent and self-reliant. Everyone told us we did a wonderful job. As the children grew older I began to wish we hadn't done such a good job. I resented their independence. I wanted them to need me and ask for my advice. Before long I began to meddle in their affairs. I even tried to take over their children.

After a run-in with my daughter-in-law I decided to talk to my doctor. He told me I had an over-supply of mother love and that I needed another baby — which was impossible at my age. So he suggested an alternative. He send me to the welfare people and I obtained a child care license. I put an ad in the paper and within three days I had a 13-month-old baby boy. Two weeks later I advertised for a second baby. Now I have two little boys and I'm happier than I've been in years.

The mothers of these children say I am the answer to their prayers. I KNOW they are the answer to mine. When these mothers take their babies away I will get replacements. There will always be mothers who must work and babies who need a mama-substitute. This is my specialty.

My relationship with my own children is better than ever. And I have no time for aches and pains or crying spells. How I wish I had seen a letter like this in your column five years ago. It could have saved me a lot of unhappiness. -- SPARK REKINDLED

Dear Spark: What a beautiful example of receiving through giving! And your doctor deserves a standing ovation for coming up with the ideal solution to your problem. Cheers for him and hooray for you.

Dear Ann Landers: Recently I took a job distributing phone directories. The job turned out to be interesting as well as educational. I wish everyone would try to deliver phone directories for just one day. They'd have new respect for the postman and other delivery people

It is shocking that thousands of residents don't display their house numbers either on the mailbox or anywhere else. How do they expect to locate them? I had to enlist the help of neighbors in a great many cases. I asked one woman who had no number on her porch or mailbox how she got her deliveries. Her answer was "They figure it out somehow."

Why should THEY have to "figure it out?" It seems to me that the burden should rest on the residents and not the carriers.

Please print my letter. It is the surest route to millions of eyes that I know of. -- DISGUSTED WITH PEOPLE

Dear People: The moment you finish reading this column, go outside and see if you could find your home if you didn't where you live.

If your residence is not properly marked, run -- don't walk -- to the nearest hardware store or the five and dime. Buy some paint and a brush -- or some metal numerals and a hammer and nails. It could be the most useful thing you did all week.

Confidential to Tree Top Tall: Shakespeare notwithstanding -- life is NOT a stage. You will not receive your satisfactions and rewards from playing to an audience. So what if he IS a few inches shorter than your? What does it matter? If you let this marvelous man get away you are out of your ever-loving mind.

Liquor can ruin your mind, your body and your life. To learn the booby traps of teen-age drinking, write for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mail Box

To the Editor
DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD
Sikeston, Missouri

There are many non-communists and a relatively few active anti-communists. The best known of the latter are frequently charged with being anti-semitic, anti-union labor, anti-Negro and accompanying anti's, although patriots are generally "for" in trying to preserve freedom. In most cases the charges against "anti's" are untrue and those intended to be defamed are merely actively opposing communism. A question can be raised about the ones who are making the charges or starting rumors. Sometimes these false charges are repeated even by the general public and are in no way a badge of honor for the minorities which the "chargers" purport to protect. It is said "truth will out" and when it does, the facts will finally, if slowly, emerge in favor of many of the victims of the charges.

Constructively,
H. L. Hunt
1401 Elm Street
Dallas, Texas

To the Editor:
I, and myself,
Live all alone
In a small town
We call our own.

'Twas an easy job
To make this out
But now I've done
Without a doubt.

I read THE STANDARD
To get the news
I read Drew Pearson
To get his views.
Important items
Of every kind
I read daily
To enrich the mind.

Now for poems
Of any size,
My entry is filed
To draw a prize.

Written with PLEASURE,
Submitted in HUMILITY
And wishing much
SUCCESS to the STANDARD
John Fletcher
East Prairie, Mo.

To the Editor:

We would like to take this means of expressing our appreciation for the good coverage you gave the convention meeting here last week, through the daily write-ups and also the pictures.

Thanks again!
First Assembly of God Church
and
Rev. T. A. McDonough

Mr. C. L. Blanton, Jr.
Publisher
The Daily Sikeston Standard
Sikeston, Missouri

Dear Charlie:

As a member of the County Board of Education, I wish to thank you for the excellent coverage you gave to the reorganization proposal for Scott County. While it was defeated, I feel that it has caused much thinking and evaluation of schools which will yield a dividend for the children of Scott County in the future.

Again thanks for your extra news coverage done by Dan Whittle for your paper.

Very truly yours,
Tharon E. Stallings
116 South Kingshighway
Sikeston, Missouri

Parma News

Mrs. Ruth Allstun visited Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Brown of Dexter Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rehms and grandson of Advance, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rehms of Henderson, Ky., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Norman, Wednesday. Mrs. Joe Bagby of Vinson was also a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Norman of Carbondale, Ill., visited Mr. and Mrs. Earl Norman during the past week.

Mrs. Emma Jean Dunn and Sherry of Waynesville, Mo., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Gregg last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Gregg of St. Louis visited Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Gregg Saturday through Monday. Sunday guests of the Greggs were Morris Gregg and sons of Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Link of Malden and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dieter.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Lindley of St. Louis visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lindley during the weekend.

Dr. and Mrs. George W. Husted visited her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Floral White of Sikeston.

Mrs. W. L. Ramsey visited in Kennett Saturday afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Buchanan of Portageville, were guests Sunday of Mrs. Gertie Nolan.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Orman spent the weekend with her son, Donald Nelson and family in O'Fallon. They also visited Mrs. Helen Ledbetter and children of O'Fallon, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald of Affton. Mrs. Brenda Patton and children accompanied the Ormans to Affton where they visited her brother and family, the Donald Chappells.

Mrs. Ray Gratz, Teresa and Alan, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Perry of Bloomfield.

Mrs. Harold Harchous spent the weekend in Atlanta, Ga., visiting relatives.

Rev. and Mrs. Peter Fischer attended funeral services for Harry Wilcox in Dexter, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Val Sharp of Sikeston, visited Thursday with Mrs. Encil Knight.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Perry and Family of Bloomfield were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Encil Knight.

Mr. and Mrs. Narvel Cameron visited in Malden Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Nancy Ruby.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ramsey were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Vieth in Bernie.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. White and Mrs. Lieulla Ziegler attended funeral services for a cousin, Oscar Westmoreland in Patterson, Mo., April 27.

A "going-out-of-business linen shop on 3rd Ave. in New York City displayed this sign: "Closed for vacation. Will resume going out of business on Sept. 15."

--V. C. Palat

ATTENTION FARMERS

Now is the time to check your small grain for army worms.

Call one of the most experienced operaters in Southeast Missouri, with new airplanes and equipment.

HOLYFIELD FLYING SERVICE, INC.
DAY OR NIGHT Phone GR 1-5577

For Sikeston ...a distinguished event!

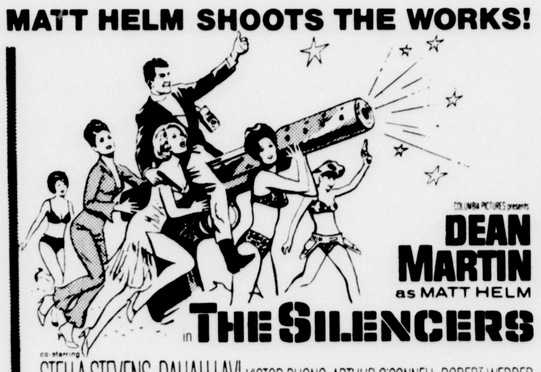

The GEORGE STEVENS Production THE GREATEST STORY EVER TOLD
TECHNICOLOR Released by UNITED ARTISTS

EXCLUSIVE LIMITED ENGAGEMENT
Thru Thursday MAY 12
NIGHTS 7:30
Wed. Matinee 2 P.M.

ADMISSION: ADULTS $1.25 - CHILDREN 75¢
REX THEATRE — Sikeston, Mo.

MALONE Shows Begin 2:00 Sun. - Fri. 1:00 Saturday

MONDAY TUESDAY WEDNESDAY
MATT HELM SHOOTS THE WORKS!

COLUMBIA PICTURES presents DEAN MARTIN as MATT HELM in THE SILENCERS
co-starring STELLA STEVENS · DALIAH LAVI · VICTOR BUONO · ARTHUR O'CONNELL · ROBERT WEBBER
JAMES GREGORY · ROGER C. CARMEL · BEVERLY ADAMS and CYD CHARISSE
Produced by IRVING ALLEN · COLUMBIACOLOR
Original Sound Track Album Available on RCA Victor Records

LEASE A TORONADO!
IMMEDIATE DELIVERY!
IT'S LOADED with 4-season air conditioning and many luxury accessories. Maintenance and insurance available.
$129 MO.* delivered F.O.B. Detroit
*Price may vary due to local taxes and license costs.
International LEASING SYSTEM
TOM BALDWIN, Dist.
TU 8-5268 Kennett, Mo.

DELTA DRIVE-IN
Monday Tuesday
JOSEPH E. LEVINE presents CARROLL BAKER "HARLOW"
TECHNICOLOR PANAVISION

ANNOUNCING . . . A NEW SERVICE TO SOUTHEAST MISSOURI RESIDENTS!

Lease An Automobile!!

International Leasing Corp. of Detroit is proud to announce the appointment of Mr. Tom Baldwin as our distributor in Southeast Missouri!

International Leasing Corporation

Phone TU 8-5268 TOM BALDWIN, Distributor Kennett, Mo.

WOOLWORTH'S PETTICOAT SALE
10% TO 30% OFF AS THE BALS TAKE OVER

Save 10c on every pair you buy!
SEAMLESS NYLONS
Reg. 49c
Seamless mesh beauties. Take advantage of our low, low price and stock up now. Choose fashionable rose-tone or sun-tone shades. Sizes 9-11.
39¢ pr.

BUY THEM BY THE DOZENS
LIFE-LIKE PLASTIC FLOWERS
7¢ ea.

- Snap Dragon
- Cosmos
- Geranium
- Sweet Pea
- Golden Pothos
- Rose
- Assorted Ferns

Perennial blooming favorites duplicate nature's very own. They're washable, fadeproof; stems can be easily cut or bent for arranging. Come pick a bouquet in exciting colors to accent or complement your home's decor. At this low price you can buy all you want and still enjoy big savings.

SAVE 1.00
Reg. 6.99 quality...
MOULDED LUGGAGE

5.99 each
Vinyl clad pieces include traincase, vanity, 16" weekend, 21", 26" pullmans. Rayon lined. Colors.

King size...
17oz. STYLE® HAIR SPRAY
83¢
Reg. 1.89
Contains Protex . . . exclusive texturizer. Has increased holding power. Adds beauty as you spray.

Reg. 1.29 plastic
BALLERINA SHADES
88¢
Frothy favorites have unbreakable, washable bodies. Choice of many colors, trims. 12" size.

COME IN, REGISTER FOR FREE GIFTS DURING THE MONTH OF MAY SEE DISPLAY IN WINDOW

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED WOOLWORTH'S REPLACEMENT OR MONEY REFUNDED
YOUR MONEY'S WORTH MORE AT WOOLWORTH'S

Channel 12

MONDAY MAY 9
5:45 THE SCOREBOARD
5:50 WATCHING THE WEATHER
6:00 CBS EVENING NEWS - COLOR CBS
6:30 TO TELL THE TRUTH CBS
7:00 I'VE GOT A SECRET CBS
7:30 THE LUCY SHOW - COLOR CBS
8:00 ANDY GRIFFITH SHOW - COLOR CBS
8:30 HAZEL - COLOR CBS
9:00 HOLLYWOOD TALENT SCOUTS - COLOR
10:00 CHANNEL 12 REPORTS
10:15 THE LATE WEATHER
10:25 THE SPORTS FINAL
10:30 CHANNEL 12 THEATRE
(THE 400 BLOWS-FRANCIS TRUFFAUT & JEAN PIERRE LEAUD)
12:15 LATE NEWS HIGHLIGHTS

TUESDAY MAY 10
6:00 SUNRISE SEMESTER CBS
6:30 CHUCK WAGON GANG
6:45 CH. 12 BREAKFAST SHOW
7:05 CBS MORNING NEWS CBS
7:30 CH. 12 BREAKFAST SHOW
8:00 CAPTAIN KANGAROO CBS
9:00 I LOVE LUCY CBS
9:30 THE REAL MC COYS CBS
10:00 ANDY OF MAYBERRY CBS
10:30 DICK VAN DYKE SHOW CBS
11:00 LOVE OF LIFE CBS
11:25 NEWCAN NEWS CBS
11:30 SEARCH FOR TOMORROW CBS
11:45 THE GUIDING LIGHT CBS
12:00 NOONDAY NEWS
12:15 THE FARM PICTURE
2:20 WATCHING THE WEATHER
2:30 THAT'S HOLLYWOOD CBS
1:00 ASHROD CBS
1:30 HOUSE PARTY - COLOR CBS
2:00 TO TELL THE TRUTH CBS
2:25 DOUGLAS EDWARDS NEWS CBS
2:30 THE EDGE OF NIGHT CBS
3:00 THE SECRET STORM CBS
3:30 COLOR FEATURE
4:00 BACHELOR FATHER
4:30 LEAVE IT TO BEAVER
5:00 WOODY WOODPECKER SHOW - COLOR

3

MONDAY, MAY 9
6:00 Cactus Pete
6:25 Weather
6:30 12 O'Clock High
7:30 Jesse James
8:00 Shenandoah
8:30 Peyton Place
9:00 The Avengers
10:00 Weather & News
10:20 Untouchables
11:20 Maverick
12:30 News & Sign Off

9:00 Jack Lalanne
9:30 M-Not For Hire
T-Family Theatre
W-Agriculture & Edu.
T-Family Theatre
F-Douglas & Dirksen
10:00 Supermarket Sweep
10:30 Dating Game
11:00 Donna Reed
11:30 Father Knows Best
12:00 Ben Casey
1:00 Confidential-Women
1:30 A Time For Us
1:54 News-Womans Touch
2:00 General Hospital
2:30 The Nurses
3:00 Never Too Young
3:24 Arlene Dahl-Beauty C
3:30 Where The Action Is
4:00 The Hour
5:00 M-W-F Adventure Club
Tu-Blue Angles
Th-Lone Ranger
5:30 Rocky & His Friends
5:45 Peter Jennings-News

6

MONDAY -P.M. May 9
6:30 Hullabaloo - c
7:00 John Forsythe Show - c
7:30 Dr. Kildare - c
8:00 Andy Williams - c
9:00 Lyndon Johnsons' Texas - c
10:00 News Picture
10:15 Tonight Show - c

DAILY (Monday thru Friday)
7:00 Today Show - c
9:00 Romper Room
9:25 NBC News
9:30 Concentration
10:00 Morning Star - c
10:30 Paradise Bay - c
11:00 Jeopardy - c
11:30 Let's Play Post Office - c
11:55 NBC News
12:00 News, Farm Markets
12:15 Pastor Speaks
12:30 Let's Make a Deal - c
12:55 NBC News
1:00 Days of our Lives - c
1:30 The Doctors
2:00 Another World
2:30 You Don't Say - c
3:00 Match Game - c
3:25 NBC News
3:30 Bingo
4:00 Popeye - c
4:30 M.T.W.Th. Cheyenne to 5:30
Fri Dance Party to 5:30
5:50 Huntley-Brinkley - c
6:00 News
6:10 Weather
6:20 Sports

KMPI 1520 K.C.

PROGRAM SCHEDULE — MONDAY THRU FRIDAY
5:30 Sign On
5:32 Town and Country
6:25 Perspective on Markets
6:55 KMPL World Report
7:05 KMPL Regional & Local News
7:15 KMPL Weather
7:20 KMPL Market Report
7:25 KMPL Sports Report
7:30 The Morning Watch
8:25 Perspective for Women
9:05 Around the Town
10:05 Musical Fun
10:25 Perspective on Lighter Side
10:30 Musical Fun
11:40 Let's Pretend
11:55 Mid-Day Meditations
12:00 KMPL World Report
12:10 KMPL Sports Report
12:20 KMPL Regional & Local Report
12:35 KMPL Markets
12:45 KMPL Weather Report
12:55 News Sound: Analysis
1:00 Bal room
2:05 Open Line
2:30 Country Fare
3:25 Perspective on Business
3:30 Bootheel Beat
5:45 KMPL Market Report
5:55 KMPL World News Report
6:00 KMPL Regional & Local Report
6:05 KMPL Sports Report
6:10 KMPL Weather Report
6:15 Vespers in Music
6:30 Interlude - Music
7:30 The Night Watch - Music
11:25 KMPL News Final
11:30 Sign Off
NOTE: KMPL NEWS at 55 PAST EACH HOUR

Looking Back Over the Years

50 years ago
May 9, 1916

W. L. Gordon, who has been in the Farmers Supply Dry Goods Co., departed Sunday for Cape Girardeau, to fill a clerical position there.

Mrs. A. B. Skillman gave a birthday dinner Sunday in honor of Dave Kevil.

Will Sikes bought a car load of cattle from E. J. and John Keith of Knoxall last week.

40 years ago
May 9, 1926

Charlie Watson, small son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Watson of Dorothy street, had the misfortune to fall off the porch Wednesday, breaking one of his arms. He is getting along nicely now.

The cast has been selected for "Adam and Eve" the senior play, which will be presented May 18. The cast is composed of: Ivan Randolph, Janice Bone, Linn Smith, Burdeen Schroff, Evelyn Smith, Elizabeth Stallcup, Frank Trousdale, John Putnam, Lyman Fox, and Vernon Skillman.

The management of the Malone Theatre has discontinued the family nights, on account of the abuse of the privilege. It has been the custom to admit children free when accompanied by parents, but people who were not married attempted to and did pass in children free. From now on everybody pays.

30 years ago
May 9, 1936

N. C. Watkins of Vanduser, Scott County, who has been employed in the state park service at numerous localities in the Ozarks, has been transferred to Troy, Mo., for duty in connection with the Federal park in that community. His family will remain in DeSoto until school closes.

About 45 grammar and junior high school students will undergo tonsillectomies today at a free clinic sponsored jointly by the Kiwanis Club and the Red Cross chapter.

A plan for organization for Kiwanis club sponsored Cub packs was arranged Thursday night when boys between 9 and 12 years old and their parents met with Scouters in the American Legion club rooms in the McCoy-Tanner building. Mrs. A. J. Renner will be den mother for cubs living in the north part of town and Mrs. L. R. Burns will serve as den mother for a southside pack. Mrs. Burns will have in her den: Tommy Roberts, Billy Foley, Charles Boardman, Harold T. Lindley, Joe Dye, Peter Burns, Bob Burns, Miller Moll and John Richard Ensor. Present members of Mrs. Renner's den are: Tommy McClure, Larry Shain, Billy Swacker, Lowell Greer, Ed Dan Renner, Billy Sikes, Tommy Roberts, Charles Mitchell, Bobby Mitchell, Harold Stacy, Billy Anderson, Jimmy Powers, John Boardman, Joe Rabb and Bobby Joe Vowels.

Mrs. Wm. Graham entertained members of her family at dinner Sunday in honor of Mother's Day and her 74th birth anniversary on the following day, May 11.

20 years ago
May 9, 1946

Mrs. Moore Greer, Mrs. Ralph Anderson, Mrs. Irma Allen, Mrs. O. T. Elder and Miss Myra Tanner spent Tuesday in Memphis, where they attended the concert in which Miss Mimi Allen of Sikeston was featured.

Rex Theatre, tomorrow, double feature, "Step Lively" with Frank Sinatra plus "Invisible Man's Revenge" with Jon Hall. Malone Theatre, tomorrow, "Scarlett Street" with Edward G. Robinson and Joan Bennett.

High school notes. The 1946-47 cayenne of the Red Peppers, Jo Ann Botter, and the other officers: Vice cayenne, Dot Matthews; secretary, Peggy Lair; and treasurer, Mary Ellen Sensenbaugh, were announced at the annual Red Pepper banquet held in the dining room of the Dunn Coffee shop, Friday night.

Harry C. Blanton of Sikeston, who for the past 12 years, has held the office of United States District Attorney in St. Louis, has submitted his resignation to United States Senator Frank B. Briggs.

Mechanic, after overhauling motor, to medic: "Pity they don't have Blue Cross for cars, eh, doc?" --Bob Brown

The Prayer
For Today From The Upper Room

This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein. (Joshua 1:8)

PRAYER: Father I thank Thee for the Bible which Thou hast given us. Guide me in my daily reading of Thy Word that I may learn to use it as my guidebook for life. Help me to turn to Thy Word at all times. Through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, I ask these things. Amen.

ANN LANDERS
Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: This may be one of the strangest letters you have ever received. I hope you won't think it is too strange to print because I suspect other mothers have the same problems but refuse to admit it.

My husband and I rasied our four children to be independent and self-reliant. Everyone told us we did a wonderful job. As the children grew older I began to wish we hadn't done such a good job. I resented their independence. I wanted them to need me and ask for my advice. Before long I began to meddle in their affairs. I even tried to take over their children.

After a run-in with my daughter-in-law I decided to talk to my doctor. He told me I had an over-supply of mother love and that I needed another baby — which was impossible at my age. So he suggested an alternative. He send me to the welfare people and I obtained a child care license. I put an ad in the paper and within three days I had a 13-month-old baby boy. Two weeks later I advertised for a second baby. Now I have two little boys and I'm happier than I've been in years.

The mothers of these children say I am the answer to their prayers. I KNOW they are the answer to mine. When these mothers take their babies away I will get replacements. There will always be mothers who must work and babies who need a mama-substitute. This is my specialty.

My relationship with my own children is better than ever. And I have no time for aches and pains or crying spells. How I wish I had seen a letter like this in your column five years ago. It could have saved me a lot of unhappiness. -- SPARK REKINDLED

Dear Spark: What a beautiful example of receiving through giving! And your doctor deserves a standing ovation for coming up with the ideal solution to your problem. Cheers for him and hooray for you.

Dear Ann Landers: Recently I took a job distributing phone directories. The job turned out to be interesting as well as educational. I wish everyone would try to deliver phone directories for just one day. They'd have new respect for the postman and other delivery people

It is shocking that thousands of residents don't display their house numbers either on the mailbox or anywhere else. How do they expect to locate them? I had to enlist the help of neighbors in a great many cases. I asked one woman who had no number on her porch or mailbox how she got her deliveries. Her answer was "They figure it out somehow."

Why should THEY have to "figure it out?" It seems to me that the burden should rest on the residents and not the carriers.

Please print my letter. It is the surest route to millions of eyes that I know of. -- DISGUSTED WITH PEOPLE

Dear People: The moment you finish reading this column, go outside and see if you could find your home if you didn't where you live.

If your residence is not properly marked, run -- don't walk -- to the nearest hardware store or the five and dime. Buy some paint and a brush -- or some metal numerals and a hammer and nails. It could be the most useful thing you did all week.

Confidential to Tree Top Tall: Shakespeare notwithstanding -- life is NOT a stage. You will not receive your satisfactions and rewards from playing to an audience. So what if he IS a few inches shorter than your? What does it matter? If you let this marvelous man get away you are out of your ever-loving mind.

Liquor can ruin your mind, your body and your life. To learn the booby traps of teen-age drinking, write for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Mail Box

To the Editor
DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD
Sikeston, Missouri

There are many non-communists and a relatively few active anti-communists. The best known of the latter are frequently charged with being anti-semitic, anti-union labor, anti-Negro and accompanying anti's, although patriots are generally "for" in trying to preserve freedom. In most cases the charges against "anti's" are untrue and those intended to be defamed are merely actively opposing communism. A question can be raised about the ones who are making the charges or starting rumors. Sometimes these false charges are repeated even by the general public and are in no way a badge of honor for the minorities which the "chargers" purport to protect. It is said "truth will out" and when it does, the facts will finally, if slowly, emerge in favor of many of the victims of the charges.

Constructively,
H. L. Hunt
1401 Elm Street
Dallas, Texas

To the Editor:
I, and myself,
Live all alone
In a small town
We call our own.

'Twas an easy job
To make this out
But now I've done
Without a doubt.

I read THE STANDARD
To get the news
I read Drew Pearson
To get his views.

Important items
Of every kind
I read daily
To enrich the mind.

Now for poems
Of any size,
My entry is filed
To draw a prize.

Written with PLEASURE,
Submitted in HUMILITY
And wishing much
SUCCESS to the STANDARD
John Fletcher
East Prairie, Mo.

To the Editor:
We would like to take this means of expressing our appreciation for the good coverage you gave the convention meeting here last week, through the daily write-ups and also the pictures.

Thanks again!
First Assembly of God Church
and
Rev. T. A. McDonough

Mr. C. L. Blanton, Jr.
Publisher
The Daily Sikeston Standard
Sikeston, Missouri

Dear Charlie:
As a member of the County Board of Education, I wish to thank you for the excellent coverage you gave to the reorganization proposal for Scott County. While it was defeated, I feel that it has caused much thinking and evaluation of schools which will yield a dividend for the children of Scott County in the future.

Again thanks for your extra news coverage done by Dan Whittle for your paper.

Very truly yours,
Tharon E. Stallings
116 South Kingshighway
Sikeston, Missouri

Parma News

Mrs. Ruth Allstun visited Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Brown of Dexter Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rehms and grandson of Advance, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rehms of Henderson, Ky., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Norman, Wednesday. Mrs. Joe Bagby of Vinson was also a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Norman of Carbondale, Ill., visited Mr. and Mrs. Earl Norman during the past week.

Mrs. Emma Jean Dunn and Sherry of Waynesville, Mo., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Gregg last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Gregg of St. Louis visited Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Gregg Saturday through Monday. Sunday guests of the Greggs were Morris Gregg and sons of Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Link of Malden and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dieter.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Lindley of St. Louis visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Lindley during the weekend.

Dr. and Mrs. George W. Husted visited her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Floral White of Sikeston.

Mrs. W. L. Ramsey visited in Kennett Saturday afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Buchanan of Portageville, were guests Sunday of Mrs. Gertie Nolan.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Orman spent the weekend with her son, Donald Nelson and family in O'Fallon. They also visited Mrs. Helen Ledbetter and children of O'Fallon, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald of Affton. Mrs. Brenda Patton and children accompanied the Ormans to Affton where they visited her brother and family, the Donald Chappells.

Mrs. Ray Gratz, Teresa and Alan, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Perry of Bloomfield.

Mrs. Harold Harchous spent the weekend in Atlanta, Ga., visiting relatives.

Rev. and Mrs. Peter Fischer attended funeral services for Harry Wilcox in Dexter, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Val Sharp of Sikeston, visited Thursday with Mrs. Encil Knight.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Perry and Family of Bloomfield were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Encil Knight.

Mr. and Mrs. Narvel Cameron visited in Malden Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Nancy Ruby.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ramsey were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Vieth in Bernie.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. White and Mrs. Lieulla Ziegler attended funeral services for a cousin, Oscar Westmoreland in Patterson, Mo., April 27.

A "going-out-of-business linen shop on 3rd Ave. in New York City displayed this sign: "Closed for vacation. Will resume going out of business on Sept. 15."

--V. C. Palat

ATTENTION FARMERS

Now is the time to check your small grain for army worms.

Call one of the most experienced operaters in Southeast Missouri, with new airplanes and equipment.

HOLYFIELD FLYING SERVICE, INC.
DAY OR NIGHT Phone GR 1-5577

For Sikeston ...a distinguished event!

The GEORGE STEVENS Production THE GREATEST STORY EVER TOLD
TECHNICOLOR Released by UNITED ARTISTS

EXCLUSIVE LIMITED ENGAGEMENT
Thru Thursday MAY 12
NIGHTS 7:30
Wed. Matinee 2 P.M.
ADMISSION: ADULTS $1.25 - CHILDREN 75¢
REX THEATRE — Sikeston, Mo.

WOOLWORTH'S PETTICOAT SALE
10% TO 30% OFF AS THE GALS TAKE OVER

Save 10c on every pair you buy!
SEAMLESS NYLONS
Reg. 49c
Seamless mesh beauties. Take advantage of our low, low price and stock up now. Choose fashionable rose-tone or sun-tone shades. Sizes 9-11.
39¢ pr.

SAVE 1.00

Reg. 6.99 quality...
MOULDED LUGGAGE
5.99 each
Vinyl clad pieces include traincase, vanity, 16" weekend, 21", 26" pullmans. Rayon lined. Colors.

BUY THEM BY THE DOZENS
LIFE-LIKE PLASTIC FLOWERS
7¢ ea.

• Snap Dragon • Cosmos
• Geranium • Sweet Pea
• Golden Pothos • Rose
• Assorted Ferns
Perennial blooming favorites duplicate nature's very own. They're washable, fadeproof; stems can be easily cut or bent for arranging. Come pick a bouquet in exciting colors to accent or complement your home's decor. At this low price you can buy all you want and still enjoy big savings.

King size...
17oz. STYLE® HAIR SPRAY
83¢
Reg. 1.89
Contains Protex... exclusive texturizer. Has increased holding power. Adds beauty as you spray.

Reg. 1.29 plastic
BALLERINA SHADES
88¢
Frothy favorites have unbreakable, washable bodies. Choice of many colors, trims. 12" size.

COME IN, REGISTER FOR FREE GIFTS DURING THE MONTH OF MAY SEE DISPLAY IN WINDOW
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED WOOLWORTH'S REPLACEMENT OR MONEY REFUNDED
YOUR MONEY'S WORTH MORE AT WOOLWORTH'S

MALONE
Shows Begin
2:00 Sun. - Fri.
1:00 Saturday

MONDAY TUESDAY WEDNESDAY
MATT HELM SHOOTS THE WORKS!

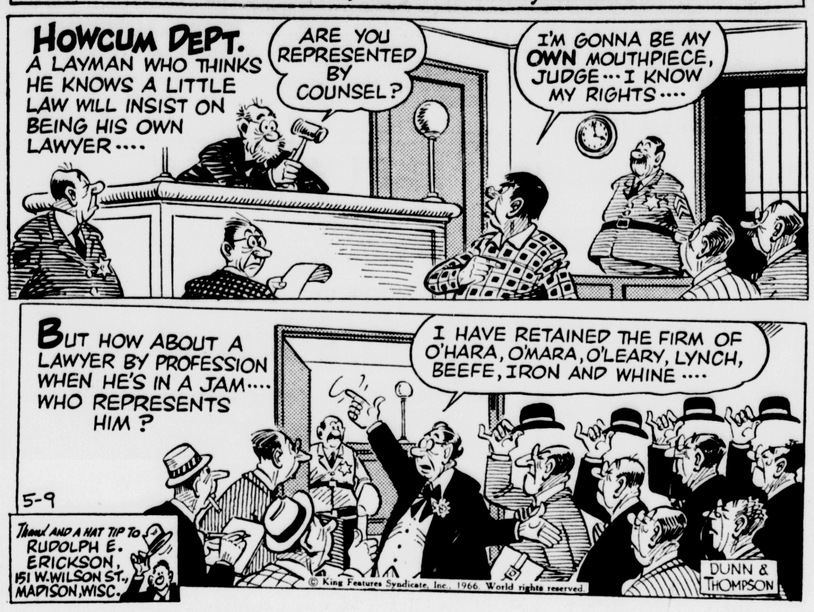

United Artists presents DEAN MARTIN as MATT HELM in THE SILENCERS
co-starring STELLA STEVENS · DALIAH LAVI · VICTOR BUONO · ARTHUR O'CONNELL · ROBERT WEBBER
JAMES GREGORY · ROGER C. CARMEL · BEVERLY ADAMS · and CYD CHARISSE
COLUMBIACOLOR
Original Sound Track Album Available on RCA Victor Records

LEASE A TORONADO!
IMMEDIATE DELIVERY!
IT'S LOADED with 4-season air conditioning and many luxury accessories. Maintenance and insurance available.
$129 MO.* delivered F.O.B. Detroit
*Price may vary due to local taxes and license costs.
International LEASING SYSTEM
TOM BALDWIN, Dist.
TU 8-5268 Kennett, Mo.

ANNOUNCING . . . A NEW SERVICE TO SOUTHEAST MISSOURI RESIDENTS!
Lease An Automobile!!
International Leasing Corp. of Detroit is proud to announce the appointment of Mr. Tom Baldwin as our distributor in Southeast Missouri!
International Leasing Corporation
Phone TU 8-5268 TOM BALDWIN, Distributor Kennett, Mo.

DELTA DRIVE-IN
Monday Tuesday
JOSEPH E. LEVINE presents CARROLL BAKER "HARLOW"
TECHNICOLOR PANAVISION

Hatlo's They'll Do It Every Time ®

STAR GAZER

By CLAY R. POLLAN

Your Daily Activity Guide According to the Stars.

To develop message for Tuesday, read words corresponding to numbers of your Zodiac birth sign.

1 Take	31 Of	61 Are
2 Rejoice!	32 Taken	62 Guard
3 A	33 Limit	63 Against
4 New	34 Aided	64 And
5 Regular	35 Needed	65 Morale
6 Cooperate	36 Legal	66 Approach
7 Incoming	37 Enthusiasm	67 Help
8 Another's	38 Personal	68 Aspects
9 Opinion	39 And	69 Should
10 Periods	40 Right	70 Suggestions
11 Your	41 However	71 You
12 Messages	42 Will	72 Be
13 Avoid	43 Money	73 Relaxation
14 Trip	44 Or	74 Documents
15 May	45 To	75 Disappearing
16 May	46 Some	76 Theft
17 New	47 And	77 Now
18 Ventures	48 By	78 Checked
19 With	49 Rest	79 Of
20 Contain	50 Good	80 And
21 Your	51 Family	81 Expect
22 Things	52 Other	82 You'll
23 Be	53 Unusual	83 Buy
24 The	54 Planning	84 Overcome
25 Fears	55 New	85 Uncertainties
26 New	56 People	86 Opposition
27 Signing	57 Finances	87 Progress
28 Open	58 Problems	88 Ideas
29 Are	59 Help	89 Valuables
30 A	60 And	90 Them

ARIES MAR. 22 – APR. 20 — 6-19-24-40 / 56-64-82-87

TAURUS APR. 21 – MAY 21 — 38-47-51-57 / 69-72-78

GEMINI MAY 22 – JUNE 22 — 4-18-29-34 / 48-50-68

CANCER JUNE 23 – JULY 23 — 3-14-16-23 / 32-41-81-85

LEO JULY 24 – AUG. 23 — 13-27-36-44 / 52-74-77

VIRGO AUG. 24 – SEPT. 22 — 8-9-15-28 / 30-55-66

LIBRA SEPT. 23 – OCT. 23 — 1-5-10-31 / 49-60-73

SCORPIO OCT. 24 – NOV. 22 — 17-22-35-45 / 59-65-83-90

SAGITTARIUS NOV. 23 – DEC. 22 — 7-12-20-46 / 53-70-80-88

CAPRICORN DEC. 23 – JAN. 20 — 21-26-37-42 / 67-71-84-86

AQUARIUS JAN. 21 – FEB. 19 — 2-11-25-39 / 58-61-75

PISCES FEB. 20 – MAR. 21 — 33-43-54-62 / 63-76-79-89

Good · Adverse · 5/10 Neutral

Special Days

ACROSS

1 December 25 (var.)
5 —— Friday
9 Necktie
11 Mature
12 Vegetable
13 Fish sauce
14 Islet
15 Keen
17 Fishing pole
19 Number
20 Born
21 Arabian name
22 Foundations
26 Rocky hill
27 Greek love god
28 Watchful
30 Type of cheese
33 Strong wind
35 Craft
36 Of a sacred book
40 Constellation
41 Dividend (ab.)
42 Self-esteem
43 Serpent
44 Infirm
47 Emmet
48 Row
50 Knotty
52 Roof edge
53 Diving birds
54 Lop (Scot.)
55 Arthurian lady

DOWN

1 Treated with radiation
2 Insane
3 Bird (Latin)
4 Window part
5 Vine fruit
6 Lubricant
7 Runs
8 Bleach
9 Wading bird
10 —— Day
14 Male swan
16 Legal point
18 Loose soil
23 Crimson
24 Mouths (anat.)
25 Company (ab.)
28 Whole of
29 Hawaiian garland
30 Festival
31 Son of Agamemnon
32 Visionary
34 Bachelor degree (ab.)
36 Storage box
37 Stopped
38 Saint —— Eve
39 Land parcel
41 Ventured
45 Learning
46 Paradise
49 Christmas ——
51 Japanese sash

Answer to Previous Puzzle

P	I	G		C	R	O	P		S	E	A	L
A	C	E		R	O	M	I	E	R	S	E
S	E	R		I	D	E	A	L	I	S	T	S
T	R	A	M	M	E	L		A	N	T	I	S
		N	E	E	P		E	D	G	E
F	A	I	R		S	T	A	G		S	A	W
A	M	U	L	E	T		R	E	S	I	D	E
C	A	M	E	R	A		E	D	I	T	E	D
E	D	S		A	R	C	S		T	U	N	S
		A	S	E	A		P	E	A	L
R	O	U	G	E		R	O	A	S	T	E	R
I	N	T	E	R	F	E	R	E		I	S	A
A	T	E	N		L	E	D	A		O	A	F
L	O	S	T		A	N	O	N		N	U	T

A TANTALIZING TRYST IN TURKEY isn't necessary to enjoy these jeweled turkish slippers. They're a great way to greet the morning in your own home. These are crocheted in chartreuse green Knit-Cro-Sheen and trimmed in sequins and small pearls. You pick a wake-up color that goes with your robe. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet PC 9000.

Today In U.S. History

Today is Monday, May 9, the 129th day of 1966. There are 236 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1945, Marshal Hermann Goering of Germany surrendered to the U. S. 7th Army.

On this date

In 1502, Christopher Columbus sailed from Spain on his last voyage -- seeking a route to the spice islands.

In 1781, the Spaniards captured Pensacola, Fla.

In 1914, Mothers Day was established as the second Sunday in May by proclamation of President Woodrow Wilson.

In 1926, Adm. Richard E. Byrd flew over the North Pole.

In 1936, Italy annexed Ethiopia.

Ten years ago -- British Prime Minister Anthony Eden hinted that a British frogman, Lionel Crabb, may have been engaged in spying when he disappeared while diving near a Soviet cruiser anchored in Portsmouth Harbor.

Five years ago -- The new chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, Newton Minow, referred to television as a "vast wasteland."

One year ago -- Russia launched an effort to make a soft landing on the moon -- but it was a failure.

Lilbourn Cancer Drive Ceases

LILBOURN -- Mrs. Mary Francis Strong and Bill Tope, co-chairmen of the 1966 Cancer Crusade which has just closed in Lilbourn have announced that contributions to the Crusade reached a total of $287.14.

Of this total $86.33 was contributed in the house-to-house canvass of the town; $20.88 came from a coffee day, when Jones Drug Store, Jimmy's Cafe, The Palace Cafe and The Freeze Queen gave the receipts from coffee sales that day to the fund; a small amount came from the cancer cans placed in business houses and the balance of the total came in contributions from business men of the town.

Ladies who made the house-to-house drive under the direction of Mrs. Strong were: Mdmes. Patsy Twitty, Curley Robertson, Betty Jo Weeks, Myrtle Camp, Marjorie Stevens, Lucille Baughman, Ellen Rose Speight, Dolly Beavers, Evelyn Hall, Juanita Newton and Miss Shirley Taylor.

The co-chairmen of the drive offer their thanks to the people of the community for their generosity and to the ladies who so ably assisted in the fund raising effort.

Q—Under which president were the largest number of states admitted?

A—Six states were admitted to the Union during the administration of President Benjamin Harrison. They were North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Washington in 1889; Idaho and Wyoming in 1890.

Q—Which is the smallest continent in the world?

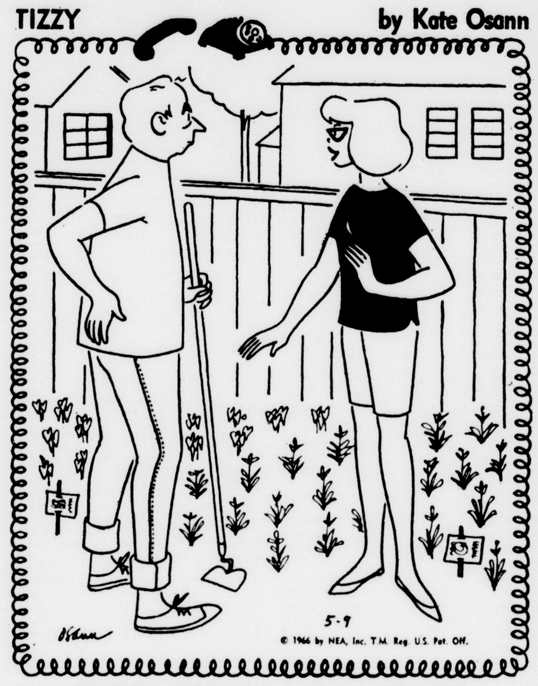

A—Australia.

THE FAMILY CIRCUS By Bil Keane

"So this is where your Follow the Leader game was heading!"

TIZZY by Kate Osann

"Isn't it a lot less work just to defrost?"

CARNIVAL By Dick Turner

"Since I quit dating Herbie, Jack and Tom, my allowance lasts all week!"

SIDE GLANCES By Gill Fox

"Harry seems to think he should look after her since he learned she's assigned to our lifeboat!"

BEN CASEY by Neal Adams

PEANUTS by Schulz

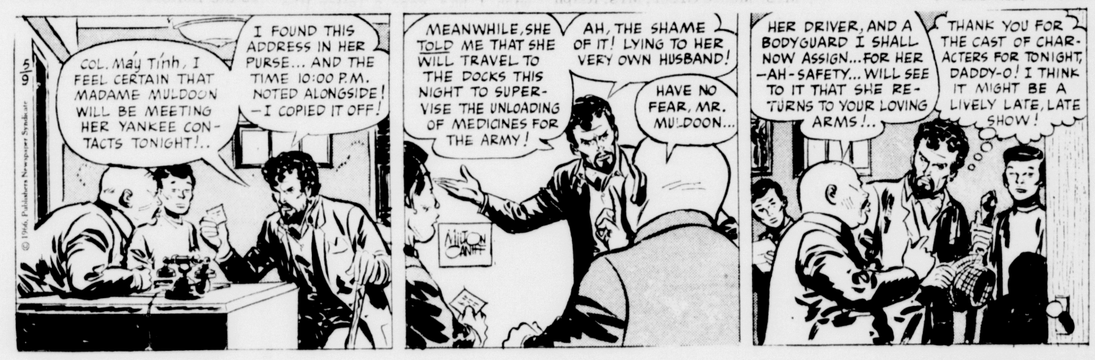

MARY WORTH by Saunders & Ernst

CAPTAIN EASY by Leslie Turner

STEVE CANYON by Milton Caniff

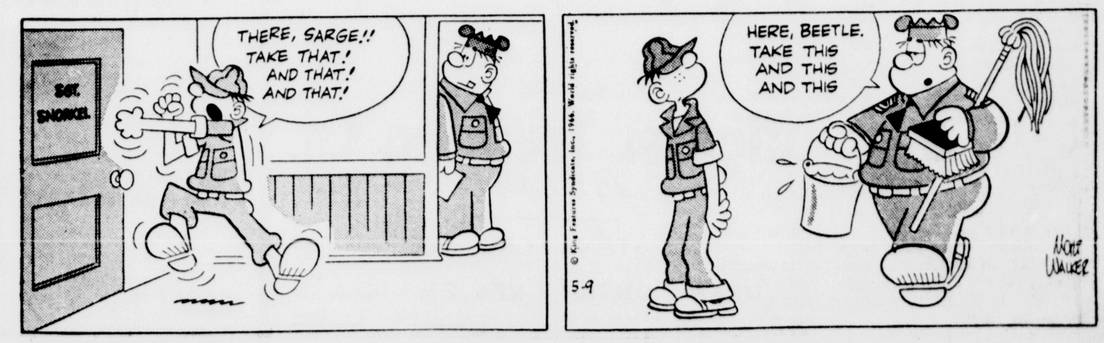

THE PHANTOM by Lee Falk & Sy Barry

ALLEY OOP by V. T. Hamlin

BEETLE BAILEY by Mort Walker

Hatlo's They'll Do It Every Time

STAR GAZER

By CLAY R. POLLAN

Your Daily Activity Guide According to the Stars.

To develop message for Tuesday, read words corresponding to numbers of your Zodiac birth sign.

1 Take	31 Of	61 Are
2 Rejoice'	32 Taken	62 Guard
3 A	33 Limit	63 Against
4 New	34 Aided	64 And
5 Regular	35 Needed	65 Morale
6 Cooperate	36 Legal	66 Approach
7 Incoming	37 Enthusiasm	67 Help
8 Another's	38 Personal	68 Aspects
9 Opinion	39 And	69 Should
10 Periods	40 Right	70 Suggestions
11 Your	41 However	71 You
12 Messages	42 Will	72 Be
13 Avoid	43 Money	73 Relaxation
14 Trip	44 Or	74 Documents
15 May	45 To	75 Disappearing
16 May	46 Some	76 Theft
17 New	47 And	77 Now
18 Ventures	48 By	78 Checked
19 With	49 Rest	79 Of
20 Contain	50 Good	80 And
21 Your	51 Family	81 Expect
22 Things	52 Other	82 You'll
23 Be	53 Unusual	83 Buy
24 The	54 Planning	84 Overcome
25 Fears	55 New	85 Uncertainties
26 New	56 People	86 Opposition
27 Signing	57 Finances	87 Progress
28 Open	58 Problems	88 Ideas
29 Are	59 Help	89 Valuables
30 A	60 And	90 Them

Good · Adverse · 5/10 Neutral

ARIES MAR. 22 – APR. 20 — 6-19-24-40 / 56-64-82-87

TAURUS APR. 21 – MAY 21 — 38-47-51-57 / 69-72-78

GEMINI MAY 22 – JUNE 22 — 4-18-29-34 / 48-50-68

CANCER JUNE 23 – JULY 23 — 3-14-16-23 / 32-41-81-85

LEO JULY 24 – AUG. 23 — 13-27-36-44 / 52-74-77

VIRGO AUG. 24 – SEPT. 22 — 8-9-15-28 / 30-55-66

LIBRA SEPT. 23 – OCT. 23 — 1-5-10-31 / 49-60-73

SCORPIO OCT. 24 – NOV. 22 — 17-22-35-45 / 59-65-83-90

SAGITTARIUS NOV. 23 – DEC. 22 — 7-12-20-46 / 53-70-80-88

CAPRICORN DEC. 23 – JAN. 20 — 21-26-37-42 / 67-71-84-86

AQUARIUS JAN. 21 – FEB. 19 — 2-11-25-39 / 58-61-75

PISCES FEB. 20 – MAR. 21 — 33-43-54-62 / 63-76-79-89

Special Days

ACROSS

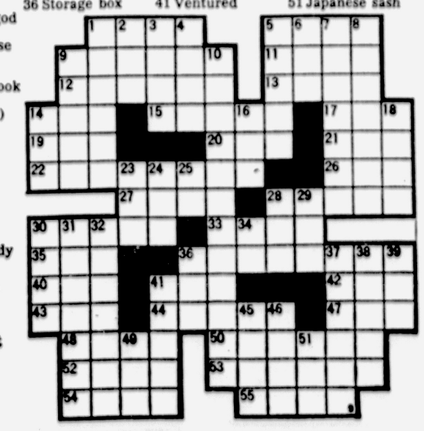

1 December 25 (var.)
5 —— Friday
9 Necktie
11 Mature
12 Vegetable
13 Fish sauce
14 Islet
15 Keen
17 Fishing pole
19 Number
20 Born
21 Arabian name
22 Foundations
26 Rocky hill
27 Greek love god
28 Watchful
30 Type of cheese
33 Strong wind
35 Craft
36 Of a sacred book
40 Constellation
41 Dividend (ab.)
42 Self-esteem
43 Serpent
44 Infirm
47 Emmet
48 Row
50 Knotty
52 Roof edge
53 Diving birds
54 Lop (Scot.)
55 Arthurian lady

DOWN

1 Treated with radiation
2 Insane
3 Bird (Latin)
4 Window part
5 Vine fruit
6 Lubricant
7 Runs
8 Bleach
9 Wading bird
10 —— Day
14 Male swan
16 Legal point
18 Loose soil
23 Crimson
24 Mouths (anat.)
25 Company (ab.)
28 Whole of
29 Hawaiian garland
30 Festival
31 Son of Agamemnon
32 Visionary
34 Bachelor degree (ab.)
36 Storage box
37 Stopped
38 Saint —— Eve
39 Land parcel
41 Ventured
45 Learning
46 Paradise
49 Christmas ——
51 Japanese sash

Answer to Previous Puzzle

P	I	G		C	R	O	P		S	E	A	L
A	C	E		R	O	M	I		E	R	S	E
T	R	A	M	M	E	L		A	N	T	I	S
		N	E	P		E	D	G	E
F	A	I	R		S	T	A	G		S	A	W
A	M	U	L	E	T		R	E	S	I	D	E	D
C	A	M	E	R	A		E	D	I	T	E	D
E	D	S		A	R	C	S		T	U	N	S
			A	G	E		A		P	E	A
R	O	U	G	E		R	O	A	S	T	E	R
I	N	T	E	R	F	E	R	E		I	S	A
A	T	E	N		L	E	D	A		O	A	F
L	O	S	T		A	N	O	N		N	U	T

Today In U.S. History

Today is Monday, May 9, the 129th day of 1966. There are 236 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1945, Marshal Hermann Goering of Germany surrendered to the U. S. 7th Army.

On this date

In 1502, Christopher Columbus sailed from Spain on his last voyage -- seeking a route to the spice islands.

In 1781, the Spaniards captured Pensacola, Fla.

In 1914, Mothers Day was established as the second Sunday in May by proclamation of President Woodrow Wilson.

In 1926, Adm. Richard E. Byrd flew over the North Pole.

In 1936, Italy annexed Ethiopia.

Ten years ago -- British Prime Minister Anthony Eden hinted that a British frogman, Lionel Crabb, may have been engaged in spying when he disappeared while diving near a Soviet cruiser anchored in Portsmouth Harbor.

Five years ago -- The new chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, Newton Minow, referred to television as a "vast wasteland."

One year ago -- Russia launched an effort to make a soft landing on the moon -- but it was a failure.

Lilbourn Cancer Drive Ceases

LILBOURN -- Mrs. Mary Francis Strong and Bill Tope, co-chairmen of the 1966 Cancer Crusade which has just closed in Lilbourn have announced that contributions to the Crusade reached a total of $287.14.

Of this total $86.33 was contributed in the house-to-house canvass of the town; $20.88 came from a coffee day, when Jones Drug Store, Jimmy's Cafe, The Palace Cafe and The Freeze Queen gave the receipts from coffee sales that day to the fund; a small amount came from the cancer cans placed in business houses and the balance of the total came in contributions from business men of the town.

Ladies who made the house-to-house drive under the direction of Mrs. Strong were: Mdmes. Patsy Twitty, Curley Robertson, Betty Jo Weeks, Myrtle Camp, Marjorie Stevens, Lucille Baughman, Ellen Rose Speight, Dolly Beavers, Evelyn Hall, Juanita Newton and Miss Shirley Taylor.

The co-chairmen of the drive offer their thanks to the people of the community for their generosity and to the ladies who so ably assisted in the fund raising effort.

Q—Under which president were the largest number of states admitted?

A—Six states were admitted to the Union during the administration of President Benjamin Harrison. They were North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Washington in 1889; Idaho and Wyoming in 1890.

Q—Which is the smallest continent in the world?

A—Australia.

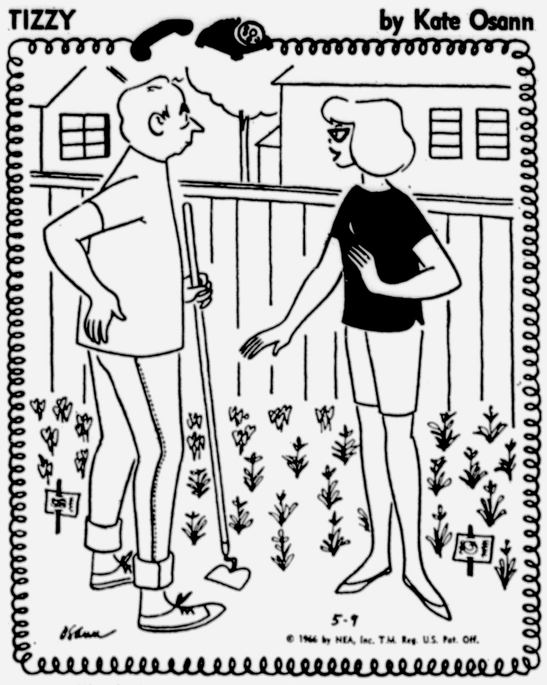

A TANTALIZING TRYST IN TURKEY isn't necessary to enjoy these jeweled turkish slippers. They're a great way to greet the morning in your own home. These are crocheted in chartreuse green Knit-Cro-Sheen and trimmed in sequins and small pearls. You pick a wake-up color that goes with your robe. Free instructions are available by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet PC 9000.

THE FAMILY CIRCUS By Bil Keane

"So this is where your Follow the Leader game was heading!"

TIZZY by Kate Osann

"Isn't it a lot less work just to defrost?"

CARNIVAL By Dick Turner

"Since I quit dating Herbie, Jack and Tom, my allowance lasts all week!"

SIDE GLANCES By Gill Fox

"Harry seems to think he should look after her since he learned she's assigned to our lifeboat!"

BEN CASEY by Neal Adams

PEANUTS by Schulz

MARY WORTH by Saunders & Ernst

CAPTAIN EASY by Leslie Turner

STEVE CANYON by Milton Caniff

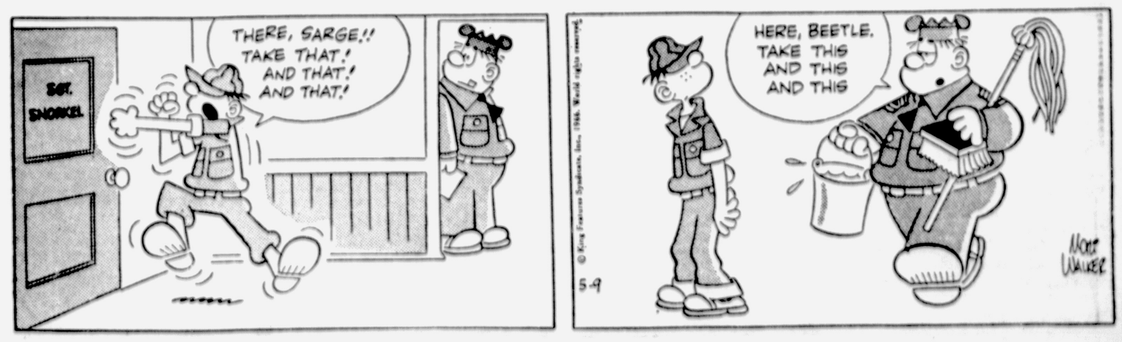

THE PHANTOM by Lee Falk & Sy Barry

ALLEY OOP by V. T. Hamlin

BEETLE BAILEY by Mort Walker

Sorenson Makes Bid For Governor

OMAHA, Neb. AP -- Philip C. Sorensen, younger brother of former presidential counsel Theodore Sorensen, makes his bid for the Democratic nomination for governor in Tuesday's Nebraska primary.

The Lincoln attorney won the lieutenant governorship two years ago in his first try for public office.

He is aiming now for the office being vacated by Democrat Frank Morrison who is running for the U.S. Senate.

Sorensen has two primary opponents: Henry Ley, 62, of Wayne, who quit as state banking director to seek the nomination, and state Senator J. W. Burbach, 54, Crofton grain dealer.

On the Republican side, former Gov. Val Peterson, 62, again is seeking the office he held from 1947 to 1953.

Peterson, former federal Civil Defense administrator and ambassador to Denmark, has four opponents including a hard-campaigning newcomer, Norbert T. Tieman, 41, Wausau banker; former State Normal Board President Bruce F. Hagemeister, 56, Hemingford; Henry Kuhlmann, 49, former rancher and farmer from Grand Island, and Albert E. Hahn, 52, retired Grand Island junk dealer.

When the Morrison-Sorensen combination won election in 1964, it was the first time in 30 years Democrats had taken both governorship and lieutenant governorship in Nebraska.

The Sorensen name is a political asset. Philip's father --- a Republican -- had been Nebraska attorney general. His brother Ted kept the name in the news as an aide to Presidents Kennedy and Johnson.

Although the governorship contests hold the center of the stage in the primary, a heated contest appears in the offing for the Senate in the general election.

U. S. Sen. Carl Curtis, a Republican, is unopposed for the nomination. Morrison is expected to be an easy primary victor over his only Democratic opponent, power district employe Raymond Arndt of Columbus.

(NEA Radio-Telephoto)

TERRORIST VICTIM—Rescuers aid a Korean construction worker badly wounded in a terrorist bombing at a Saigon bus stop. Ten died and 37 were injured in the blast.

U. S. Knocks Out Missile Sites

SAIGON, South Viet Nam AP-- U. S. fighter-bombers knocked out two more Soviet built missile sites in North Viet Nam and chased off a flight of Communist MIG17s southeast of Hanoi, the U. S. Command reported today.

Navy A4 Skyhawks hit a surface-to-air missile site 12 miles north-northwest of Haiphong Sunday, the U. S. command said, while Air Force pilots reported they destroyed a SAM site 30 miles north-northeast of Hanoi.

It was the closest penetration so far to Haiphong, North Viet Nam's major port.

A military spokesman said U. S. fliers evaded 11 missiles fired from sites in three different areas during air strikes Sunday.

The spokesman said Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs encountered the MIGs 70 miles southeast of Hanoi. He said the American pilots closed in, but the MIGs turned and fled before they could be engaged.

The number of MIGs was not announced.

The missile sites were hit Sunday during a break in the monsoon rains. American planes flew 51 missions against the Communist north after a week of limited assaults because of the weather.

The American fliers also kept up their pummeling of bridges and highways in the north to cut further supply routes to Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital, and Haiphong.

An Air Force spokesman reported Sunday that three weeks of raids had severed all the main road and rail supply routes between Hanoi and Haiphong and to Red China.

"All these arteries can be bypassed, but I think it will slow down the movement of supplies. They will have to find some other means -- by junks or barges," the spokesman said.

He said aerial photographs confirmed the destruction to bridges and highways leading to Hanoi from four directions.

Although North Viet Nam claimed that six U. S. planes were shot down over the north Sunday, the U. S. Command reported only one loss- a U. S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief that was hit during strikes against the Cao Nung railroad bridge 55 miles northeast of Hanoi.

A military spokesman said the pilot was seen to parachute to the ground but could not be rescued. He was listed as missing in action.

This brought the total number of planes lost over North Viet Nam to 232.

In the ground war, only light skirmishes were reported. Air Force B52s from Guam struck again at the suspected Viet Cong troop concentration area in the C Zone near Cambodia, 70 miles northwest of Saigon.

It was the ninth day in a row that the giant B52s -- each carrying a destructive load of 22 to 30 tons of explosives-- hit at the enemy stronghold in support of the U. S. 1st Infantry Division's Operation Birmingham.

Other American planes flew 284 sorties over South Viet Nam, striking at Viet Cong troops, camps, river traffic and storage areas. The South Vietnamese air force flew 174 sorties, about half of them flare drops in support of ground troops.

A new political storm buffeted Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government in the wake of Ky's statement Saturday that he expected to remain in power at least another year.

Government censors eliminated the statement from the Vietnamese press, indicating the ruling generals may not have been entirely pleased. In Da Nang, a Buddhist leader threatened new street protests if the government backs down on its promise to hold elections for a national assembly this fall.

The pilots who knocked out the missile site northeast of Hanoi reported they set off one large and two smaller secondary explosions, indicating they touched off enemy ammunition and explosives. Returning fliers said smoke from the explosions rose 500 feet.

One of the pilots said he saw a long orange streak shoot across the ground for a quarter of a mile. He said it looked like the engine of a missile on the ground had been ignited and fired the missile across the site.

Thunderchief fighter-bombers also hit the Thai Nguyen railroad yards 35 miles north of Hanoi and reported destroying 12 rail cars, cutting the tracks in eight places and cratering the yard.

The closest previous penetration to Haiphong was the bombing of the Uong Bi power plant 14 miles northwest of the port last December and in April.

On the ground, the U. S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division continued mopping up operations in the Bong Son coastal area where on Thursday and Friday they and Vietnamese troops wiped out a mixed battalion of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong.

The spokesman reported three more enemy killed by the Americans and seven captured, bringing their total to 278 and 65 captured. South Vietnamese units earlier reported killing 84 Viet Cong in the operation, known as Dave Crockett.

New Church Twist

ST. LOUIS AP -- Three guitars, a bass violin and a banjo added a new twist to Sunday services at the First Presbyterian Church in suburban Webster Groves.

They accompanied the regular church choice in the performance of a "Folk Mass."

The associate director of music at the church, Mrs. William Symes, said "I lost a little sleep last night worrying about how it would come off. But, the congregation seem very pleased."

National Stockyards

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Ill. AP -- Estimates for Tuesday: hogs 8,500; cattle 4,000; calves 250; sheep 300.

Hogs 7,000; moderately active, barrows, gilts and sows 25-50 higher; barrows and gilts 190-240 lbs 24.25-25.25; sows 280-650 lbs 17.00-19.50.

Cattle 5,000; steers slow, steady to 25 lower; good to prime steers 24.00-27.00; good to choice heifers 23.00-26.00; cows 18.50-20.50; good to choice vealers 25.00-35.00.

Sheep 200; spring lambs steady to strong; choice and prime 26.50-28.00; good and choice old crop lambs wooled 21.00-23.50; shorn ewes 4.00-8.00.

Mrs. Griffin, Charleston, Dies Sunday

CHARLESTON -- Mrs. Willie Mae Griffin, 60, died at 5:30 a.m. Sunday in the Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau after several years' illness.

She was born April 2, 1906, in Charleston, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Baker. She lived in Charleston most of her life.

On May 23, 1925, she married Leland Griffin, who survives. Other survivors are three sons, Leland Spencer Griffin of St. Charles, Joe Bob Griffin serving with the U.S. Navy in Honolulu, Hawaii, and John Marshall Griffin of West Chicago, Ill.; four daughters, Mrs. Bernard Norris, Mrs. R. W. Boyd, both of Dewitt, Ark., Mrs. Robert Glass of Japan and Mrs. William Powell; three sisters, Mrs. Murray Grace, Mrs. Lizzie Baker, both of Cape Girardeau, and Mrs. Ezell Griffith of Lake View, Iowa, and 20 grandchildren.

The body is at the McMikle Funeral Home.

Blodgett Child Dies Saturday

BLODGETT -- Graveside services were held Sunday at 11 a.m. for Joseph Raymond Myers, infant son of Joseph and Evelyn Myers. Jackson Funeral Home of Sikeston was in charge.

The child died Saturday at 4 p.m. at the Missouri Delta Community Hospital, Sikeston.

Other survivors, one sister, Sandra Kay Myers; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Washburn; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Lillie Myers.

Local Stocks

	BID	ASK
Airlift Intern'al	2⅞	3½
Anheuser Busch	47¼	50
Ark Mo Power	17⅜	19
Fed. Compress	29	31
Malone & Hyde	28½	30½
Mo Utilities	22¼	24½
Pabst Brewing	38	40
Potlatch Forest	34	36
Wetic au	25	27
Gen. Life Wis.	5¼	6
Mid Amer. Life	5¾	6½
Mid West Life	5¾	6½
Tower Nat. Life	1¾	2⅜
LISTED STOCKS
Allied Stores		2⅜
Amer. Tel. & Tel.		56⅛
Chrysler		45
Columbia Gas		26⅝
Eaton Mfg.		61⅝
Emerson Elec.		60
Ford Motors		48¼
Foremost Dairy		24
General Motors		88¾
New England Elec.		27½
Transogram		8

Editors Note: The bid price is the approximate price if one were a seller and the asked price is the approximate price if one were a buyer.

Quotations furnished by Hugh T. McCollum registered representative for Fusz Schmelzle and Co. 1405 East Malone. Phone GR 1-5350.

LBJ Entertaining At His Ranch

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

KANSAS CITY, Mo. AP -- Harry S. Truman, more than 13 years out of the White House, was lauded as "the man of peace" today as more than 400 friends gathered to wish him a happy 82nd birthday.

President Johnson and Chief Justice Earl Warren plan to telephone their congratulations.

Truman's birthday actually was Sunday, and he celebrated it by dedicating a federal office building in his home town of Independence -- a structure he worked hard to obtain for the city. The building is only a few blocks from the square where Truman got his political start 44 years ago.

Truman gave a brief talk after he was presented with a miniature of the seal of the United States which is on the front of the building.

The former president said he could not claim any more credit for completion of the building than many other government officials and elected representatives.

He said, with a grin, "I just tried to prod them along a little when they got a little slow."

Centerpiece for the birthday luncheon today was a huge cake, decorated with a frosted picture of the proposed Truman Center for the Advancement of Peace, to be built at Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

President Johnson, in one of his two visits to the Truman Library in Independence last year, hailed the center as a fitting memorial to Truman who had much to do with the recognition by the United States of the new state of Israel.

The guest list for the annual luncheon included the governors of Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Arkansas and many dignitaries from the Truman administration.

For Truman, the highlight at these birthday luncheons always is the "happy birthday" said in their native tongues by students from dozens of foreign countries.

The luncheon is held each year by Henry J. Talge, a Kansas City industrialist. When Talge first conceived the idea of giving a birthday party in 1953 -- the year Truman returned from Washington -- it was a simple affair with 22 guests. Last year the total was nearly 400 and this year the guest list was 411.

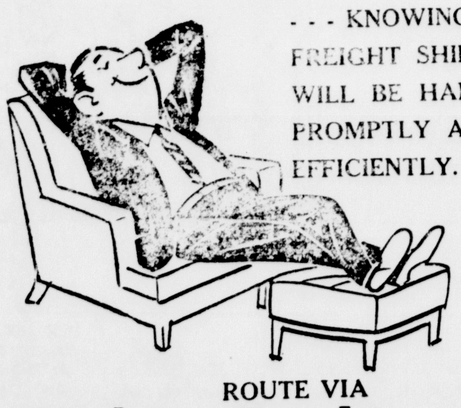

First graders normally twist and turn continuously in their straight-backed chairs. As an experiment last year, an inspired Ohio teacher installed rocking chairs for her first-grade reading class. The children rocked quietly instead of squirming and were later found to be a month ahead of their normal reading level.

--Milwaukee Journal

USE THE DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD CLASSIFIED ADS

WATCH REPAIR
RAYMOND WRIGHT
Jeweler
125 N. New Madrid GR 1-2308
Certified Master Watchmaker
No. 8535

RELAX

- - - KNOWING YOUR FREIGHT SHIPMENTS WILL BE HANDLED PROMPTLY AND EFFICIENTLY.

ROUTE VIA
Righter Trucking Co.
AT ST. LOUIS
SIKESTON -- GR 1-1860
DEAN RIGHTER - RES. GR 1-0267

Brother of Mrs. Carl Luber, Dies in Accident

ST. LOUIS--Robert L. Reeves, 45, brother of Mrs. Carl Luper of Sikeston, was killed in an automobile accident, Saturday night at 10 p.m.

Other survivors are his wife, who was injured in the accident and is a patient in St. Luke's Hospital; one daughter, Bonnie Reeves; one brother, William Reeves, St. Louis, and one other sister, Mrs. Goldie Clary, Dexter.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Buckholz Mortuary, 5967 Florissant, St. Louis.

Winston Churchill On Dealing With Communists

It is idle to reason or argue with the communists. It is, however, possible to deal with them on a realistic basis, and, in my experience, they will keep their bargain as long as it is in their interest to do so.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

Wilda Buntin, Charleston, Dies

CHARLESTON -- Mrs. Wilda C. Buntin, 88, died at 10:29 a.m. today at her home, after three weeks' illness.

She was born Aug. 20, 1878, in Rapids, Ky., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Clack. She had lived in Charleston since childhood. She was a member of the First Methodist church.

Her husband, James B. Buntin preceded her in death Jan. 12, 1952.

She is survived by two sons, Harold Buntin of Dearborn, Mich., and Lynch Buntin of Portland, Ore.; three daughters, Mrs. Carl Jensen of Sun City, Ariz., Mrs. Vincent Robinson of Tucson, Ariz., and Mrs. Dorothy Winchester of Benton, Ky.; six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Services will be at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the McMikle Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Winford House officiating. Burial will be in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

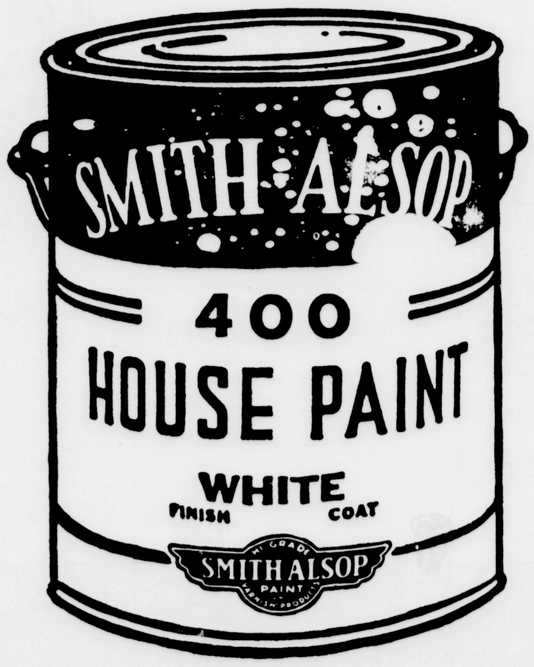

Outside a Catholic church in London, England: "If your trouble is deep-seated and of long standing, try kneeling."
--English Digest

Confuscius spoke . . .
and his words are true
That many man smoke
But Fu-Manchu.
---B.G. Wilkes

NEED STEEL
CALL
STEWARD
GR 1-2121
Sikeston, Missouri

EARLY-MAGIC
AUBURN-M
OFFICIAL TESTS HAVE PROVEN AUBURN-M TO BE THE EARLIEST AND HIGHEST YIELDING COTTON GROWN IN TWELVE S.E.MO. TESTS 1963-1965
TO MAXIMIZE YOUR COTTON PRODUCTION PLANT AUBURN-M
MATTHEWS COTTON CO.
GR 1-3790
Distributors for AUBURN-M

SMITH-ALSOP PAINT
SPECIAL
MAY 9 THRU MAY 14

400 House Paint
WHITE
FINISH COAT
REGULAR $5.29
$3.95
GALLON
SMITH-ALSOP PAINT & WALLPAPER CO.
Phone: GR 1-3145
129-131 No. New Madrid Street Sikeston, Missouri

Penneys
ALWAYS FIRST QUALITY
COMPARE THE VALUES!
MAY HOME FAIR

THERMAL FASHIONS
span the seasons...cost little at Penney's!

TIQUE SELF-INSULATED DRAPERIES KEEP OUT HEAT, COLD, SUNRAYS!
Heavy quality rayon-cotton drapes lend elegance to rooms, keep interiors warmer in winter and cooler in summer! Carry a 2-yr. sun-fading guarantee*. And Penney's has sizes for all your windows, single to wall-to-wall. In stock or rush-ordered.
*or Penney's will replace
8.98 pair 48" wide, floor length
7.98 pair 48" wide, 63" length

FASHIONAIRE BEDSPREAD DOUBLES AS A THERMAL BLANKET!
Our dreamy Fashionaire spread plays a dual role . . . dresses your bed by day, becomes a thermal blanket by night! Keeps you summer-cool, winter-warm! Lovely diamond crochet-look weave and designer colors. Deeply fringed. All cotton, machine wash in lukewarm water.
7.99 twin or full

OUR FASHIONAIRE COTTON THERMAL BLANKET FOR ALL SEASONS!
Sleep warm, sleep cool, sleep comfortably 365 nights a year! Toss on a light cover and thousands of tiny air cells warm you. It's so cool on its own. All cotton, nylon bound. Machine wash. Lots of colors.
5.99 72" x 90" fits twin or full

CHARGE IT! PENNEY'S IS OPEN MONDAY 9 til 8 P.M. TUESDAY THRU FRIDAY 9 til 5:30. SATURDAY 9 til 8 P.M.

As near as your phone!
Penney's Catalogue Center
EVERYTHING YOUR FAMILY NEEDS FOR SUMMER!
CALL LOCAL GR 1-0955

Sorenson Makes Bid For Governor

OMAHA, Neb. AP -- Philip C. Sorensen, younger brother of former presidential counsel Theodore Sorensen, makes his bid for the Democratic nomination for governor in Tuesday's Nebraska primary.

The Lincoln attorney won the lieutenant governorship two years ago in his first try for public office.

He is aiming now for the office being vacated by Democrat Frank Morrison who is running for the U.S. Senate.

Sorensen has two primary opponents: Henry Ley, 62, of Wayne, who quit as state banking director to seek the nomination, and state Senator J. W. Burbach, 54, Crofton grain dealer.

On the Republican side, former Gov. Val Peterson, 62, again is seeking the office he held from 1947 to 1953.

Peterson, former federal Civil Defense administrator and ambassador to Denmark, has four opponents including a hard-campaigning newcomer, Norbert T. Tieman, 41, Wausau banker; former State Normal Board President Bruce F. Hagemeister, 56, Hemingford; Henry Kuhlmann, 49, former rancher and farmer from Grand Island, and Albert E. Hahn, 52, retired Grand Island junk dealer.

When the Morrison-Sorensen combination won election in 1964, it was the first time in 30 years Democrats had taken both governorship and lieutenant governorship in Nebraska.

The Sorensen name is a political asset. Philip's father --- a Republican -- had been Nebraska attorney general. His brother Ted kept the name in the news as an aide to Presidents Kennedy and Johnson.

Although the governorship contests hold the center of the stage in the primary, a heated contest appears in the offing for the Senate in the general election.

U. S. Sen. Carl Curtis, a Republican, is unopposed for the nomination. Morrison is expected to be an easy primary victor over his only Democratic opponent, power district employe Raymond Arndt of Columbus.

New Church Twist

ST. LOUIS AP -- Three guitars, a bass violin and a banjo added a new twist to Sunday services at the First Presbyterian Church in suburban Webster Groves.

They accompanied the regular church choice in the performance of a "Folk Mass."

The associate director of music at the church, Mrs. William Symes, said "I lost a little sleep last night worrying about how it would come off. But, the congregation seem very pleased."

National Stockyards

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Ill. AP -- Estimates for Tuesday: hogs 8,500; cattle 4,000; calves 250; sheep 300.

Hogs 7,000; moderately active, barrows, gilts and sows 25-50 higher; barrows and gilts 190-240 lbs 24.25-25.25; sows 280-650 lbs 17.00-19.50.

Cattle 5,000; steers slow, steady to 25 lower; good to prime steers 24.00-27.00; good to choice heifers 23.00-26.00; cows 18.50-20.50; good to choice vealers 25.00-35.00.

Sheep 200; spring lambs steady to strong; choice and prime 26.50-28.00; good and choice old crop lambs wooled 21.00-23.50; shorn ewes 4.00-8.00.

Mrs. Griffin, Charleston, Dies Sunday

CHARLESTON -- Mrs. Willie Mae Griffin, 60, died at 5:30 a.m. Sunday in the Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau after several years' illness.

She was born April 2, 1906, in Charleston, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Baker. She lived in Charleston most of her life.

On May 23, 1925, she married Leland Griffin, who survives. Other survivors are three sons, Leland Spencer Griffin of St. Charles, Joe Bob Griffin serving with the U.S. Navy in Honolulu, Hawaii, and John Marshall Griffin of West Chicago, Ill.; four daughters, Mrs. Bernard Norris, Mrs. R. W. Boyd, both of Dewitt, Ark., Mrs. Robert Glass of Japan and Mrs. William Powell; three sisters, Mrs. Murray Grace, Mrs. Lizzie Baker, both of Cape Girardeau, and Mrs. Ezell Griffith of Lake View, Iowa, and 20 grandchildren.

The body is at the McMikle Funeral Home.

Blodgett Child Dies Saturday

BLODGETT -- Graveside services were held Sunday at 11 a.m. for Joseph Raymond Myers, infant son of Joseph and Evelyn Myers. Jackson Funeral Home of Sikeston was in charge.

The child died Saturday at 4 p.m. at the Missouri Delta Community Hospital, Sikeston.

Other survivors, one sister, Sandra Kay Myers; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Washburn; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Lillie Myers.

Local Stocks

	BID	ASK
Airlift Intern'al	2⅞	3½
Anheuser Busch	47¼	50
Ark Mo Power	17⅝	19
Fed. Compress	29	31
Malone & Hyde	28½	30½
Mo Utilities	22¼	24½
Pabst Brewing	38	40
Potlatch Forest	34	36
Wetterau	25	27
Gen. Life Wis.	5¼	6
Mid Amer. Life	5¾	6½
Mid West Life	5¾	6½
Tower Nat. Life	1¾	2⅜
LISTED STOCKS
Allied Stores		2⅜
Amer. Tel. & Tel.		56½
Chrysler		45
Columbia Gas		26⅝
Eaton Mfg.		61⅝
Emerson Elec.		60
Ford Motors		48¼
Foremost Dairy		24
General Motors		88¾
New England Elec.		27½
Transogram		8

Editors Note: The bid price is the approximate price if one were a seller and the asked price is the approximate price if one were a buyer.

Quotations furnished by Hugh T. McCollum registered representative for Fusz Schmelzle and Co. 1405 East Malone. Phone GR 1-5350.

(NEA Radio-Telephoto)

TERRORIST VICTIM—Rescuers aid a Korean construction worker badly wounded in a terrorist bombing at a Saigon bus stop. Ten died and 37 were injured in the blast.

U. S. Knocks Out Missile Sites

SAIGON, South Viet Nam Ap-- U. S. fighter-bombers knocked out two more Soviet built missile sites in North Viet Nam and chased off a flight of Communist MIG17s southeast of Hanoi, the U. S. Command reported today.

Navy A4 Skyhawks hit a surface-to-air missile site 12 miles north-northwest of Haiphong Sunday, the U. S. command said, while Air Force pilots reported they destroyed a SAM site 30 miles north-northeast of Hanoi.

It was the closest penetration so far to Haiphong, North Viet Nam's major port.

A military spokesman said U. S. fliers evaded 11 missiles fired from sites in three different areas during air strikes Sunday.

The spokesman said Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs encountered the MIGs 70 miles southeast of Hanoi. He said the American pilots closed in, but the MIGs turned and fled before they could be engaged.

The number of MIGs was not announced.

The missile sites were hit Sunday during a break in the monsoon rains. American planes flew 51 missions against the Communist north after a week of limited assaults because of the weather.

The American fliers also kept up their pummeling of bridges and highways in the north to cut further supply routes to Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital, and Haiphong.

An Air Force spokesman reported Sunday that three weeks of raids had severed all the main road and rail supply routes between Hanoi and Haiphong and to Red China.

"All these arteries can be bypassed, but I think it will slow down the movement of supplies. They will have to find some other means -- by junks or barges," the spokesman said.

He said aerial photographs confirmed the destruction to bridges and highways leading to Hanoi from four directions.

Although North Viet Nam claimed that six U. S. planes were shot down over the north Sunday, the U. S. Command reported only one loss- a U. S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief that was hit during strikes against the Cao Nung railroad bridge 55 miles northeast of Hanoi.

A military spokesman said the pilot was seen to parachute to the ground but could not be rescued. He was listed as missing in action.

This brought the total number of planes lost over North Viet Nam to 232.

In the ground war, only light skirmishes were reported. Air Force B52s from Guam struck again at the suspected Viet Cong troop concentration area in the C Zone near Cambodia, 70 miles northwest of Saigon.

It was the ninth day in a row that the giant B52s -- each carrying a destructive load of 22 to 30 tons of explosives-- hit at the enemy stronghold in support of the U. S. 1st Infantry Division's Operation Birmingham.

Other American planes flew 284 sorties over South Viet Nam, striking at Viet Cong troops, camps, river traffic and storage areas. The South Vietnamese air force flew 174 sorties, about half of them flare drops in support of ground troops.

A new political storm buffeted Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government in the wake of Ky's statement Saturday that he expected to remain in power at least another year.

Government censors eliminated the statement from the Vietnamese press, indicating the ruling generals may not have been entirely pleased. In Da Nang, a Buddhist leader threatened new street protests if the government backs down on its promise to hold elections for a national assembly this fall.

The pilots who knocked out the missile site northeast of Hanoi reported they set off one large and two smaller secondary explosions, indicating they touched off enemy ammunition and explosives. Returning fliers said smoke from the explosions rose 500 feet.

One of the pilots said he saw a long orange streak shoot across the ground for a quarter of a mile. He said it looked like the engine of a missile on the ground had been ignited and fired the missile across the site.

Thunderchief fighter-bombers also hit the Thai Nguyen railroad yards 35 miles north of Hanoi and reported destroying 12 rail cars, cutting the tracks in eight places and cratering the yard.

The closest previous penetration to Haiphong was the bombing of the Uong Bi power plant 14 miles northwest of the port last December and in April.

On the ground, the U. S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division continued mopping up operations in the Bong Son coastal area where on Thursday and Friday they and Vietnamese troops wiped out a mixed battalion of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong.

The spokesman reported three more enemy killed by the Americans and seven captured, bringing their total to 278 and 65 captured. South Vietnamese units earlier reported killing 84 Viet Cong in the operation, known as Dave Crockett.

LBJ Entertaining At His Ranch

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

KANSAS CITY, Mo. AP -- Harry S. Truman, more than 13 years out of the White House, was lauded as "the man of peace" today as more than 400 friends gathered to wish him a happy 82nd birthday.

President Johnson and Chief Justice Earl Warren plan to telephone their congratulations.

Truman's birthday actually was Sunday, and he celebrated it by dedicating a federal office building in his home town of Independence -- a structure he worked hard to obtain for the city. The building is only a few blocks from the square where Truman got his political start 44 years ago.

Truman gave a brief talk after he was presented with a miniature of the seal of the United States which is on the front of the building.

The former president said he could not claim any more credit for completion of the building than many other government officials and elected representatives.

He said, with a grin, "I just tried to prod them along a little when they got a little slow."

Centerpiece for the birthday luncheon today was a huge cake, decorated with a frosted picture of the proposed Truman Center for the Advancement of Peace, to be built at Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

President Johnson, in one of his two visits to the Truman Library in Independence last year, hailed the center as a fitting memorial to Truman who had much to do with the recognition by the United States of the new state of Israel.

The guest list for the annual luncheon included the governors of Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and Arkansas and many dignitaries from the Truman administration.

For Truman, the highlight at these birthday luncheons always is the "happy birthday" said in their native tongues by students from dozens of foreign countries.

The luncheon is held each year by Henry J. Talge, a Kansas City industrialist. When Talge first conceived the idea of giving a birthday party in 1953 -- the year Truman returned from Washington -- it was a simple affair with 22 guests. Last year the total was nearly 400 and this year the guest list was 411.

First graders normally twist and turn continuously in their straight-backed chairs. As an experiment last year, an inspired Ohio teacher installed rocking chairs for her first-grade reading class. The children rocked quietly instead of squirming and were later found to be a month ahead of their normal reading level.

--Milwaukee Journal

USE THE DAILY SIKESTON STANDARD CLASSIFIED ADS

WATCH REPAIR
RAYMOND WRIGHT
Jeweler
125 N. New Madrid GR 1-2308
Certified Master Watchmaker
No. 8535

RELAX

- - - KNOWING YOUR FREIGHT SHIPMENTS WILL BE HANDLED PROMPTLY AND EFFICIENTLY.

ROUTE VIA
Righter Trucking Co.
AT ST. LOUIS
SIKESTON -- GR 1-1860
DEAN RIGHTER - RES. GR 1-0267

Brother of Mrs. Carl Luber, Dies in Accident

ST. LOUIS--Robert L. Reeves, 45, brother of Mrs. Carl Luper of Sikeston, was killed in an automobile accident, Saturday night at 10 p.m.

Other survivors are his wife, who was injured in the accident and is a patient in St. Luke's Hospital; one daughter, Bonnie Reeves; one brother, William Reeves, St. Louis, and one other sister, Mrs. Goldie Clary, Dexter.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Buckholz Mortuary, 5967 Florissant, St. Louis.

Winston Churchill On Dealing With Communists

It is idle to reason or argue with the communists. It is, however, possible to deal with them on a realistic basis, and, in my experience, they will keep their bargain as long as it is in their interest to do so.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

Wilda Buntin, Charleston, Dies

CHARLESTON -- Mrs. Wilda C. Buntin, 88, died at 10:29 a.m. today at her home, after three weeks' illness.

She was born Aug. 20, 1878, in Rapids, Ky., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Clack. She had lived in Charleston since childhood. She was a member of the First Methodist church.

Her husband, James B. Buntin preceded her in death Jan. 12, 1952.

She is survived by two sons, Harold Buntin of Dearborn, Mich., and Lynch Buntin of Portland, Ore.; three daughters, Mrs. Carl Jensen of Sun City, Ariz., Mrs. Vincent Robinson of Tucson, Ariz., and Mrs. Dorothy Winchester of Benton, Ky.; six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Services will be at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the McMikle Funeral Chapel with the Rev. Winford House officiating. Burial will be in the Odd Fellows cemetery.

NEED STEEL
CALL
STEWARD
CR 1-2121
Sikeston, Missouri

Outside a Catholic church in London, England; "If your trouble is deep-seated and of long standing, try kneeling."
--English Digest

Confuscius spoke . . .
and his words are true
That many man smoke
But Fu-Manchu.
---B.G. Wilkes

EARLY-MAGIC
AUBURN-M
OFFICIAL TESTS HAVE PROVEN AUBURN-M TO BE THE EARLIEST AND HIGHEST YIELDING COTTON GROWN IN TWELVE S.E.MO. TESTS 1963-1965
TO MAXIMIZE YOUR COTTON PRODUCTION PLANT AUBURN-M
MATTHEWS COTTON CO.
GR 1-3790
Distributors for AUBURN-M

SMITH-ALSOP PAINT
SPECIAL
MAY 9 THRU MAY 14

400 House Paint
WHITE
FINISH COAT
REGULAR $5.29
$3.95
GALLON
SMITH-ALSOP PAINT & WALLPAPER CO.
Phone: GR 1-3145
129-131 No. New Madrid Street Sikeston, Missouri

Penneys
ALWAYS FIRST QUALITY
COMPARE THE VALUES!
MAY HOME FAIR

THERMAL FASHIONS
span the seasons...cost little at Penney's!

TIQUE SELF-INSULATED DRAPERIES KEEP OUT HEAT, COLD, SUNRAYS!
Heavy quality rayon-cotton drapes lend elegance to rooms, keep interiors warmer in winter and cooler in summer! Carry a 2-yr. sun-fading guarantee*. And Penney's has sizes for all your windows, single to wall-to-wall. In stock or rush-ordered.
*or Penney's will replace
8.98 pair 48" wide, floor length
7.98 pair 48" wide, 63" length

FASHIONAIRE BEDSPREAD DOUBLES AS A THERMAL BLANKET!
Our dreamy Fashionaire spread plays a dual role . . . dresses your bed by day, becomes a thermal blanket by night! Keeps you summer-cool, winter-warm! Lovely diamond crochet-look weave and designer colors. Deeply fringed. All cotton, machine wash in lukewarm water.
7.99 twin or full

OUR FASHIONAIRE COTTON THERMAL BLANKET FOR ALL SEASONS!
Sleep warm, sleep cool, sleep comfortably 365 nights a year! Toss on a light cover and thousands of tiny air cells warm you. It's so cool on its own. All cotton, nylon bound. Machine wash. Lots of colors.
5.99 72" x 90" fits twin or full

CHARGE IT! PENNEY'S IS OPEN MONDAY 9 til 8 P.M. TUESDAY THRU FRIDAY 9 til 5:30. SATURDAY 9 til 8 P.M.

As near as your phone!
Penney's Catalogue Center
EVERYTHING YOUR FAMILY NEEDS FOR SUMMER!
CALL LOCAL GR 1-0955